I would say that if you are motivated by trying to give Penn State more money, that might be one thing, and my discussion of this matter would be altogether different. However, your motivation here, in giving this money by these amendments, does not actually give them any money at all. You are not adding any classrooms and you are not giving a penny more to any of the teachers. You are merely saying to them that you want them to make these studies. They now have to set aside the people they have to start working on these to produce the studies and report to the Legislature or someone. However, this actually does not put anymore money in the pocket of Penn State in the sense that they now will be able to pay their teachers more money, add another classroom, add another program, teach another subject which they cannot teach now, or take in another youngster. That is why I say that this thing is bad. I do not want to accuse anybody of having political motivation, but what other conclusion can anyone come to when you look at the studies which you are asking them to make? You are asking them to go in a certain direction which will lead nowhere as far as the school itself is concerned.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Senator Stroup.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. It will be a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Stroup, did I understand you to say that the amendment we put into House Bill No. 57, yesterday, which provided that eight percent of all money over and above estimated receipts would go to The Pennsylvania State University, will be at the expense of our public schools? Is that your statement?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, the gentleman misunderstood my statement.

The amendment which was offered and adopted yesterday was to House Bill No. 1. It provided that eight percent of all the surplus would go to The Pennsylvania State University.

Mr. SILVERT. Did you make the statement that this is at the expense of our public schools?

Mr. STROUP. Yes, I did.

Mr. SILVERT. If we pass this present amendment of $2,000,000, as I understand it, to be added to The Pennsylvania State University, and assuming the Governor signs the bill, would not this $2,000,000 reduce the surplus which is intended for our public schools?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, I must answer that question in the negative; it would not. This would provide the funds for The Pennsylvania State University out of the swollen budget, in excess of the surplus which would go to the public schools.

Mr. SILVERT. We have a surplus and then an excess of surplus. What is the meaning of that?

Mr. Stroup. Mr. President, it is our contention on this side of the aisle that we have a budget which is grossly swollen. There is nothing we can do about it in cutting it. We realize that we are practically powerless. We know the funds are there. We say to you that you should provide the money for Penn State. Here is $2,000,000 and, therefore, provide it. Then, provide 100 percent of your surplus, as the bill is written, rather than ninety-two percent of it for the public schools.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I would like to make the concluding remark that the position of our friends on the other side of the aisle is entirely inconsistent. Yesterday, they argued that by assigning eight per cent out of the surplus, over and above expenditures, we are robbing our public schools. Today, they are offering an amendment for $2,000,000 which, if passed by this Body, agreed to by the House, and signed by the Governor, would reduce that very surplus which they were crying about yesterday because we took eight per cent from it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, while we are shedding crocodile tears, I am reminded of something which took place after the Session yesterday. I asked a member of the Governor's staff as to what his estimate of the surplus would be. He did not answer me. He remarked back that eight per cent of nothing is nothing. When we look forward to this method of financing which the Majority Party, the Democrats, have proposed for The Pennsylvania State University, I do not see how anybody can estimate what the surplus of the fiscal year 1962-1963 will be until sometime around August, 1963.

Following the statement that eight per cent of nothing is nothing, I would like to state that I do not see that the proposal of this percentage idea is going to give Penn State a single dollar during the fiscal year of 1962-1963. I believe this is nothing more than fiscal fakery.

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were defeated.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. STROUP, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 4 and 5 by striking out "twenty million dollars ($20,000,000)" and inserting: twenty million ten thousand dollars ($20,010,000)

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, by inserting between lines 11 and 12:

(10) For the use of the School of Forestry for the purpose of conducting research on diseases of maple trees in Pennsylvania, ten thousand dollars ($10,000)

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, originally, in House Bill No. 15, there was a provision for continuation of the study of the maple blight disease in the Commonwealth.

On Second Reading in the House, this provision, which was in paragraph 10 of the bill, was stricken. I offer these amendments in order that the study of the maple blight disease may be continued, and funds continue to be provided for an additional year.

I know it has been said or intimated that this problem has been solved, Mr. President. However, I have been told by the Department of Forests and Waters that they have just begun to scratch the surface on this study, and additional funds are needed.

Therefore, I ask the Senate to approve these amendments so that the School of Forestry at Penn State University may serve the Commonwealth with continuing research.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I find myself here bringing up ancient history all the time. However, I believe Senator Stroup remembers—and I know he was here— that in the closing days of the 1961 Session, we introduced legislation providing $10,000 to study maple blight. It was done right here in the Senate during the last few days. This was to take care of a very serious problem in the State.

The gentleman who came over here—and I believe it was a House Member—and spoke to us about it, along with Senator Stroup who was anxious to get this into the bill said all they wanted was just this one time, and if we gave them $10,000 they thought they could get this thing eliminated or under control to take care of the problem. I admit that was only four or five months ago that we did this and we have not done anything lately in that area. However, I am sure that with the $10,000 they received last Session, they are doing a thorough research and study job. It is not fully completed, and I am certain they do not have all of the information on it yet. If they do, I have not seen a booklet on it, or any other information that might be available. Although I think it is laudable to continue after this problem, I would like to see what happened to the money we gave them four or five months ago to see if anything has resulted from that before we put any more money into it. Maybe we ought to attack this problem through another area. Maybe through the elm trees or maybe there is some other way to get at this blight.

I feel that to continue to put money into a situation, when we do not have the answer from money we have already spent on it, is pretty ridiculous.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, in response to Senator Weiner, first, I do not recall ever having made any statement of the nature to which he alludes. If they only wanted $10,000 and that was all, there would never be anything more asked. I assure him that he must have gotten that information from another source and not from me.

In the second place, Mr. President, my understanding is that $10,000 is just sufficient for the university to start this program and get it going, but not to complete it, and that additional funds are needed. I checked that this morning. I do not believe I am in error.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want the gentleman to be correct. I never attributed that statement to him, that they only wanted it for one year and that they did not want it anymore. The person who came over about it was a House Member who came and spoke to me, along with Senator Stroup. The statement was attributed to him. He said that they only wanted it for this one year because the problem was particularly acute, and they thought they could handle it with this amount of money.

The money was given for a year, and the year has not even passed and they are asking for additional funds. If, at the end of the year, they have made an attack on this problem or have made some progress in it and need more money, I will be delighted to join with the Senator to give in to this problem because I think we ought to do everything we can to eliminate blight and save the beautiful trees in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments. Although, Mr. President, the way the amendments are drawn, I should ask them to vote "aye," because they reduce the amount to Penn State to $20,010,000, and we just gave them $200,000 additional. So, we would make a net gain of $190,000 on this. However, I will not do that. I will still ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I was not going to bring it up. Nevertheless, Mr. President, these amendments are all drawn for the same bill, and they are drawn for a specific appropriation for each purpose.

I recognize the discrepancy in the amendments. In the past, when such things have occurred in his amendments, the Senator has said that those things can be straightened out by reconciliation at the desk. I believe that was true of the G. S. A. Bill in the year past. However, I will overlook it because I agree there is a discrepancy in the amendments. Nevertheless, I think it would be subject to adjustment and cure.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if I may quote a fellow statesman: "I will close my eyes."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were defeated.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order temporarily at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 1 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

HB 1 (Pr. No. 180)—Without objection, the bill was called up out of order, from page 1 of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. WEINER.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HB 1 (Pr. No. 180)—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe there is an amendment to this bill which was laid on the table yesterday. On behalf of Senator Van Sant, I am now calling that amendment from the table for action by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The amendment, having been called from the table, will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

> Amend Sec. 2, page 17 by inserting between lines 17 and 18:
> For aid in the maintenance and operation of a shrine to house a replica of the Liberty Bell in the Zion's Reformed Church in Allentown Lehigh County where the original Liberty Bell was housed between September 1777 and August 1778 . . .2,500

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the amendment, the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Van Sant.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN SANT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman to explain the purpose of this amendment.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendment is to assist in the maintenance of a historic shrine in the city of Allentown, honoring the occasion of the hiding of the Liberty Bell when the British Forces took over Philadelphia during the Revolutionary War. The Liberty Bell was moved by wagon from Philadelphia into Allentown, and was hidden in the basement of the Zion Reformed Church, which since then has come to be known as the "Liberty Bell Church."

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, who would receive the money from the Commonwealth under the terms of this amendment?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, the money would be received by a committee which has been formed—it is a nonpartisan committee and interdenominational—to operate the shrine in the city of Allentown.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to ask next what use of the money is contemplated to be made by the committee which will receive it?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, the money to be received by the committee will be for the completion of the building and the maintenance of the building, which is nearing completion.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like next to inquire of the gentleman, who owns the property to which these improvements will be made?

Mr. VAN SANT. The property is owned by the Liberty Bell Shrine Organization. It is not affiliated with the church. The property has been severed. I think this is the answer you would like to have, Mr. Seyler. The property was leased on a ninety-nine year lease by the church to the Liberty Bell Shrine Organiation.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, am I to understand that the ownership and title of the property is in the hands of the committee and the property does not belong to any religious organization?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, that is correct. As of two years ago, this was confirmed by the Office of the Attorney General, the Auditor General and the Treasurer.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I would like at this time to withdraw my amendment to House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 180.

The PRESIDENT. You are withdrawing your amendment, Senator Van Sant?

Mr. VAN SANT. That is correct, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The amendment is, accordingly, withdrawn.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, could the Majority Leader tell the Senate the total amount of money that is being expended under House Bill No. 1?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 138,—the original bill—we were spending $910,916,682. Under House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 180, we are spending that same sum, with an additional $85,000. So, it would be $911,001,682.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I asked that question because this House Bill No. 1 that we are considering obviously is the great appropriation bill of 1962.

Mr. President, I am going to vote against this bill, but I am not going to plead for other Senators to vote against it. The reason I am voting against this bill is that I am making a protest vote. House Bill No. 1 is essential. Without House Bill No. 1, the functions of the State would come to a halt. I am sure there are enough votes on both sides of the Senate to pass House Bill No. 1.

I am not protesting against the items that I would term the essential services of the Commonwealth, such as mental health, education and welfare. All of these expenditures are essential to the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania. I realize very well that it is good politics to vote for all appropriation bills and against all taxes. Therefore, politically, I am unwise. However, I believe I am speaking for many thousands of Pennsylvanians who are worried, and greatly worried, as to where we are going with our State spending.

I have in my possession a clipping from last Thursday's Harrisburg paper, where in a statement was made by a Pennsylvania State University professor by the name of Doctor William R. Monat. Doctor Monat was one of eighteen economists at a workshop meeting of the Pennsylvania Citizens Conference on State Issues at the Penn Harris Hotel. He forecast that by 1970, State Government spending will increase by another fifty per cent. Apparently at this conference there was another forecast that before 1970, the State sales tax might be as high as seven to eight per cent. It is because of this great warning signal that I rise today.

My objections to House Bill No. 1 are not to the institutional spending or to the service spending, but I am objecting very greatly to what are known as general governmental expenditures. I took some time to try to correlate House Bill No. 1 with the budget. I took a number of figures from the expenditures of the 1961-1962 fiscal year, which you recall was a thirteen-month year, and I took twelve-thirteenths of those figures. Then I made comparisons with the 1959-1961 budget by dividing it in half.

I find under House Bill No. 1, for the Governor's Office, a 23 per cent increase over last year and a 49 per cent increase over 1959-1961. I find in the office of the Lieutenant Governor a 7.7% increase over last year and a 44 per cent increase over 1959-1961 for one year. In the Auditor General's Office, for auditing the General Fund, I find a 38 per cent increase over last year and a 59 per cent increase over the period two years ago. For all of the funds that the Auditor General audits, there is a 36 per cent increase over last year and a 60 per cent increase over two years ago. In the Department of Internal Affairs, over last year there is a 15 per cent increase and over two years ago, there is a 28 per cent increase. In the Department of Commerce, I was very interested to note that for general governmental purposes there has been a decrease over last year of 11 per cent, but over two years ago there is a 49 per cent increase. In the Department of Forests and Waters, there is a 15 per cent increase over last year and a 54 per cent increase over two years ago. Again, for general government operation, in the Department of Public Instruction there is a 15 per cent increase over last year and a 29 per cent increase over two years ago. For the Department of Revenue, there is an 11 per cent increase over last year and a 35 per cent increase over two years ago.

The total general government expenditures as covered by the budget—and I note that the actual bills we are passing, according to Senator Weiner, represent something like $85,000 additional, so that these are fairly accurate—include an 11 per cent increase this year over last year and a 35 per cent increase over two years ago.

These things bother me. I am reminded of a leaky barrel. No matter how much money you pour into a leaky barrel, if there are enough leaks in it, you can never get it filled. These constant expenditures for general government are constantly draining away the tax moneys of the Commonwealth.

Perhaps I should also question some of the expenditures for institutional purposes, grants and subsidies. This This morning I made a few notes. General State Authority payments are constant. They are mandated, and we have to pay them whether we like it or not. However, I was a little bit concerned when I read an article in the Sunday Bulletin, written by Duke Kaminsky, and I would like to note that I respect Duke highly. That is a good plug, Duke. He points out that one of the State office buildings was constructed for $10,100,000. That was the construction cost. On top of that were architects' fees, inspection, administrative costs and insurance, which increased that figure to $12,700,000. In other words, about a 27 per cent increase for architect's fees, inspection, administrative costs and insurance. I assume that Duke was accurate on those figures.

I note that in this article he said there is quite a range on architects' fees, with some cases going as high as 9.5 per cent. Well, that bothers me. I think perhaps there is more than a leaky barrel going out on construction costs under the General State Authority.

If any of us will take the time to look into the G.S.A. Bill of last year,—I happen to have a copy here—we will find a number of items on which moneys are spent which I question whether they are necessary for the State. I will go to the ridiculous. With all deference to the good people of Berks County, there is a Daniel Boone Homestead. There is an expenditure in the G.S.A. Bill of last summer of $25,143 for sewerage facilities for the Daniel Boone Homestead. In other words, over $25,000 for sewerage facilities for the Daniel Boone Homestead. It just does not make sense.

You can go further in that bill and pull it to pieces. In paragraph 9d, for the Linn Farm,—I do not even know what it is—loafing shed, $6,403.

Maybe we should look at the universities. I do not buy this type of thinking that we have heard in the budget hearings—a few of which I attended—and we heard a little trace of it yesterday, to the effect that we should give money to a university such as Temple so that it can reduce the cost of tuition to all pupils. I would buy that thinking if it were for all needy pupils. I do not believe we should drain money away from the needed expenditures of schools and mental health and welfare in order to provide a $100 scholarship for every Pennsylvanian who desires to attend Temple University. I am a little bit worried about it.

I will now look at the State Police budget. That should be pretty tight. I do not think there should be any money wasted there. Yet, I wonder. In my county, there is a four-bedroom dwelling house, worth around $20,000 to $22,000, that is rented to the State Police for a barracks for an annual rental of approximately $4,800. The corporation that rents it, when it was formed,—I do not know whether this is still true or not—had as one of its members one of the key Democratic politicians in the county.

Frankly, gentlemen, if we are fortunate enough to get control of this Senate in the next Session, I am going to ask for a legislative investigation of items such as that.

When we look at this tremendous $910,000,000 expenditure, the question that I am faced with is: Is the State getting a dollar's worth of value for a dollar spent?

I know this is not in the bill. However, the only place where I can look for efficiency with respect to the State of Pennsylvania is in those places that I can see. And, gentleman, I can see the State highways. Down in my county, last week, there occurred two incidents with respect to the State Highways Department that we, as Pennsylvanians, should be ashamed of. I believe it was just last Monday, following a snow storm, that one of these big road graders was being used to clear snow. The motor stopped. The motor was frozen because they forgot to put oil in it.

That day, two State Highway trucks arrived on the scene with five men, several of them working and the rest watching. They worked all day and they could not do anything to this grader. The next day, two trucks arrived with six men. They worked all day, could not do anything, and they left around four o'clock in the afternoon. The reason I know the story is because they even forgot one of their men. When they went back to the State Highway garage, they left one of their fellows out there. Several hours later, he went to the house of a friend of mine and called the State Highway garage to find out if they still wanted him to stay with the grader. He was told they had forgotten him. He made the statement that he had very little education and he was told to stay with the grader. So, he was staying with it. Now that would be a funny story, if it were not wasting tax money.

On Sunday afternoon, I came across Gray's Ferry Bridge, in the city of Philadelphia. It is a wonderful highway, but I was amazed at the pothole condition. This was not in my Senatorial District, and I did not write a letter to the Secretary of Highways the way I do when I run into it in my own District. However, I have watched those potholes grow on that bridge. They started about the size of your fist, and on Sunday, they were two and three feet across, and deep, and breaking up the automobiles that traversed them.

I do not think that is safeguarding the highways. I know it is a waste of money to not repair potholes when they commence.

I noticed that in 1961-1962, the State spent $66,000,000 for maintenance. It is going to spend $60,700,000 in 1962-1963. Everytime I see State Highway crews on the highways, where there is one man with a flag, one working and four watching, I wonder if that is a picture that is true throughout the Commonwealth where I cannot see.

Yesterday, as I drove here, I saw a little State Highway Truck—one of these pickup trucks—bogged down in the mud, with one man trying to jack it out and three men watching him. There was not even enough room on that truck for four of them to ride. Those men are all being paid by the State.

Gentlemen, as I say, my vote is a protest vote. If our party is in control next year, I will still take the position that we should be concerned here when we vote for these million dollar appropriations with the question: Where are we going?

Yesterday, the Chairman of the Finance Committee, my very dear friend, Senator Silvert, forecast a $5,000,000 surplus. I noticed that we immediately voted to spend it by giving a part of it to The Pennsylvania State University.

I am going to make a forecast, Mr. President. You know, we took the two percent collection fee away from the merchants. This has been very irritating to me because, again, I am looking to the future of Pennsylvania. I am convinced that the merchants of Pennsylvania are a lot smarter than the politicians of Pennsylvania. The merchants have been dealing with governmental officials for centuries and the merchants have lasted and the governmental officials have not. I think that the merchants are going to find an answer to this type of treatment. Down in my section they have an answer. One of the answers is a place called the Cherry Hill Shopping Center, New Jersey, where you do not pay a sales tax. Around the city of Camden there is a tremendous complex of big shopping centers, where the people of Philadelphia and the suburban counties can go across the river and buy without the tax. Around Wilmington, Delaware—another tremendous complex—are more shopping centers. That is one way the merchants have of answering back when they are stepped on.

However, the idea of taking from them and then, when there is a surplus, not giving some back to them, I think is also going to be answered in the ballot box. I am not wishing the Democratic Party bad luck, but I am going to forecast that unless you take care of those 200,000 merchants, they are going to take care of you.

Gentlemen, that is more or less my theme song. I ask you: Where are we going and where will we end?

Yesterday, Senator Weiner said that Pennsylvania is a wealthy State. May I remind every person in this room, Republican and Democrat, that there have been many wealthy people who wasted away their riches? May I also remind you that a wealthy State can be bled white?

In conclusion, I believe that the keystone of fiscal responsibility, about which the Democratic Party is boasting so much, is a healthy tax climate. Gentleman, if we continue to spend and spend and spend, and we end up with a seven to eight percent sales tax, or some other broad base tax, you will not have a healthy tax climate in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I enjoyed the dissertation by Senator Bell, from Delaware. During the course of his long, lengthy and rather informative address, I thought that he certainly was going from the ridiculous to the sublime. Of course, I could not expect the distinguished gentleman from Delaware County to pay any tribute to the Democratic Party. Speaking of politicians, I am not a politician. I sometimes wonder how I get elected because I am not a professional politician. Therefore, I do not think he is meaning me when he is talking about the Democratic politicians in Pennsylvania.

I say that every Member of the Senate has a responsibility when it comes to the over-all operations of government. Since Senator Bell has stated that he is going to vote against House Bill No. 1, I think he should know—and he probably does know—that he is voting against the World War II Veterans' Sinking Fund. I believe Senator Bell is a veteran. I just want to pick out a few of the highlights and let the public know that Senator Bell is also voting against civilian defense in Pennsylvania, which is included in House Bill No. 1.

He is voting against the Department of Commerce and he is voting against P.I.D.A. Not so long ago, I recall when a plant was moving from Delaware County and the gentleman in question was greatly concerned with the operations of P.I.D.A. Now, he would deny them any funds with which to operate for this coming fiscal year.

Mr. President, the gentleman is voting against a number of hospitals. He is going to vote against the State Hospital for Crippled Children in Elizabethtown. He is going to vote against any county aid which might be submitted to health departments in Pennsylvania. He is going to vote against health services here in Pennsylvania. He is going to vote against all the correctional institutions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

He is going to vote against social security contributions, which are also included in House Bill No. 1. He is going to vote against any money for occupational diseases in Pennsylvania. He also is going to vote against the Vocational Rehabilitation Fund here in Pennsylvania.

The Senator, further, is going to vote against Military Affairs. The gentleman is a veteran, Mr. President. He is going to vote against the operation of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Erie, which is a very worthy project.

Incidentally, Mr. President, he also is going to vote against the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, of which he was formerly a member. I know he has a great interest in its operation. At my first meeting of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, the membership there paid tribute to Senator Bell for his interest there.

He is going to vote against the Selinsgrove State Hospital as one of his gripes, I guess, against the spending of public funds. He is also going to vote against the National Defense Education Program. He is going to vote against the salaries and expenses of the Governor's Committee on Handicapped Children. He is going to vote against the Cheyney State Teachers' College, the Clarion, East Stroudsburg, Edinboro, Indiana, Kutztown, Lock Haven, Mansfield, Millersville, Shippensburg, Slippery Rock and West Chester State Colleges. He is also going to put them out of business. He is going to vote against the Pennsylvania State Oral School in Scranton. He is going to vote against the Scotland School for Veterans' Children here in Pennsylvania. He is going to vote against the Thaddeus Stevens School here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, this is all beyond me. He is going to vote against libraries, too, because he probably feels that the people are too well educated. He is going to vote against all operations so far as public schools are concerned. He is going to put our courts out of business. He is going to vote against the Legislature. He is going to vote against the blind and the deaf. He is going to vote against the Senate of Pennsylvania. He also is going to vote against the Mercy-Douglass Hospital, by the way. He is going to vote against the money for retarded children here in Pennsylvania.

I do not know whether that is real responsibility or not. I believe that where we have the governmental operations of Pennsylvania at stake, we should examine the general appropriation bill with a magnifying glass. If there are any amendments which he would like to suggest, he should submit the amendments. However, I feel sure that Senator Bell realizes he is making a terrible mistake by voting against the bill in toto.

Mr. HAWBAKER. Mr. President, I find the remarks of the distinguished gentleman from Washington rather amusing. First, he indicates that he is not a politician and then he proceeds to deliver a perfect political address in a perfect political fashion.

I think it must be clear to anyone who listened to the remarks made by Senator Bell that the gentleman from Delaware County was not protesting the proper functions of government. Senator Bell, however, was voicing some concern about the ridiculous and outlandish cost of government in Pennsylvania. When anyone talks about reducing the budget, immediately we start insinuating that we are going to take the bread out of the mouths of the needy. This is an old political trick.

I would like to point something out about this budget. I concur with Senator Bell, but I am not going to vote against the bill for the very simple reason that such a vote, in my judgment, would be fruitless. I would like to point out to the people of Pennsylvania that this present day cost of State Government has become utterly fantastic. When I look at this particular bill and all the other bills in connection with the Governor's budget for this year, I find that the total cost of operating the government of Pennsylvania next year is going to approximate a billion and one-half dollars. This is an awfully lot of money in anybody's language.

I have done a little calculating on this subject and I find that if we were to divide this total budget of a billion and one-half dollars by the total population of Pennsylvania, we would come up with the interesting figure of $136 per person next year. This is $136 for every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania. That means that for a family of four, the cost for operating Pennsylvania's government next year is going to amount to about $544.

This would not be so bad if this were all the taxes that the people of Pennsylvania were called upon to pay. However, I noted with some degree of dismay, a few weeks ago, when the Federal budget figures were announced and the total budget for the Federal Government is going to be ninety-two and one-half billion dollars. If we divide that figure by the population of the United States, we would come up with a figure of $514 a head. If we add the total budget of Pennsylvania to the Federal budget, we find that every taxpayer in Pennsylvania is going to be called upon next year to pay $650 in State and Federal taxes. This means, for a family of four people, that the total cost of operating State and Federal Governments next year will amount to the amazing figure of $2,600. This, Mr. President, represents well in excess of half the average family income in this Commonwealth. I certainly concur with Senator Bell that the time has come when we are going to have to take a long, hard look at the cost of government. It is getting to a point where we just simply cannot afford it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not going to take a great deal of time in discussing this matter. However, I do not know where Senator Bell got the figures he was giving us. I would like to bring to his attention that the twelve-month budget for last year was $948,703,112, as opposed to this year which is $1,000,887,457. Any way in which you do the arithmetic here, it is only an increase of five per cent over-all. Where he arrived at any more money than that, I do not know.

It is quite true that we have given some of the universities as much as a fifteen per cent increase and some have received considerably more than that. However, across-the-board in an over-all budget, we have given only a 5.5 per cent increase.

I also heard Senator Bell say that he did not wish the Democrats any ill fortune. Then, later, he said that if the Republicans came back here and controlled the Senate, there would be some investigations made. If I ever heard a sequitur, that was it.

Let me tell you about another State which I think is comparable with Pennsylvania. It is going to spend this year over $231,000,000 over 1961-1962, or about nine per cent, compared to Pennsylvania's general fund increase of $52,000,000, or 5.5 per cent. Let me also tell you about the very same Governor of this State who talks about sound fiscal and management policies. His budget is balanced by the use of $140,000,000 of nonrecurring revenue, without commensurate and nonrecurring expenditures. If I have ever heard about deficit financing, that is it. I am speaking about the budget of New York State, with Governor Rockefeller, who does not happen to be a Democrat, at the head of it. They not only have a sales tax, but they also have an income tax in the State of New York. In the State of New Jersey, which does happen to have a Democratic Governor, their budget has gone up and they are also talking about a sales tax and there is a bill in for a sales tax in that State. However, I do not know whether the Governor is supporting it or not.

New York State also had revenue estimates which they had all the way up in order to balance their budget. Now they have revised it downward from the original estimate by about $35,000,000, or 14.6 per cent; whereas, Pennsylvania's has remained unchanged.

If you are talking about doing away with programs and cutting budgets, I would be delighted to hear from you. You can begin anywhere you wish in this bill and tell me which program you would have us cut out. I do not say that we have all the answers to management or administration, but I would say that the Lawrence Administration compares very favorably with any corporation in this State which hires as many employees, with efficiency, and with the full operation of the government, such as Gulf Oil, Sun Oil, the Pennsylvania Railroad or any of the other companies. There are plenty of people who work for these private corporations who do not do a full day's work. There are plenty of people who are on their payrolls who do not give a full account of themselves. We have no less or no different people in the State Government. As a matter of fact, I think you will find that most psychologists and psychiatrists agree that if you took 100 people and had them perform a certain task, you would end up with a bell-shaped curve. You would have those who do very well at the very highest part of the curve, and you would have those who do exceptionally well at the very top. You would have those who are very poor at the other end. If you took 100 people who work for the Pennsylvania Railroad, Sun Oil Company, Gulf Oil Company, Atlantic Refining Company or any corporation of any size which hires as many employees as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, you would find there are many men who get on their trucks and sit around all day. You would find people who sit around all day, not doing very much. You would find sweepers who lean on their brooms and do not do a full day's work. However, that does not make the corporation any the less efficient or put them out of business or cause less revenue to be received by them. Each year, every one of these corporations show a profit.

Pennsylvania, as a State and a corporation, also shows a profit, by what it has done for its people and what we are doing to grow and progress. We have mental health programs in Pennsylvania which we are quite proud of. We have health programs which we are also proud of. We have done a great deal for the average man in this State which has never been done for him before. We will continue to do this if we continue in the progressive manner which we have been doing. We have even managed to balance the budget without using phony estimates and phony figures. We have come out with a balanced amount.

If this is a crime or if we have done something wrong, I will be delighted to hear from you. If there is money in this budget that you think should be cut out, I will be the first one to join with you in taking it out if it is not needed.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I desire the record to show the basis of my computations.

At to general government, I took the figure of $98,137,590, which is the budget entry, found on page 14 of the Governor's Budget. I converted the 1961-1962 budget from a thirteen-month basis to a twelve-month basis, and I came up with a figure of $88,164,000. This means that in general government expenditures for this year, the State of Pennsylvania faces an 11 per cent across-the-board increase.

The 1959-1961 figures I computed by dividing the figure, found on page 14 of the Governor's Budget, of $144,584,491 in half. Gentlemen, that indicates $72,292,246, which increased to $98,137,590 or a 35 per cent increase in anybody's language.

For the total expenditures,—and I did not go into this —I did my computating likewise.

I will now tell Senator Weiner where he can start to cut. He can start in the front office. The Governor's expenditure in 1959-1961, for two years, was $1,332,528. This year, it was recommended to be $1,028,081, but from trying to figure out House Bill No. 1 and the other bills, all I could find that they are approving for the Governor is $989,844. If you take this million dollar figure, you have an even bigger increase. I would suggest that you start right there. I would suggest that you take some of that money out of the front office of the Governor and put it into the Department of Public Welfare to provide proper housing and hospital facilities for the mentally retarded children who right now have to wait months and months and months before they can receive the care which the State owes to them. You do not have to wait to get the money from the Governor's Office.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out to Senator Bell that general government expenses are only 9 percent of the budget. The other 91 per cent goes in subsidies to hospitals, school districts and other areas of that nature.

If you are talking about just general government and an increase of 9 per cent, we are are talking about very little money over-all, and the increase is correct in that amount. However, you just cannot take one area and point to that and say that is the over-all increase.

If you will look at the total budget—the figures which I just gave to you—you will see this is only about a 5.5 per cent increase over-all.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, in answer to the Majority Leader, I do not want to belabor the time of the Senate, but I think I have made my point. However, I am going to have to get the record straight because I do have the over-all, complete budget figures.

We are going to spend $1,000,972,000 or almost $1,001,000. By taking the 1961-1962 budget and converting it to a twelve-month period, it would have been $920,880,000. That is an 8.7 per cent increase. If you take the 1959-1961 over-all budget, and divide it by one-half, you would have an annual expenditure of $844,000,000. Therefore, in two years, the over-all expenses of this Commonwealth have increased 18.5 per cent.

I am not objecting to that: I am objecting to the general government expenditures; the overhead, in other words. I wish this bill were so written that I could vote for those items such as mental health, education and all of these things on which both Bill Lane and I agree. However, I refuse here today to vote for this tremendous increase in the general governmental field.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate. However, I think the gentleman well knows, because he was here last Session when we gave increases in salary, and I will not reiterate where they are. They are very plain in the budget. All he has to do is look at it. Therefore, the Administration keeping the cost down to nine per cent, I think, is commendable, and it should not be criticized in view of the kind of increases that are being given across-the-board today in wages and other areas.

I believe the Senator has made his point, such as it is. I would like to vote on this measure, because we have a very important measure later on in the Calendar which I think we ought to get into.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I would like just about one minute to answer Senator Bell.

You know the easiest thing to do is to get up to a mike and show that there has been an increase here, there has been an increase there, and taxes are going up.

I say to Senator Bell that I did not prepare a speech as he did. However, let him take the expenditures of our big corporations, like Bell Telephone, Gulf Oil and the steel companies, all of which are very well managed, and he will find, practically, possibly the same ratio or a greater ratio in increased wages and increased expenses.

He started out by asking where are we drifting to and showed the great amount of taxes that we have to pay. It is true; we are paying greater taxes. Then he goes on to say that what he would like to do is take money out of the Governor's operating budget—right out of his office. I do not know whether that is politics or not, Senator Bell. However, you would take that money and give it to the Welfare Department. How are you going to reduce taxes by doing that?

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1

Bell,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

HB 57 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

HB 57 (Pr. No. 184)—Without objection, the bill was called up out of order, from page 2 of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. WEINER.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HB 57 (Pr. No. 184)—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request that the Senate now take a fifteen minute recess for the reason that I think everyone is interested in the fact that Astronaut Glenn is about to land in the next five or six minutes.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a fifteen minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Paul W. Mahady) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before the roll is called, I would like to make a few brief remarks on House Bill No. 57.

This bill started out being a deficiency appropriation to the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Branches of the Government. In the House, the Members on the Republican side added about 1,895 school districts and left out about 210 districts. If you go through these school districts—and I hate to pick on my good friend from Montgomery—you will find Montgomery County, which is one of the richest areas in the State. You will notice that some of the richest school districts are also included, among which is a school district which pays the highest wages to its teachers in the entire State, and I believe the entire Country, the Abington School District.

Incidentally, this is the same school district, I believe, that raised about $60,000 to send a band to appear at some function across the Country. Now this same school district is receiving a rather sizeable sum in here. I am not complaining because Philadelphia has been left out or Pittsburgh has been left out.

However, if you will go through this bill,—I do not have to do it for you because you gentlemen know the distressed school districts in the State—you will find in the distressed areas and counties of this State, that many of the distressed school districts have been left out. There is no rhyme or reason for it. I would like someone to explain to me how, under Article III, Section 7 of Pennsylvania's Constitution, you can have class legislation as to education. I have been advised by the Attorney General, and by other lawyers who know something about the Constitution, that this is unconstitutional.

I will not take a great deal of the time of the Senate, and I do not intend to take a great deal of the time of the Members. However, let me just point out to you very quickly, if I may, the areas that have been left out. Take, for example, a distressed area or a distressed county such as Cambria County. There are about ten school districts that have been left out. One is Portage Township and another is Susquehanna Township, both of which are in distressed areas where there is a surplus of labor and where they have difficulty maintaining their school system.

Let us take another area, Carbon County. Here is Kidder Township and Summit Hill Borough, both of which have been left out.

If we go down to Dauphin County, which is not a distressed area but certainly not the wealthiest area of the State, Lower Swatara Township has been left out, Paxtang Borough has been left out, Berrysburg Borough has been left out, and Harrisburg City has been left out. They are not even thought about in the bill.

Let us go into Fayette County, which is a distressed area. Luzerne Township and Jefferson Township have been left out.

If you get over into Luzerne County,—and certainly I do not think there is any argument about this being a distressed area—here is Hazleton City which has been left out, Kingston Borough, Pittston City, West Hazleton Borough, Wilkes-Barre Township, Black Creek Township, and so on and so forth. Now all of these areas that have been left out are certainly districts that could use the money.

If anybody will show me what formula they used to arrive at these amounts, I would be delighted to hear from them. However, there seems to be no rhyme or reason for this. They seem to have followed some sort of a formula.

The only thing that will happen as a result of this bill, if it is enacted, is that the poorer districts will get rich and the richer districts will get richer.

Leaving these areas out, not including them in the bill and not thinking about them, appears to me to be a rather arbitrary way of running this matter. You are just trying to make up to the people or trying to show these people that you are doing something for them, when, in fact, you are not doing anything for them at all.

I respectfully state to the Members of the Senate that I am sure if you will give this some thought for even two minutes, you will see that you are holding out a false hope to people who might even expect this would come to fruition.

I also want to point out that in House Bill No. 1, on page 38, beginning with line 5, there has been provision made to take care of the school districts if there are surplus funds. They will receive the regular amount they would get under the formula that we have established for all of the school districts. I think that is a very unfair way. It says to all of the school districts: "You can expect to get X or Y number of dollars if there is a surplus." Once we know what the surplus is, they will be able to get this proportion.

By doing it in this fashion, you are saying that many of the school districts—and it occurs in every county that is represented here by every Senator—are being left out. That, to me, not only does not make sense, but certainly is not a fair way of handling this matter.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, inasmuch as the Majority Leader has seen fit to mention Montgomery County, it is my understanding that the school districts mentioned in this bill will lose $511,000, approximately, if these cuts are not restored.

As I understand it, the distribution made last October and November to the school districts approximated fifty per cent of their previous year's operation, and that the distribution that will be made in March and April of this year is where the real cut will come. The amounts are not any magic amounts. They are the amounts that were cut by the Governor's veto from the bill that we passed in 1961.

So much for the amounts. In his remarks, Senator Weiner mentioned that one of the school districts, Abington, sent a band to California. I am sure the Senator realizes—but I want to go on record here—this money was raised by the boys and girls of that school by washing cars, by public subscription, and things like that. Not one cent of it came from taxpayers' money.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, might I point out to the gentleman that wherever it comes from, it is being taken from the taxpayers? I have no criticism of their spending $60,000 to send the band out to California. However, my criticism is that here you have Abington Township, on page 76 of this bill, receiving $73,720 for reimbursement to the district, or additional funds to the district, and leaving out the city of Philadelphia, the city of Pittsburgh and many of the other rural areas which are of the same nature as Abington Township, which is one of the wealthiest areas. Incidentally, this township takes a lot of teachers from many of the surrounding areas because of the high rate of pay they are able to give their teachers, and I am delighted they can do so. However, we are reimbursing Abington Township by $73,720 in this bill and not doing anything for these other areas that are distressed.

For example, there are schools, I am sure, in Fayette County, Greene County, Washington County, and Carbon County, all of which are areas that are under heavy economic pressure, which do not get this much money. If they could raise $60,000 to send a band somewhere, that same $60,000 could be raised to be put into the school system and they would not need $73,720. They would only have to raise $13,720 additional in order to meet this kind of money. I think this is even more essential than sending a band to California.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I take from the gentleman's arguments that if the citizens of Montgomery County can raise any given amount for the United Fund, cancer research, or any similar thing, he will take the position that they do not need State subsidies for their schools.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not believe that is what I said. I think the gentleman will certainly not equate sending a band to California with taxpayers' money in the same category as cancer research and the United Fund, nor do I think he would equate school activities with sending a band out to California. The music may sound the same, but I am sure the tune is an old one and I am sure the people understand the lyrics.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I intend to vote against this bill and I should like to state the reasons for my vote.

First, this bill, through the amendment giving additional funds to some 1,850 school districts and eliminating some 220 districts, destroys a philosophy of support to our schools, as worked out through the State Tax Equalization Board. This philosophy has worked against Philadelphia right along, and yet we are left out this time. Let me show you how.

I took some figures down as to the moneys raised from the sales tax in the 1959-1961 Session. The total raised was $721,000,000. Out of this sum,—this is for school purposes—some $617,500,000 was used for public schools. Philadelphia, in itself, paid over the sum of $159,584,900 in sales tax, or approximately twenty-two per cent of the amount which went toward schools. Philadelphia received back approximately $30,000,000 a year, or for two years it would be $60,000,000, which is less than ten per cent. In other words, Philadelphia furnished twenty-two per cent of the sales tax money and received back only ten per cent.

We accepted that on the theory that we are working under the State Tax Equalization Board which, in essence, says that the school districts which have the most real estate in back of a school unit receive the least money. We accepted that, even though we felt that in Philadelphia, while there is $700,000 behind each schoolroom, one factor lost sight of is the fact that we have some 200,000 parochial and private school students who are not taken into account. Therefore, we in Philadelphia have been forced to raise practically close to seventy per cent of our school budget of $114,000,000 this year. We have been forced to tax our people not only through the real estate tax, but through the mercantile tax and personal property tax.

Now along comes this reassessment of values by the State Tax Equaliation Board and for some of the school districts, which have been getting as high as ninety-five per cent of their costs, against Philadelphia's twenty-eight per cent of their costs, their values went up. Therefore, the allocation of funds to them was decreased under the reimbursement fraction. Along comes the Legislators from these districts and they say: "We are no longer going to pay any attention to the State Tax Equalization Board. We want those money restored." So, they restore those moneys to themselves and here is Philadelphia, paying seventy-five per cent of its own budget and it is left entirely out of consideration.

I think the entire thing is unfair. I think it is unconstitutional and, with everything else combined, where is this money going to come from? There is nine million and some odd thousands of dollars in addition which has no tax provision for it and it will not balance our budget.

For these reasons, Mr. President, I intend to vote against this bill.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I will only take a moment. This is the first time in all the years that I have been in the Senate that Senator Weiner sympathized with Dauphin County. There must be a motive for it.

Why are we having all this talk? You are trying to build up a case so that the Governor will veto it. That is all you have been talking about all afternoon.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, first of all, I should like to address myself to this question of the constitutionality of this bill.

As we all know, this bill is an effort being made in order to return to the school districts which have lost instructional subsidy only because of increased market valuations. If in doing it by this method,—which becomes imperative by reason of the Administration veto of the "freeze" clause in House Bill No. 808 last Session —this becomes unconstitutional, then every effort that was made heretofore in the 1959 Session, particularly on the "freeze" bill, separately and aside from House Bill No. 808, or from the general appropriation bill, has been unconstitutional.

This is not class legislation any more than it was class legislation in 1959. Certainly, the Department of Justice did not then see fit to veto the legislation on any basis of constitutionality. I might remark, Mr. President, that the question of constitutionality was raised in 1959 and set aside this method as being perfectly constitutional.

Now, for the problem in so far as the particularization of certain school districts here to receive moneys, let us take up the questions propounded by Senator Silvert concerning Philadelphia. I think it is well known to all of us who have served in the Legislature for a number of years that when the Tax Equalization Board made its market valuation appraisals, it resulted, by some type of a situation, in the decreasing of market valuations in the cities and the increasing of market valuations in other areas. Consequently, it increased subsidies to the cities, proportionately, by reason of the reimbursement fraction increase, and decreased subsidies to the other areas. That was the reason for the effort made in 1959 to try to equalize this situation. It was again done, as you know, in this last Session. Of course, as I have remarked, it was vetoed.

At that same time when that veto occurred, I was one of those, among five or six here, who sponsored Senate Bill No. 717, which was in the Senate Education Committee and which, if I am correct in my recollection, was to be reported from committee and to come out on the floor of the Senate in order that the problem might be handled.

I have previously pointed out that by vetoing the "freeze" clause, as we typically call it, in House Bill No. 808, there was $12,000,000 which stayed in the General Fund which had been paid out the year before and did not have to be paid out again. All this bill does—the amendments to House Bill No. 57, put in at the request of the Republican Party in the House—is to return to these school districts the money which they have lost and which we tried to return during the last Session. There was no reason whatsoever for any veto because we are well aware that there are sufficient funds and will be sufficient funds, as has been pointed out and tacitly admitted, at the end of the fiscal year to provide these funds.

For the opposition party and the Administration to go against this type of legislation is purely and simply to have them tell the people that they are opposed to trying to find funds for schools which lose these funds and do need them to maintain the type of education which they have been giving in their curriculum and in their administration of these schools in the Commonwealth.

Mr. STAISEY. Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill. I feel that this bill represents the difficulty in which education finds itself in Pennsylvania because of our failure to adequately finance it on the State level. To me, this bill merely is a holding action. All it does is provide that the reimbursements will be frozen in the hope that come 1963, we will face the problem of financing our institutions here in Pennsylvania and have adequate taxing revenues.

I come from a District that has a number of school districts which will suffer if this bill is not passed. Since our effort to provide adequate finances failed in 1961, then it seems to me that I have no other course than to resort to this vehicle in order to support adequate financing for some of the school districts. In other words, Mr. President, what I am saying is this: To support the bill means that we will not unload, at a time that is very improper, an additional burden on the local areas for the support of their education; a load which the State legitimately should assume itself.

Mr. HAWBAKER. Mr. President, I just want to take issue with the Majority Leader when he complains that this is class legislation and that certain school districts are being discriminated against.

In my judgment, this is a bill that will rectify a situation of discrimination if it is passed. Every school district listed in this bill has been discriminated against by the report of the State Tax Equalization Board. I would like to point out a very concrete example of this.

It has been my experience that the State Tax Equalization Board did a very sloppy job of evaluating real estate assessed valuations. I would like to give you one concrete example with which I am intimately familiar. On page 53, on line 11, of this bill, you will note that in Franklin County, Peters Township, under the terms of this bill, will have restored to it $4,901. There is an interesting story back of this because this one township stands out in Franklin County in this particular bill. The reason for it is the fact that a few years ago, Bethlehem Limestone Company came into this particular township and bought a large tract of real estate. For the first farm they bought, they paid the going price. However, they then wanted another farm adjoining and, therefore, the price went up. This went on for a period of about four years. By the time they finished their purchases, they were paying prices representing about five times the value of farm land in Peters Township. This became the preponderance of real estate transfers recorded in the court house of Franklin County for this particular township. Therefore, apparently, the people of the State Tax Equalization Board assumed that in view of the fact that this was the sale price for farm real estate in Peters Township, this must be the value of real estate in this township, and nothing could be further from the truth. Actually, these farms which have been bought by the Bethlehem Limestone Company had been allowed to depreciate and deteriorate. They were lying there idle. Even though the local county assessors attempted to assess these farms on the basis of their sale price, the company appealed to the County Commissioners and had the assessments knocked down to the prevailing price of farms in that township.

Here you can see a perfect example of serious discrimination against the remaining taxpayers of that township. This bill simply seeks to restore that inequity.

There is something else I would like to point out and something which I think should be looked into. We have been operating through the years on the theory that the market value of real estate, as arrived at by the State Tax Equalization Board, represents some indication of the ability to pay on the part of the taxpayers of a given community. I think this is definitely not true. This simply represents an ability for a taxing body to collect.

You would be interested to know that the average farm in Peters Township is being assessed for school purposes to the extent of about ten per cent of the average farmer's income. If this is what you call equality, on the basis of ability to pay, I do not think this is true.

For the information of Senator Silvert, Mr. President, I am quite sure that the people of Philadelphia are not paying, in local school taxes, ten per cent of their income.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not wish to delay this debate any longer, but to show you how ridiculous this bill can become, you will find on page 21, line 9, of House Bill No. 57, "Barclay Township" and, in parenthesis, it says "No Schools." The amount they are receiving is three dollars. It probably costs the Commonwealth five dollars to process the check in order to send them three dollars. If this is equality, the logic of it escapes me completely.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am afraid I must disagree with the gentleman from Adams with reference to his remarks concerning the Tax Equalization Board. I believe that I am slightly familiar with its over-all operation, and I say to you that I feel they are doing a rather decent job under the leadership of Mr. Bevec.

Getting back to the so-called inequalities which exist in House Bill No. 57, I think first you should know that the Tax Equalization Board determines the market value of property where a willing purchaser buys property and pays a certain amount for that property. The agents for the Tax Equalization Board will check with the Recorder of Deeds Office and they will find, in checking the number of Federal stamps, the amount that is on the deed. It is not the selling price set forth in the deed. It is the amount that is on the deed and also the transfer tax. They determine then that is the actual market value. I do not believe there is any other way that you can determine that.

I might say, also, Mr. President, that we have in Pennsylvania spots in various political subdivisions where there is no activity in the transfer of real estate. When that takes place, an inequality exists in that area, with the ultimate result being that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the Department of Public Instruction, will grant a greater subsidy to that area due to the fact that they do not appear to have the necessary assessed valuations to operate the districts.

I reviewed the over-all operation and the various pages in this bill with reference to Greene County and Washington County. As the gentleman from Adams probably knowns, a few years ago—I think back in 1945—we passed what is known as the Permanent Assessment Act for counties from the fourth to the eighth class. The primary purpose of that legislation was to bring about equality, as far as local effort is concerned.

While I am on that point, I must say this, too. The Tax Equalization Board was set up primarily for the purpose of having local districts pay their proportionate share of the cost of education. There have been a number of operations which have brought about a change. I can see that the changes in my District, in Washington County, are due primarily to the fact that they have not had the assessments proportionately that they should have in order to qualify for this subsidy. Therefore, the result was that they lost in subsidy, due to the activities of the Tax Equaliation Board. They lost in a number of districts and there are also a number of districts that did not lose.

I must say this, Mr. President, in all fairness. I feel the Tax Equalization Board had the proper approach, but the effort was not made there and the ultimate result is that the districts have lost some money.

I will say, furthermore, that since it appears that the House has decided there is money in the bill and there is money for this legislation, I would be silly to vote against it. Frankly, I think I am going to vote for a pig in the poke. I feel it is phony, but, nevertheless, I am going to vote for the bill. I think a lot of others are going to vote for it because their districts will receive a little additional money, so to speak, as far as the legislation is concerned.

I know I have contacted a number of the school directors in my area, and they do not anticipate any additional funds with reference to this legislation. They are now in the process of preparing their budgets for the next fiscal year, and the over-all thought is that if they get any money, they will be so much the better off.

I am going to vote for the bill, but I think it is a phony.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, the question of the validity of the values determined by the Tax Equaliation Board has been attacked time and again in the last several years. I do not mean to attack that system, except to say this. We do know that they have used spot method checking; just a few spot methods here and there throughout certain districts, and they have not been too plentiful because they have complained that they have not had enough personnel to do the job correctly.

Therefore, we question very much the method and the truth of the valuations—the market valuations—which the Tax Equaliation Board certifies.

I can well remember some years ago, in the 1958 valuations, that they came up with so many increases in valuations that they took an automatic fifteen per cent across-the-board, which was, of course, very favorable to heavily populated urban areas.

There is another matter, Mr. President, which I would like to point out. This particular appropriation, which is itemized here, as it must be in order to make possible the proper allocation of funds available, returns only the loss for instruction subsidy. It does not pertain to any of the other basic reimbursement fractions.

I can cite one concrete example or several. However, let us take my own residence in Bedford County. We have lost, by the recent certification of market values in this year, the amount of $143,046. We are getting about $82,000 here. So you see that we are still losing in the neighborhood of sixty-some thousand dollars, which we received the year before. I point out that this is just a help to try to get us over a distressed period until the Legislature in 1963 can manfully face the problem.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I just want to say one word and I will sit down. I do not want to prolong this debate at all.

You know, there is a great differential in the opinions of certain people as to actual market value and current actual market value. I think we can argue from now until kingdom come what is actual market value, and no one will agree in particular.

However, I would suggest—and I am quite sure— that probably in Somerset County there has been a pointed differential there, due to the fact there might have been stagnation as far as real estate is concerned. If there was stagnation there, naturally, they are going to have to set some sort of a figure. I agree that these investigators cannot all be perfect. However, I do say that they are trying to do the job.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, being in the hall of the Senate and not hearing my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like at this time to have the indulgence of the Senate in order to have the privilege of submitting a very important resolution out of the regular order of business.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO LIEUTENANT COLONEL JOHN H. GLENN, JR.

Messrs. LANE, BERGER, WEINER, FLEMING and ROONEY, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 21), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

WHEREAS, We in the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well as every civilized person in the entire world, have witnessed the great flight of the American Astronaut, Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr. in the Friendship Seven Space Craft around the earth; and

WHEREAS, Through the great thrill of the practical application of all the various sciences and the great number of persons associated in this earth oribtal flight, we were thinking primarily of the well-being of John Glenn; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr. on this record-breaking achievement and his safe return to earth.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, I would like to tell Senator Wade of an interesting sidelight to this historic flight. Commissioner McCartney clocked him with radar, traveling 17,146 miles an hour over Pennsylvania. Mr. Shipley has arranged for a hearing in Pittsburgh next week when he comes back here.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have been requested by one of the drivers of that vehicle to see if I could not fix it up for him.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to advise the Senator that we do not fix things in this State. We merely adjust them.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I sincerely hope that Colonel Glenn's adjustment will be made in his favor. He has rendered an outstanding service not only to America, but to all of the world.

The PRESIDENT. We heartily agree with that, Senator Wade, and I am sure we speak for every Member of the Senate when we congratulate Colonel Glenn on his flight.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

HB 15 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I now call from the table for consideration House Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 186, which previously went over in its order temporarily on third reading, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the Senate will proceed with consideration of House Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 186.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 4, CALLED UP

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up from page 2 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 4, entitled:

Authorizing the Senate Banking Committee to Study Consumers Credit Practices.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 4, ADOPTED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I would like to get some information as to the scope of this resolution. It seems very broad as it is here written. I am referring to Senate Resolution, Serial No. 4.

As I read it, this would include the loaning of money from almost any angle. I wonder whether this was the intent of the resolution. Are they going to check into the credit systems of retail stores? Is it to be limited solely to loan companies, as such, or finance companies? Could someone enlighten me as to the definition of scope, if there is such, in the intent of the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have been advised—and I believe the record should be made clear—that we are interested in the situation which happened in St. Marys. I believe the gentleman was present at the time when the Secretary of Banking appeared before the committee. We went into this matter and they discussed the problem that happened at St. Marys, and they said that the only reason that no one was apprised of this is because we have no legislation in that area to control this type of a situation. It might very well be that no legislation is needed. However, the hope of the committee is to look into this area and limit its scope to this area.

When this resolution appeared on the record, I contacted the Secretary of Banking and also discussed some of this with Senator Berger, the Minority Leader. The Secretary of Banking wrote me a letter regarding the St. Marys situation. He felt this might be an area that we might go into without getting into other areas. Therefore, I believe it will be limited to the St. Marys situation and the institutions which were involved. Perhaps we will be able to do something to protect other people from having this kind of disastrous consequences as a result of this kind of peculation of other people's funds.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Majority Leader one further question.

Mr. President, does the Majority Leader know whether it was the stockholders of that particular corporation or the borrowers who suffered as a result of the misuse of funds?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I hesitate to answer that question because sitting in front of the gentleman is a man who knows a great deal about banking and banking institutions.

However, from talking to the Deputy Attorney General, who handled this investigation and who helped to break this case, I gathered that it was both the creditors and the stockholders who, in a sense, are considered in some of the corporate setups as creditors also. Therefore, when I speak of creditors, that might not be too clear. In other words, if I said that someone was a creditor, he might also be a stockholder and might be holding a legal instrument which holds him out to be a creditor of this corporation. Actually, however, people lost their life savings in this and many persons, who had invested in it and thought they were stockholders, actually turned out to be creditors.

One of the other problems which occurred in this situation was that the person, who was dealing with the instruments involved, took these same instruments and got loans on them in the local community. They then took the very same instrument, which never left their possession, and took this to outside banks—as a matter of fact, outside of this Commonwealth—and then took and used these same things to gain more money and used these as a lien. With that situation, I cannot answer correctly whether it was the creditors or the stockholders who were injured. However, I am sure both have been injured by that type of peculation. Now, you have the same person who has borrowed money and has given this instrument or note, if you please, being harassed by two different institutions, both of which thought they had given money on the basis of these notes. Therefore, you also have creditors as well as stockholders who are injured.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, am I correct in assuming that the scope of this resolution, or the intent, is not to probe or fish for information in so far as the credit extended by retail merchants is concerned?

Mr. WEINER. That is absolutely correct, Mr. President. I think we can state here for the record, so that no one will misunderstand us, that the scope and intent of this resolution is to limit the investigation to the St. Marys, Pennsylvania situation where there were a number of peculations of funds and manipulations of funds and where the Banking Department not only did not have the power to do anything about it, but did not have the power to investigate it because they are not covered by this act. We will not go into any retail areas or any fishing expeditions, but will concern ourselves primarily with this type of financial structure to see whether any legislation is necessary and the report will be made back to the next Session of the Legislature.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the St. Marys situation is quite familiar to me. As I remember the letter from the Secretary of Banking, he indicated that possibly the scope of this resolution, and its wording, might be too great. However, I am assured by the Chairman of the Banking Committee of the Senate that the investigation to be undertaken by his committee is going to be made by a subcommittee which will be bipartisan in composition. While he has not assured me that it will be limited to situations such as the St. Marys type, I am assured now by the Majority Leader that will be the case.

I might observe, however, Mr. President, that a part of the loss to the people involved, as stockholders in those corporations, came from the fact that there was a disregard in violation of the Securities Law of Pennsylvania, rather than the laws relating to the extension of credit, in that they issued unauthorized stock and also did something which must be very tempting to many corporations; namely, they paid dividends out of the receipts for capital shares which, on its face, is just naturally bound to be fatal.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, just so there is no misunderstanding for the record, the scope of this has to include what is not covered today and that is the small loan companies, which the Banking Department examines. They do not examine the discount companies, nor the thrift companies, all stock of which was held by the parent corporation here.

I have also talked to the members of the family who are involved in the St. Marys situation and they are very concerned that this happens to no one else. They think that this inquiry is a good thing for the people who are concerned. They feel that the public should be protected. If there had been examinations of these three companies by the Banking Department, there would not have been any deceit by the employees, there would not have been a double pledging of assets, there would not have been a lack of knowledge on the part of many people concerned, including the investors. An examination would have revealed, at least in the subsidary companies, the shortages which existed. Whether or not we can require examination of the parent companies is part of the investigation, and the answer lies there.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative. The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

REGULAR ORDER OF BUSINESS RESUMED

The PRESIDENT. Consideration of today's Calendar being completed, we will now revert to the regular order of business, which is Reports from Committee.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. President, I report at this time, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, a communication from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, recalling the nomination of Herbert D. Cressman for confirmation as a member of the Board of Trustees of Harrisburg State Hospital.

The Clerk read the communication as follows:

RECALLING THE NOMINATION OF HERBERT D. CRESSMAN FOR CONFIRMATION AS A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF HARRISBURG STATE HOSPITAL

February 19, 1962.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In accordance with the power and authority vested in me as Governor of the Commonwealth, I do hereby recall my nomination dated January 2, 1962, for the confirmation of Herbert D. Cressman, Harrisburg as a member of the Board of Trustees of Harrisburg State Hospital, from October 27, 1961, until the third Tuesday of January 1963, and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

I respectfully request the return to me of the official message of nomination in the premises.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent, a motion was made by Mr. DEVLIN and Mr. STAISEY, that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of considering certain nominations made by the Governor.

Which was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. DEVLIN asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations made by His Excellency, the Governor, and just read by the Clerk.

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nominations?

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to state that this roll call will cover all of the nominations reported from committee, with the exception of the nomination of A. D. Cohn for reappointment as a Member of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nominations?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50

Bell,	Hays,	Mullin,	Staisey,
Berger,	Kalman,	Murray,	Stevenson,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

The PRESIDENT. A roll call will now be taken on the nomination of A. D. Cohn for reappointment as a Member of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on January 30th, a number of Senators, including Senator Stroup, Senator Propert, Senator Pechan, Senator Ware, Senator Kromer, Senator Kessler and myself, introduced a resolution which appears in the Senate history on page 25. The gist of the resolution, in substance, was to ask for a moratorium of one year on the very important legislation known as Act No. 561, the School Reorganization Bill.

At that time, a number of Senators rose to discuss the resolution, even though it was not before the Body for that purpose. Among them were Senator Seyler, Senator Silvert, Senator Stroup, Senator Lane, Senator Pechan and others, and in their rather extensive remarks on this resolution it was very evident I think to every Member of this Body that this most revolutionary legislation, Act No. 561, was certainly nothing to be hurried. As a matter of fact, a number of the Senators admitted that the legislation, passed during the 1961 Session, was hurried and poorly drawn in many instances.

I am sure every Member of this Body received—and they must have received—many, many letters in connection with this Act.

Mr. President, not only are there many school directors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania much at sea—as I think we would all admit—but so, too, is the education of thousands of young folks in our public schools. The demonstration today of Colonel Glenn, who had the assistance of a tremendous amount of knowledge gathered by the scientists and others in America to make it possible for him to perform such a feat, would indicate to every Member of this Senate—as a matter of fact, to every citizen of America—that the Country that leads in twenty-five years, or even in fifteen or twenty years from now, is the Country that will be best informed on these scientific developments and other methods that we expect to offer our students in their early training.

Mr. President, I would like to interrogate, if I might, Senator Weiner, very briefly. One reason for doing so is that on February 6th, The Evening News of the city of Harrisburg stated that the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mr. Boehm, who has occupied that position for a number of years, stated that,—and I know it is not entirely fair to take a statement out of context—in substance, public education of Pennsylvania's rural youth is in a sad state of affairs. That is a pretty broad statement coming from a man who has occupied that position for several years.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, my purpose is to ask Senator Weiner if he is Chairman of the Rules Committee, which holds this resolution listed in our Senate History as Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 101?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman if his committee has fully considered this resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, we have not considered that resolution. There are a number of resolutions which we hope to consider next week.

I might also point out to the gentleman that if we consider this resolution, my feeling about it at the moment would be to vote against it, and I will tell you why, Senator, if you are interested in hearing it. If you are not, I will stop, and let you speak.

If you are interested in hearing why I will vote "no" on it, I will do so for this reason: One county, Fayette County, has already turned in its plan, and a number of other counties, I am advised, have already formed committees and are working on it. Now, if this is confusion, I do not think they have formed committees to be confused. I think they have formed committees to work out their problems, and try to bring a program back to the State so that they can work on this reorganization program.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am sure that the rather lengthy answer from Senator Weiner is helpful to many Members of this Body, and that they appreciate it. However, I was somewhat disappointed when the chairman of the committee stated, as I read in last night's paper, that he hoped to end this Session next week. Here is what I consider a most important resolution, and I was quite disappointed to hear him say right now that as chairman of that committee he has not even considered the resolution or brought it before the committee for consideration.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think the gentleman knows that I am perfectly willing to put my record as chairman against his record as chairman in bringing bills up before the committee. I have never failed to do that, regardless of where these bills are. I assure him that I will always do this. I cannot say the same for him, unfortunately, because I have been on this floor a number of times, asking him to bring bills out of committee which have not even been considered by his committee, and he has refused to do so for reasons best known to himself. Of course, that is the prerogative of a chairman.

However, I will say that if he will attend the meeting of the Rules Committee,—and he is respectfully invited to do so, not as a voting member but as an observer since he is not on that committee—I will be delighted to bring this and other resolutions before the committee, and we can at that time discuss it. I have brought every resolution or bill that has ever been in my committee before the committee and action has been taken on them.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am simply reciting the gentleman's statement that he has not yet brought this particular resolution before the committee.

I would, if we had a little more time, like to interrogate the gentleman to find out what bills I did not bring before the committee when I was chairman. However, I will not do that at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Do you think we have time enough, Senator Wade?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I simply terminate my remarks my saying I accept the gentleman's kind invitation to attend all Rules Committee Meetings, if that is what the invitation involves?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I not only extend the invitation to him, but to every Member of the Senate to attend any Rules Committee Meetings as observers or interested spectators. I would be delighted to have them. I intend to have a meeting on Monday, Senator. I hope that you will be able to be present.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, if I am in order, I should like to comment upon the interrogation that has just been before us.

The PRESIDENT. I think all of this has been out of order, and I see no real reason for enlarging the out of order phase of this Senate's operations today.

Mr. STROUP. I shall submit to your ruling, sir.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, sir.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEM OF DISTRIBUTION OF PREMIUM MONEY TO FAIR ASSOCIATIONS BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Messrs. VAN SANT and YATRON offered the following resolution (Serial No. 22), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

Annually, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture makes payments to various fair associations throughout the State. The purpose of these payments is to assist the fairs in paying premiums for agricultural commodities. The intent and aim of this program is to increase interest in agriculture and related fields, but in many cases it is doubtful whether the desired result is reached.

Some of the larger fair associations throughout the State receive a sizeable amount from the State. This is greatly appreciated and, in most cases, the money is put to good use. On the other hand, some fair associations which run little more than an annual carnival receive almost as much as the real agricultural fair associations.

This seems to be a problem of distribution and equalization. Other States have had the same problem in the past, but one such as New York has established a more equitable distribution plan through legislation. In order to solve the problem here in Pennsylvania, it might be necessary to draft new legislation; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a study of the problem of distribution of premium money to fair associations by the Department of Agriculture so as to be able to offer a solution to it; and be it further

RESOLVED, That upon completion of its study, it shall request the Legislative Reference Bureau to draft the necessary legislation and then it shall present to the General Assembly its findings of facts, recommendations and drafts of legislation necessary to remedy the situation.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I request the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to this resolution being considered immediately. I ask that it be sent to the appropriate committee where, I can assure the Members, it will receive due consideration and be dealt with properly, whether it be sent to my committee or any other committee.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STAISEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STAISEY. Mr. President, the Girl Scouts of America will celebrate their fiftieth anniversary. The resolution I am about to offer is intended to commend them for being preservers of the values of our people and those women who, in a very quiet way, carry on this work.

While our daughters are the direct recipients of this group's efforts, in a very real sense it is we men who, in the end product, enjoy the rich benefits of good wives, good mothers and good American women.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

CONGRATULATING THE GIRL SCOUT ORGANIZATION

Messrs. STAISEY, CONFAIR, BELL, HAWBAKER, KROMER, SCOTT, WARE, DEVLIN, RIPP, KALMAN, SEYLER, MURRAY, LANE, McGINNIS, HAYS and SHAFER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 23), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

The Girl Scout movement had its origin in the United States in the year 1912. The founder was Mrs. Juliette Low of Savannah, Georgia. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is justly proud of the part it has played in the great national movement.

Like the Boy Scout organization, the Girl Scouts are nonpolitical, nonsectarian and the organization is engaged in training girls between the ages of ten and eighteen in home and character-building and in becoming good citizens. The work that can be done by this organization is unlimited and is in no wise hampered by race, color, creed or political affiliations.

The Senate of Pennsylvania is proud of the work done by the women and girls active in Girl Scouting in this State; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates the Girl Scout organization during this National Girl Scout Week; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this great work continue to aim at achieving the goals set forth by this organization.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair can go home tonight and tell his two daughters and wife that such a resolution was passed. They will be very thrilled by it.

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE SERVICES RENDERED BY THE MUSEUM OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. MAHADY, STIEFEL, CHAPMAN, and KALMAN offered the following resolution (Serial No. 24), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

In the past, the General Assembly of Pennsylvania failed to extend much needed State-aid to the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania, thereby arresting, during recent decades, the further growth of this great Seat of Learning, an unexcelled and unsurpassed repository of materials so vital for the study of the Ancient Near East.

As the Bible is the undisputed cornerstone of our civilization and our main rampart in arresting the march of Godless hordes, the Department of the University of Pennsylvania dealing with studies of the Ancient Near East, as well as the University Museum with its great treasures unearthed by the museum-expeditions to ancient lands, are tendering a great service to the civilized world, to the people of the United States generally and to our citizenry in particular.

Only a thorough and exhaustive study could evaluate the significance of the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania and the importance of its full development for the cultural progress of Pennsylvania; a study that would undoubtedly present to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania the needs of the University Museum and the significance of State-aid thereto.

NOW BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to undertake a study of the services rendered by the University Museum to the citizenry of Pennsylvania, in order to thus ascertain its pressing needs and the tenability of an appropriation that would be conducive to the full utilization of the Museum capacities, and that such a study be submitted to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania at the opening of the 1963 Regular Session thereof.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate of Pennsylvania forward copies of the instant resolution, upon its passage, to Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, President of the University of Pennsylvania, and to E. Craig Sweeten, Vice President of the University of Pennsylvania, in charge of development.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the resolution which I will now offer deals with the educational pursuits of the Historical and Museum Commission of Pennsylvania.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION TO SUPPLY THE LEGISLATIVE BUDGET AND FINANCE COMMITTEE AND THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY CERTAIN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM INFORMATION

Messrs. STIEFEL and LANE offered the following resolution (Serial No. 106), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

The William Penn Memorial Museum and Archives Building now under construction will provide the Commonwealth for the first time with an adequate and modern new State Museum facility.

While this building upon its completion will be visited by many thousands of Pennsylvanians and people from outside the Commonwealth every year, the full usefulness of it as a museum, historical and archival center can and should be greatly extended by a program of educational exhibits which can be brought to the people and especially to the schools in every section of the Commonwealth by means of portable and/or mobile museum and historical exhibits comparable to those already in use in such States as Wisconsin and Illinois and in preparation in New Jersey.

Further presentations on the history of the Commonwealth and its contributions in science, government, and the arts may be accomplished through films, filmstrips, and other visual and audio devices of such a nature as to reach the schools and organized civic and cultural groups throughout the Commonwealth.

The William Penn Memorial Building has, in its collections, materials pertaining to science, invention, industry, agriculture, transportation, natural science, its planetarium, and the entire area of Pennsylvania's part in the development of the Nation; therefore be it

RESOLVED (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby requested to prepare and have available for the use of the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee and the General Assembly as early as convenient, a comprehensive report on the educational program for the schools and the general public which can and should be made available through the commission and its museum, archival, and historical units, together with estimates as to the costs of such a program and means for its early implementation.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I request the immediate adoption of this resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution be sent to the appropriate committee.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to offer is in the nature of activating the Advisory Committee on Decedents' Estate Laws of the Joint State Government Commission, which has existed for some time and which every two years goes out of existence.

This is a memorandum to the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission which may or may not, as they see fit, activate this Committee. We have been sending this memorandum over every two years at the request of the Governor, judges, lawyers, and other interested citizenry who serve on this Committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THAT THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON DECEDENTS' ESTATE LAWS OF THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION BE CONTINUED UNTIL THE END OF THE LEGISLATIVE SESSION OF 1963

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 25), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 20, 1962.

RESOLVED, That the Advisory Committee on Decedents' Estate Laws of the Joint State Government Commission be continued until the end of the Legislative Session of 1963, for the purpose of considering necessary and desirable changes in the decedents' estate laws and related statutes developed by the Joint State Government Commission, and to make recommendations to the Commission with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McGINNIS, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported, as committed, SB 7.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. McMENNAMIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The bills were as follows: SB 7 and 9.

And said bills having been read at length for the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCE

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, yesterday, I presented an amendment to a bill to increase the amount of money to municipalities for construction of sewerage treatment plans. At that time, the Majority Leader questioned me about what we have paid in the past. At that time, I did not know, but today I have the information for him and the Senate.

In 1953, we passed this bill that the municipalities should get two per cent, and in 1953 we paid two per cent. In 1954, we paid 1.80 per cent; in 1955, we paid 1.80; in 1958, we paid 1.25 per cent; and 1959, we paid 1.35 per cent. Now, we are down to a low ebb. These municipalities expected to get the two per cent when they went out and borrowed the money to build these treatment plants and now we are down to paying them 1.19 per cent. I think the Majority Leader should be informed of that fact because yesterday he did not understand and did not know that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if the gentleman will look at the record, he will note that yesterday I said they paid the all time—other than in 1953—high of 1.26 per cent. If the gentleman states that in 1954 they paid 1.80, I will accept that as being so. I am sure the municipalities all have good lawyers and if they will read the law, they will see that it says up to two per cent. It does not say two per cent. The reason this was passed was to encourage many of the areas which did not have this kind of sewerage treatment or disposal plant to build this type of facility. That is the reason why we gave this encouragement to them.

This is not actually a demand on the State which they can make. We asked them to do this. We held out this aid to them to help them over the years when they were paying interest on the bonds or whatever other financial structure they had to finance this type of activity. There is no mandate which says they must receive two per cent. The law very clearly states "up to two per cent." It does not say two per cent.

Mr. CONFAIR. I will agree with the gentleman, Mr. President, that it does not state that the Commonwealth must pay two per cent. However, we require the municipalities to do that and I think it is more or less a double cross to them. After we tell them to go ahead and build these plants and we will give them two per cent, then we give them 1.19 per cent.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there were many plants already in existence when this was passed. This was part of the clean streams program and a part of the general public health program that we were trying to engender in many of the municipalities that were not doing any of this. Therefore, we were trying to give them a little bit of a boost in helping them pay their interest. In other words, if they could float a bond issue and get the prime rate of 2.59 per cent or 4 per cent, this was half of that interest they already had in their pocket and which they could look forward to each year. If the Commonwealth is underwriting 1.19 per cent for them, they can probably do pretty well in the bond market, even today. The General State Authority and other areas of that type pay about 2:59 per cent, depending on the market. I think they are doing very well if they can rely upon getting up to two per cent. I am sure any businessman would be delighted to know that somebody had the kind of backing which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania gives them, up to two per cent. He would have no difficulty in doing his financing from that point on. They are not looking at this two per cent to finance the entire structure. It would be impossible and it would be silly for them to even predicate any building on that kind of a program.

This is just a small help in aiding the clean streams program.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, at the time when they built these plants, the two per cent was supposed to pay the plants off in fifty years. That was the purpose. Now, they will never get them paid for.

I think we have double crossed these municipalities. I do not think 1.19 per cent is enough. Of course, the bill has passed, but I just wanted to inform the gentleman what they have been paying.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not understand what the gentleman is saying. If the law says up to two per cent, that could mean one per cent, it could mean .50 per cent, it could mean anywhere up to two per cent. I do not think this is one of those things that could be a problem of semantics or how you interpret it. I think it is very clear that the Commonwealth never meant to obligate itself to the point of two per cent. If it did, it would have said two per cent. However, it did not; it said up to two per cent.

I do not want to go into past history, but I would like to remind the gentleman that we did not write that legislation. That was written when other people were in control of both the House and the Senate. I am sure they must have had reasons for doing it. I would suggest that he consult with some of those people. Some of them are still here. Maybe he can make a change in the next Session if we can find the money to do so.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, February 26, 1962, at 10:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:49 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Vol. 39. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1962. No. 18.

SENATE

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1962.

The Senate met at 10:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John H. Devlin) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. WAGNER:

Our heavenly Father, we know Thou dost send the sunshine and the rain. While it sometimes is to our inconvenience, nevertheless, we know it is for our good, as Thou dost bless us in so many ways.

At the start of a new week, we ask Thy presence in this Body, in our hearts and in our minds. Wilt Thou guide us and direct us in our deliberations and restrain us, according to Thy will? Overrule in the plans, thoughts and intentions which we have. May our decisions and our actions be for the good of the Commonwealth and its people, and for this, our Father's work. Help us to so live that we will help Thy Kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven.

Save us all, we ask in our Savior's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 104

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 104, entitled "Commemorating the 100th Anniversary of The Altoona Conference," was adpoted by the Senate on February 13, 1962.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the sixth paragraph of this resolution, lines 1, 2 and 3, be amended by striking out the words "General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (the House of Representatives concurring)," and inserting in lieu thereof "Senate of Pennsylvania".

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution, as amended?

The resolution, as amended, was adopted.

CALENDAR

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

SB 19 and 20—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 19 and Senate Bill No. 20 go over in their order temporarily.

Mr. President, there will be a recess of the Senate very shortly and Senate Bill No. 19 and Senate Bill No. 20 will be called up and considered after the recess. These bills, as well as Senate Bill No. 29,—which is on Second Reading and provides for the calling of a Constitutional Convention—will be discussed at the same time this afternoon.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bills will go over in order temporarily.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

APPROPRIATION BILL ON SECOND READING

SB 7 (Pr. No. 7)—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

SB 29—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order temporarily at the request of Mr. WEINER.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to bring to the attention of the Members of the Senate that there has been a great deal of discussion in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania about the school reorganization bill which was passed during the last Session. So far, only the negative comment has been heard about it.

I would very respectfully suggest to the Members of the Senate that if they have not received the booklet, discussing this matter and talking about the positive vein in which this is going to be done and what is being done, that they write and obtain it. If they have any difficulty in getting it, if they will see me, I will be glad to give them the other side of it.

Possibly, I think this should be aired in the Senate, just very generally, within the next day or two, as to what some of the other aspects of this problem are. The information is being sent to the people in the Commonwealth who desire it. If any Members of the Senate do not have the information and would like to have it, I will see that they obtain this booklet, if they have difficulty getting it on their own.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to announce that there will be a meeting of the Rules Committee, to be held on E Floor, in the Majority Leader's Office. All those who would like to attend are welcome to do so. We will take up all the bills and resolutions which are in that committee. This meeting will take place at 3:00 p.m.

There will also be a Democratic Caucus at 3:30 p.m. and we will return to the Session at 4:00 p.m., unless this conflicts with any other business.

The PRESIDENT. May I call to the attention of the Senators a telegram which I received this morning from the gentleman who has been working with me on the Governor's Prayer Breakfast, Mr. B. C. Gooding, Jr., of Pittsburgh? He has requested that all of our Senators who are attending the Governor's Prayer Breakfast try to be on hand prior to 8:00 a.m. He suggested 7:45 a.m., but that is adding a little insult to injury. I think if we get there just prior to 8:00 a.m., we will be able to do what he hopes to do; that is, start promptly at 8:00 in the Ballroom of the Penn Harris Hotel, on Tuesday, tomorrow morning.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, did I understand the announcement correctly that there will be a Democratic Caucus at 3:30 p.m.?

Mr. WEINER. That is correct, Senator.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to further announce there will be a Republican Caucus at 3:30 p.m.

GUESTS OF SENATOR ZEHNDER H. CONFAIR PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. May I now have the pleasure of introducing to you the sister of Senator Confair, Mrs. Bittenbender, and his lovely wife, Mrs. Confair?

We are very happy that the Republican side of the Senate showed up so well this morning for you two lovely ladies.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (Anthony J. DiSilvestro) in the Chair.

BILLS SIGNED

The President pro tempore (Anthony J. DiSilvestro) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills:

HB 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 68, 72, 73 and 80.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, at this time, I request a recess of the Senate until 4:00 p.m. this afternoon.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a recess of the Senate until 4:00 p.m.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

RESOLUTIONS REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported, without amendment, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 7, entitled:

SB 20 CALLED UP

SB 20 (Pr. No. 20)—Without objection, the bill, which previously went over in its order temporarily, was called up from page 1 of the Third Reading Calendar by Mr. WEINER.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

SB 20 (Pr. No. 20)—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I want to point out only one thing in connection with Senate Bill No. 20.

Corporations today, because of their large growth, transfer their personnel from time to time. During the past Presidential Election, in our county alone, this was very noticeable and the complaints were high. In our county, in the various communities, they have what they call Newcomers' Clubs. Now in the Newcomers' Club in the town of Latrobe, which is a town of 11,000, there were 122 members. One hundred nineteen of these members were disfranchised under the Constitution as it now stands. In the county alone, the number belonging to these new neighborhood Newcomers' Clubs who were disfranchised ran over 1,000. They all felt that something had been denied them.

The ladies who belonged to the Newcomer's Club in Latrobe were all college graduates. They and their husbands were disfranchised, and they felt badly about it.

I want to draw this matter to your attention when you are thinking of voting for this bill. It merely reduces the State residential requirement, as well as the local residential requirement; the one being ninety days and the other sixty days.

Among the people who are moved around at will be the corporations—and sometimes we think in terms of migrant labor, and forget this large group who are constantly being reshuffled—are the junior executive class; people who normally would be leaders in their community and eventually will be All during their training period and their period of acclimation, we are disfranchising them.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I did not want this measure to pass without putting into the record that we have been urged by everyone in both parties to make sure that we allow people to vote, and not disfranchise them. This is an excellent way of doing so.

Due to the mobility of our population, people can move very quickly from one area to another, and are doing so. I think we should make available to them the opportunity to vote. There is nothing magic about living in the State for a year, as compared to ninety days, sixty days, or whatever the time. I think by passing this legislation, we will be urging people not only to exercise their duty to our Democracy, but we are making it easy for them to do so, and making it available for them to do so.

This legislation is going through the Senate now for the first time. It will have to pass another Session before it goes on the ballot. Therefore, we are only taking the first step in this work.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I know that what Senator Mahady has said and what Senator Weiner has just said is correct. Almost everywhere there are situations such as have been described, where people who have been transferred in their employment have found themselves unable to cast their ballot at an election, and they are intelligent and capable people.

We certainly feel that these people ought to have the right of franchise since they have had to move from their previous voting residence through no volition of their own, and find themselves unable to cast their ballots.

Consequently, Mr. President, many of us feel this is a good measure, and one that will answer the problem for those people who have been described.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length for the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE HOLY TRINITY CHURCH OF DUQUESNE UPON THE DEATH OF FATHER MICHAEL J. FAIDEL

Mr. STAISEY, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 26), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 26, 1962.

To those of us who knew him, the untimely passing of Father Michael J. Faidel, pastor of Holy Trinity Church in Duquesne, on February 14, 1962. comes with a shock and much sadness. His passing leaves a void in his parish that will long be felt.

Father Faidel was born at Munhall in 1895 and was educated at St. Michael School in Homestead, St. Procopius College, Duquesne University and St. Vincent Seminary. He held the following degrees: BA, MA, Bachelor of Theology, and LLB.

Father Faidel served as assistant at Visitation Church, Mt. Pleasant, for four months until his appointment as pastor of St. Anthony Church, Clymer, and its missions, in November, 1917. Successively, he was named pastor of St. Michael Church, Millsboro, in 1918; vicar econome of St. Joachim Church, Hazelwood, in 1924, and pastor in 1936; and pastor of Holy Trinity Church on June 16, 1955.

Father Faidel was a dedicated and conscientious worker in every parish with which he had any connections. His passing leaves many friends filled with sadness and sorrow; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends condolences to the Holy Trinity Church of Duquesne, Pennsylvania, on its great loss; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Reverend Michael Gubanic, Holy Trinity Church, Duquesne, Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I hope by this time that every body in the Senate has received a copy of the booklet, entitled "Fourth 'R' ". Between now and tomorrow, perhaps the Members will have an opportunity to read it and possibly we should discuss it briefly on the basis of the problem presented by Senator Wade. I want to assure the gentleman that we took up his resolution in committee. However, I am not at liberty to say what action the committee took on it. It was, however, properly discussed and there is some material here which I think he should address himself to. We would be very happy to discuss it with him tomorrow if he would like to do so, or any other problem pertaining to the school reorganization plan in Pennsylvania.

If there is anyone who does not have one of these booklets, if he will advise me, I will see to it that he receives one.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHADY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, during the last few days, I have lost a friend in death. He was an outstanding citizen not only of Latrobe, but of Westmoreland County. To say that this man was my friend is not enough. I will say it so that you will appreciate it more. He was the publisher of a newspaper. He was a leader in the Republican Party. He was a man whose newspaper supported only one Democrat that I can remember in its history. That Democrat was myself. He was a man of outstanding characteristics. He was a man who was one of seven children who were left as orphans in their early years. Despite the fact that they were left as orphans, he and his brother, Tom, founded the Latrobe Bulletin and left it the newspaper with the largest circulation in Westmoreland County.

Mr. President. I now offer this resolution and request its immediate consideration.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE HARRY J. WHITEMAN

Mr. MAHADY, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 27), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 26, 1962.

The residents of Latrobe, Pennsylvania, were saddened by the unexpected passing away of one of their outstanding citizens, Harry J. Whiteman, on February 21, 1962, at his winter home in Daytona Beach, Florida.

He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1912, later joined his brother, Thomas M. Whiteman, at the Latrobe Bulletin, and became its President and Publisher. After his retirement, he served actively as corporation consultant to the Latrobe Printing and Publishing Company.

His wife, Hazel D. Whiteman of Latrobe, Pennsylvania, and two children, Thomas M. Whiteman II and Mrs. Robert Johnson, survive him.

He engaged in all civic and social affairs with all his strength and vitality; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extends its heartfelt sympathies to the family of Harry J. Whiteman in the loss of their loving husband and father, Harry J. Whiteman; and, be it further RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Hazel D. Whiteman, his widow, at Latrobe, Pennsylvania.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 27, 1962, at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:04 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 26, 1962

The House met at 3:30 p. m., e. s. t.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thou Whose power and might is able to alter and transform our world, we turn to Thee in this evening hour with a depth of gratitude in our lives which mere words cannot express. But we come with the knowledge that the achievement of this Nation of ours last Tuesday could not have been possible without Thy power and might working within the whole team. And we humbly pray that out past accomplishments may ever serve as a challenge to undertake greater tasks in Thy name and with Thy help. Also, we ask that Thou wilt look with favor upon these stewards of Thine; bless their endeavors, and enable them to ever work as a team dedicated to the fostering of Thy power and might in the lives of others. In Thy dear name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, February 5, 1962? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, February 19, 1962, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, to preside. The Chair has a great many bills to sign and is asking the gentleman from Philadelphia to "spell" him for a while.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BRETH and CURWOOD.
RESOLUTION No. 36.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

The forests of Pennsylvania are each day becoming increasingly more important from the standpoint of furnishing raw materials for industry, employment for citizens, areas for recreation, protection for our watersheds to prevent sedimentation and to insure a uniform flow of pure water, and to provide food and cover for wildlife.

Insects and diseases are the most destructive forces of the forests, each year destroying thirty-eight million board feet of saw timber trees (trees over twelve inches in diameter) and sixteen million cubic feet of pole timber (trees from six to twelve inches in diameter), while fire destroys only one million board feet of saw timber and only two million cubic feet of pole timber. No well organized forest pest program, similar to the fire protection program, exists in Pennsylvania.

The present laws relating to the subject of forest pest and insect control have not been reviewed since 1937, and a need for such review is apparent; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to examine present laws relating to forest pest and insect control, and to inquire into the necessity and advisability of changing or improving the said laws; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the 1963 session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. BRETH, ANDREWS, A. W. JOHNSON and CURWOOD. RESOLUTION No. 37.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Pennsylvania has, for many years, been in the forefront in the field of consumer protection against mislabeling of consumer goods, particularly with respect to foodstuffs.

In recent years, however, more and more evidence has come to public attention of widespread possible abuses in the packaging, labeling and pricing of merchandise offered to the public. Among these practices are the employment of "odd" weights and sizes, the use of small or illegible print in the required weight statements, the employment of "slack fill," the multiplication of package sizes bearing, in some cases, deceptive descriptions, the use of "unbased" price reduction statements and other techniques abusive of the confidence of the public.

We have, for many years, considered it to be in the public interest to provide safeguards for the consumer who is not equipped to protect himself from abuses of his confidence; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to examine the law and practices relating to the packaging, labeling and pricing of consumer goods, and to inquire into the necessity and advisability of changing, expanding or improving the said laws; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the 1963 Session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE and GALLAGHER. RESOLUTION No. 38.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake a thorough and complete study of the problem of juvenile delinquency in Pennsylvania with a view to discovering its extent, its causes, its effects, the present efforts to combat or control or prevent delinquency in our youth, the success of such efforts, and the reasons for their success or insuccess, the responsible suggestions advanced for combating, controlling or preventing juvenile delinquency, those programs which have shown success and those which have shown failure, and any new approaches to the problem which have been suggested by persons familiar with the problem; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE and GREMMINGER. RESOLUTION No. 39.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake a thorough and complete study of the public assistance laws of Pennsylvania with particular attention given to the types of assistance grants, the adequacy of such grants, and the means and methods employed by the Bureau of Public Assistance to determine the need and amount of grants, and in its study to compile similar data from other states for the purpose of comparison with Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE, KELLY and LIMPER. RESOLUTION No. 40.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake a thorough and complete study of the library facilities in Pennsylvania with particular reference to their adequacy, the extent of service performed, the geographic location and service areas of libraries, the need for additional facilities, the adequacy of present State laws, and the need for new legislation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a report of its study to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE, KELLY and LIMPER. RESOLUTION No. 41.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact into law the program suggested by the President of the United States to provide medical care for aged people through the Federal Social Security program; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Congressman from Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE, SHELTON, LAWSON and ARLENE. RESOLUTION No. 42.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the Congress of the United States to take that action which will result in the creation of a Department of Urban Affairs, directed by a person of cabinet rank; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and to each Senator and Congressman from Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GRAMLICH and DAVIS. RESOLUTION No. 43.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

The completion of two vast construction projects now under way, namely, the Keystone Shortway and the Kinzua Dam, has the potential to create far-reaching change in the economic and social structure of the Upper Allegheny River Valley. It is not too soon to initiate steps for adjusting the valley area to conform to the changes that can be clearly seen at this time. One change which will occur is crystal clear. The Kinzua Dam will attract large numbers of tourists and persons seeking recreation. Many of these visitors coming from other areas and regions will arrive by the Keystone Shortway. To facilitate this travel from other areas and regions and at the same time to accommodate local travel, the necessity for placing an interchange in the Keystone Shortway on the east side of the Allegheny River near Emlenton to connect with a primary highway dimension feeder road leading north to cross Route 322 at Cranberry, and thence on to join Route 62, is apparent. The Allegheny Highway is a natural and highly logical step; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways is hereby requested to proceed with the study and, if found practicable, the construction of such an interchange and route north from Emlenton to Route 62.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. SNARE. RESOLUTION No. 44.

In the House of Representatives, February 16, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and complete study of the administration of the occupational disease law of Pennsylvania, with special attention given to the processing of claims, particularly whether delays exist, the extent and necessity of delays, the possibility of speeding the payment of claims, and the responsibility therefor. The commission shall also study the cost to claimants of securing payment, including attorneys' fees and the practices among attorneys with respect to claims and the practices of the Department of Labor and Industry and of insurers with respect to claims to claimants and to their attorneys; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GRAMLICH and DAVIS.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 45.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

For generations and especially during recent years, gorged ice conditions have created hazards with devastating potentials to the area of Oil Creek, upstream from Oil City.

Although there have been certain steps taken during the past decade to reduce these hazards, nevertheless it is all too clear that the main problem has not yet been solved.

The hazards grow more ominous with each passing winter. Oil City now faces the worst weather conditions. The time for positive and decisive action is past due; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requests the United States Department of the Army to immediately plan and undertake engineering changes which can safeguard the Oil City community from the ravages of ice gorges and floods; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., Secretary of the Army.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. TOMPKINS, MARSH, A. W. JOHNSON, BOSSERT and FULMER. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

In the year 1955, the General Assembly of Pennsylvania authorized the sale of 8,579 acres of Commonwealth owned lands, including a State Highway running through said land; and further authorized a long term lease on an additional 42,596 acres of Commonwealth lands, including a State Highway running through said leasehold—the leased lands surround the conveyed lands on all sides—the total transaction consisting of 51,000 contiguous acres of land which has since been called and referred to as Quehanna.

Upon acquisition of said lands and leasehold by Curtiss-Wright Corporation, said Curtiss-Wright Corporation had the entire acreage enclosed in a high wire fence and all public traffic on the highways going through said acreage closed off.

At the time of said sale and lease, the inducements held out for the establishment of an industry and testing and research center, with the consequent employment and creation of jobs, was such as to make the transaction a desirable one.

Much money was spent in the clearing of land, the erection of buildings and test cells, the establishment of a manufacturing plant and the creation of a research center and staff.

Due to the loss of Government contracts and due to the inability of Curtiss-Wright to obtain certain Government contracts which they were capable of handling, the project was never able to get well under way.

51,000 acres of land were closed to hunting and fishing but were later relaxed under certain regulations.

Many homes were either purchased or built by Curtiss-Wright personnel in Cameron, Centre, Clearfield and Elk Counties who were assigned to work at this project.

The closing of the roads cut off all north and south traffic between Sinnamahoning and Karthaus.

Curtiss-Wright has announced its intention of closing on June 30, 1962 of what litle operations still remain there because of its inability and the inability of the present administration in Harrisburg of being able to obtain Government contracts, or of being able to induce any private capital to take over the operation.

The closing of the roads has cost this area a possible access highway to the shortway with ill effects upon the economy of the area.

It is not our purpose now to chastise Curtiss-Wright nor to discourage this or any other industry from locating at this location. It is our purpose to see this land utilized in a manner beneficial to the people of Pennsylvania and, if at all possible, to bring into reality the good effects envisioned in the sale and lease of this land in 1955.

This land is located in the area of and borders on the Driftwood-Benezette gas fields which was and still is productive of much natural gas.

We are today living in the atomic, missile, rocket and space age.

The land is located in a mountainous and isolated section and in close proximity to Penn State University; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint five members of the House who shall constitute a committee to inquire into and study

1. What might be done to implement and continue the operation of Curtiss-Wright, by either government contracts or by private capital.

2. To determine if there is any private capital that could be obtained to take over the facilities at Curtiss-Wright and develop an industrial or research activity, or both.

3. To explore and determine the possibility of the creation of a State Atomic Energy Authority to research and develop the peaceful use of atomic energy and provide the necessary funds therefor.

4. To explore and determine if the location and facilities are adapted to any or all of the rocket, missile and space programs.

5. To determine the advisibility of reclaiming the land for the exploration of natural gas.

6. To determine the advisability of reclaiming the land for hunting, fishing, camp sites and/or summer homes, and for recreation and tourist attraction.

7. To determine why the former State Highway running north and south should not be immediately opened for public use; and further, why said Highway should not be placed back upon the State Highway System; and also the advisability of making said highway an access highway to the shortway.

8. To study and determine any other use to which said lands and facilities might be utilized; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may hold hearings, take testimony and make its investigation at such places as it should deem necessary within this Commonwealth. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of the chairman, commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee deems necessary. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to this body as soon as possible.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in introducing House Resolution No. 46 I would like to file for the record an extension of remarks in connection with it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the record.

Mr. TOMPKINS submitted the following for the record:

In 1955 on 51,000 acres of the best plateau lands on the Atlantic Seaboard, purchased and leased from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Curtiss-Wright Corporation carved out of the wilderness, a prospective industrial, testing and research (including a nuclear laboratory) empire, and called it Quehanna.

Multiple millions of dollars, both private and public (tax) monies, were spent in clearing and developing the land, the installation of buildings, equipment and machinery, and the construction of access highways.

The operation reached a peak when it employed about 1,500 people such as industrial employees, clerical help and scientific and research engineers. Much of the program was geared to government contracts in jet, nuclear and space projects.

With the failure of the industrial program, and the loss of, or inability to retain or obtain, Government contracts either on their own or through the intervention of the present administration at Harrisburg, it became necessary to curtail operations and to recently announce the complete termination of all operations at Quehanna as of June 30, 1962.

Here is a multiple-million-dollar development and installation, located in the heart of Pennsylvania, crying out of the wilderness, "Forsake me not. I am the atomic and space age of the future—I can be the nucleus of Pennsylvania's tomorrow. The least you can do is to study me and see if your tax dollars cannot be redeemed and revitalized instead of cast aside and wasted."

We have industrial recovery programs; public housing; development and re-development programs; recreation; airfield construction and a host of other programs given encouragement, impetus and direction by the hand of government to service the needs of the present age in which we live.

Government contracts we want; government contracts we need (by Executive effort if possible—and with the additional influence of cooperative legislative effort, if necessary), open highways we want—open highways we need, all for the immediate solution to jobs and employment in the economically distressed area where these facilities are located.

But what of the future—what of the age into which we are rapidly advancing? Government contracts will not keep on forever. The age of tomorrow will be in the atomic and space fields. Why should we not explore this facility as being the probably vehicle by which Pennsylvania can journey into said age and keep pace with the times? I speak of the creation of an atomic energy and space authority along the lines similar to that now being proposed in New York.

Irrespective of the grandiose expectation for the present Curtiss-Wright project when it was initiated and its eventual failure, sufficient tax monies have been expended and local economies disrupted that some official legislative inquiry and study should be made to see if something might be originated and developed for the use and utilization of said facilities for the present and future good of the Commonwealth and for the betterment of the sad plight of the local area affected. For all of these reasons, I introduce this resolution.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed on a March 14, 1962 meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, with the new 18 nation group named by the General Assembly of the United Nations to negotiate toward disarmament; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extends to the 18 nation group their best wishes for successful disarmament negotiations and expresses the hope that there will be no walkout or other interruption until a final progress report has been negotiated; and the further hope that no nation shall use the meeting only as a propaganda forum to obtain world opinion in its favor but that the United States, the Soviet Union and other nations shall work only for a just disarmament with full and adequate inspection by the United Nations in the interests of international health, security and peace under World Law; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of State of the United States, the Ambassador to the United Nations for the United States and the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. J. A. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. J. A. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I want to talk on the deliberations between management and labor going on in Pittsburgh at the present time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. J. A. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, today in Pittsburgh important deliberations are going on between management and labor, deliberations that will affect the lives of 430,000 wage earners in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, it is my hope and desire that during these deliberations a little of the wisdom of the Almighty will rub off on both sides that they may deal with fairness and justice and equality to each other.

Mr. Speaker, it is my hope that in these deliberations in the final concept that management will receive a fair return on their investment and it is my hope and desire that labor shall be able to educate their children, shall provide food on the table, clothes on their backs, and a roof over their heads.

Mr. Speaker, I do not think this is asking too much. It is my hope that through these deliberations, in the final signing of contracts, both labor and management will render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to man the things that are man's.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

REPORT OF SAVING FUND SOCIETY OF GERMANTOWN

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the One Hundred and Seventh Annual Report of the Saving Fund Society of Germantown.

INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, rise?

Mr. FINEMAN. To place an inquiry of the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FINEMAN. I would like to ask whether the present occupant of the Speaker's Chair occupies the Chair by virtue of the fact that he has made his peace with the Speaker or by virture of the fact that the Speaker has given up and would rather have him on his side up there than down on the floor hassling with him.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker and I have always been peaceful. One of my greatest privileges is sharing his friendship. The gentleman, therefore, must be under a misapprehension.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1.

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for the fiscal year July 1, 1962 to June 30, 1963 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal period ending June 30, 1962.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 16, line 12, by striking out after the word "services" the words "environmental and" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "and environmental;" page 20, line 15, by striking out after the word "under" the word "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "The Pennsylvania;" page 31, line 7, by striking out after "1893 (P. L. 171)" the figures "990,920" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "1,040,920;" page 38, line 4, by striking out at the beginning of the line the word "all" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "ninety-two per centum (92%) of all;" page 43, line 10 by striking out after the word "in" the word "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "The."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, with permission of the House, I would like the privilege of discussing the calendar today in toto, the concurrences on House bills 1 to 82, and also the general appropriation picture. If I do that, I hope I will be on my feet only once and it will save time and I will be able to give you the picture as we see it. I see the majority leader nods his approval, so I will therefore give the Republican position as we see it.

Mr. Speaker, we have these bills before us for concurrence today. Of course the most famous bills on the calendar are House bill 1 and House bill 57; then we have several other lesser bills, not the least of which is the Penn State appropriation. But I want to discuss the whole problem as we see it.

I did not think we would see House bill 1 back on this calendar again for concurrence. I would say this, that it is a pretty dangerous thing to send back to another body a big bill like this with the ramifications and the importance of the instrument, but be that as it may, the majority party has seen fit to amend the bill and to give 8 percent of the so-called surplusage amendment to Penn State, not to exceed $1.5 million.

There are those on our side of the House, who, in their zeal to give the schools all the money they possibly can, are inclined to vote against the amendment to House bill No. 1. They feel that it is taking prospective money away from the local schools and is not a proper thing to do to reduce it by 8 percent. However, there are those who want Penn State to do an excellent job and will vote for concurrence because of the fact that they want Penn State to get this extra money, if it is available, so they can carry on the great program that is being offered out at that great university.

Here is our position on it: I know that you have been reading in the papers what I have said about the possibility of adjourning sine die this week. I interrogated the majority leader about the problem last week before we left and indicated that we would submit it to our caucus today. The reason for our protracted caucus was that we have discussed the matter of these appropriation bills very, very thoroughly.

In the first place, the picture that is presented to all of us is this: The Speaker right now is signing some 72 appropriation bills, and soon there will be an announcement that the Speaker, in the presence of the House, has signed these bills. By reason of our concurring in the amendments to these bills on our calendar, the entire appropriation package will be laid on the Governor's office before we adjourn sine die. In other words, we will put in the lap of the Governor, probably, in one year the biggest appropriation bill in history and we, if we adjourn sine die on Wednesday, will be leaving town and putting in the lap of the Governor a carte blanche that he can do anything he wants. He can cut Penn State; he can cut the University of Pennsylvania; he can cut your hospitals; he can wipe out any item he wants to from House bill 1. In fact, we will abdicate our function to protect the very people we are trying to help by adjourning sine die here on Wednesday.

Therefore, if we, today, concur in these bills and the Speaker signs them in the presence of the House and the decision then of the Chair is that the clerk shall submit the same to the Governor and advise the Senate accordingly, there is no reason why you cannot submit these bills to the Governor, and if the Governor is going to veto any of these bills, or line-veto any of them, we will be back in here on Wednesday, and if we want to bring them back here to override his veto, we will have the opportunity.

The thing going on here that many of us on our side do not like is putting on the Governor's desk, not House bill 57 necessarily, with the tremendous importance of that bill, but 72 or 75 other bills that make up the billion dollars and we will put in the Governor's lap the power to do anything he wants to. It will be reposing in our Governor more power at any one time than we ever have in any other Governor in the history of Pennsylvania. As I said, many of us are going to vote to concur in House bill No. 1. We are going to vote to concur in the little teeny amendment that was made in House bill 57. It does not seem conceivable to me that a small hundred-dollar amendment was put in House bill 57. I think the only reason it was done was so it would be over here for concurrence today and then be delayed and put in the Governor's lap so that he could toy with the bill after we leave here on Wednesday. If the bill is concurred in today, given to the Governor tomorrow and let him exercise that veto, and then we want to be on record to vote not to uphold his veto against that particular bill and any other appropriation bill that might be on this calendar.

We feel there is plenty of money, to repeat, coming into the coffers of the government. This morning we called the sales tax division and tomorrow we expect to call the State Treasurer. We wonder how the money is running. As you know, the sales tax has been estimated at about $44 million for the month of February. It is a big month. It is the Christmas collections that are being reported and paid. Large sums of money are coming in and, by reason of the holiday on February 22 and a skeleton force on Friday and, of course, Saturday, there are literally tons of mail over in the Department of Revenue to be opened. It is conceivable that the money from the sales tax could well exceed the $44 million, and the checks on the capital stock tax and on the corporate net income tax may also well exceed the estimate of the month.

We feel that there is going to be plenty of money in this budget so that the Governor can sign House bill 57. There will be a way of manipulating the figures on Capitol Hill, and honestly doing it, to provide the money to give the school districts this money.

But in every newspaper in Pennsylvania the last four or five days it has been reiterated that the Governor is going to veto, veto, veto, this bill. I know you want to get us out of here on Wednesday. You are in a big rush to end this session. The Appropriations Committee hearings were conducted in a real rapid-fire way. I do not blame Governor Lawrence for wanting to get us out of here. If I had increased the budget $104 million in the period '61-'62 and then added $52 million more in '62-'63, I, too, would be in a hurry to get the legislature out of town. I would be afraid it would blow up in my face.

But we, the Republicans, have no other alternative but to go along on this big budget. There now being 2,510 more employes, of course, the administration wants this money, wants to get at these 2,510, wants to get them processed, get them on the payroll, get them working for the fall election. So that is the reason for all this speed, this tremendous haste, to get us out of here, even though we are paid our salaries whether we are in session or whether we are not. So it does not matter whether we are in session or not, but we, many of us, and I am not saying we are unanimous on this side, feel that we do not want to abdicate our function and go out of here with 75-some bills on the Governor's desk and then two weeks later have somebody back home say, boy, the Governor really gave it to you. Why didn't you stick there so you could have overridden his veto on this particular item? But, no, we abdicated our functions and left here on Wednesday and went home and locked up shop. If that is the way you want to do business, that is all right for you people, but a lot of us do not feel that we want to go along with you on this.

Now, this whole budget is a phony thing. The schools and the merchants are the whipping boys in this deal. Who would have thought last September when we ripped out the two percent commission to merchants that you were going to come up with a budget with an $8 million surplus, which just exactly equals the money that you took away from the teachers, and then you killed the school appropriation measure raising the base from $5,800 to $6,200. Now, you on the other side say there is going to be $16 million worth of lapses and, therefore, there is plenty of money right now in September, prospective lapses of $16 million, and, therefore, we can pass this bill and there will be money for it. But, no, that money was lapsed, and it was spent for something else. Fifty-two million dollars went somewhere in the budget. There is money, money everywhere but not a dime of new money for our school districts. That is what we have been harping on here. And there was not any money two years ago for the same purpose.

So, therefore, today we are going to go along on concurrence on these amendments to this bill. We are hoping that the chief clerk, when the Chair says that these bills will be transmitted to the Governor and the Senate will be advised accordingly, will let the bills go to the Governor. If the Governor wants to veto House bill 57 tomorrow, let him do it, and bring it back here with a message and I will make a motion asking you people to override the Governor's veto on this.

I know you are going to say there is not any money, but if you can lapse $16 million in one year in this $970 million budget, you can lapse about $20 million in the next year for the same item and there will be plenty of money for these schools. I have been saying this right along. I know that the PSEA bulletin just came out and reprinted an editorial of the Patriot saying what a bunch of fakers we are on the Republican side. I am sorry that they take that position, because we are, in all sincerity, trying to help the schools, trying to help those teachers, trying to help education in Pennsylvania, but nobody else seems to want to help us do it.

As I said last fall, we could have passed that amendment from $5,800 to $6,200 without any new taxes. And here we are now quitting, going back home with the Governor vetoing the $9 million, passing an illusory amendment to House bill 1 giving the schools a possibility of some money which might or might not come in. I want to tell you I am glad to be able to tell my people back home, within reason I tried to do what I could for you people, but it was the people on the Democratic side, the leadership from the Governor's office—not all you people on the Democratic side, there were 133 people voted for House bill 57, but it is the Governor's office—and everybody who is under control over there in the department of public education who are hiding from the schools this $52 million for somebody else now, and $104 million a year ago for somebody else. Not a dime for the school districts.

So as we go home, as we will on Wednesday, because you have the votes to carry sine die, I want to tell you you are playing with dynamite and, when you people run for office, I think we have a built-in issue in our favor. We can say to the people that we stood up to do what we could for the schools of Pennsylvania, we stood up like men, we voted the appropriation. We showed you where this money was, but so we cannot use that money, you put a bill in and the House went along so that the Governor can veto House bill 57. You are going to say, why the surplus in House bill 1 takes up any surplus that might go to House bill 57. So you have tied our hands in doing that. But the people in this State, I am telling you, know what is going on and I venture to say we have a good issue here and you will hear more about it as the campaign rolls on. If we come back in another year and have control of this House, you can bet your boots we will do something for the schools of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am so pleased to note that the minority leader first says that there will be such excess income in revenue, because we have provided what we shall do with that revenue. We voted unanimously that we will provide that revenue for the school system, the public school system, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, except that when we did so in the House, we said all of the revenue. As the bill comes back today it carries a clause in it that 92 percent of this shall go to the public school system and eight percent shall go to Pennsylvania State University, not to exceed $1.5 million, which, if I have it calculated right, if the estimated revenue is exceeded by $20 million, Penn State would get, probably, $1.5 million.

There is no question of what is going to happen to these bills. No one can speak for the Governor but the Governor himself. House bill 1 will be signed into law. House bill 57 will have a veto section, which has been clearly defined in both the press conferences or newspaper stories that Mr. Johnson speaks about.

I will say that we are most pleased that this session will come to an end on Wednesday, February 28th, because in the words of Mr. Johnson himself every single hearing in the Appropriations Committee was probably the most thorough hearing on either a section, a department, or a bill, that has ever been held in the history of this Commonwealth in joint or single appropriation hearings. To try to accuse us at this point that we are trying to hurry is to say that we are trying to do business in a businesslike manner, efficiently, honestly, above board and providing the revenue measures to pay for what we pass in appropriations.

There will be people who will vote time and time again for appropriations to spend money, but yet they will not vote for taxes that will provide for the revenue measures. This we think we have done, and we have honestly presented a budget which has had a very thorough hearing, which has been thoroughly discussed and all questions answered, and we are pleased today that House bill 1, as we commonly call it, the general appropriation bill, will finally be passed, going to the Senate for signature and then to the Governor for his disposition.

I would like to clear one more point. Mr. Speaker. May I inform the minority leader that I did not personally, or anyone else, care to see any of these bills back here with any amendments in any way, shape or form, even though we do have these bills here in the amended version and we are asking the membership of the House to vote in the affirmative on House bill 1. It was not our amendments or our interpretation that places the amendments that exist in the bill which change particularly the clause on 92 percent and 8 percent as it exists now.

So, Mr. Speaker, I thank the minority leader and I am so pleased that he will lead the fight that will be taken to Pennsylvania's school districts, because we voted for a measure which provides money for the school districts and, if there is any excess revenue, we have stipulated clearly where that revenue is to go. I think that vote was unanimous in this House.

Therefore, I ask again, Mr. Speaker, that the members vote unanimously in favor of House bill 1, on which a motion has been made to concur in the amendments placed in this bill by the Senate.

Mr. Speaker, this bill takes a majority of 106. The members have asked that I indicate which bills take a two-thirds majority. House bill 1, printer's No. 180, takes a constitutional majority of 106.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on all the bills. I am about to make a bipartisan speech to point out the lack of bipartisan fiscal responsibility on House bills 1, 15 and 57. I am compelled, in the final analysis, to vote for House bill 1 and House bill

57 because they are general appropriation bills. But I want the record to show that I voted against the amendments introduced by the majority leader which appropriate a synthetic surplus and I also voted against the amendments introduced by our side to appropriate $9 million which, according to the majority leader, does not exist and probably will never exist; also, House bill No. 15 appropriates 8 percent of the synthetic surplus which may never exist. This is absolutely irresponsible financial responsibility. Now, if Mr. McCann is correct in his declaration that there is no money for the amendment to House bill No. 57, then he is kidding the public by appropriating a surplus that does not exist. All I would like to say is this, to paraphrase an old saying of many years ago, "He who appropriates what 'is'n' has lost his legislative reason."

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 19.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section twenty-one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing the time at which the Auditor General and the State Treasurer take office and providing that each of said officers is capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE BILL No. 20.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing residence requirements.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 15.

A Supplement to the act of April 1, 1863 (P. L. 213), entitled "An act to accept the grant of Public Lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges" making an appropriation for carrying the same into effect.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, by striking out after the word "of" the words "twenty million dollars ($20,000,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "twenty million two hundred thousand dollars ($20,200,000)"; page 5, line 12, by inserting after line 11, the following:

(10) For the maintenance and support of research and experimental investigations on problems related to the treatment of detergents in municipal sewage treatment plants the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000)

Section 2 Eight per centum (8%) of all general fund revenues actually received during the fiscal period 1961-62 in excess of the estimated total general fund revenues available for appropriation for the said fiscal period amounting to one billion twenty-three million eight hundred fifty-four thousand dollars ($1,023,854,000) as certified by the Secretary of Revenue on September 12, 1961 according to law are hereby specifically appropriated to the trustees of the Pennsylvania State University for the fiscal year July 1, 1962 to June 30, 1963 for the purposes provided in subsection (1) of section 1 of this act not to exceed however the sum of $1,500,000

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Greene care to inform the House the reason or reasons why he is proposing that we non-concur with the Senate amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe it would be proper to indicate why we are not concurring. On page 5, beginning on line 12 to line 16, is contained an item in the amendments for the maintenance and support of research and an experimental investigation on problems relating to the treatment of detergents in municipal sewage treatment plants in the sum of $200,000. This amendment is not agreed to. This amendment is the reason we are not concurring in the amendment.

It was understood at the time that the appropriation to Penn State University was made, which comes to the sum of $20 million, that there be added the amendment dealing with the 8 percent of the excess funds, which begins on line 17. This amendment is agreed to since House bill 1 contains the other 92 percent amendment.

It was agreed in General State Authority that we would provide to Pennsylvania State University the additional money for the buildings now built that are needed for classrooms and operation of facilities at Penn State University. This $200,000 does nothing but provide money for the experiment and investigation of the sewage treatment aspect. It is my understanding from a letter written by Dr. Walker delivered today by Sam Wynd to the Governor's office that they are also requesting funds from the Federal Government for the sewage treatment item.

We have asked for a meeting at 10 o'clock tomorrow with Mr. Albert Johnson, Senator James Berger, Senator Charles Weiner, Mr. Dean Polen and Mr. Sam Wynd of Pennsylvania State University and myself. We have agreed that we are not for the amendment dealing with the $200,000 and we do not in any way want to jeopardize the amendment beginning on line 17, the 92 percent and 8 percent. Therefore we are, in a conference committee, going to strike out lines 12 to 16 of this bill in the conference committee report and then adopt the Pennsylvania State University appropriation.

This is an agreement that has been in existence for quite some time in trying to work out the General State Authority money. The additional $200,00 does absolutely nothing for Pennsylvania State University in providing either facilities, classrooms, equipment, or anything for the University. It is for that reason I have made the motion to non-concur, because a complete agreement has been reached dealing with the General State Authority money, and I do want to see that they get the funds to finish the buildings that are there. This is on equipment, as I understand it.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman yield for further interrogation?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, will the majority leader inform the House again, for the sake of clarity, who entered into this agreement that the Pennsylvania State University did not want this $200,000 for research on detergents? Did I understand him to say that this is a legislative committee and somebody from the University was involved?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, when you are asking me who entered into the agreement—

Mr. FULMER. I thought the gentleman mentioned that. Did the gentleman mention that, or did he not?

Mr. McCANN. May I say that when the General State Authority members agreed that they would provide money for the equipment and buildings, these are the members who serve on the General State Authority executive committee in providing these funds. To say that Pennsylvania State University entered into agreement in which they do not want the $200,00 would be absolutely foolish. They want both. In addition to that, they want additional money.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I wish the majority leader would just bear with us for the sake of the record and for clarity on the part of the membership. We are talking about $300,000, or thereabouts, and we are talking about GSA to furnish buildings the GSA are now constructing, is that correct? It has nothing to do with this bill. It is extra money you are talking about that the University says they need to equip the buildings which are now being constructed under the GSA program?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. That is additional money, General State Authority money, to equip the facilities now under construction or near completion, to be used this coming school year, I believe, sir.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the majority leader care to explain to the membership of the House if it is the position of the majority party that they are opposed to spending $200,000 at Pennsylvania State University on research on how to treat the detergents in sewage, or is its position that the $200,000 is not available.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, first, the $200,000 would not be available, but we are not in opposition to Pennsylvania State University entering into agreements or grants dealing with the sewage treatment experiment and research. However, they are also receiving the funds from the Federal grant in this particular field to do their research which they have not received at the present time, although I assume they are applying for this money.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the majority leader just what he meant when he said something to this effect, that when the bill passed this House and went to the other chamber that this was understood. I wish the majority leader would clarify just what he means by "this was understood"— that the bill would remain as it is? Who had this understanding, or what does this mean by "this was understood"?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I mean simply that the amendments were offered, or being prepared to be offered, to House bill 15 dealing first with an amendment that provided $1.5 million additional money; one amendment which provided, I believe, $1 million additional money to Pennsylvania State, one amendment which dealt with the 8 percent and 92 percent section, and the amendment that was offered which you are talking about now on the $200,000 for sewage research. I believe there were other additional amendments dealing with other research items that were offered and were defeated. When I say "understood," I mean to say very clearly that in the fiscal responsibility I notified those involved, as well as Mr. Polen, that we cannot accept amendments to Penn State University allowing them $1.5 million, $2 million, $2.5 million, half a million, or any amounts of money to be attached to the bill that we would vote for non-concurrence.

Mr. FULMER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask permission of the House to address a few remarks on this bill, if I may.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I want to thank the majority leader for elaborating on his earlier remarks to give us a better insight as to what the thinking is on the part of the administration as expressed through the majority leader.

I should like to point out that we have heard a great deal about Pennsylvania State University and its operation of a sewage treatment plant. We have heard from the various departments and commissions of the State government that something should be done. It has been further admitted by experts in the field that presently we have acquired no known methods of treating the detergents in the sewage in our municipally-operated sewage plants. All this $200,000 was to do was to provide the money for Pennsylvania University to initiate research which might eventually lead to a method to remove the detergent from the sewage in municipal plants on an economical basis. It was never intended that this $200,000 would be a sufficient amount of money, but it was hoped that this would be the initial part, and later on we could probably get some federal funds and maybe get some money from some private source.

It does seem to me that at a time when throughout the Commonwealth we are hearing the sportsmen and the conservation groups expressing concern about the pollution of our streams, which is caused by the detergents in the streams, it seems to me that we should lend an ear and pay attention to these demands and provide the initial money in the sum of $200,000 to get going on this research program, and not the matter of whether the money is available or it is not available. The money must either be available, the $200,000 must either be available, or we are talking about something that does not exist. As I say, we either have the money or we are talking about something that does not exist, just as the majority leader said earlier when he was talking about House bill 1, taking 8 percent of any surpluses that would accrue over and beyond the estimated income. This would go to Penn State up to one and a half million. And when he made that remark he said something to the effect that this means that we would have roundly $20 million surplus. So, I will take the gentleman's word for it that we will have somewhere between $18 million and $20 million surplus. Eight percent of this will be roughly $1.5 million for Penn State for paying increases in salaries, so that we can keep a good professional staff and keep the supporting personnel, so that additional personnel may be added and to take on additional students. Also, another $200,000 will be available for this research program for detergents, which I am sure all of you sitting here today who have streams in your county—and all of you do—know that they are being polluted, and you have to be for a program of trying to keep these detergents out of the sewage.

So you have $1.5 million plus a $200,000, giving you $1.7 million additional out of $20 million. After you have this taken out, you still have more than $9.1 million less to take care of the school program which we are trying to cover in House bill 57 or provide through House bill 1.

So we are runing away, Mr. Speaker, from this $200,000—which would be a research program for the benefit of every person living in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and a benefit to our industry—if we are running away from this, we cannot be running away from it on a matter of monies not being available, unless we are sure we are right from the beginning that there will not be a surplus over and beyond the $1,023,000,000 that is estimated revenue by the Governor's office.

And I want to give the administration the benefit of the doubt and say to them that I believe they are sincere when they are saying that we are going to have a $20 million surplus at the end of this fiscal period and that 8 percent of this will be $1.6 million, and also that $1.5 is going to Penn State and $200,000 more for this research program. They will still have lots of money to take care of the public school program.

Mr. Speaker, I want to make it perfectly clear that I think it is about time to take the politics out of this educational business, and that we mean what we say when we say it. I am fully aware, as are members of the House, that we made an honest and sincere effort to get the Penn State appropriation bill increased by $2 million when it was brought before this chamber. This failed, and then it was announced that another effort was to be made in the other chamber to have amendments placed in the Penn State bill, which would essentially cover the same program as introduced in this House. Before these amendments could be offered by the people who said they were going to offer them, a member of the administration party said that he had the amendments to offer. And I am willing to accept these amendments, Mr. Speaker. I do not think it is too important whether a Republican has introduced these amendments or whether a Democrat introduces these amendments; what I think is important is that when we say we want to aid and assist the higher education program, that we mean it; and when at one time we say the money is not available and then another time we say, well, we may have $20 million excess, we mean that we may have $20 million excess and we have no monies for this type of program.

I am not saying, nor am I inferring, the people who make these statements are not sincere because I believe they are, and I would give them the benefit of the doubt if they are.

Therefore I say we should concur in the amendments as placed in House bill 15 by the Senate because the money is available, the work needs to be done, and we have to start doing it now. Therefore, I ask the membership of this House to concur in these amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I want the record to clearly show that in the statement that it takes $20 million of excess revenue to reach the figure of $1.5 million, or 8 percent, for Pennsylvania State University, never have I said, nor have I heard anyone else say, that the figure will reach that amount at any time, and to say that the money will be there would be forecasting an assumption that will come in the period from now to the end of the present fiscal year.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the members to vote "no" on the motion to concur on House bill 15, printer's No. 186.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Morley.

Mr. MORLEY. Mr. Speaker, this mathematical morass that we have been enmeshed in here for the last hour has me confused and baffled. It reminds me of the story they tell of Father Clancy in the old country. He was preaching a sermon one Sunday on the loaves and the fishes and he made a little bit of a mistake. He said that the Lord fed the multitude with 5,000 loaves and 2,000 fishes, and outside the church after mass Larry Brannigan said, "I do not see anything wonderful about that. Sure, I could do that meself." So some busybody went back to Father Clancy and told him what Larry had said, "Oh, he did, did he? Well, I will take care of him next Sunday." So, the following Sunday he arose in the pulpit and he said, "My friends, last Sunday I made a bit of a mistake. I said that the Lord fed the multitude with 5,000 loaves and 2,000 fishes and, of course, you all know I meant five loaves and two fishes. Now, Larry Brannigan, you scamp, could you do that?" Up stood Larry and said, "Sure, I could, Father, with what was left over from last Sunday."

The minority leader is attempting to take care of the school needs of Philadelphia with what was left over from last Sunday. Of course, Larry was only fooling, it was only make-believe, but when you fool and play around with the future welfare of the school children and the school teachers of Pennsylvania, it is not only irresponsible, it is indefensible. These gentlemen had the opportunity last year to vote on a bill before this House, a tax bill, which would have provided all the things that they say are needed by the schools of Pennsylvania, and not one vote did that bill receive. That is the record. That is the fact. Let us take that record and take that fact to the people of Pennsylvania in November.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Those voting "aye" vote to concur. Those voting "no" vote not to concur.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I think Mr. Fulmer would like a clarification.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. On the question before the House, the gentleman having requested a roll call, the Chair will again state how the members are to vote on this question. Members voting to concur vote "aye," members voting to non-concur vote "no."

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 28.

An Act making an appropriation to the Berean Manual Training School at Philadelphia Pennsylvania.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out after the word "of" the words "thirty-five thousand nine hundred ten dollars ($35,910)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "fifty thousand nine hundred ten dollars ($50,910)."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman feels pretty good. He is seeing about four months of hard work finally going to the Governor's desk. I do not blame him for smiling.

May I ask you a question? I notice House bills 28, 42 and some of these other bills contain increases in appropriations. Will they subject themselves to the wrath of the Governor's veto, or is there plenty of money for these increases?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, according to my figures, the bills as reported from committee left a balance of $2,782 available for appropriations, and today we brought out Senate bill 17, which took $2,500, leaving $282 available. So, therefore, I will have to state that as to these increased appropriations there are no appropriation base or tax revenues available to cover them.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, based on the ultra-conservative estimates of the Governor's office, you have spent all the money that you think will come in except $282. Is that right?

Mr. POLEN. $282 is right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is cutting it pretty thin, is it not?

Mr. POLEN. Very thin. It is about like my bank account, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is all, Mr. Speaker, I surrender.

Mr. McCANN. This is House bill No. 28, which takes a two-thirds majority. There must be a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as folows:

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, I do not think my name is recorded on there, but I would like to be recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The remarks of the gentleman concerning his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the record.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to file my reasons for inadvertently voting "no" on House bill 1. I intended to vote "aye" and I assure you it was not from force of habit.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. ISAACS filed the following reason for his vote on House bill No. 1:

Mr. Speaker, on House bill No. 1 I inadvertently pulled the switch "no," thinking I was voting "aye."

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 57.

A Supplement to the act of May 25, 1961 (Appropriation Act 5-A), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for the fiscal period June 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal period ending May 31, 1961," by providing for deficiencies in appropriations made by the act for the fiscal period ending June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 18, by striking out after the word "open" the figures "$12,430,072" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "$12,430,172"; page 14, line 5, by striking out after the words "Reading City" the figures "8,529" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "8,629".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, if I understood the clerk correctly, the only amendment made in this 107-page bill was an increase of $100 to a certain school district, and I would like to ask the majority leader if that is correct. Is that the only amendment to this bill?

Mr. McCANN. That is the only one, Mr. Speaker, that I could find.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, then the august body across the hall saw fit to amend the bill by changing one figure from $8,500 to $8,600 or something like that, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The gentleman does not have to answer this question unless he wants to, but if he knows, I believe he should answer it. Does he know why this amendment, one amendment, in a 107-page bill for a measley hundred-dollars' worth was inserted?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, no more than do I know why the amendments were accepted to all the other bills.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Could it have been, Mr. Speaker, that the amendment was made in order to hold this bill on our calendar until today so that it would not reach the Governor's desk until after we adjourn sine die?

Mr. McCANN. Under no condition, Mr. Speaker, was that the purpose of that amendment, or any amendments, so that the bills would not reach the Governor's office before we adjourn sine die.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Another question, Mr. Speaker. Is that not the net effect of that amendment?

Mr. McCANN. It is my understanding, and I was just informed, in computing the figures of the one school district there was an error in the computation the way you did it and the amendment was put in. I know nothing about it otherwise.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman know what it cost to print this 107-page bill and insert $100 into it?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would not have the slightest idea what it exactly cost to print that bill except I know I checked up a while back and the rate on the journal was $10 to $11.50 per page.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then 107 pages times $10 would be $1,070 costs to print this bill.

Mr. McCANN. You are a wizard of a Univac multiplication man. That comes out right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have made my point and we will stand on the record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 82.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for promoting the One-hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 3, by striking out after the word "Address" the words "subject to certain conditions"; Section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "Address" the following: This appropriation is contingent upon the One hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address Commission raising through public or private subscriptions an equal sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for promoting and defraying the expenses of said celebration A certification evidencing such paid subscriptions shall be submitted by the commission to the Auditor General.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would just like a little explanation from the majority leader as to why when this bill passed here it was a matching fund and now you have relieved that?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the majority leader?

Mr. HOCKER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am most pleased to do this. I lost the worst battle the other night on this that I have ever had. When this bill was in Appropriations Committee, when the appropriations were placed on this floor, it was specifically understood that there would be matching money. I attended the commission, which we enacted into law, this commission being General Malcolm Hay, General Stackpole, Senator Weiner, Mr. A. W. Johnson, a man named Mr. Prince from Gettysburg, so forth. In that meeting I fought for hours to try to retain this, that they would raise the matching money. The theory was that they did not want in any way any for this to be on a commercial basis, that they did not want to go with tin cup in hand to raise $100,000 to match $100,000. It was my honest and personal belief that there would be no difficulty in securing the $100,000 that they would have to raise to match this money, dealing with the hotel rooms that are involved, the many souvenirs, the thousands of things that go into a centennial program of this type.

In that meeting was also the question dealing with the Governor's meeting at Blair County, at Altoona, at which Mr. Holliday was present. The question was raised about other items. Each of these was worked out. In the end I was the person who had to swallow this amendment, because it is agreed by all these men who served on this commission that they did not want to be the type of people who were going out of here soliciting money to match and therefore it was then agreed that the amendments to take it out would be placed in this bill. I strongly favored it. I then had to agree, since these high type men, such as, General Hay, General Stackpole, Mr. Prince, Senator Weiner, Mr. A. W. Johnson, who serve on the commission that handles this, wanted it this way. It is now an agreement I have made, even though I am sorry I made it, but I ask the members to vote "aye," because they do not want to go out and raise money. In addition to that, Mr. Robert Ogilvie was present at the meeting. He stuck with me hour after hour, trying to get this same agreement worked out, but it seemed as though we were in a lost cause. For that reason I say to you, in the dignity in which this commission serves and will handle this Civil War Centennial program in Pennsylvania, I ask the members to vote "aye" on the amended bill, which strikes out the amount and strikes out the section whereby they would have to raise a similar amount.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. McCann, not in the line of an interrogation but I would ask you this. I am not opposed to the program, but why did not these people stand up and let us know in the Appropriations Committee why they would not want this to happen? This is not a tin-cup deal. This is just a community that is going to make money, or supposedly so, out of this. And I think in Harrisburg when we had our program, the city matched funds, and I just cannot get into my thinking why this has not come before the Appropriations Committee and they submit their plan. Is this one of those things where we say we do something today, then tomorrow we won't?

Mr. McCANN. I appreciate very kindly what the gentleman from Dauphin County, Mr. Hocker, is stating. May I say to you that I was in complete agreement. I do not know what interrogation may have taken place, or what commitments were made in the Appropriations Committee regarding this bill. I do know that I was informed that night, in the presence of all the people in that meeting in the Penn Harris Hotel, that they had never agreed to this. And I was honest to admit that it was my thinking that this was the way we would handle this. Now, $100,000 would be raised locally or in the area or region, and the $100,000 here would make a total of $200,000 to handle this program in Pennsylvania. This seems to meet with rather downcast eyes of those who are handling this on the ground that it is not right for them to try to solicit money or to raise money. May I assure you, argument went on for hours in the Penn Harris Hotel and in the end, I believe, there were only two or three of us who timidly thought that they should do this; then all the others on the commission favored it otherwise. It was then that we agreed to take the section out since it had not been part of the agreement that they would have to raise money. This I never knew, nor did I ever talk to any of them by name, General Hay, General Stackpole, Mr. Prince, Senator Weiner, Albert Johnson or any of the others who are members of that commission.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Would the gentleman from Dauphin yield? The Acting Speaker for the first time appreciates the handicap under which the Speaker presides. You cannot indulge in the debate. But I would ask your indulgence to state that when this—I doubly appreciate the handicap now.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. I say this is the price you pay for being up there. Mr. Speaker, my heart bleeds for the majority leader. I feel the same as he, but I would like to interrogate the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, if I may, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Am I right or wrong in my thinking that the question was asked in the Appropriations Committee hearing as to whether or not there would be matching funds for this program?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, rather than just answer that directly, let me give briefly a history of what happened.

The Gettysburg Centennial was mentioned briefly at the Appropriations Committee hearing. However, I believe what the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, is referring to is, at the Appropriations Committee meetings I introduced this bill and I was the one who put the matching money provision in this bill. I might say that after the hearing, when it was mentioned—I am now talking of the public hearing in the Department of Military Affairs—but after the hearing when it had been mentioned to find an appropriation for this commission, I called into my office Bob Ogilvie and I believe someone else, and we discussed briefly what might be done. Bob told me at that time how they handled the matter in Harrisburg for their centennial.

It appeared to me to be a good idea. I did not consult the members of the commission. I had the bill prepared and the amount of money that originally was wanted, I think, was $500,000, and it seems to me that the only amount we are going to have available of an even amount would be $100,000. So, therefore, I had the legislation prepared providing for $100,000 with $100,000 matching money.

Now there had been other people in to see me about appropriations for specific purposes and programs in connection with this one-hundredth anniversary. Dr. Dengler was interested in a musical program. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Holliday, was interested in connection with the 13 Governors' meeting which took place in Blair County, in Altoona, a hundred years ago. And there were other similar requests. So I thought that a good idea would be to get together all of those interested for a meeting to discuss the entire situation.

I sent out notices for such a meeting which was to be held in the Appropriations Committee office at 7:30 on the particular night. And I invited all those who had discussed the matter with me, such as, Mr. Ogilvie from Dauphin County, Dr. Dengler, Mr. Holliday, Mr. McCann and also General Hay and members of the Commission.

On the day of the meeting I was advised by two of the members of the commission that they were holding a meeting that night at, I believe, 6 o'clock, in the Penn Harris Hotel, and rather than have two meetings, would I have the group that I had asked attend their meeting. I did so. And at this meeting the members of the commission brought out that they did not think it dignified for a commission representing Pennsylvania, when all the other States were similarly represented by commissions who had participated in both sides of the conflict, to be a money-raising or commercialized agency.

As Mr. McCann has stated, we felt that a company could be brought in, such as you had in Harrisburg, for the centennial any the money could be raised. In the end it was evidenced that the entire commission was not in favor of such a proposition and an agreement was made by those in authority that the amendment would be put in, in the Senate, removing that provision.

Briefly, that is the history of it. I will admit that I wrote the bill with the provision in it for raising the money and I will also admit that I told you people in the committee that it was in the bill. It is now taken out by the Senate. I am not going to criticize their action in any way, but I believe that in taking it out they were carrying out the will of the commission charged with the responsibility for the centennial.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I have no quarrel with this, other than the fact that to me a promise is a promise or thinking is thinking.

Now when someone comes before the Appropriations Committee and gives us the idea that there is going to be matching funds and then later on they go around some other way, I am of the opinion that this is of such magnitude that probably the Federal Government should participate in it. This is a Federal Government deal, in my opinion. And if we are going to start something here—I am not worrying about Gettysburg, but every year somebody comes in here and has a centennial or a bicentennial. And if I come in for one of my towns, then I should be accorded the same privilege that is being extended here. But the taxpayers of the Commonwealth should come up with the money.

I think that this would be a much greater event if the people of Gettysburg would participate in the program. I think they would work a little harder. They would strive to make this a greater thing.

Now I am sorry that this has happened. I am sorry that a thing of this magnitude has fallen into this position, but I still think, and I agree with the majority leader, I agree with Mr. Polen, that I think some effort on the part of the local people would certainly make this a better, bigger program. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, rise?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the minority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Then the gentleman does not consent to be interrogated, is that correct?

Mr. WORLEY. That is correct, and I yield to the minority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the minority leader desire to be recognized?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know if the gentleman would desire to interrogate me. I was not at the Battle of Gettysburg and I do not know too much about it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I do not necessarily have to interrogate the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, but if anybody can come up with an answer I wanted to ask this question of Mr. Worley. If Adams County is so poor that it could not raise a matching fund of $100,000, then something is wrong.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I am certainly opposed to this amendment because I laid before the commission a proposition that I thought had a lot of merit. The Pennsylvania Music Educators' Association is an adjunct of the PSEA. It is one of the finest organizations in music in this country. They have been in operation for 25 years and each spring they have a state band, a state chorus and a state orchestra. These young people perform with professional excellence and I told the president, Mr. Elwood Noel, of Springfield High School in Delaware County, to get for me the figures which would make it possible for a chorus of 275 voices recruited from every county, including public and parochial schools, a band of 175, and we came up with a total figure of around $10,000. I was very much disappointed when the commission turned me down. I think this is a good idea and I submitted it because it would have engendered a lot of interest throughout the State in every county, in every high school, in every public and parochial high school, and it would have cost $10,000 for one of the finest musical programs that could have been brought from anywhere. I certainly hope that this commission will not go out now and spend even more money to bring in some professional group, which I do not think would do a better job than our boys and girls right here in Pennsylvania could do. I am certainly very much disappointed at this turn of events because I was hoping that sooner or later they might change their minds, but with this amendment, I do not see how it is possible.

I am very much disappointed and I certainly agree with the majority leader that this is a rather cheap way to put on a hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I have waited quite a while for this opportunity.

The people who were interested in procuring $100,000 for this centennial celebration certainly knew or should have known before this bill was brought before us in its original form that they could not raise $100,000 at Gettysburg on the local level. If they knew that, they should have seen that that phase of it was stricken out of the bill before it was brought to us in its original form. If they knew it and did not do it with the idea of getting their foot in the door and getting it passed and then sent to the other place and being taken care of, then I feel that is false pretense on the part of the people responsible for getting it passed in its original form.

I feel also that the local effort should be a part of this thing because we can be establishing a dangerous and costly precedent here in passing something of this nature and this business of spending the taxpayers' money like it is going out of style ought to be stopped somewhere.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the lady from Montgomery. Mrs. Henzel.

Mrs. HENZEL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to make an analogy. Several weeks ago the House was kind enough to pass a resolution congratulating the Abington Senior High School Band on being the only band from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be invited to participate in the Tournament of Roses' Parade. I should like to state at this time that it cost $65,000 to send that band, and that $65,000 was raised entirely by the community. Not one penny of taxpayers' money was spent on that. There was pride in the fact that the band went. That is the total satisfaction. There was no economic gain. As far as the section of Pennsylvania in which the Battle of Gettysburg Centennial will be celebrated will receive an economic gain, and I see no use whatsoever for the taxpayers assuming the entire responsibility. If one community can do it, another community can do it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I think there is a pretty big principle involved here. I would just like to ask one question of the chairman of the Appropriations Committee to clarify the matter.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington?

Mr. AUKER. I do.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, whether there was any understanding expressed or implied by the supporters of this bill at the introduction of this bill to the House that there would be matching funds.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. AUKER. I will take his word for it.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there was no agreement with anyone, but as I stated when I addressed the House a little while ago in reply to Mr. Hocker's interrogation, it was my feeling, after having talked to Mr. Ogilvie in connection with their centennial here, that matching funds could be obtained. However, if you will permit me to go a little further and explain something that I believe we are overlooking in this matter, this is really not a matter of local interest for any community, for Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania alone, including the Battle of Gettysburg which was the turning point of the Civil War. This is not a statewide, but a nationwide celebration. New York State, which had no battles, has appropriated considerable sums of money and have published brochures. I have received in the last few days several brochures from the southern States in connection with their centennial, so I think we should not lose sight of the fact that this is not an Adams County-Gettysburg local celebration. This is a statewide celebration in connection with the national celebration commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's address, and we must look at it in that light. It may be true that the members of the commission feel that we are commercializing when we put them on a fund-raising basis. It was my thought, after talking to people who had participated, that they would simply turn it over to this fund-raising organization and the matching money would, no doubt, come in.

The commission, as I stated before, did not think this was dignified for the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be raising money to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. I believe that is what we should not lose sight of—that it is not a celebration for the town of Gettysburg; it is a celebration for all of Pennsylvania commemorating the battle and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is still not getting at the point I am trying to make and what I would like to have answered because I think there is a big principle involved here. I just want to clarify it for the members of the House.

I will ask Mr. Polen again whether or not there was any understanding from any of the people who were in favor of this particular legislation at the time it reached the floor of the House in the original bill that there would be matching funds.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would answer that by saying that it was the understanding of interested people, and I am speaking now of people in this House—

Mr. AUKER. No, I mean from the commission; people who were in favor of the bill originally.

Mr. POLEN. There was no agreement.

Mr. AUKER. Expressed or implied?

Mr. POLEN. I discussed this matter with General Hay. Bob Ogilvie was there at the time, I think, when we mentioned this, but there was no agreement that there would be any matching funds.

Mr. AUKER. That satisfies me, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Holliday.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate Mr. Polen?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

I was at that meeting over in the hotel with you and Mr. McCann and the rest, discussing the centennial celebration. I believe at that time General Hay was the one who told us just as you have said recently, that this was not a Gettysburg celebration, it was a statewide celebration and therefore he did not feel—in fact he was the one I believe who suggested—that the matching funds be eliminated from the bill. Am I correct in that?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Now, at that time we had asked—I was there in behalf of Blair County—if we could get $10,000. for the War Governors' hundredth anniversary, and it was explained to us that this was no one community project, it was statewide, and therefore they did not feel it was proper to assign it to Gettysburg and then ask Gettysburg to raise money, or any other community, although we had agreed to make matching funds.

Mr. POLEN. That is correct. You had agreed to raise $10,000, I believe, in Altoona.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Yes sir, but when it was shown that this was a statewide proposition and not strictly a Getysburg project or any particular community, it was suggested at that meeting, and I think everybody there agreed, that the matching funds should be eliminated.

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walsh.

Mr. WALSH. I just want to make an observation to point out how little $100,000 seems now days. Had the South had that $100,000 at the time of the battle of Gettysburg, I think we would have lost the war.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, in view of what Mr. Polen has said, I had a side-bar conference with Mr. McCann and I think I will vote for this but I do not want anyone to think that my vote is a precedent as to what I will do on any other vote of this nature. I want it thoroughly understood that I think this is of such stature, such magnitude, that we must, we must go along with this one-hundredth anniversary. This was certainly a turning point in our government, and my President, the man who started my party actually, was the one who participated, and I will go along and I will vote

"aye" on this because of the stature of the thing. However, this is not a vote which I am casting which I want anyone at any future time to say, well, you voted for Gettysburg, vote for Podunk or some other town for $100,000.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ogilvie.

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I have heard my name bandied around here today and I rise to defend myself. I sat in the budget hearings and when this question came up on an appropriation, at that time they were talking about $300,000, $400,000 or $500,000. Mr. Polen said he had not heard of any successful centennials being conducted except in Harrisburg and he said, "There happens to be Bob Ogilvie. Let him tell us what it cost Harrisburg." Well in Harrisburg, I worked 15 months on it as chairman, and we had a budget of $100,000 and we raised that money. In fact, we agreed that if we had any surplus over and above the expenses, we would give it to the United Fund. We gave the United Fund about $600 as a profit, but the $100,000 was raised by the sale of bonnets, wooden nickels and the centurama that we put on for six nights. So, I imagine Gettysburg will make a lot of money out of this thing if they handle it properly. But I was only sitting in to give the benefit of my experience. After all, all the experts one hundred years before that were dead, and I do not expect to be around one hundred years from now to be an expert on the next centennial. Thank you, very much.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate bill No. 19, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section twenty-one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing the time at which the Auditor General and the State Treasurer take office and providing that each of said officers is capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate bill No. 20, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing residence requirements.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 19, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section twenty-one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing the time at which the Auditor General and the State Treasurer take office and providing that each of said officers is capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, to be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 20, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing residence requirements.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, to be laid aside for second reading.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have two items. Number one, last week several members, including myself, introduced a resolution which was assigned House No. 46, printer's No. 179. In it I made some suggestions in connection with the establishment of an atomic energy and space authority in the State of Pennsylvania similar to what is in New York. At this time I would like to offer for the record remarks that Governor Rockefeller made to the General Assembly in the State of New York on February 5 regarding such a program, to be integrated in that resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There being no objection, the gentleman's remarks will be spread upon the record.

Mr. TOMPKINS submitted the following for the record:

STATE OF NEW YORK
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
ALBANY

To the Legislature:

The atomic age, rich in challenge and opportunity, stretches limitlessly into our future.

The brief history of atomic development has been dominated by the Federal Government and much of the activity and direction has necessarily been oriented to fulfilling military requirements. The Federal Government's responsibility for the military aspects of atomic development should not, however, obscure the vital role which the States can and should play in encouraging the maximum development and use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes.

It is mankind's hope and expectation that the immense potential of the use of atomic energy for peaceful and productive purposes in industry, medicine, science and education will be realized. A determination to encourage the development and use of atomic energy in New York for these purposes led to the enactment of the State Atomic Energy Law in 1959 by your Honorable Bodies upon my recommendation. There it is declared to be the policy of the State "to adapt its laws, regulations and procedures from time to time to meet the new opportunities and conditions in ways that will encourage the development of atomic energy and of the private enterprises producing or utilizing such energy, while fully protecting the interest, health and safety of the public."

In furtherance of that policy I proposed in my Annual Message the creation of a New York State Atomic Research and Development Authority. I now submit for your consideration specific legislation to carry out this recommendation.

The Office of Atomic Development, established in 1959, has already had substantial success, in cooperation with private enterprise, in encouraging and fostering New York State's atomic industry. During the past three years, the State's share in the manufacture of atomic energy products within the United States has increased by twenty-six percent.

We are now on the threshold of substantial new growth in New York State's atomic industry, but this growth, with its potential for ever-increasing job opportunities, can only be assured by effective State action in cooperation with private enterprise. In this regard, it is the proper role of the State to encourage such growth by providing the services required by industrial, commercial, medical, scientific, educational and governmental organizations and by fostering programs of research and development in the methods of production and use of atomic energy.

For these reasons I am recommending the creation of the New York State Atomic Research and Development Authority so that the State can utilize its powers in the most effective and appropriate manner to encourage the development of atomic energy in New York for peaceful and productive purposes.

It is contemplated that the Authority would concentrate initially on the following projects:

1. A Western New York Nuclear Service Center;
2. A Sea Water Purification Plant;
3. A Space Technology and Atomic Radiation Center; and
4. Nuclear Shipyard and Port Facilities.

The significance to the people of New York State of these four projects underscores the importance of the legislation which I am submitting to your Honorable Bodies with this Message.

1. Western New York Nuclear Service Center. The proposed Authority would immediately commence the development of the site in Cattaraugus County, acquired by the Office of Atomic Development, for the establishment of the Western New York Nuclear Service Center. This Nuclear Service Center will serve two important purposes:

First, it will provide a carefully administered facility where the by-products of atomic energy activities can be concentrated and stored, under close surveillance in the interest of the public health and safety. The only other locations in the United States providing atomic storage services to industrial and other non-governmental users are far removed from New York State at the installations in Tennessee and Idaho of the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Second, the Nuclear Service Center will be available for related industrial development and thus serve to attract atomic industry to the State. In particular, there have been specific proposals developed by private industry for the establishment of a nuclear fuel reprocessing facility at the Center. To date, all fuel reprocessing has been conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission in government-owned facilities. The establishment by private enterprise of such a facility, basic to future atomic development, will surely attract other atomic energy industries leading to the birth of a new atomic energy industrial complex with a broad potential of new job opportunities in Western New York State.

2. Sea Water Purification Plant. It is proposed that the Authority undertake a new program directed to the construction of a nuclear-powered Sea Water Purification Plant on Long Island. Such a project could demonstrate the feasibility of utilizing atomic energy to produce usable industrial heat and thus further stimulate atomic development within the State. Investigation and study by the State Office of Atomic Development has indicated that the most useful research and development project utilizing a process heat reactor would be such a sea water purification plant.

The Office of Saline Water in the Federal Department of the Interior has explored with the United States Atomic Energy Commission the desirability of constructing a low-temperature nuclear process heat reactor for such use. It now appears that such a project would be seriously considered for construction on Long Island where the fresh water produced by the plant would serve a useful purpose. Long Island would be a particularly appropriate location for such a project because of the technical support that could be obtained from the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, Long Island.

3. Space Technology and Atomic Radiation Center. The Office of Atomic Development has determined that there is substantial interest in and a recognized need for a pulsed reactor facility of an advanced type in the Northeast United States for industrial, governmental and research purposes.

It is proposed that the Authority, in cooperation with industrial and governmental organizations, establish at an early time a pulsed reactor facility as the first component of a Space Technology and Atomic Radiation Center. This Center ultimately will include additional facilities such as advanced sources of radiation, an environmental chamber for space simulation studies, accelerators, and other research and testing equipment and laboratories.

4. Nuclear Shipyard and Port Facilities. A Report prepared for the Office of Atomic Development and released last November has detailed the potential nuclear capabilities of shipyards and ports within New York State. It is proposed that the Authority coordinate the various efforts of industrial and governmental organizations to establish part of the growing nuclear shipbuilding industry in New York and to increase the role of New York State ports in nuclear shipments as well as nuclear shipping. The utilization of the port facilities in the State for the handling of used nuclear fuels would be a valuable adjunct to the establishment of the proposed fuel reprocessing industry.

The future in the atomic age will be shaped by those who have the vision and the initiative to accept its challenges. I urge your Honorable Bodies to give favorable consideration to the legislation creating the New York State Atomic Research and Development Authority as an important step to assure New York a leading role in helping shape this future.

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. TOMPKINS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

The Cameron County High School Red Raiders Basketball Team, undefeated in 19 games, has won the Allegheny Mountain League Northern Tier Championship. Under the brilliant coaching of Jim Thompson, the Red Raiders, consisting of Captain Jim Kinsler and players Don Kamats, Tim Meisel, Joe Heiberger, Hank Bossers, Gary Gross, Rusty Lewis, Tom McDonough, Joe Coppersmith, Jim Yahnite and Rich Kamats, has established an outstanding record of which they may well be proud.

The prowess which the members of this fine team have displayed throughout the basketball season has rightfully earned for them a position in the playoffs for further honors, and we are confident that they will be found a formidable opponent by any teams against which they may be matched.

The Cameron County High School Basketball Team is to be highly commended for its athletic accomplishments and for the high degree of sportsmanship which it has exhibited in reaching the high status it has achieved in the field of high school sports; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby offers its sincere congratulations to the Cameron County High School Red Raiders Basketball Team for winning the Allegheny Mountain League Northern Tier Championship, and also extends its congratulations to the team's fine coach, Jim Thompson, for a job well done; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Cameron County High School and to its basketball coach, Jim Thompson.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. FILO, McLAUGHLIN, KRAMER, WALSH, BOIES, A. W. JOHNSON, TOMPKINS, DOUGHERTY, McCANN, PETROSKY and Mrs. MUNLEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

The people of the entire United States and indeed the entire world are today paying tribute to Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr.

The feat that he has accomplished has been well publicized so that everyone knows of the great achievement he has made. We here in Pennsylvania are proud of John Glenn, Jr., and we want to take this opportunity to offer our congratulations; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at this time offer to Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr. our sincere congratulations for a job well done in his recent flight around the world three times; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Lt. Col. and Mrs. John H. Glenn, Jr. at their home in Arlington, Virginia.

RESOLUTION

Mr. GALLAGHER offered a resolution which was filed with the clerk under the rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on January 11th the local paper, the Clearfield Progress, printed an editorial by George Scott, the editor, on the Quehanna situation. I think it is very excellent and to the point and sums up the situation very well. I wish to introduce the editorial in the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There being no objection, the editorial will be spread upon the record and inserted in the journal.

Mr. BRETH submitted the following editorial for the record:

CLEARFIELD "PROGRESS"—Jan. 11, 1962

Editorial

THE END OF A SAGA

The saga of Curtiss-Wright Corporation at Quehanna appears to be entering its last chapter.

Today's announcement from Wood-Ridge, N. J., confirms what most everyone has feared or expected for the past year—that the corporation is abandoning its Quehanna operation. The news release from Wood-Ridge does not say it just that way, but its apparent in such statements as "other operations will be suspended between now and June 30, 1962," "every effort had been made to maintain the research unit at Quehanna, but that the volume of specialized contracts and the cost of operation did not justify its continuance as a separate establishment," and "the integration of Quehanna research facilities at other localities will be carried out in progressive steps over a period of several months."

Thus will end, come June 30th, the Curtiss Wright at Quehanna story, a story that started back on April 19, 1955 with the announcement at Harrisburg by then Governor George M. Leader that the corporation would establish a research, development and testing facility in the area. By June 3 of that year, necessary legislation had been passed selling and leasing 53,000 acres or 84 square miles of land in Clearfield, Cameron and Elk counties for the site and on that date Roy T. Hurley, then chairman and president of Curtiss-Wright, announced at contract-signing ceremonies at Harrisburg that the corporation would spend four million dollars in developing the site. Governor Leader talked in terms of 6,000 to 7,000 jobs; Curtiss-Wright at no time promised or made a public estimate of the job potential.

On July 21, 1955, ground was broken by Governor Leader and Mr. Hurley. By Nov. 21, seven buildings had been completed or virtually so and Rear Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, spoke at flag-raising ceremonies held on a cold wintry day. That same day, Mr. Hurley announced plans to spend $20 million on developing the site. In August of 1956, Governor Leader visited Quehanna to award the Pennsylvania Meritorious Medal to Mr. Hurley and unveil a bronze plaque mounted on a huge sandstone block on the site where ground had been broken more than a year earlier. On that occasion, Mr. Hurley announced a $50 million expansion program for Quehanna. (A program that never materialized, for various reasons). Meanwhile, Curtiss-Wright had moved its Curon Division to Quehanna, an operation that brought additional scientists and technicians into the area and provided job opportunities for unskilled labor of the area.

There were other highlights as the years moved along and Quehanna developed. A new state highway linking Clearfield with Karthaus and Quehanna was completed in the first two years. A nuclear reactor and test laboratory was built at a cost of $1,500,000. The Pine Glen housing development near Karthaus came into being and soon after that a new Pine Glen elementary school building. An exhibit in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at New York City showed uses of plastic Curon ranging from sponges to wall coverings. Jet plane engines were tested at the test facility. Use of coal as a binder for road building was exploited without success. Curon, the plastics jack-of-all-trades, ran into competition too tough to meet and in 1960 Curtiss-Wright sold its patents and machinery to a textile firm and discontinued Curon operations at Quehanna.

It is a common practice to criticize Curtiss-Wright's operations at Quehanna and its contribution to the area. This we can't buy 100 per cent.

Unquestionably, Curtiss-Wright's withdrawal from the area will cause financial hardships for its workers, all of whom we will be sorry to lose as citizens of our area. Real estate operations have taken a nose-dive and in some cases real losses. Some businesses expanded beyond normal necessity or were started in anticipation of a "boom." And over-all, it is tough to lose an industry with the potenial that Curtiss-Wright held for the area.

It should be remembered, however, that Curtiss-Wright asked nothing of the area when it came here; it paid well above the going price for the land it purchased and leased; and immediately became a taxpayer to three counties on land that previously had been tax free. It never promised "6,000 to 7,000" jobs (the words were those of Governor Leader). It poured into the area millions of dollars in investment and payrolls over a six-year period, dollars that bolstered the area's economy. It was the cause of needed road-building between Clearfield and Karthaus that had been sought unsuccessfully for years previously. Even in the past year, after the demise of Curon, it has provided a substantial payroll for 150, mostly men, that we can ill-afford to lose.

Our area is better off for having had Curtiss-Wright as an industrial citizen than we would have been without it, short as its stay has been.

Today's announcement also may be a blessing in disguise for it may clear the way for something else to take over Quehanna and its buildings. Let's not only hope for such a development. Let's do everything possible from the national and state to the local level, to restore Quehanna to the economic position it should have in the area.

ERRATA

The following resolution was omitted from the journal of February 6:

RESOLUTION

RECOMMENDING PLACING OF HISTORICAL MARKER

Messrs. BACHMAN, FILO, MUSTO, MEHOLCHICK and TOMASCIK offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1962.

St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church of Freeland, Pennsylvania, is the oldest Slovak Evangelical Lutheran congregation in the Western Hemisphere.

The Freeland congregation has been the mother church of Slovak Luther congregations, especially of those in the anthracite area, and through its efforts and influence many other congregations have been formed. The first organizer of the Slovak Lutherans was the late Michael Zomany, who first settled in Mahanoy City in February, 1873. Four years later he moved to Upper Lehigh, Pennsylvania, and in 1880, he came to Freeland where he was instrumental in organizing this church, the first Slovak Lutheran congregation in America. The first service was conducted on February 22, 1883, with the present church building being built in 1886. Since that time many improvements have been made to the church property, all of which have been completed without any obligations of debt, thereby attesting to the stewardship and sacrifice of the local aggregation and its leadership; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby recommends and urges that the Pennsylvania Historical and Muesum Commission place a historical marker at the site of St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church of Freeland, Pennsylvania, attesting to its historical significance; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and to St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church, Freeland, Pennsylvania.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. WYND. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 27, 1962, at 12:30 p.m., e. s. t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:33 p.m., e. s. t.) the House adjourned.

Vol. 39. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1962. No. 19.

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 27, 1962.

The Senate met at 11:00 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. STEPHEN A. McCARREN, Assistant Pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Ford City, offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

O Holy Lord, Father Almighty, Eternal God, give us to realize that we are instruments in Your hands. Make us worthy of that honor and make us good instruments. Make us realize, now and in the future, that that which is pleasing to You is automatically just and good.

Bless us with the knowledge that the only criterion of good legislation is Your divine approval and that a fearful penalty, possibly eternal punishment, will be exacted by You of those who are untrue to the faith, trust and confidence placed in them by their people. Encouraged and made steadfast by this conviction, may we bring into law only such proposals as are pleasing to Thee and in accord with Thy divine will.

Force us to realize that we shall die, but that our works will live on. Help us to serve You and our people in such a manner that we need never fear the scrutiny of Your infinite wisdom, either here or in eternity.

Forever keep us from doing that which is temporarily or personally expedient at the cost of what is morally just and right. Bring us to understand that we are personally responsible to You for every judgment that we make, both as to our personal lives as well as to public policy. Give us the grace to act accordingly, unmindful of perssonal cost or inconvenience.

Having so acted, may we never fear to meet You, our Creator, our Redeemer and our Judge. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceeding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WEINER and Mr. RIPP, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE NONCONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has nonconcurred in amendments made by the Senate to HB 15.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NONCONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HB 15, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its amendments to House Bill No. 15, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. MURRAY, SEYLER and KROMER as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 15.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to HB 1, 28, 42, 50, 57 and 82.

STUDENTS WELCOMED TO THE SENATE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, this morning, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to introduce to the Members of the Senate a group of students from York County. These students are members of a Ninth Grade Class in Pennsylvania History and Government, from one of York County's and one of Pennsylvania's finest high schools, the York Suburban Junior High School.

They are accompanied by their teacher in Pennsylvania History and Government, Mr. Robert Seyler. He often has occasion to relate to his classes anecdotes of his father's brilliant colleagues on the floor of the Senate and, I am sure it enlivens their information about Pennsylvania history.

I would request the Chair to welcome this group to the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the students from York Suburban Junior High School, and Mr. Seyler, please rise in order to be greeted by the Senate?

The Senate is indeed very happy to have you with us. We do hope that by reason of your observation today, life may be made a little easier in your civics classes under Mr. Seyler.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I have the privilege of presenting to the Senate a group of 170 Ninth Grade Students from the Lampeter-Strasburg Union School District, in Lancaster County. This group is now studying State Government.

They are here on a field trip, under the direction of their instructor in civics, Mr. Silknetter.

I would appreciate it if the Chair would recognize these students.

The PRESIDENT. Will the young ladies and gentlemen of the Ninth Grade from the Lampeter-Strasburg Union School District, in Lancaster County, please rise?

We are very happy to greet you and your sponsor, Mr. Silknetter. I do hope, as I said to the class from York County,that you will observe things which will be of interest to you in your further work in your class.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, just coming into the hall of the Senate are a number of young Pennsylvanias from my home town of Lansford, in Carbon County. These are students from the Lansford High School, representing the Problems in Democracy Class. They have come to Harrisburg this morning to learn firsthand of the workings of our State Government. They are here under the leadership of their Professor, Mr. Frank Basheli. They are forty in number and I wonder whether the Chair would greet this group from Carbon County.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Scott.

I was just a little bit worried as to whether or not you would allow them to get seated before I asked them to stand. Would the ladies and gentlemen from Lansford please rise for the proper greeting by the Senate?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I dislike injecting a political note, but I am happy to see that these young ladies and gentlemen are sitting on the right side of the Senate for their indoctrination while they are in Harrisburg.

The PRESIDENT. You know, I think that was an excellent note, Senator Weiner.

Mr. SCOTT. In rebuttal, Mr. President, may I say that I have no control over the guides whatsoever, but I hope this will be changed next year?

The PRESIDENT. In any event, we are very happy to greet the class from Lansford High School. I like Lansford. I have heard a great deal about it ever since I was knee high to a duck because I was born in Shenandoah, which is not too far away. However, we are very happy to have you here and we hope that you, too, will receive some knowledge from your observations which will help you in your class work.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT GRANTED FOR IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF THE CALENDAR

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request unanimous consent that we now proceed to the consideration of today's Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection the Senate will proceed to the consideration of today's Calendar.

BILL ON SECOND READING

SB 26 (Pr. No. 27)—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 22, CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up out of order from page 2 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 22, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to Study the Distribution of Premium Money to Fair Associations by the Department of Agriculture.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 22, ADOPTED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 47 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up out of order from page 2 of the Calendar, House Concurrent Resolution No. 47, entitled:

Directing Certain Departments, Boards and Commissions to File Rules and Regulations with the Legislative Reference Bureau

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution, as amended?

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 47, AS AMENDED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in this resolution, as amended.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think it might be mentioned on the record that the purpose of this resolution is to have compiled in one area the regulations and rules that relate to Acts that have been passed by the Legislature. These Acts, as they are passed, become law, but they usually have appended to them the notation, or the gift actually, or power by the Legislature to the various boards, commissions and departments, which says that they will promulgate rules and regulations in conformity with this legislation.

Many of these rules and regulations not only implement the legislation originally passed by the House of Representatives and the Senate, but some of them go beyond that point, and there has been quite a bit of discussion in this area. Also, many of these rules and regulations are loose, or some of them are loose in various places, and the people who have to practice before these boards and commissions, either as administrators or people who come in contact with the board, commission or department, sometimes are not aware of what these rules are.

Therefore, we are asking the Legislative Reference Bureau, which will have approximately nine or ten months in which to look at this entire situation, to advise the Legislature whether we have given up some of the power to these boards, departments and commissions, or whether we, in fact, have relegated too much power to them, or whether they are operating within the purview of the legislation enacted. We will give everybody a chance to deal with this. This will not be acted upon until the 1963 Session. The reason that the Legislative Reference Bureau is being asked to do this is because they are directly the instrument of the Legislature in the drafting of legislation, and they will also be able to interpret whether we have gone too far and suggest to the Legislature what action ought to be taken, and if no action is indicated, there will be no action.

At the same time, the Legislators will have in front of them a compilation of all of the rules and regulations of these boards, departments and commissions, and everyone will be aware of them.

These being public boards and these being public departments and we have opened by legislation various meetings of the Legislature, commissions and board, I feel these also ought to be open to the public and be available to them for anybody to make comment on these and deal with them so that we do not get into what has commonly been called bureaucracy at the highest level or at the lowest level. That is the reason for this resolution.

We have added an amendment to it here in the Senate, which we hope the House of Representatives will adopt. Therefore, we ask that it be considered on that basis.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I thoroughly agree with Senator Weiner on what he has just said. However, it might be asked, why do we not adopt a method similar to that of the Federal Registry for the compilation of these rules and regulations of the various departments?

The answer to that, Mr. President, is that we did, and I am not so sure but what that legislation is still on the books. Certainly, if it still is, it was nullified, and it ought to be repealed or else enforced.

This method, Mr. President, may accomplish—and I certainly hope it will—what we have been trying to do for a long time, and that is to find out just what rules and regulations are promulgated under the powers given to the various bureaus, departments and commissions by the Legislature. It is a very confusing situation at the present time, and if this will assist in clarifying it, we certainly ought to do it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was concurred in, as amended.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said resolution to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has concurred in the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 10, CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up out of order from page 2 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 10, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to Study the Possibility of Locating a Community College in Philadelphia

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 10, ADOPTED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 105, CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up out of order from page 2 of the Calendar, Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial No. 105, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to Study Desirability of Laws Making Tests for Phenylketonuria Mandatory for All Newborn Babies

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 105, ADOPTED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, will the Majority Leader explain what this resolution means?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I will be very happy to, and I am glad the Senator asked that question.

This is a disease which affects young, newborn children, and it causes them to become retarded. Many people have for many years believed that retardation of children is due to something in the genes. It has also been thought that it is a result of heredity. However, it has been found that this is an attack made on the child itself. It is not known whether this is in the area of a virus, or whether it comes from some other area.

For many, many years, children had been born blind simply because no one took the precaution of putting into their eyes a special preparation of refined silver nitrate. Since that time, better drugs have appeared for that purpose and these measures have prevented blindness.

Prevention of retardation of children can come about by a very simple test being performed at a very early age. Many States, for a long period of time, never took the simple precaution to prevent blindness in newborn babies by using the silver nitrate solution. Today, our law requires that every doctor must do this. We are hopeful that if we can have them use this new method as well on newborn babies, maybe it will eliminate the necessity of the State supporting retarded youngsters.

We are asking the Joint State Government Commission to look into this problem. I am certain they will augment whatever study group that they appoint consisting of Legislators, with doctors, pediatricians and obstetricians to serve on it as well. If we even save the life of one child or prevent one youngster from spending his life in an institution or being a burden to his family for the rest of his life, I think that we will have made a great contribution not only to the newborn children, but to the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 7, CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up out of order from page 2 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 7, entitled:

Senate Committee to Investigate Sale of Lands to Curtiss-Wright Corporation

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 7, OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that this sesolution go over in order.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I have no objection to the resolution going over in its order today. We still have tomorrow to pass it.

I am reliably informed that an effort is being made—a real honest effort—by the Administration to use the facilities at Curtiss-Wright for which they were intended. It is my understanding that some Federal people are coming to Quehanna on Thursday. I have repeatedly commended the Governor for his efforts. I hope that no one in the Senate or the public suspects that there might be any politics in this resolution. I think those of us who attended the Governor's Prayer Breakfast this morning know that it was certainly nonpolitical and nonpartisan. That is the way I feel about Curtiss-Wright.

We, in Pennsylvania, have an unemployment problem, a bad one, and if we can employ 1,000, 2,000, or, as was brought out when we gave the land to Curtiss-Wright, it might employ up to 10,000 people, I am sure that the sportsmen, the citizens of the Commonwealth, and industry, in general, will be more than satisfied to use that facility.

I want to say that I want to go along with the Governor's program. I think he is making an honest effort to have the Curtiss-Wright facilities used.

Mr. President, I would like to read, from page 21 of the Senate History, a part of this resolution:

> "In 1961, a resolution similar to this was introduced by Senators Pechan and Kromer"—the same sponsors that we have this year—"in the Senate and reported from committee. At that time, we were asked not to act upon it since the Governor was then attempting to have the Federal Government give some of its defense contracts to Curtiss-Wright. Nothing came of his efforts."

Again, I want to say that it is not our purpose now to chastise Curtiss-Wright or to discourage this or any other industry from locating here. It is our purpose to see this land utilized in a manner beneficial to the people of Pennsylvania and, if at all possible, to bring into reality the good effects envisioned in the sale and lease of this land in 1955.

I want to again reiterate what I said before. I am sure that my twenty-four Republican colleagues on this side will co-operate with the Administration in seeing that this land is put to good use.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe if you will look at the Governor's agenda for this week, you will note that he will be in Quehanna on Thursday, at 10:00 a. m. I asked the Governor about this matter at our meeting, and he advised me that he was going there, and also that people from the Federal Government would be there with him to discuss this entire facility.

Not only is this not political, but I think it is a tragedy that many people of this area, which is somewhat of a remote area in the State of Pennsylvania, are unemployed. An honest effort was made. There were some of us who had certain reservations about this problem, and maybe some of these reservations were well-founded, as time has brought out. However, I believe we ought to be very careful about this situation, and not move too quickly on it or give it undue publicity or undue airing because it might be the type of situation which the Federal Government feels is a point of controversy, and it might not want to get involved at all.

I would like to assure everyone here in the Senate that the Governor is quite concerned about it. He made a trip to Washington about it on two occasions, and he is having the people from the Defense Department go up on Thursday at 10:00 a.m. to review the facility with him and go through it. I believe they are going to spend a good part of the day up there going over it. At that point, I think they will report back to see what action should be taken.

I think it can be done on an executive level. I think if someone is aware of the situation and is doing something about it, that is all that Senator Pechan, or I, or anybody else here is asking. That is one of the reasons why we put this resolution on the Calendar. The reason we put it on the Calendar is so that you are all aware of what the situation is and will try to do something in that direction.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the resolution will go over in its order.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

SB 29 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

SB 29 (Pr. No. 30)—Without objection, the bill was called up out of order, from page 1 of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. WEINER.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

SB 29—Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 29 go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not like to quarrel about a bill going over in its order, but this is an important measure. It is a measure which we have discussed during the last Session and during this Session. Therefore, I think a vote should be taken on it, even though I am aware of the fact, as everyone else is, that this measure cannot possibly be enacted into law unless the House were to remain here for a few more days. I think I am not revealing any confidence when I say that we hope to adjourn sine die tomorrow.

This measure is on Third Reading and I think we should take a position on it and be counted as to how we stand.

I have no objection if the bill goes over in its order until tomorrow, except that I believe we should vote on it tomorrow. If I can obtain that assurance, I will be very happy to acquiesce to its going over.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I appreciate the co-operation of the Majority Leader. I will not ask for any assurance that we will adjourn sine die tomorrow, but I understand that is in the books.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

REGULAR ORDER OF BUSINESS RESUMED

The PRESIDENT. Consideration of today's Calendar being completed, we will now revert to the regular order of business.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am presenting the following resolution, signed by Senator Weiner and myself, on behalf of all the Members of this Senate. I am also sure that the officers and the employees of the Senate would gladly join in it, were they given the opportunity. It is a resolution which speaks for itself.

Mr. President, I just want to say on behalf of this resolution that it is one of congratulation and regret at the loss of two of our most prominent, valuable and well liked Senators.

Mr. President, I offer the following resolution on behalf of all the Members of the Senate, and ask for its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO SENATORS CHARLES R. MALLERY AND GEORGE B. STEVENSON

Messrs. BERGER and WEINER, on behalf of the entire Membership of the Senate, offered the following resolution Serial No. 28), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

It is with heavy heart that Members of the Senate reconcile themselves to the sad knowledge that the next General Assembly will convene without Senators Mallery and Stevenson. Between them they possess fifty-two years of experience in this body. They have served through practically every kind of an emergency that can face a government. They have served well, and they have learned much. Their good judgement and wise counsel are sought by all of the Senators on both sides of the aisle and they are both ever ready to extend their full efforts to any task before them.

Both of them are attorneys-at law with a broad knowledge of law and government. Both have served with distinction on the Local Government Commission and have brought dignity to every committee to which they have been assigned. They have done this at great personal sacrifice to themselves. Whenever their time and energy were required by both their law practice and their legislative duties, the personal work was always put aside and the public duty done.

Such men are few and the Senate can ill afford their loss. But they have earned the rest they now seek. They have served long and well and, in the estimation of all of us, they have served above and beyond the call of duty; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Members of the Senate congratulate Senators Charles R. Mallery and George B. Stevenson on their long and successful careers and, on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, thank them for a good job well done; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we wish them well in their retirement and pray that they will at least find time to just enjoy themselves, although we will warrent that whenever the public needs them, they will put aside their pleasure and serve. We wish good luck and long life to two real gentlemen; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be delivered to Senators Mallery and Stevenson.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want the Members of the Senate to know that I, too, will greatly miss Senator Mallery and Senator Stevenson.

When I came to this Senate quite a number of years ago, I had the pleasure of working with Senator Mallery and Senator Stevenson on the Pennsylvania Local Government Commission. I feel that my association with these gentlemen has enlightened me a great deal with reference to the over-all operation of local government in Pennsylvania. As a matter of fact, when I heard that Senator Stevenson and Senator Mallery were going to retire, I talked with both of them and I tried to talk them out of it. I do not feel the Senate will be just right if we do not see these two gentlemen in their seats, working together.

I want to express to Senator Stevenson and to Senator Mallery my personal appreciation for their leadership and for permitting me the right to associate with them. Frankly, I still hope that they will change their minds.

I talked with Senator Stevenson on about four different occasions and I said: "You know, Senator, this Senate is your life. If you leave this Senate, you are going to change rapidly and you will be inactive." I gave him all sorts of threats, so to speak, because I would like to see him stay.

I repeat, Mr. President, that I do not believe there is any Member of the Senate any closer to me than Senator George Stevenson.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, when I came to the Senate of the General Assembly, in 1937, Senator Mallery was already here, rounding out either his first or second term. Then, in 1939, it was my privilege to meet Senator Stevenson.

The best way to describe these two individuals is to say that the definition of a gentleman, by Emerson, admirably suits them. They speak in monosyllables, they speak emphatically, and they possess great humility. This, in my opinion, is the greatest asset of a gentleman.

There is one thing which I would like to stress and underscore, and that is what Senator Stevenson did when he served as Chairman of the Committee on Local Government. It is to his credit that no bill which was referred to that committee ever remained without any evaluation or, as they say in slang, without a shake. Everything was considered, whether the bill reached the floor of the Senate or not. For this, the people of Pennsylvania owe him a debt of gratitude.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, it happened that I traveled in Pennsylvania, from Beaver to Wayne, and from Warren to York and, therefore, I know my Pennsylvania. I visited these two gentlemen in the very communities where they live. If you will come to Philadelphia and ask who Senator Stiefel is, there will be many people who will not know me because the city is immense. However, when you go to Lock Haven or to Blair County and ask where Senator Stevenson or Senator Mallery lives, they will give you all the details, just like the women in the Bible. When Saul came to ask for Samuel,—referring to the First Book of Samuel—they poured out all the information. This also applies to Senator Stevenson and Senator Mallery in their respective communities. The information is the best. That shows that they live among their people and the people like it.

It is, indeed, most regrettable that we will be lacking the warmth of their personalities in their final, true Amrican attitude toward all the problems which came before us.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have been listening to the speeches here about these two gentlemen who are retiring. It may be presumptuous of me, perhaps, as one of the relatively newer Members, to say a few words.

However, I want to say that I believe in losing these two gentlemen, who have announced that they are not going to seek re-election, the Senate is losing two of its steadiest hands and wisest heads. I think all of my colleagues can remember many occasions when there was considerable partisan turmoil in this chamber. These men, who are now leaving us, were the centers about which we could restore the stability and equilibrium that we often need.

I must say that Senator Stevenson has left his mark on the problem of the relationship between State Government and local government, which is historic in its importance. I think future students of this subject in Pennsylvania and in the Nation will find that the influence of Senator George Stevenson on the development of a sound basis for a relationship between local and State Government is one of the most important things that has happened during my time in this Senate.

Mr. STAISEY. Mr. President, it may be presumptuous of me also to comment on the two colleagues who are retiring. However, whenever any of us gain something from somebody, I think it is worthy of comment. I know that during my first year here, Senator Stevenson and Senator Mallery were very helpful to me in giving me of their experience and judgment.

In leaving the Senate, I do not think they are retiring. On the contrary, however, because of the kind of men they are, I prefer to think that they are re-tiring in the sense that they are retreading and going on to other activities.

I sincerely hope that it might be said of me some day, when I leave this Body, what I would like to say of them. These two Senators, in all of their works and all of their deeds, have always left the people better off than when they found them. Mr. President, this is a real testament to dedicated public service.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, yesterday we Republicans got together and had a little luncheon and party for our two retiring Senators. Our remarks, of course, did not go into the record, but I think everybody knows of the esteem in which we hold these two gentlemen, especially myself. I think when I came to the Senate, I was perhaps the greenest fellow who ever walked into these halls. My contemporary here agrees that I still am.

I want to say that George Stevenson and Charley Mallery took me in hand. I cannot vouch for the final product, but I can say that as a result of knowing these two fine gentlemen, Al Pechan is perhaps a better Legislator and a better citizen.

We are going to miss these gentlemen very, very much. I am not going to make a lengthy speech, because I might break down and cry. However, very frankly, the people of Pennsylvania are actually going to be the losers rather than this small group of fifty people.

As Senator Staisey said, and as I said yesterday, I have hopes that when I leave the Senate, my colleagues will have the same feeling for me that we have for these two gentlemen.

I could say, facetiously perhaps, that Bill Lane and Senator Seyler would never get up and say the nice things about me that we say about Senator Stevenson and Senator Mallery.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman that if he were leaving, we certainly would say those nice things about him.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, after hearing these nice words about George Stevenson and Charles Mallery, it makes me feel a little homesick and almost makes me wish that I were leaving, too.

Mr. President, I first met Senator Stevenson, of all places, at the Wissachickon Barracks in World War I. That was in 1918. I did not see Senator Stevenson then until 1951, when I came to the Senate. That was thirty-three years later. We looked at each other, and we complimented each other. I thought he looked younger than he did in 1918, and he returned the compliment.

I want to say that last night Senator Stevenson was good enough to introduce me to a very close friend of his at a dinner that we had together. He told this friend of his: "Martin Silvert, here, is a great fellow. There is only one thing that is wrong with him. He is a Democrat." Well, it sort of took me back, and I simply said: "Well, you know, nobody can be perfect."

So, I say to Senator Mallery and Senator Stevenson, even though they are Republicans, I forgive them because nobody can be perfect.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is no more than fitting that I should add to the few remarks that have been said about our two colleagues, my friends, George Stevenson and Charlie Mallery. Senator Mallery is a neighbor of mine and a friend of many years, and that can also be said of Senator Stevenson.

I rise because the burden they leave is placed upon my shoulders. It is now my duty to replace Senator Stevenson, and no one realizes more than I do the task before me. I have no hope whatsoever to better his record. I have served on the Local Government Committee for many years, under the leadership and guidance of Senator Stevenson. We traveled throughout the State. We met in many cities, and at all times, I have never found any person more courteous and more honest about his convictions than the then Chairman of our Committee, Senator Stevenson. He leaves behind a great record. I trust that he, along with Senator Mallery, will continue to stay with this committee for the balance of this year, because, the Lord knows, I need their help. I shall try to the best of my ability to come close—not to better—at least to the record he leaves behind.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Stevenson, on behalf of the employes and officers of the Senate, there is very little left to be said, except, that, as you see here today, we all love you, and we wish you great happiness and good health in your retirement. We do hope you will come back here and visit often. That, of course, also applies to Senator Mallery.

Would you like to respond, Senator Stevenson?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, from the depths of my heart, I appreciate all that has been said here and done here today.

I have been in this Senate now almost a quarter of a century. When I came here, I came here to work, and I have tried to do a conscientious job across these years. However, anything that I may have accomplished has been through teamwork. I do not lay claim to any super knowledge and I do not lay claim to any unusual great abilities.

At one time, I coached football and basketball teams, and my theme was always teamwork, and through teamwork, we had some great teams. I have carried that same thought here in the Senate. I appreciate the co-operation of all of these men here in the Senate and how they have helped me. I do not know everything about local government, but I have been a serious student of it for a lifetime. I taught it in the schools at one time, and it has been a hobby of mine over the years. I have tried to keep abreast with the times to see that the political subdivisions of Pennsylvania had modern tools with which to give the people good service. Any accomplishments were only possible with the help of these people. Senator Lane especially has been a tremendous help to me. Bill and I have sat down and talked local government. These younger fellows, as they have come along,—Harry Seyler and the others on both sides of the aisle—have been a great help. We know no aisle in local government. All we have been interested in is to do something that would help.

In the height of sincerity, it has been a great privilege and an opportunity for me to do my part in helping to have the people live better and more richly.

This Senate is a great organization. It has always reminded me of my life in college and law school, when I lived in a fraternity house. We had a great bunch of fellows and we had a lot of fun, but we had a job to do. We had to study. The same thing obtains here in the Senate. We have a grand bunch of fellows here. We have fun, but we have a serious job. Making laws is serious business. So, I have always sort of felt that here I am, when I came down here in 1939, back in college and law school again with a grand bunch of fellows.

I am going to carry away with me some very, very happy memories. It has been grand to know all of these people. During this quarter of a century, I have seen a tremendous number of Senators come and go. Some day, I would like to sit down and just count them. It is amazing the turnover that has taken place here in the Senate over the years.

I make a remark yesterday that when I came here in 1939, on this side of the aisle there were fourteen Senators elected. Eight years ago, the last one of those left me, and for the past eight years, I have been the only one of those fourteen here in the Senate. That gives you some idea of the turnover that, unfortunately, occurs in a body of this type. I believe in a continuity of service. People get broken into the harness here and begin to get a full understanding of what the whole processes of government are, and I think it is just too bad that they do not stay longer. I know that quite often they have to do it—and I know I did it—at great personal sacrifice. However, it has been my life, and I have loved it down here. I love everybody here. As I say, I am leaving here with tremendously happy and pleasant memories, and I thank everyone for their kind and gracious remarks. They are nice to hear, even though they do overgrace you. However, they are nice to hear, anyway. Thank you so much, gentlemen.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Stevenson. The privilege has been on our part and not on yours.

Before we go any further, I have been asked by the members of the Press—the reporters here who have worked with you—to tell you that they hold you in the highest affection and regard.

Mr. YATRON. Mr. President, I do not wish to be redundant or to repeat all of the very nice things which have been said, but I feel in my heart that, as a newcomer, I should say a few words about these two gentlemen.

In the early part of 1961, when I took office as Senator, I had a problem in one of the boroughs in my county. After discussing it with some of the other Senators, they referred me to Senator Stevenson. I went to him and he extended me a helping hand. He did some research on the problem which was before us and, within a few days, he sent me a lengthy letter, explaining all the aspects of the problem. In addition to that, Mr. President, he discussed it with me personally and it is for that reason that I feel this is the time when I should get up and express my thanks to him.

I would also like to extend my gratitude to Senator Mallery, who was a member of my Agriculture Committee. I, as a newcomer, was named Chairman of the Agriculture Committee and, believe me, I was shaky at some of those early meetings. However, Senator Mallery is a man who is very kind and, rather than trying to embarrass me, he tried to help and tried to work out the problems that were before us in that committee, the same as did many of the other Members.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to say that I am happy to have been associated with these two gentlemen, although it has been only for a short time. I will be benefiting from the association which I have enjoyed with them, and I wish both gentlemen well in the future years.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I know Senator Stevenson and Senator Mallery do not have to hear a word from me in order to know how I have appreciated them.

I came to this Senate in 1935 and was later out for four years. However, since I have been in the Senate, I never knew a man on this floor, Republican or Democrat, who was not a gentleman. These two men have been very helpful to me on many, many an occasion. I hope that their decision to retire might yet be changed. I think they might come back and make us all happy.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to second Senator McGinnis's remarks. I think they should take a little time to think it over and count ten before they take any action. I think they should stay.

The PRESIDENT. I know there is no necessity of taking a vote but formally this is required.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was unanimoulsy adopted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KALMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KALMAN. Mr. President, I am about to offer two resolutions. The first resolution deals with the economic situation of Fayette County and is being introduced on be-myself. The second resolution is being introduced on behalf of Senator Murray and myself, and deals generally with legislation now pending in the United States Congress.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO SUPPORT AND ENACT INTO LEGISLATION ANTIRECESSION PUBLIC WORKS PROJECTS IN DEPRESSED AND DISTRESSED ECONOMIC AREAS

Mr. KALMAN offered the following resolution (Serial No. 29), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

Twenty-five per cent of the employable population of Fayette County is unemployed. Thirty-five per cent of the employable population of the Brownsville area, in Fayette County, is unemployed.

Twenty-two thousand of 175,000 residents of Fayette County are receiving assistance. The 3,596 cases on public assistance due to unemployment compromise 17,219 persons.

The pilot program of the food stamp program in Pennsylvania, for those receiving assistance and those whose income is below the United States Department of Commerce standards for the number of persons in the family, shows $3,000,000 worth of sales in eight months.

Twenty-four thousand persons were employed in the coal mines of Fayette County from 1940 to 1948. Currently, there are but 4,500 persons so employed.

Unemployment in Fayette County, Pennsylvania and in other depressed areas is causing misery, hunger and deprivation to thousands of honest persons desiring employment; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation antirecession public works projects in depressed and distressed economic areas, especially those having unemployment in excess of fifteen per cent of the employable population and more than ten per cent of the population on public assistance; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ENACT INTO LEGISLATION THE BILL ENTITLED "STAND-BY CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS ACT OF 1962"

Messrs. KALMAN and MURRAY offered the following resolution (Serial No. 30), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

President Kennedy, on February 19, 1962, sent to Congress legislation to give him power to start not in excess of $2,000,000,000 of public works projects in the early stage of any business slump. Under the bill, the President would be permitted to act when unemployment had risen in three out of four or four out of six consecutive months by not less than one percentage point.

The bill would allow use of the funds when needed and not be subject to any delay rendering the program ineffective. This, of course, would render great aid to the entire Country in any time of economic recession; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation the bill entitled the "Stand-by Capital Improvements Act of 1962"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY CERTAIN FUNCTIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Mr. BELL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 31), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

RESOLVED. That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate:

1. The basis for the allocation and expenditure of funds in connection with the construction, reconstruction, resurfacing and maintenance of State highways.

2. The effectiveness of existing programs relating to the maintenance of State highways.

3. Whether the present system wherein the Secretary of Highways has authority and power to expend the proceeds from gasoline and motor fuel taxes as he deems best is in the best interest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with particular emphasis on the correction of deficiencies found in the organization and operation of the Department of Highways, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, the question might be raised as to why I waited until the twenty-third hour to present this resolution. The reason is that yesterday, I was almost hit by another automobile, on my way here to Harrisburg, on U. S. Highway Route 13, which was dodging a big pothole. Also, last Thursday, for the first time in my legislative career of almost eight years, I was able to get hold of the figures which show how the State Highway money is spent in Pennsylvania.

This is no attack on a wonderful Secretary of Highways, Park Martin. He is a fine administrator and I believe he has done a wonderful job under the conditions he has had to work. However, these shortcoming, I believe, are the result of a system which exists in Pennsylvania, whereby the State Highways are controlled by one man.

Down around where I live, it is a very short trip to go to the State of Delaware, and their roads are in very good shape. I am very close to the State of New Jersey where their roads are also in very good shape. It is common talk in my county that you know when you hit Pennsylvania because of the roads.

Last week, when I talked about the appropriation bill, I touched the sacred cow. I think today, I am probably daring to touch the sacred calf of State Government. Under an Act of 1929, we have given to one man the sole authority to determine how, when and where, in this year, $414,000,000 are to be spent. This means $414,000,000 to be spent at the discretion of one man.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am just going to take this apart. First of all, I am going to talk about where it is to be spent. In Delaware County, we have five per cent of the people in the Commonwealth and five per cent or more of the taxes come from Delaware County. I have examined the figures and I find that across-the-board, for every dollar that Delaware County spends, and which goes to the Motor License Fund, seventy-five per cent of that is spent elsewhere. In other words, we are shortchanged seventy-five cents on a dollar.

I am going to read some figures. Last year, for constructing and reconstructing, there was $153,000,000 spent in Pennsylvania. Delaware County had $1,694,000. On the basis of population and on the basis of how this money is collected, we should have had $7,683,000. We spent $21,000,000 for resurfacing roads last year. One hundred and sixty-seven thousand was spent in my county. We should have had over $1,000,000 spent in that county. On maintenance, $63,000,000 was spent in Pennsylvania last year and, again, we had the story of discrimination because we had $983,000 spent in Delaware County. We should have had $3,200,000.

Now my good friends from Philadelphia are likewise in this shortchange business. In the over-all six districts, which include the counties of Bucks, Chester, Montgomery, Delaware and Philadelphia, you have the same, sad, sorry story. For every dollar coming out of those six districts, twenty-five cents comes back.

Without mentioning names, there is one county in Pennsylvania that had 36,000 people in it, or one-fifteenth the size of my county. Yet, last year, for maintenance of their highways, there was twenty-five per cent more money spent in that county than in Delaware County.

In this resolution, I am asking that the Joint State Government Commission study whether the decisions of the Secretary of Highways are proper, whether the 1929 law is good today, and whether one man should have this tremendous power of allocation of almost one-half million dollars. Gentleman, is this not worthy of a legislative study? We know what resolutions we have sent to the Joint State Government Commission. We have sent nothing compared to the importance of this item.

I am going to say a few words about how the money which is allocated is spent. First of all, in Delaware County, our highways are antiquated and worn out. I called this to the Secretary's attention many, many times. I have written hundreds of letters complaining to the District Engineer, but we are still shortchanged.

I am appalled at the road conditions. Last night, I happened to drive over some State highways in the city of Philadelphia. I was amazed to find that the serious pothole conditions about which I complained last week on this floor, on the Gray's Ferry Bridge, are still there and the bridge is deteriorating. In the county of Philadelphia, as in Delaware County, little potholes are left to grow. They do not believe that a stitch in time will save the seat of your pants. That is the way our highways are going.

Gentlemen, when you ride down the Schuylkill Expressway, a new highway, unless something is done on the bridge immediately west of City Line, you are going to have trouble. It is deteriorating because of no maintenance.

U. S. Highway 1, going south from Philadelphia, in my county, is two years old and is full of longitudinal cracks which are twenty and thirty feet long. These were not repaired for winter and already you will see small potholes in a two-year-old highway. Gentlemen, I could go on and I could read into the record hundreds and hundreds of instances. I am very much concerned about it because where you have no maintenance or improper maintenance, the roads deteriorate rapidly.

Last evening, I was in the company of a number of Army Reserve Officers and one of them, who holds the rank of full colonel and who has numerous battlefield decorations, called to my attention certain State Highways in the southeastern Pennsylvania area. He said he has seen better roads, in better condition, on battlefields after shell fire has hit them than these State Highways. I think that is something which we should concern ourselves with.

Yesterday, I drove down to a meeting which I could not avoid attending and I had to leave early. One of the local radio stations had a program entitled, "What is on your Mind?" All the complaints that came in were about the horrible condition of the State Highways in southeastern Pennsylvania. This man broke an axle, and this man had his tire blown out by hitting potholes. I talked to an official of the Teamsters Union and he told me they are having many accidents with their big trucks because they hit these potholes, doing damage to the trucks, and the first time they find out about it is when they jackknife on something like the Turnpike.

Gentlemen, I am not making this as a personal attack on the Department of Highways. I am making it as a personal attack on this Legislature. We have sat by and let this system continue. I do not say that I have the answer; I do not know the answer. I am not an investigator. However, I do know that when you see crews of men along the road, one working, one with a flag and six watching, it is wrong. I believe there is nothing as vital to this Commonwealth as highway safety. I am convinced that when we allow these potholes, tank traps and deteriorated highways to exist, we are endangering the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, that is my message this morning. I am sorry I broke up the very friendly atmosphere which existed here with the nice congratulatory message to Senator Mallery and Senator Stevenson. However, I am worried about these roads and I think it is incumbent upon the Senate of Pennsylvania, even at this eleventh hour, to do something.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Bell, did you ask for the immediate consideration of this resolution?

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I will yield to the Majority Leader. If he desires to submit it to the Rules Committee, and it is submitted, I would like it brought back to the floor tomorrow.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to the resolution being considered at this time. If it is submitted to the Rules Committee, I assure the gentleman there will be a meeting of the Rules Committee, at which time it will be brought up. I cannot promise him that it will be returned to the floor. I have taken up every resolution that has ever been submitted to the committee. I have never held any out.

I would just like to point out to the gentleman that the highway about which he is speaking—U. S. No. 1—is one of the most heavily traveled highways in the Country, and it happens to go through his area. Also, one of the problems we have been having is that for a long time—for many, many years—these highways have been neglected. A lot of the trouble came from the townships, the boroughs and the counties looking after these roads, and it got to be such a hodgepodge that it became very difficult to know whose responsibility this matter truly was.

We do have I think in Pennsylvania one of the finest group of people, barring none, working in the Highways Department. I think the present Secretary is not only a very capable can, but he is cognizant of many, many of the problems that go on.

I also would like to point out to the gentleman that many of the people who worked in the highway sheds in the past years are still there, and they were there eight and ten years ago or longer. There has been very little change. This maladministration is not a new thing—if there is maladministration and I do not know if there is—and the problem that we are discussing here is one of the long range type that I do not think the Joint State Government Commission or anyone can take up.

I would respectfully suggest to the gentleman that he take a walk over to the Highway Department to see the head of the department, or invite him to come over here. Either way, I am sure there will be no problem about it. I think a free discussion of this problem between the two of them and anyone else who wants to sit in would bring this matter to a head, rather than have the Joint State Government Commission convene and take lengthy testimony when the Highways Department is going to tell you they are the best in the world, and where the Legislators are going to be taking pot shots at them, and they are going to try to build a fence around themselves. If they sat down and calmy tried to iron out the situation, I think they could come to some understanding without a resolution, or the Joint State Government Commission or wasting a lot of time, effort and energy.

I would also like to point out to the gentleman that for many years, Delaware County—and that is all I am speaking about at the moment—has done very well in having the Department of Highways take over a good bit of the county responsibility by taking over these highways. Although, they have only five per cent of the population, I am sure that you will find proportionately they have had a great deal more of their highways taken over by the State. With this extra load being put on them without extra funds coming to them, you can soon see what situation will develop.

If we are going to shed tears here about counties, I might begin by saying a few words on behalf of Philadelphia, where we have one-fifth of the population, and I will assure you that of the proportionate share of the tax money we pay into the State, we get very little back. Also, the proportionate area in roads taken back for maintenance by the State is also very, very low, and not in keeping with the proportionate share of money that we pay to the State, the Motor Fund or anything else.

As a matter of fact, four years ago I made the offer—and I repeat the offer—that if Philadelphia could keep the money that it puts into the Motor Fund in its own area for maintenance of its own highways, we would not ask the State to take over one inch of our highway system, and I can assure you we would have no difficulty in taking care of that problem.

I never found anybody here in this Legislature to take me up on that offer or even offer to co-sponsor legislation along those lines. However, if you want to reconsider it, Senator Bell, I will be delighted to join with you, and you will have no difficulty from us and the State can divide that money the way they want from that point on.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I would like to answer the Majority Leader.

First of all, the Majority Leader brought up the fact that a lot of this stuff goes back a long time. In Delaware County, it goes back for eight years, the eight years that the Democrats have controlled the maintenance of our highways.

It is an open secret that Mr. Martin, the Secretary of Highways, has no power of hiring and firing on the county level. If you want to verify that, ask Mr. Martin.

Secondly, Mr. President, these State Highways I am talking about surely are the big ones with heavy traffic, because I did not want to burden the shoulders of this Senate with the horrible condition of the secondary roads; roads that are so horribly potholed that traffic can only go on one lane and where people are hitting other cars consistently in my county. The condition of our secondary roads in Delaware County—the roads of the State Highways Department which have been on the map since Governor Pinchot put them there—is horrible.

I will tell you about Highway 320. It is known as the Sproul Road. It is a very important road. It was an adequate road in 1922, but nothing has been done since 1922. In fact, in 1922, the road surface was much better because now it is all broken up. Sometimes you can even see steel reinforcement rods from the concrete poking up in the air, snagging cars as they go by. These conditions are on our State Highways.

You asked me to walk over and talk to the Secretary of Highways. I have walked over there, and I have a long file which I can produce.

Now, finally, let us talk about Philadelphia. I wish you Senators from Philadelphia would get as hot under the collar at the way you have been shortchanged in your highways as I am about Delaware County. I would suggest you take a trip up Roosevelt Boulevard. I was talking with a man last night, and he said it was in horrible condition. However, I am not going up there. That is your responsibility.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, I will take exception to the resolution that has been introduced by Senator Bell, and I certainly will take exception to a few of the remarks made about the Secretary of Highways.

The Office of Secretary of Highways and the Highways Department of Pennsylvania are in no way, shape or form a one-man operation. For the first time in the history of the Commonwealth, they have a real team over there. There are twelve districts in this Commonwealth, and each District Engineer programs his work for the next year. It is then taken into the Secretary of Highways, and the Secretary of Highways gives it to his deputies and other individuals working over there, and they come up with a plan. For the first time, Pennsylvania has had a real road plan, and not a plan that has been guided under the guise of political secrecy. Everybody knows what is going on. You can get that information from the Pennsylvania Road Constructors, who have worked very closely with the Secretary of Highways. If one hodgepodge or one rut in one road causes an investigation like this, I think it shows that Pennsylvania is doing a very good job.

We have 42,000 miles of State Highways in Pennsylvania. That is more roads than all of the New England States, New York, New Jersey and Ohio put together, and I think we are doing a very good job.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I did not attack Secretary Martin. I want that clear. For the benefit of the Senator from Northampton County, I do not know how many people you have in your county, but I have the figures in front of me as to how much was spent in your county during the past few years, and I would like to put that into the record.

In Northampton County, last year, Senator,—in the last fiscal year—you had spent for new construction in your county, $2,861,000. In my county of Delaware, with its 553,000 people, we had spent for new construction $1,694,000. You may think that is fair. I do not.

Mr. ROONEY. Senator, I do not know what the road program in Delaware County was last year or the year before last. However, I am sure the Delaware County residents have had their fair share of highway construction during the past seven years. You cannot just take one year out and make a comparison with Northampton County. Northampton County has needed road construction for many, many years, and finally, with the realistic gasoline tax that we passed, we are getting our fair share of work that has been long overdue. I think every county —everyone of the sixty-seven counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—is getting its fair share of highway construction.

You did attack Secretary Martin, because in your opening statement you said: ". . . one man. How can one man ascertain where each gasoline dollar is going?" I think that is a reflection on Secretary Martin.

You also mentioned the fact that Secretary Martin does not have the right to hire or fire individual employees in the districts. I can assure you that each District Engineer can fire any employee who is not doing a good job. I have seen it in my own county, and I have heard about it in other counties. Certainly, there are political repercussions at times, but what we need regarding highways is good, able-bodied men to run the show.

If you will remember, last year, for the first time in the history of the Commonwealth, we took an additional 900 men and put them under Civil Service so we could get capable and able workers in our Highway Department. I think this is a sign of what the Secretary is trying to do, and what this Administration is trying to do to improve the Highway Department. The original bill that was introduced would have taken in 3,600 but it was whittled down to 900, both by Republican and Democratic amendments.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution, it is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I understand that the resolution has been referred to the Committee on Rules.

I certainly would have liked to participate in some of the debate in regard to highway funds, but that matter has been resolved for the moment, as I understand it.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct, Senator Wade. The resolution has been referred to the Committee on Rules.

MEMBERS OF THE VIRGINIA COMMISSION ON CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I take great pleasure in presenting to this honorable body, and to you, a group of distinguished visitors from Virginia. They are members of the Virginia Commission on Constitutional Government. They are led by the Honorable David J. Mays, who is Chairman of this Virginia Commission. I might say to the Senate that they are not of the same political faith as I am, but I heartily concur in their beliefs and in their principles.

Mr. President, I would like to introduce these gentlemen individually to you and to all of the Members. However, I would consider it a special favor if you would call to the Chair Mr. David J. Mays for a few remarks. I am sure we all appreciate their taking time from their very busy schedules and coming here to bring their message to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I ask you, Mr. President, to take over from here.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Wade. The Chair is very happy to recognize this important Commission from our sister Commonwealth. I wonder whether Mr. Mays will come forward, please?

Members of the Senate, I now present Mr. David J. Mays, who is Chairman of the Virginia Commission on Constitutional Government.

REMARKS BY DAVID J. MAYS, CHAIRMAN OF THE VIRGINIA COMMISSION ON CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I think I can best show my appreciation for this invitation by not abusing it. I know how busy you are.

Our Commission has been operating for four years, having been set up by the General Assembly of Virginia for the purpose of teaching something of constitutional principles in our State and elsewhere. It was a great joy to us to have some of your colleagues with us in Virginia last fall, and to have been with them last night and today.

We are attempting to teach the Constitution anew. There are no overtones there or undertones. That is it, and that is all of it.

We are appointed by the Governor of Virginia, and some of us by the President of the Senate and some by the Speaker of the House, all of whom have asked me to extend to you their greetings.

As I came through these lovely halls today and saw the magnificent architecture, the marble and the artwork, I could not help but contrast it with our own Capitol, which has a simplicity, a Grecian simplicity which Jefferson gave it, and, of course, without the decoration that funds would really require. As I came in,—and I will conclude with this—I said to one of my colleagues: "This is one of the most magnificent Capitols I ever saw." He said: "Yes, it is, but you must remember that they won the war."

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Mr. Mays. Will the other members of the Commission please rise?

We have here with us these gentlemen who certainly respond, as does our own Senate, on the question of constitutional government.

I would like you gentlemen to know that I spent a very delightful day with your Governor, J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., and his lovely wife. I enjoyed it very much and I was very much impressed by the kind of government you have in Virginia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to offer might resurrect some ghosts which plagued this Senate during the Session of 1961. One of the burning questions of that time was the question of the advisability of having a court administrator for the city of Philadelphia and for Allegheny County.

I respectfully submit to the Senate of the General Assembly that a searching analysis and a thorough study of the situation would indicate there is a backlog of untried cases. This problem is probably close to you, Mr. President, as a former Judge of Court of Common Pleas No. 4.

The judiciary in Philadelphia,—by this, I mean the Courts of Common Pleas and the County Court of Philadelphia—time and again, has been accused because of the backlog of untried cases. All kinds of remedies were offered, but the most important, which is to assay the cause of it and why there are backlogs of cases, was never ascertained. It is common knowledge that what we need in Philadelphia is more courtrooms or, probably, a new court building which would be away from the hustle and bustle of the city. In that way, the judiciary would be able to proceed with its work.

I feel it is now high time that the Joint State Government Commission undertakes, within the next few months separating us from the Session of 1963, a thorough, searching study in order to find out the tenability of such a new court building in order to remove the judiciary from the milling crowds around City Hall, from the traffic and from the pandemonium, to a quiet place where they can attend to their work.

Therefore, Mr. President, I now offer this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE NEED FOR NEW COURT FACILITIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 32), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

In recent years, unwarranted criticism has been repeatedly leveled at the Courts of Philadelphia County because of accumulating backlogs of untried cases.

Concomitant with this carping and bitter criticism, totally defying logic and untenable because of faulty analyses, came from many quarters various suggestions of remedies that, if implemented, would have only added to the miasmatic growth of bureaucracy and the resultant failure to reach desired goals.

A careful and thorough investigation of causes of the backlog of untried cases in Philadelphia County would at once ascertain that they are caused by the inadequacy of the number of courtrooms needed for dispatch in handling the trials of cases.

The antiquated City Hall of Philadelphia is not only abounding in noises caused by milling crowds and heavy traffic, but also lacks space needed for the additional courtrooms that would enable the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County and the County Court of Philadelphia to dispose of more cases than now in their crowded quarters.

The Federal Government is now exploring new locations along Market Street for the Federal Courts in Philadelphia for the same apparent reasons that are indicative of need for a new State Court Building in Philadelphia.

The Independence Mall offers ideally suitable sites along adjacent streets for either one State Court Building or several, in case dispersal of courtrooms would be more desirable than concentrating all functions in one building.

NOW BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, through the Joint State Government Commission, undertake a thorough, searching study of the need for new courtrooms as a minimum and a new Court Building as a maximum for the Courts of Common Pleas and the County Court of Philadelphia.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That such a study be initiated at once so that adequate legislation may be presented to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in January of 1963.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that this resolution be referred to the appropriate committee.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

GUESTS OF SENATOR GEORGE N. WADE PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have the honor to announce the presence of a rather large class from the Cumberland Valley Junior High School, of Cumberland County. They are here under the leadership of their teacher, Mr. Thomas Helman.

I would very much appreciate it if the Chair would extend the official welcome of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the young ladies and gentlemen of the Cumberland Valley Junior High School please rise?

Your teacher is Mr. Helman and, of course, that welcome from the Senate was intended to also include you, Mr. Helman.

We are very happy you came here. We hope that in the observation of the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania you will find new ideas for your classes in government.

REMARKS CONCERNING REORGANIZATION OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, last week and this week, we have discussed the resolution that Senator Wade addressed himself to and which I advised him was taken up in the Rules Committee in regard to school reorganization. I would like to make some remarks for the record. I believe Senator Wade might be interested in either responding or by giving it some thought.

We have distributed this small booklet, entitled "The Fourth 'R'," and I have tried to see that every Member received a copy. I have asked that they look at it very carefully.

I would like to read the following statement into the record if I may:

> 'One of the gravest problems today is the existence of numerous school districts too small to operate efficiently. Small school systems are wasteful of personnel. They do not provide a sound basis for school finance. And small schools cannot provide an adequate educational program.
> 'Experience has demonstrated that voluntary provisions for school district reorganization do not work. States should pass laws making such reorganization mandatory under the direction of the State Department of Education.'

What I have read is in quotes and is written by President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals.

I have attended a number of seminars which have been held. One of which I was very fortunate to attend was headed by Doctor James B. Conant, President-Emeritus of Harvard University. He has been looking into this problem for approximately ten or twelve years. He has written many tracts and many booklets and has spoken almost everywhere in this Country in regard to this problem. At the meeting which I attended, he stated that a high school should have at least 1,000 students if it is going to operate efficiently and offer the kind of programs and education to the student body that is commensurate with them maintaining a first-class education.

The following quotation was written by Doctor James B. Conant and appeared in "The American High School Today," and also appears in the booklet, entitled "The Fourth 'R'." I read as follows:

> " 'I should like to record my conviction that in many States the number one problem is the elimination of the small high school by school district reorganization. Such reorganization has been virtually accomplished in a few States. In all others, citizens who wish to improve public education might well devote their energies to mobilizing opinion in behalf of district reorganization directed toward the reduction of small high schools'."

These are two groups which have been looking into this problem for many years. I have no expertise in this area whatsoever. I, like many others, believe that I would like to be guided by people who know something about this subject, who have spent their life in education and who are interested in promoting a good climate and good educational processes in this Country. I think we in Pennsylvania can do no less.

We took up Senator Wade's resolution at our meeting and it was unanimously voted down as far as our doing anything about it is concerned. The school districts have a period of five years or more in which to reorganize. In this Legislature, for many years, we have held out the bait; namely, that jointures or mergers were given additional incentive by way of money. We have even paid to many areas money for closed schools to help eliminate some of these schools which really were not schools at all, but merely a manifestation of some sort of an educational process in the community. Even though there are no longer any closed schools which exist, we still continue, and it appears in our budget, to give this money to these groups.

I think for us to continue a dialogue on this subject or to continue in this area is a step backwards and retrogression. It may be political to fight this. It also may be political to try to keep people who have these jobs and who are controlling their own little area in these jobs. It might be laudable to have them and these people might be very capable.

However, let me point out to you that in the city of Philadelphia, where we have over 2,000,000 people, we have one school district, we have one school system, we have one board of directors. If it works in that area, I am certain it can work in other areas. Philadelphia is far from a model. There are many things existing in that system which probably could use some changes or could use some betterment in many areas. However, Philadelphia is good I think as compared to some of the makeshift and small areas where we are shortchanging our children. I will not go into a long speech about the battle for men's minds and that this next war will not be fought with guns. However, if the soldiers in the field were asking for arms and ammunition, we would not turn them down because we would be fighting for our lives. I feel that education is the same arms and ammunition that these people will need. We cannot turn them down.

Therefore, if it is important to continue along these lines, we might at least wait until the fourth year arrives to decide whether we have made a mistake in this area or whether it is well nigh impossible for them to reorganize, or whether it is useless to go into this subject. However, to sabotage this program at this very early stage cannot be justified.

Also, in this booklet, the N.E.A. and the P.S.E.A., two organizations dealing in the field of education, were both for this reorganization plan. They came out in favor of it and spoke for it. They are quoted in this booklet and they have never retracted their statements, except they are now taking a different position. That is my understanding, but I may be doing them an injustice. However, this is what I have heard. Some of the things I have read have been more or less a middle of the road type of situation.

I think that we as Legislators and people who conduct the affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as the board of directors, should lead in this area and not be led.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I very much appreciate the comments of the Majority Leader. I also appreciate the impassionate method with which he approaches this very important subject, which is the matter of the resolution which was referred to his committee and which he said just a few moments ago was unanimously turned down. I have no right to question him or any member of the committee publicly regarding their position on the resolution because we here in the Senate, on both sides, have defended the committee system and believe the committee system is good for government and good for each and every Member here.

Therefore, when he says that it was a unanimous decision, I must take his word for it, and I am perfectly willing to do that. However, I would like to object to the use of the word "sabotage." I do not believe there is any Member of this Senate, and I do not believe there is any Member of the House of Representatives,—in other words, I do not believe there is a single one of the 260 Legislators in Pennsylvania—who intends to sabotage the school system, or to do anything except to make it the finest school system in all of the United States. That is the aim of everybody in this Legislature, both House and Senate, and I am sure of that position.

The mere fact that I was told some few months ago by a prominent newspaperman that thirty per cent of the news space in American newspapers was used for a certain period in discussing the matter of education in America indicates to us the very importance of the entire subject. Then, again, I think every Member of the Senate and House would agree that the Nation which is most successful in training or providing the method by which the young folks learn to think and do—in other words, the public school system—will be the Nation that leads the entire world, which has now become, because of scientific development, a neighborhood. That nation will lead twenty, twenty-five or thirty years from now. We are all intensely interested that America shall be that Nation, as it has been for the last half century.

Now, the resolution merely asks for a waiting period of twelve months so that the people who have helped us so much with the school system—the people who are serving in the position of school director throughout the different counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania —will have a chance to survey the situation and see what the teachers and the students, themselves, in the upper classes, and the men, who in other ways help to direct this public school system of Pennsylvania, think about the plan.

The only good thing that I can see in this matter of bigger districts is the fact that schoolmen on both sides of the aisle voted for this legislation. I do not know whether they still enjoy the same opinion they did when they voted for it, but I am sure that the thinking of men like Senator Paul Wagner, Senator Harry Seyler, Senator Jo Hays and Senator Stanley Stroup, who are Members of this Body, was very considerate when they voted for it. However, I am not too sure that the legislation was properly drawn and was inclusive enough that it gave direction to the Department of Public Instruction in order for it to act intelligently on it.

Before I mention the booklet which was referred to us, I might say that I have, in a number of instances, discussed with school men the matter of whether or not this would require less cost to the people who pay the bill in Pennsylvania, the taxpayers. In each and every instance, they came back with the report that it will not and they do not allege that it will. As a matter of fact, Senator Hays attended an open meeting to which the newspapers reported that some 450 people in Camp Hill had attended. That was a very heated discussion and at times I felt sympathetic toward the position of Senator Hays, who was trying to do a good job. However, I am sure he left that meeting with the feeling that he had not accomplished the purpose for which he came; namely, to defend the Department of Public Instruction. He is absent from the Senate for a few moments just now, but I am sure if he were present he would testify to the fact that he did not satisfy or bring the meeting to the feeling that he had hoped he would when he first agreed to attend.

This booklet, which Senator Weiner previously referred to, seems to me to explain excuses for doing this, rather than reasons for doing it. I read through it yesterday and I read through it again today. If I wanted to extend my remarks, I could find fault with many of the things which the booklet states. For example, on page 1, there appears a statement made by Robert A. Christie, who left the Department of Public Instruction. There are all kinds of rumors why he left, but I do not know why he left the Department and, therefore, I shall make no accusation as to why he left. He says, in part, as follows:

> ". . . for school district size and structure determine the district's wealth behind each pupil and the makeup of the pupil population . . ."

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we had the best thinking of current Members and past Members of this Senate and of the House in developing our subsidy system. While it is very complicated, it is intended to do that very thing; to furnish to the poorer districts more funds on a scientific basis. I agree with those who are prominent—the heads of the School Directors Association—that no better method has ever been developed to furnish to the district the money which they should have in comparison to the number of children there and the wealth of the district.

Mr. President, I could go from page to page in this booklet. Gentlemen, when you read this within the four walls of your library, in an impassionate way and make an inclusive study, I think you will agree with me that these are excuses and not reasons for creating bigger districts.

Finally, Mr. President, I want to mention that our system of government we call a democrary and this system where the responsibility is spread out over a large number of our citizens. Over in Cumberland County, where there appear the green hills that you will notice on a clear day, we currently have approximately 200 school directors. They are men who are not paid in money, but are men who are willing to give many of their nights and much of their time and consideration to the matter of running the best public school system that the world has ever observed. Those 200 men will be replaced by a much lesser number. The number of men who will replace them will, no doubt, be just as sincere. However, here, you are eating away at the basis of the foundation of democracy. You are replacing these 200 men—the broad base of democracy—by ten per cent as many. Can we afford to lose their volunteer services so that the matter of education will stand out as it has in Pennsylvania? I say to you that is eating away at the foundations of democracy. It is leeching away so that perhaps we will wake up twenty-five years or fifty years from now and have a different form of government. We, in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania, are undermining democracy and taking away from this broad base the concentrating power.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to make a correction for the record. I was guilty of a misstatement and I do not want that to ever occur while I am here and aware of it.

When I stated to Senator Wade that there was unanimity of opinion, that was my impression. That was not the vote in the committee. I merely wish to make that very clear.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I had intended to request the permission of the Chair to interrogate the Majority Leader on that very subject.

His recollection, of course, like mine, is faulty at times on certain subjects. I wanted to be sure that the record was corrected, although I would question the propriety of reporting any committee action. Nevertheless, the motion, as I recall it, was to table the resolution, to which motion Senator Pechan and I voted "no."

However, Mr. President, I must make one or two comments concerning this subject. I certainly will not make them at length.

I do want to say that they might be trying to give the impression that there is a monopoly on interest in education by certain Members and certain groups in this Legislature. That is not true. I agree with what Senator Wade has said, in that the interest in education is broad based. Everyone is interested in the subject. The method of approaching the way of getting at the very best caliber of education is the matter which I believe is in question on this resolution, which is not before us, but which deals with the subject of the school reorganization bill.

Senator Weiner recommended that we read this little phamphlet, entitled "The Fourth 'R.'" I think that recommendation is to be taken very, very seriously. I was not able to finish it, but the impression which I got, to the extent that I was able to read it, was that its title more or less demonstrated the intent of the writer. He was emphasizing the fourth R, which I presume, and I believe it to be a proper assumption, means reorganization. Mr. President, I am awfully afraid that the emphasis put upon the fourth R might lead to a tremendous neglect of the original and the fundamental three R's. The most important thing in education is not, to my mind, the reorganization of the school system into larger units. The whole burden of that argument, based upon the usual propaganda style, giving the arguments and then saying that this is the only possible conclusion there can be drawn, is simply to advance an argument to the way of thinking of the writer. This, apparently, is the thinking of the proponents of this legislation.

Mr. President, as I indicated, the whole burden of it is that larger units made for better education. This is something which I do not believe we are all ready to accept, by any means. Certainly, that has been demonstrated by the action of the school directors and by the very faint approval given to it by the members of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

There certainly is room for improvement; there always will be room for improvement. However, Mr. President, this is not necessarily the answer set forth in this legislation for the reorganization of our school districts into greatly increased unit size.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I wish to make a few remarks in reply to some of the statements which were made by previous speakers.

First of all, commenting on the remarks made by Senator Berger, I would certainly agree with him that the interest in education is not limited to a few of us. I think if there is one issue in which we should be and I believe are interested, it is not being satisified with anything less than the best that this Commonwealth can do for education.

The "Fourth 'R'" title, as I read it, seemed to indicate that it was the conclusion of the people who have studied this program that a basic thing which needs to be done, in order to improve education, is the creation of rational-sized school districts. We are, in effect, taking the resources that we devote to education—I am speaking of money and I am speaking of use of personnel—and, by using them in our present ineffective system, we are not getting the best use of these resources that we need to produce the kind of school system we want.

Senator Wade made several remarks on which I wish to comment. He said that no one to his knowledge, including Senator Hays, was willing to say that financial savings would result from reorganization. I want to tell Senator Wade that I, too, would not want to say that in 1966, when reorganization is completed, the Commonwealth will be spending less money or will need to be spending less money for a good school system. I realize that we are in a rising trend of costs, not only in schools, but in State Government, generally, in business and, I am sure, in Senators Wade's own business. However, I will say that there is a great deal of evidence to indicate that the money we spend in education will go for educational purposes under reorganization, which is now going for unnecessary overhead and duplication. Let me give you a few examples.

Those of you who attended the hearings before the Appropriations Committee heard one of our departments, the Office of the Attorney General, say that between one-half million to $1,000,000 could be saved by the Commonwealth in school audits, if we reduce the number of school districts. This, Mr. President, is a savings. Maybe one-half million dollars is a contemptible amount and maybe $1,000,000 is a contemptible amount if you are used to thinking in big numbers. However, to me, it is not contemptible because I have an idea of what $1,000,000 or one-half million dollars taken from the cost of making audits can do. If this no longer becomes necessary due to the smaller number of districts and if this $1,000,000 or one-half million dollars can be put into school districts for educational purposes, I have a concept of what this can do.

Another person who appeared before that committee was Doctor Boehm, of the Department of Public Instruction. When he was asked a question, he referred it to his Deputy, Doctor Swan, with whom I am sure Senator Wade and the other gentlemen here are acquainted. He is a gentleman who has been working in the area of transportation in school districts and financing for many, many years. If anyone can be considered in this Commonwealth to be an expert, I would consider him to be one on the contemporary situation with regard to transportation. I think Doctor Swan is qualified by experience and training, as a person who can give us an expert answer. He was asked the question: "What would be the effect of the completion of this reorganization upon the cost of transportation in the school districts of Pennsylvania?" He gave us his opinion, Mr. President, that millions of dollars could be saved by the State and by local districts. This money could be saved, yes, and used for other educational purposes. As I said, I have no illusions about the fact that if we are going to try to keep up in this world with the educational systems of the countries in this world which are in opposition to us, and if we are going to have the kind of education to help the kind of scientists and the kind of well-educated people we need to keep pace, we are going to have to spend more money.

However, I am interested, Mr. President, in making the best use of that money. Tax money is hard to get. We should not be spending one penny for unnecessary overhead or duplication that we do not need to spend. We should be putting that money to the purpose for which we ask the taxpayer to give it to us; namely, the improvement of the education system.

Let me give you another example. I am not going to name names, in this instance, although I will be very glad, if Senator Wade or any other Senator is curious and approaches me confidentially, to identify these persons. However, I am not going to use names for the obvious reason that comparisons can be invidious. I do not want to embarrass any Senator by naming any part of his district.

The Governor's Committee studied school administration. Incidentally, Doctor Ralph Swan was the person who aided the particular task force that studied school administration. We found that one school district is in a second class city in this Commonwealth. There were 12,000 pupils enrolled in that one school district— 12,000 pupils. We found further that they have a very good administrative and supervisory program. This is the program, incidentally, that makes progress in schools. This is the educational statesmanship that goes into the improvement of schools.

We found, Senator, the cost of all the administration and supervision from the superintendent of schools, through all his assistants and supervisory staff, down to and including the principals and assistant principles in the high schools and the elementary schools for 12,000 pupils in that one district was $90,000 per year.

We studied a county adjacent to this second class school district. In that total county, there are 7,000 enrolled in all of the schools of that county. There we studied the supervisory system and we found, in the opinion of people who seemed to know, their supervision was not as good. However, for that county, for the same amount of supervision, starting with the superintendent of schools and going down through and including the principals and the assistant principals for 7,000 pupils, the cost was $130,000 a year. Ninety thousand dollars for better supervision and administration for 12,000 pupils on one hand, and for poor supervision and adminstration on the other hand for 7,000 pupils, $130,000.

Now you may say: "Well, what is $40,000 in this picture? That is a trifle." To me, it is not a trifle, because that is payment of money that because of the duplication of unnecessary staff and personnel, due to the existence of small districts, can be avoided and saved for the taxpayers.

If you say again: "Well, does that mean you are going to cut down on the amount of money you are going to spend on schools?" No. I do not think we are. I do not think we can. I do not think national survival will permit us to. It does mean that the money we ask the taxpayers to give us for education will go into education, and not for duplication and unnecessary administrative personnel. This is what you can do with more adequate school districts and elimination of the small school districts.

The Senator from Cumberland always has a manner of saying things which, it seems to me, he perhaps does not intend the way he says them. However, he left a cloud, I would say, on a fine gentleman, Doctor Christie, and on the department when he said that he does not know why Doctor Christie left the department. He sort of implied to me—and I am sure he did not intend it because I know the generous nature of the gentleman from Cumberland, and I am sure he would not cast an innuendo on anyone—and he left the impression in the air that maybe there is somthing cloudy, mysterious or sinister about this. Let me tell the Senator why the gentleman left. Let me say first of all that Doctor Christie came to State Government from university teaching. He is a teacher in the field of political administration, and he came to Pennsylvania from a teaching position at Syracuse University. That clears up how he got here.

Doctor Christie served in several capacities. He started, I believe, in the Office of Administration. When this project developed, since he was an educator, he was moved into the executive directorship of the Governor's Education Committee.

Why did he leave State government? For a very simple reason, and the reason that makes a lot of us change our employment. He was offered a better job. He left to take an administrative position at the University of Long Island. For that reason, since it carried more money and an advancement in his professional field, there is no mystery, there is nothing sinister, and that is the story. I want to put that into the record, because I would not have any shadow cast either on the department or Doctor Christie.

Now Senator Wade says that we have the best equalization program in Pennsylvania that he knows of, and I agree with him. I will say that all of the studies of the Governor's committee show that our equalization program results in the spending—now follow me on this—of about an equal amount of money per pupil over this Commonwealth. Now, not perfectly. There is a range because in some places they put in more local money than others. However, the effect of giving more money from the State to the weaker financial districts and less money to the more wealthy does result, we have found, in a kind of equalization; that is, in the equalization of the amount of money spent.

Now, if you investigate what that money buys, you will find that we are not providing equalization at all. We provide about, generally speaking, an equality in the amount of money a school district is given to spend. We do not provide equality in what they buy with it. Why? Well, because it is obvious that a small district is very inefficient from an economic point of view. For example, if you have in a school three people who need German because they are going to a college where German is required,—three bright people who sign up for German—and maybe you have twenty-five or thirty sign up for French because French is the most usually desired language, the school directors in that little district face a hard choice. They either have to say, "We are going to give German, even though there are only three people who want it," and if they say that, then you have one teacher to three pupils, and that, gentlemen, is expensive. On the other hand, they have to say: "We are sorry but we cannot afford one teacher to three pupils, and, therefore, it is impossible for us to allow those students to take German." Thereby, those students are deprived of somthing which they need. I am speaking of a language here. However, you can apply this to other programs and other services.

What I am saying is this: Unless the school is big enough to have an adequate supply of pupils taking the various courses, a school district is unable to offer them unless they offer them at a very high cost. That is another reason why you will save taxpayers' money by having districts which are large enough to have the number of pupils enrolled so that you will not need to have a very bad teacher-pupil ratio for the standpoint of cost.

Finally, let me say this: I am as appreciative as Senator Wade is of the patriotic duty performed by the school directors of this Commonwealth. It is in many respects a thankless job. The only rewards are the kind of rewards that come to you from doing a public service. I certainly appreciate and I am grateful for the time and interest that the many school directors over this Commonwealth give to this cause.

I do not think, however, it is fair to have a situation where increasingly, year by year, those school directors are faced with the proposition that they cannot do a good job because of the limitations of the size of the school district they have to work with. Believe me,—and I am convinced that this is the case—I believe we should create a condition so that good professional people and good lay people in school boards have the opportunity to do the kind of job and provide the kind of educational opportunity that can be provided if you have a school district with the financial strength and the size that is necessary to do a good job. I am in favor of creating a better condition so that local school boards can do a good job.

I would say to you that this is an important matter that we are talking about today. We are talking about the children of this Commonwealth. We are talking about the future citizens of this Commonwealth. We are talking about the health and growth of our State because unless we keep up with the educational needs of modern contemporary living, we are not going to keep up as a State.

Finally, we are dealing with the question of national survival. Unless the young people of America can be educated to the level that is necessary to produce the leadership we need in science and all of the other pursuits in our national life, we are not going to be able to keep up in the international struggle in which we are engaged.

I say to you that if this Nation ever goes down—God forbid, and I do not believe it ever will—but if it does, it will not be because we do not have the great resources that nature has given us. It will not be because our people are inadequate. We have a great people. It could be because we do not furnish the kind of education which will produce the kind of people in this world that we need to stand first in the world.

Therefore, I say, let us not take this lightly. Let us not now, at this point, stop what has been begun so well all through this Commonwealth. I wonder if you gentlemen realize that one county has already completed its new plan under this law. It has reduced forty school districts to six districts. I wonder if you realize that in all sixty-seven counties, as far as I know, a beginning has been made, and many of them are far along. Many of them have engaged staffs—people from the universities—to come in and help them study the programs in their particular districts. What they are doing this year, in effect, is simply studying their school systems to see where they are strong, to see where they are weak, and devise a plan which will continue their strength, and attempt to remedy their weaknesses.

This law is no panacea. It will not solve all of the problems. However, it is a tool which good professional educators and good school districts can use, if we give it to them, to have a better school system. Let us not break in now and interrupt what they are doing. I believe in the light of what they are doing,—I am quite sincere and I said this in reply to Senator Stroup several weeks ago—and I believe in the light of these experiences the school board members and the professional people who are working together in counties are having, we are going to discover some things in this law that can be improved. If I am fortunate enough to be present, I will join with all the rest of you in making those changes. Few laws have been passed in my experience here which did not need some change in the light of what we discovered in working with them. I am sure this law will be no exception. At that time, I will certainly join with everybody else who is here in doing our best to make this law better than it is.

Therefore, I think we need this year's experience. I think we should profit by it. I congratulate the Rules Committee, of which I am not a member, on having taken what seems to me a very sensible step.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, I think we have gone rather far afield in our discussion here on this particular resolution, and the attitude of the Rules Committee upon it.

It certainly could be considered without any question that most of the philosophical statements of attitudes toward education, enriched curriculum, reduction of costs, and so forth are important to all our thinking. This is merely a question of how it is going to be done. That is the reason the resolution was sponsored by me and other Members on this side of the floor, in order to stay the operation of the Department of Public Instruction at the present time until alterations and changes could be made in this particular legislation.

In order to point out wherein we are at fault in what we are doing, I shall refer to the booklet which has been provided for us. I draw your attention to item 6 therein, which says as follows:

> "An administrative unit shall be planned to include the largest feasible pupil population . . ."

That was not the thinking of many of us at the time when this legislation was written and considered by this Body. We tried to write into this bill restrictions in size in so far as pupil population was concerned. We reduced it from the Governor's Committee Report of 10,000 to 4,000, and from the Governor's Committee Report of 4,000 finally to 2,500, purely in order to try to give, particularly rural Pennsylvania, an opportunity to maintain a smaller sized administrative unit because of the difficulties that are entailed in trying to merge into large units.

Now, the attitude of the Department of Public Instruction under this particular legislation is that it has a mandate from the Legislature to set up the largest feasible pupil population. That was not our intent at all. We were trying to restrict from the really large units of 10,000, and keep it down. Nevertheless,—and this is the crux of the entire matter, and the particular item that is causing so much disturbance throughout the Commonwealth, and the reason there is such a hue and cry and resistance to this legislation and the implementation by the department—the department now has taken this Act as a mandate to do whatsoever it sees fit in the last analysis in so far as the size of administrative units is concerned regardless of the attitude of the local areas. County school boards and local school directors can make their representations but, in the final analysis, it will be the Department of Public Instruction which will determine what shall be done.

Let us read the language:

> "In the event that no plan of organization of administrative units is approved by the State Council of Education for a county prior to January 1, 1964, the Department of Public Instruction shall prepare and place upon the agenda of the State Council of Education a plan of organization of administrative units for the county . . ."

Therefore, whatever the local people do, whatever they want and whatever they think fits their particular, peculiar, specific situation, a generalization in so far as the department is concerned is that which will become the fact accomplished and, in the end, local effort, local attitudes, local desires and local requests are being completely ignored.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, at the present time, while we have exempted in the bill seventh and eighth class counties from a pupil population problem as such specifically, the department is coming out with county plans for the seventh class and the eighth class units in full county organization. That is the administrative unit there. While we have tried to curtail the particular size in rural areas of the administrative unit, the department will determine exactly what that size will be, taking into consideration certain factors, of course. However, in the last analysis, they are the determination of it.

This is the problem. This particular piece of legislation has been in derogation of local control and of local effort, and we are creating here, within the Commonwealth, a purely statism agency, which dominates and supersedes everything else that may be desired by our people and their representatives on the local level. Here is the crux of it.

Now on this side of the floor, we tried, when the bill came before us, to submit amendments. We did submit amendments, but they were defeated by a vote of 25-25. Every one that we offered, in order to try to accomplish some resolution on the local level and some authority there, was defeated.

Now we bring you a resolution, and we ask the Rules Committee to give this serious consideration, and we hope you will bring it out in response to the attitude of so many of our people throughout the State. However, you say: "No, we will not do it." Yet we continue going on in the Department of Public Instruction, publishing booklets and spending hundreds of thousand of dollars for something which, it would seem from the grass roots expressions, will not be implemented as it presently exists at all. That is a waste of taxpayers' money. If we did the right thing here,—and we should do the right thing—we would hold this in abeyance until we can get a correction to this particular law.

It is an error, Mr. President. It is an error in so far as the way it is written in section 283 and Section 284.

All plans submitted by the county board and the board of school directors, in accordance with these very broad standards, will be refused. These standards are set up by the Council. No body else has anything to say about it. There is nothing specific in it. As a matter of fact, these plans do not even consider what the tax situation will be at the local level. They do not consider what will happen to the subsidy situation presently existent. They do not consider what will occur to this tremendous debt, which many of our school districts have, and how it is going to be handled.

There are so many ramifications in the implementation of this act that it should be held until further thorough study can be made and a proper, realistic and considerate program can be laid out, which will be more acceptable to the people back home. This is where the fault lies and this is the crux. It is not all of our explanations and oratory on education, and what it means to our children and what it means to our State. We are all in accord with that. We face the issue. Most of the comments on the other side have been irrelevant on this particular issue. We have not faced up to it, and the fact that we have not faced up to it must be the burden of the Administration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, perhaps it would be better if I yielded to Senator Sesler. I want to make some remarks with reference to some that were made by Senator Seyler. I do not see him in the room and, therefore, I will yield to the gentleman from Erie.

Mr. SESLER. Mr. President, I have been very much interested in this whole question since the inception of this legislation last August, 1961. During the time before and after the enactment of this legislation, I have attempted to make myself familiar with some of the issues and to read additionally. I have read, for example, books and publications by the American Society of School Administrators and numerous other committees, such as the Committee on National Goals, and, of course, the eminent James Conant, et cetera.

I think we can say briefly that the little book which was put out today—"The Fourth 'R'" it is called—is hardly more than a very brief summary of the arguments in favor of school reorganization.

Senator Seyler has spoken at length on some of the merits and some of the economics behind this bill. I think there is another side, too, that should be discussed It certainly is apparent, since I have been in the Senate, that a bill seems to be like a small ship on the sea. The merits of the bill might be considered to be the ship itself. Sometimes it is a raft and sometimes it is a well constructed craft, but in all cases they seem to float on a political sea.

What are the politics here, aside from the merits of the question? Is there really a political question? Should it really be a political question?

I think that first of all it can be said that this side of the aisle has not conceived of this program as a political move, nor should it ever be considered as such. I have noticed, since I have been in State Government, a dearth of long-range planning in many subjects. Because of the changes of Administration, no one has ever committed himself or is willing to adopt the programs of others. I think this approach we are taking is the right approach, not only in this field but in many other fields.

It has been said, for example, that this program is undemocratic. Why? Is it because we have 12,000 school directors, which is more than any other State in the Nation? Does this mean, for example, that we should have several hundred or 1,000 representatives? We seem to have effected and continued a representative government here. In the House of Representatives, there are 260 representatives. Some may compare it to the old days, for example, when you could go around the corner and speak to your local school director, or people have alluded to the one-room schoolhouse as being the place where good educations were given. Let me tell you, without question, an examination of the facts indicates that the good, old days are entirely insufficient for today's problems. Do you realize, for example, that in 1895, only seven per cent of the population between the ages of fourteen and seventeen went on to high school. This, today, would be intolerable.

I think, too, that it has been said that the Department of Public Instruction is trying to impose its will upon these people. How is this so? Actually, we have set minimum standards, and they are the most vague. In fact, they have just been criticized by our last speaker as being most vague. Actually, if we were to have done the other thing and made them most specific, we would have been accused of running a dictatorship from Harrisburg, and so they would impale us on the horns of a dilemma.

I think the approach that was taken was the course most reasonable, because it leaves the entire matter open to the local school directors and leaves some mandate to bring together districts of certain sizes.

We can go on politically and say: "Who is it that wants to preserve these districts?" I know one group of people, and let us be frank about it. There is one set of school districts who are comfortable. In fact, comparatively speaking, they have money, they have an educated populace, they have a high market value per pupil, and they want to keep it that way. They are not prepared to share. They are not prepared to co-operate.

Let us be realistic, too. At the school directors meeting,—with all deference to those directors, those men, who have given freely of their time and talents to promote the cause of education—nevertheless, there was a small cadre of those who are inherently opposed to this aim, and who stayed on until the last day of that convention to gather together and to put this amendment across to less than one-quarter of the total number of directors.

I know many directors, and they are human. There are some who are well-informed on these issues. There are others who are totally ignorant, and who appear to equate this bill with changes in the size of attendance areas.

This bill, ladies and gentlemen, is a beginning. It is a commencement. We are not going to change buildings, we are not going to destroy them, and we are not going to use them. We are not going to change violently the size of attendance areas overnight. We are making a start. It is primarily an administrative bill, designed to resolve some of the overlapping and some of the appendages that we have in regard to the administration of education. Those who have studied conscientiously and carefully, and compared the progress made in other States, know that Pennsylvania has been woefully short in this progress.

I think those districts which will oppose this will make a mistake. Those who oppose it have done so not in the spirit of being confused by the bill or confused by the directions, but because they do not want to in spirit. If there is a will, and it is done with a purpose to enable our school districts to become better, they will find a way to consolidate these school districts in such a way that will be for the benefit of the people. It is a matter of the spirit in which they want to progress. It is a matter of the spirit in which they want to interpret the bill.

Finally, I will say this, with all deference to some of the former speakers who talked as if we should simply hold up and study this program: Let us call a spade, a spade. This moratorium would continue, if they were to have their will, until next year; and if next year they can have their way, let us be assured of one thing. School reorganization in Pennsylvania would not be temporarily held up, but it would be permanently held up.

Mr. HAWBAKER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Erie County just made the statement that this is not a political question.

I would like to suggest, Mr. President, that this is a very definite political question. Of course, it is not political in regard to partisan politics between Republicans and Democrats in this body. However, it certainly is political in the sense that it involves the very basis of American democracy; that is, a form of government based upon local self-determination.

I am not an expert in the field of education, and I do not profess to be. I am not here to say that we would not have better schools under the system of compulsory school reorganization. However, I am here to say that the question before us is not one of whether or not this will enable us to have better schools, but it is rather a question as to whether or not this will enable us to have better schools within the framework of our democratic system. The thing that concerns me very much is the question as to whether, in the field of education, we have gotten to a point where we are willing to assume that the end justifies the means. This, I do not think is appropriate.

I think it could be well said that flexibility has been the strength of our American democracy. The problems that exist in one neighborhood are not the same as the problems that exist in another neighborhood. Traditionally, our democracy has succeeded and been phenomenally successful because of the fact that people at the local level worked out their own problems as they presented themselves in that locality.

There is another thing about this matter of local responsibility. Some mention has been made of the fact that we can eliminate a lot of school directors without losing this local self-determination. However, it seems to me that we need more people participating in local government, not less, because we witness a growing tendency in these days to find people regarding governmental organizations as something administered by somebody else. I think the greatest threat to our American democracy is this very threat, when people have a tendency to assume that government represents they instead of we. For this reason, I feel this is a very definite political question, because it involves the very fundamentals of our democratic society.

I think it can be well said and we will all admit that any governmental organization, speaking in terms of pure efficiency, administered from the top down will be more efficient than an organization administered from the bottom up. This I think, is something that is obvious. The question that concerns me is: Are we willing to let this apply to our democratic system of government? If we were to pursue this to its logical conclusion, then we would decide that since we cannot efficiently administer our schools in a democratic way from the bottom up, we cannot efficiently administer any of our local government, and we would soon discover that if we were successful in saving a few dollars by school reorganization, we would have established a precedent whereby it would be advisable to reorganize our local government. If we were to pursue this far enough, the only governmental agency left in this Country would be the Federal Government. If we were to pursue it even further, we would find that, in the interest of efficiency, we would even abolish the Congress. So, in that regard, I say this is tremendously a political question.

There is one other point made by the previous speaker that I think should be mentioned. That is this matter of the wealthy districts sharing their wealth with the poorer districts. Here again, we are getting back to that old philosophy of share the wealth. I think if we adopt this philosophy, we will have killed the very stimulus that has made this Country what it is, because certainly if there is no need for people to support themselves, if they can rely on others, then the initiative for being self-sufficient will have been abolished. This will sow the seeds of decay in our entire society.

Therefore, I think this is definitely a political question of the utmost importance.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I previously yielded the floor, thinking that perhaps Senator Seyler would return. He has not done so , and I think he has left the building. However, I would like to take issue with him.

It seems to me that larger units are the present theme for better education. I disagree with that very much. Senator Seyler mentioned the fact that perhaps there would be three students who would want to take German and, rather than deny them German, they would have to employ a teacher who would just teach three students.

I want to give you an example of what happened in my own community about three weeks ago. The University of Pittsburgh's Vice Chancellor for expansion came to Kittanning with the possibility of setting up a branch of the University of Pittsburgh. One of the statements that he made was that the people in the smaller classes get more out of the subject than they would if they were in big classes.

For instance, we have among our high school graduates—I have one school particularly in mind which has grown so very rapidly—boys and girls who were honor students and who were outstanding students in high school. However, this very semester, I had a report from this university that five of my scholarship students have failed. This is disheartening, but more disheartening is the fact that all five of these students were good students in high school. A couple of them were exceptional students. Now they are all on probation. I think one of the main reasons is because they are taught in amphitheaters, where there are 250 students in a class in an amphitheater. If any of that material soaks in, O.K. If it does not, they do not get the subject.

I remember when I was in high school, we had a Latin class I think of about fifteen or sixteen. I certainly did not take Latin. Latin took me, because I never got any credit for it. I passed it one year, but in order to get high school credit, you had to pass it two years. It was a dry subject. I did not like it and I did not apply myself. Nevertheless, I learned some Latin because of the small class that we had, and some of it rubbed off on me. I say that if I were in a Latin class with 200 or 250 pupils, unless I had a deep desire to learn that subject, it would mean absolutely nothing to me. For that reason, I think so many of our students are failing when they leave home.

Senator Seyler mentioned the fact about three students taking German. I am sure for any popular subject,—whether it were German, French or Spanish—they would have no difficulty in getting more than three students. If it were some Arabic language that is not used very much, they might have some difficulty. Every school cannot teach every subject and teach it well.

One of the mistakes that I think we make in our school system— and I am speaking from experience since I spent thirty years as a member of a board of education—is that we allow boys and girls who are thirteen and fourteen years of age, who have not fully matured, to pick their courses. Naturally, at that age, they pick the softest courses they can take. That is perhaps the fault of the administration or perhaps the fault of our present school system. I am the last person in the world to say that we do not need something done in so far as reorganization of our school system is concerned. However, I do think it ought to be worked out and we ought to know where we are going, because there is no rhyme or reason to any of this.

As somebody mentioned awhile ago, the Department of Public Instruction is going to have the last say. They say: "Allow the county school boards to set up this plan." We had the five-year plan when I was there. We moved into this thing cautiously. As you have heard me say before, after we went into a school union by a vote of all of the people, and we did it in a democratic way, our school system—there is my friend, Harry Seyler, who just came in—just went down in so far as efficiency is concerned and in so far as the pupils getting the most out of these classes. Why? Because we had to assume the the responsibility for maintaining a lot of teachers who had seniority. They were not the caliber of teachers we had been used to in the past when we were an outstanding school district. We were wealthy in that we had a lot of real estate that was taxable. Now we have a lot of children, and no real estate. Consequently, the school districts are hurting for more State-aid.

I do not think that larger school districts—just somebody arbitrarily saying, "We are going to have a school district of 2,500, 4,000 or 10,000"—are the answer. I think it ought to be worked out. I think each school district—each county—should have its own plan. Certainly, they know better than somebody here in Harrisburg who looks at a map on the wall and says: "We are going to cut Armstrong County into four districts, and that is the way it is going to be." That is wrong.

Talking about trying to save taxpayers' money, you are just going to throw millions and millions of dollars away for a poor grade of education.

Certainly, we have people here in Harrisburg who are good administrators. However, we have too many specialists. We have too many people in the area of buildings and too many people in the area of curriculum, and they are not co-ordinated properly.

It is not a political question, Republican or Democrat, so far as that is concerned. I think everyone of us in this room has one purpose in mind, and that is to give that boy or girl a better education. Even moneywise, I do not think any of us begrudge spending more money for education if we get our money's worth.

I do not think I quite finished saying what I wanted to when I started out by talking about the Vice Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh coming up and explaining to us that he thought in these community colleges, with smaller classes, the boys and girls would derive more not only from the standpoint of more for their money because they could live at home and would not have as far to travel, but because the classes would not be as large, thereby giving them more personal attention. When you have a classroom of fifteen to twenty students, you are certainly going to get a lot more out of the subject than when you are going to have an amphitheater filled with 200 to 250 people listening to some lecture.

Mr. STAISEY. Mr. President, at the time Senate Bill No. 867 was presented here on the floor, I opposed it. I opposed it because I was not convinced that it addressed itself to the mission of American education. I thought it was overly preoccupied with administrative efficiency and economic costs. I do not think good education necessarily comes from good bookkeeping. I do not think large expenditures necessarily guarantee good education.

In my District, we are in the process of evolving a reorganization plan. At this time, you cannot make a considered or sensible judgment on it. However, in the weeks to come, I am going to work with the school districts in my area. In my judgment, it is going to be based on these considerations: First, whether or not reorganization of the school districts is going to improve the quality of our education. Secondly, whether or not it is going to provide a curriculum which has built within it the ability to grow. Thirdly, whether or not it is going to give to each of our youngsters the maximum opportunity to attain his maximum potentialities.

I am going to be very careful in order to be certain that form does not influence substance. I am going to be extremely careful to make certain that mere organization does not squeeze out basic and fundamental values which have made of our society a free people and a thinking people. I would not like to think that we would commit ourselves to a program on paper that would squeeze out and destroy or in any way limit those values that made a John Glenn possible. I should like to think that throughout this Commonwealth of ours, every youngster will be touched, personally and deeply, by education.

If reorganization is going to give us education in greater depth and greater opportunities for the development of our children's talents and abilities and the other gifts which God has granted them, then, indeed, it will render a good service.

On the other hand, if the touchstone is to be how much money we expend or how efficient we are in keeping track of students, then, indeed, we have gained little and contributed nothing to the education of our people.

This morning, at the Governor's Prayer Breakfast, I thought to myself that one thing which I gained from the breakfast was an observation of our society. We Americans have built a society which has recognized its problems and not resigned itself to them. Indecision at this time in this program would lead us nowhere. It is much wiser that some decision be made and we proceed, and then make a judgment upon it. I thought that morning, as I sat at the Governor's Prayer Breakfast, that one of the great qualities our people have had and which has been built in our education is that we have the ability to realize that for any door which God closes, he opens another. All you need is the courage and faith to walk through them.

I do not mean to be maudlin, but I am speaking about fundamental values which I think are urgently necessary. I do not think education is a matter of numbers and I do not think it is a matter of figures. I think it is a matter of basic, timeless values which we have preserved in our educational system.

Therefore, Mr. President, it seems to me, in this whole problem of reorganization, the thing to be watched and considered is: Are we providing a platform on which these basic values will be preserved? Are we laying the foundation for opportunities for our youngsters to obtain their maximum potentialities or are we going to do a good job of merely bookkeeping?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I want to join Senator Pechan and Senator Staisey in saying that my concern, too, is with quality. I am only in favor of reorganization because I believe it will enable us to get more quality for the present expenditure of money and other resources which we put into education.

Let me recommend to Senator Staisey, in pursuing with his county board the study of what effect size may have upon quality, and let me suggest to Senator Pechan as well, that they get a publication of the Joint State Government Commission. The Joint State Government Commission, in 1959, issued a publication called, "The Study of Pennsylvania High School Seniors." The following year, in 1960, they put out a supplement to that. I do not have the supplement with me because it is a thing which is in great demand. I have loaned it to a lot of people because of the impressive study that they made. I think Senator Pechan and Senator Staisey will both admit that the Joint State Government Commission is an agency which can be depended upon to make a thorough, unbiased and impartial study. They are not educators; they are legislators working with a good staff.

In that 1960 supplement, Senators, you will find a very careful study which they made. They took quality criteria and studied it in different sized schools. I would like you to get this yourselves and examine it. They found that everyone of the quality criteria which they selected—they selected things like preparation of teachers, particularly mathematics teachers because that was a critical thing, the number that went to college from the high schools and a lot of things which I think you would agree are valid criteria of quality in education. We are not talking about money now, but we are talking about what youngsters get in education in the classrooms. That study revealed that as you go up the scale in size, you will also find an increase in quality. This is not due to mere size. As Senator Staisey said, mere size does not do it. However, size gives the opportunity for the good brains of the professional educators and the lay members of boards, working together, to afford, at a price the community can afford to pay, to put more quality into education.

I wish you would both get a copy of that study. In fact, I wish every Senator would read it. It is the 1960 supplement to the report originally made in 1959 on Pennsylvania High School Seniors.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Paul W. Mahady) in the Chair.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence House Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 56, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

RESOLVED (if the Senate concur), That this 1962 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die on the 28th day of February 1962 at 4:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 56

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in this resolution.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was concurred in

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE PRESERVATION OF HISTORIC BRIDGES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. SESLER, STIEFEL, STAISEY and YATRON, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 33), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

Pennsylvania was once known as the "State of Bridges" because of the large number of bridges in the Commonwealth, most of which were covered timber bridges.

Modern highway improvement is threatening the destruction of many of these historic landmarks which are not only reminders of the history of our transportation system but also of great interest to the visiting tourist; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate urges the Department of Highways, the Department of Commerce, and the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to use every means at their command to take steps to preserve or assist in the preservation of as many of these remaining landmarks as is possible within their financial means and legal powers; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania commends The Theodore Burr Covered Bridge Society of Pennsylvania for the valiant work it is doing to aid in the preservation of the remaining covered bridges of the Commonwealth.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NONCONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HB 15, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists upon its nonconcurrence in Senate amendments to HB 15, and has appointed Messrs. POLEN, DOUGHERTY and WOOD as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE SUPERIOR STEEL COMPANY TO RECONSIDER ITS DECISION TO MOVE FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. STAISEY, by unanimous consent, offered the fol lowing resolution (Serial No. 34), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 27, 1962.

WHEREAS, Superior Steel Company is located in Scott Township, Allegheny County, and

WHEREAS, The said Superior Steel Company employs 850 men who live in and around Scott Township, and

WHEREAS, The management of the said Superior Steel Company is considering withdrawing their business from the present location, and

WHEREAS, Such withdrawal will create an economic vacuum which cannot be easily filled since this firm is a dynamic and integral part of the economy of the area, and

WHEREAS, Such withdrawal will result in extensive hardship through unemployment since there is no readily available employment for these men, and

WHEREAS, Through the loss of the operation of this plant a very substantial reduction in the flow of periodic wage payments will result in a substantial reduction in the total trade and commerce within and around Scott Township areas and the resulting economic distress is incalculable at this time; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Department of Commerce and all other departments of the Commonwealth shall use their good offices and resources to urge the Superior Steel Company to reconsider its decision to move from Pennsylvania and to urge them to continue their productive operations at their present location in Scott Township, Allegheny County, and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of the Senate to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the Secretary of Commerce and to the Superior Steel Company, in Scott Township, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE SUBMITTED

Mr. SEYLER submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 15, which was laid over for printing under the rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, February 28, 1962, at 4:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:42 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 27, 1962

The House met at 12:30 p. m., e. s.t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Vance Yarnelle, Pastor of Bethel Presbyterian Church, Bethel Park, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Simmons, and the House Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

O God, before Whom nations rise and fall but in Whose presence burdens lose their heaviness and we find rest, and strength and peace, we have come to know Thee, not through the seeing of the eye or the hearing of the ear or the touch of the hand, but we have beheld Thy presence through the eyes of faith.

We thank and praise Thee for the goodly heritage in which we have been permitted to share—for the institutions which have come to us through the labor and sacrifice of others. Grant O God that we may increase the worth of this heritage as we pass it on to those who come after us. Enable us to renewedly commit our way unto Thee that we may have within us the testimony of a good conscience.

We ask not for an easy road but that Thou wilt bestow upon us the qualities of heart and mind that will enable us to meet with wisdom and confidence the problems of each day. We ask not to be shown the distant scene but that each step may be revealed in its time. Fortify us we pray Thee unto a creative performance of Thy will. Increase within us the spirit of devotion and dedication to the great principles to which we are committed. Bless with Thy gracious presence this House of Representatives of our Commonwealth. Be with them in their deliberations this day and always. Be favorable unto our land and use us as channels of Thy Grace and Power to all men. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside temporarily for a special purpose.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

LANSFORD HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would like to welcome to the hall of the House the Senior Class of Lansford High School under the guidance of Mr. Frank Piscelli. They are guests of the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Bonner.

Will that delegation please rise?

LAMPETER-STRASBURG HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We are also privileged to have with us today the 9th grade civics class comprised of 170 students studying State government from the Lampeter-Strasburg High School of Lancaster County, under the guidance of their advisers, Mr. John Silknetter, Mr. Robert Winters, Mr. William Bailes and Mrs. Lou Weaver. They are guests of the members of the House from Lancaster County.

Will that delegation please rise?

The Chair thanks the delegation and welcomes you to our session today.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the purpose of a special program today, the Chair will declare a brief recess. We will take the opportunity during this recess to introduce to you some distinguished guests whom we have with us today.

(During Recess)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Legislative Freshman Forum of Republican Legislators who are serving their first terms, being vitally interested in constitutional government, made a recent trip to the State of Virginia and at that time issued an invitation for members of that commission to visit them and to meet with their group in our capital city.

This meeting took place last night and this morning at breakfast, and we have a rather unusual situation. We have a group of outstanding Democrats from the State of Virginia up here teaching Republican legislators something about constitutional government.

It is my pleasure to present to you, on behalf of that legislative forum, the gentlemen who have been here under their auspices and as the guests, particularly, of the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Kistler.

I will present them to you and ask that they rise in their places and receive your greetings.

Mr. James J. Kilpatrick, editor of the Richmond News Leader.

Mr. Frederick T. Gray, attorney and former attorney general of Virginia.

Mr. Edgar R. Lafferty, Jr., businessman and farmer, chairman of the Federal Aid Committee of the commission.

Mr. T. Jack Gary, partner in a Richmond accounting firm, responsible for a large part of the federal aid study.

Mr. Hugh V. White, Jr., the executive director of the commission.

Now I shall present to you and ask him to bring you a few words of greeting, the chairman of the Virginia commission on Constitutional Government, Mr. David J. Mays, attorney and a Pulitzer prize winning author.

I present to you at this time the chairman of their commission, Mr. Mays.

ADDRESS BY DAVID J. MAYS

Mr. MAYS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you have been so considerate in letting me appear that I shall be equally considerate in not abusing the privilege extended.

The Virginia Commission on Constitutional Government has a name which indicates its purpose and its duties, that has no undertones and no overtones; it is simply that. We are trying to teach respect and knowledge of the Constitution of the United States. We are appointed to these places on the commission by His Excellency, the Governor, by the presiding officer of the Senate and by the Speaker of the House, and I am asked by each of them to extend to you their warmest greetings.

Some years ago my senior partner had the privilege of speaking to this House on a constitutional question and, since I dabbled in history, he asked me how he might start. I said, "You might start by saying there was a time before the Revolution that Augusta County, a great sprawling county in western Virginia, claimed the confluence of the great rivers in western Pennsylvania and they thought that Fort Pitt was part of Virginia." I think that has been settled politically now for some time and I will merely make a bare reference to what was once a claim.

I hope we will have many fruits from the discussions we had in Virginia last fall, last evening and this morning about bringing the Constitution home to the people.

In concluding, may I mention one anecdote which took place in Louisiana during the last war. One northern lieutenant stopped at a farmhouse of a Cajun, we call them Cajuns down there, a Cajun farm, and said, "This is a horrible war we are in." The farmer said, "Yes, sir, it's really bad. Do you reckon those Yankees are going to help us?"

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Thank you, Mr. Mays. On behalf of the House of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we bid you welcome to our capital city and hope that your visit has been a good one. Come back and see us any time you desire. We will be happy to have you.

The purpose of the recess having been concluded, the Chair will now declare the recess ended and turn over the gavel to the Speaker of the House.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Armstrong for a job well done.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, February 26, 1962, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

SINE-DIE ADJOURNMENT

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that this 1962 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on the 28th day of February, 1962, at 4:30 o'clock, p.m., e.s.t.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BACHMAN, TOMASCIK and KRAMER.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

In the 1961 session of the General Assembly, an amendment to The Realty Transfer Tax Act was enacted, by 1961 Act No. 579, which redefined "document" so as to exclude transfers between nonprofit industrial development agencies and industrial corporations purchasing from them. This amendment was adopted with the express purpose of making it clear that such transactions came within the existing exemption of transactions between "straw parties" from the tax.

Since the adoption of this amendment, the agencies of the Commonwealth charged with the administration of the Realty Transfer Tax Act have taken the view that said amendment created a new exemption and thereby showed that such transactions were not previously exempt from the tax. This interpretation, if persisted in, will work much to the detriment of the establishment of new industries within our Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares that its intent in enacting 1961 Act No. 579, amending "The Realty Transfer Tax Act," by redefining the word "document" so that it did not include transfers between nonprofit industrial development agencies and industrial corporations purchasing from them, thereby excluding such transfers from the tax, was intended only as a clarification of existing law to make it clear that such transfers were already exempt from the tax as being "straw parties;" and, be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly feels that said 1961 Act No. 579 should be interpreted in such a manner as to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended, that purpose being to make it clear that the transactions, described in said amending act, are not now nor have they been in the past, transactions subject to the Realty Transfer Tax; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Board of Finance and Revenue.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE and SHERMAN.

RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and complete study of the sale and distribution of pornographic literature in Pennsylvania with particular reference to the types and kinds of such literature, the extent of its sale and distribution, its effects upon the morals of the people, particularly the youth of Pennsylvania, and the best means of combating the problem; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a report of its study to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GREENLEE and KELLY.

RESOLUTION No. 50.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and complete study of the practices among small loan companies with particular reference to interest rates and service charges and, in its study to determine whether the law is generally obeyed or avoided, the adequacy and necessity of the present law and whether or not conditions have so changed as to require a change in the law; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings to the next General Assembly.

RESOLUTION No. 51.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and complete study of the problem of crimes involving sex offenses, with particular attention given to the problems of enforcement, conviction, punishment, treatment and release of persons convicted; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study to the next General Assembly.

RESOLUTION No. 52.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

On December 26, 1961, the Commonwealth Court, composed of six Dauphin County judges, turned down an appeal by the Keystone Trotting Association that a pari-mutuel harness racing license granted by the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission to the Liberty Bell Racing Association, headed by James P. Clark, finance chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic Committee, be declared null and void because no comparative hearings were held.

The Commonwealth Court held that the Harness Racing Act of 1959 (Act 728) was deficient because it failed explicitly to require that hearings be held prior to the granting of a harness racing license.

The Commonwealth Court's opinion read in part: "However desirable it may be that comparative hearings—a confrontation of rival applicants—should be held . . . we believe that the statute is deficient in failing to provide for hearings . . ."

The suit by the Keystone Trotting Association was based on the granting on April 5, 1961, of a harness racing license by the commission to one of the most powerful Democratic party leaders in the Commonwealth, James P. Clark and his associates, while refusing to even listen to the twelve other groups applying for track licenses.

Fifteen months prior to the granting of this license, which was vigorously protested by Harness Racing Commission Chairman L. B. Sheppard, the Philadelphia Inquirer noted on January 19, 1960: "Reports have been current for several weeks that Congressman William J. Green, Jr. and . . . James P. Clark would spearhead a group interested in seeking a track license . . . It is generally conceded in political circles, however, that before any corporation is licensed in the Philadelphia area, Green will have a voice, presumably through Edward J. Kane, (Green's man on the Harness Racing Commission) in determining who will operate here."

Following the predicted issuance of the first harness racing license to the Liberty Bell Group, headed by James P. Clark, the Harrisburg Evening News stated editorially on April 6, 1961:

"Raw political influence and unadulterated favoritism have marked the issuance of the first license to operate a pari-mutuel track in the lush Philadelphia area . . . To the complete surprise of just about nobody, the influential Democrat who ranks right up with Congressman William Green as an almighty political power in Philadelphia, James Clark and his Liberty Bell coterie got the valuable track license . . . The respected chairman and harness racing authority, who was named with such acclaim and ballyhoo by Governor Lawrence to head up the Harness Racing Commission, voted 'Nay.' His fellow commissioners, both Democrats, voted 'Aye'."

On May 11, 1961, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reported: "Chairman Lawrence B. Sheppard of the State Harness Racing Commission charged today that the public is being bamboozled in the issuance of harness track licenses and that the public hearings ought to be held to find out why. 'With millions of dollars at stake, I think the public is entitled to know whether anybody is covering up, and for whom' Sheppard said. The chairman, who is a Republican and sits on the commission with Democrats Martin J. Cusick, of Sharpsville, and Edward J. Kane, of Philadelphia, have been blocked by the general counsel of the commission Attorney Harry L. Rossi, who has been transferred from the Department of Justice, who has written an opinion that public hearings at this time would be 'premature and shall not be granted' according to the chairman."

On October 16, 1961, at a meeting which lasted less than ten minutes, the Harness Racing Commission awarded two track licenses, one to a syndicate headed by Daniel C. Parish, a close friend of Governor Lawrence, and Arthur J. Rooney, both of Pittsburgh; and to a Washington County group headed by Del Miller, a prominent horse breeder.

The Parish-Rooney group will lease the track facilities of the Liberty Bell Racing Association, headed by Philadelphia Democratic Finance Chairman, James P. Clark.

On October 17, 1961, the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin commented editorially: "The (Harness Racing) Commission has not conducted itself in such a way as to inspire public confidence . . . There is the unusually high incidence of political bigwigs and friends and associates of political bigwigs among the licensees . . . There is the pronounced tendency of the Commission to operate and reach its decisions in secrecy, and to confine its public proceedings to the bare formalities . . ."

Pending before the Harness Racing Commission is a fourth track license sought by two Luzerne County syndicates, Anthracite and Pocono Raceways. In this connection, the Harrisburg Sunday Patriot on September 10, 1961, reported that Fred Correale, brother of the late Palmer Correale, who attended the notorious ingathering of the underworld at Appalachin, New York, is associated with the Anthracite Raceway group.

The Sunday Patriot also mentioned reports that Correale is on friendly terms with Commissioner Edward Kane of Philadelphia, a Bill Green appointee on the Commission. Commission Chairman Sheppard, whom Green and Jim Clark tried to remove from office in a track provision in Senate bill 932 which amended the Harness Racing Law in Clark's favor during the dying days of the 1961 session of the Legislature, is reported to bitterly oppose the granting of a track license to the Correale group, according to the Patriot.

House Republicans were able to remove the Sheppard ripper from Senate bill 932, but otherwise failed to amend the Harness Racing Laws as follows: On April 11, 1961, a motion to discharge House bill 905, which would bar officials and officers of political parties from having financial interests in race tracks, was defeated 90-104, with all Democrat House members voting against; and amendment to Senate bill 932 introduced August 31, 1961 by Representative Maurice Goldstein of Allegheny County, that minors be barred from race tracks unless accompanied by their parents did pass the House 98-97, with three Democrats voting with the Republicans, but the amendment fell on reconsideration after disciplinary moves were made by the House Democratic leadership.

Other Repulican-sponsored amendments to the Harness Racing Law, to limit profits of harness racing tracks to six per cent, instead of 10 per cent which the law now permits; to require publication of the names of all stockholders; and to prohibit the subleasing of any harness racing track to another licensee all died in the Democrat-controlled House Rules Committee.

A badly needed amendment to the Harness Racing Law is one which would require open comparative hearings by the Harness Racing Commission, as demanded by Commission Chairman L. B. Sheppard, and by a number of prominent newspapers throughout the Commonwealth.

It has not been possible to introduce such an amendment during the 1962 session of the Legislature which is limited in its scope to the consideration of fiscal legislation only; therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives declare its intention of amending, in the 1963 Session of the General Assembly, the Harness Racing Act to require public comparative hearings of applicants for harness racing licenses; and be it further

Resolved That the House of Representatives request that the Harness Racing Commission hold an open hearing on the petitions of Anthracite and Pocono Raceway Associations to operate a harness racing track in Luzerne Couty, even though present law does not specifically require it; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislative Reference Bureau be requested to prepare an amendment to the Harness Racing Law which would require, unequivocably, that open comparative hearings be held by the Commission before the granting of any harness racing license.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

The volunteer firemen of our great Commonwealth do a wonderful job each year and yet many people do not realize the role that they play in the communities that they serve.

Any person who has had a fire in an area served by these volunteer fire companies can tell you of the great services that they perform. Without these men who give of their time and services without expecting remuneration many properties would burn to the ground and hundreds of lives would be lost. The heroic efforts of the volunteer firemen of Pennsylvania should not go unannounced; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Honorable David L. Lawrence, Governor of Pennsylvania, be urged to proclaim one week out of the year as Volunteer Firemen's Week so that the people of Pennsylvania, through the auspices of the Governor and the Volunteer Firemen's Associations of Pennsylvania, can show our citizens what a great service these men perform for the communities in which they operate; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WILLIAM JOSEPH LONG.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

This year, 1962, represents the One Hundredth Anniversary of The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company, of Mahanoy City, Pennsylvania. This represents a century of progress not only to Mahanoy City but to all of its citizens and industries as well as The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company.

The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby takes pride in commending and congratulating The Charls D. Kaier Brewing Company on the completion of a century of progress; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates and commends The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company on this, its one hundred years of progress for itself and the community in which it is located; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company, Mahanoy City, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the House will take up resolutions as the first order of business. The Chair hears no objection.

Does the Majority Leader desire a roll call?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to request a roll call on the first resolution for the purpose of establishing a quorum.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 31

The SPEAKER. For the purpose of establishing a quorum, there will be a roll call on House Resolution No. 31.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1962.

In September of 1957 the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania conveyed to the County of Bucks a tract of approximately seventy-eight acres in Bristol Borough and Township containing Silver Lake. The deed of conveyance from the Commonwealth contained a clause providing that unless the premises are exclusively maintained and used as a public lake fishing and recreation area or place the title thereto at the option of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission shall revert to the Commonwealth.

Unknown to all parties at the time of the conveyance a small triangular piece of the tract conveyed which piece is approximately 400 ft. x 250 ft. x 200 ft. lies on the opposite side of the road from the main tract and lake. This small tract became isolated from the main tract due to a relocation of the road after the preparation of the description contained in the deed from the Commonwealth This small triangle adjoins the property of Bristol Borough on which its well field is located Bristol Borough finds it desirable to lease most of its well field to a private corporation which will build and operate recreational facilities thereon This corporation requires a right-of-way over the small triangular tract which the county obtained from the Commonwealth.

Bucks County desires to purchase two and one-half acres of the well field property from Bristol Borough as the site for a County Health Department building adjacent to the premises of Lower Bucks Hospital and Bristol Borough is willing to sell the two and one-half acres to the county if the county will grant the right-of-way over said small triangular tract.

It is understood that if the Pennsylvania Fish Commission will adopt a resolution acquiescing in the use of said small triangular tract for the proposed right-of-way both of the aforementioned transactions may be consummated successfully thereby greatly benefiting the entire community therefore be it

Resolved, That since the isolation of this small triangular tract has rendered it unsuitable for use in furthering the original purposes of the grant and since the recreational facilities of the community will be promoted if the County of Bucks grants a right-of-way or easement over said tract and believing that it in no way violates the terms of the conveyance from the Commonwealth to the County of Bucks the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby urges the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to acquiesce in the use of said tract of land for the proposed right-of-way or easement by adopting an appropriate resolution or whatever other action may be found necessary and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

(During Roll Call)

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, rise?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. For the purpose of asking one of the sponsors what is the need for this particular resolution, and, specifically, is the land involved connected with the race track site in Bucks County.

The SPEAKER. We are already voting on the resolution. We have been in the process of recording the vote.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I am recorded as voting "no" until I know what it is about.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded. The gentleman can still press his button and vote "no." He can still be recorded.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have cleared this with the majority leader. By reason of the fact that the majority leader would like to present the sine die resolution for adoption today, we, on the Republican side, promised there would be another short caucus on sine die. Therefore, as soon as this roll call is over, before we proceed to the question of sine die, we would like to have a caucus which would last not more than five minutes.

The SPEAKER. Since the gentleman proposes a miracle —a caucus that lasts five minutes—there will be no objection. I presume the caucus will convene as soon as the vote on the pending resolution is announced.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, those on the Republican side may gradually start proceeding now to our caucus room to expedite the matter. It would be appreciated, if they have voted on the roll call.

The SPEAKER. Those Republicans who have voted on the roll call, I would say, would be at liberty to proceed to their caucus.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Democratic members to remain in their seats, please, until the majority whip can check out the roll call. Will they please remain in their seats?

Mr. Speaker, do I understand it is agreed with the minority leader orally on a voice vote on House Resolutions 32, 33, 34 and 36 only?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, on these resolutions, before you adopt them by a voice vote, I believe we should call for any comments in our caucus on them right now, if you do not mind. We are not in any hurry. We have only been in session 20 days; there are still 300 and some days left in this year.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the 2:28 train leaves at 2:28.

The SPEAKER. The Republican members will now proceed to their caucus. Democratic members will remain as tied to their seats as it is humanly possible to keep them.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess for the purpose of a Republican caucus.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair is asking the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, to preside.

Mr. DOUGHERTY IN THE CHAIR

CUMBERLAND VALLEY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the hall of the House a class from the Cumberland Valley Junior High School under the sponsorship of Mr. Helman. They are guests of Messrs. George and Kistler of Cumberland County.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I report the following resolution from the Committee on Rules and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution (Not Printed) re: sine die adjournment.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that this 1962 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on the 28 day of February, 1962 at 4:30 o'clock, p. m., e. s. t.

(Signed) Stephen McCann
Chairman of the Committee on Rules

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to voice vigorous objection to this sine die resolution. I saw in the paper that the Governor himself felt we should go home, that the people felt we should not be here, and I think that is a lot of propaganda that he would like the people to believe and would like us to believe, and I think nothing is further from the truth. The people want us here. They are paying us a good salary to be here to legislate, and most of them believe that we are going to be here for more than just two short months out of the twelve.

If we adopt this sine die resolution, we are going to be abdicating our constitutional responsibility. These bills are going on to the Governor's desk and many important bills will be there after the sine die resolution is adopted, if it is. And if these bills are vetoed, there is absolutely nothing that we can do about it. We should be here in order that we would have an opportunity to override a veto. This $9.1 million school freeze clause was passed in both the House and the Senate by more than a two to one margin, which would indicate that if the members are here, and if they are consistent, the promised veto would be overridden.

I urge all the members to do what is right for the people of this Commonwealth and oppose this sine die resolution and stay here until our work is completed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, reasons were stated yesterday by the minority leader as to why we should not agree to sine die adjournment tomorrow.

They have been repeated again this morning by the gentleman from Berks. I want to go along with their sentiments in this respect, but in addition to the reasons which have been stated by them, I also want to get my reasons on the record for opposing sine die adjournment.

I have long been an advocate of the fact that the General Assembly should have the power to call itself into session and have offered constitutional amendments in connection with the present Speaker of the House to accomplish that purpose, but we never seemed to be able to get anywhere with it.

If the legislature is ever going to establish its powers as a coordinate branch of the government, it cannot and it dare not continuously commit legislative hari kari and sine die the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The people of this Commonwealth expect us to take care of their business, and we cannot do it when we surrender our powers.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the majority leader inform us the exact day of the sine die adjournment?

Mr. McCANN. Tomorrow, Wednesday, February 28.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, does this mean then that the majority party has arrived at the conclusion that Resolution No. 10 will not be acted upon during this session of the legislature?

Mr. McCANN. To the best of my knowledge regarding Resolution No. 10, I do not know until I would check it, but it has not been considered or adopted or acted upon favorably.

Mr. FULMER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to address a few remarks to the sine die adjournment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, on January 15, 1962, along with my colleagues, Representative Gramlich, Representative Wilt, Representative Kistler, Representative Bush and Representative Davis, I introduced in this House a resolution which would provide the method by which a joint commission could investigate the licensing activities of the Department of Public Instruction to determine the extent of political influence on licensing boards and what effect such political influence and pressure has had upon the granting of licenses. It also provides that this commission would have the power to subpoena records, subpoena persons to come before the commission to determine whether there is any wrongdoing in the Department of Public Instruction in issuing these licenses.

Mr. Speaker, irrespective of which political party with which you happen to be affiliated, it seems to me that we have a responsibility to protect the name of the chief executive of this Commonwealth. It has been alleged that the Governor and the Governor's office in the past interceded in the issuing of licenses, and in times past the remark has been made that the Governor or his family have interceded in getting licenses of a professional nature.

It has also been alleged and remarked—

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if I were in the chair and the question were asked, I would have to state that the speaker was out of order in his present remarks; and as a member of the House, from the floor, I suggest that the general line of the gentleman's attack is not privileged under the matter we are discussing.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I certainly accept the advice of the distinguished gentleman from Cambria, but the issue before the House, as I understand it, is whether or not we should adjourn sine die one day from today, tomorrow. I am opposed to adjourning sine die. I am opposed to this resolution. One of the reasons I am opposed to it, Mr. Speaker, is because I think the name of the Governor should be cleared. And I say, as a Representative of the people of my county I have a right to help to clear the Governor's name if it has been wrongly blamed.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, what I am saying is that we should remain in session and we should clear the name of the Governor if it has been abused. This commission which was to have been set up by this resolution was to accomplish this. I say, Mr. Speaker, if we adjourn sine die tomorrow, we cannot take action on this resolution.

When I hear a report, for example, that a former Governor or former Lieutenant Governor had received special consideration, I think it ought to be cleared in the record. I do not think that any former Governor or former Lieutenant Governor, whether he be of my party or the other party, should be subject to this criticism if it is not true, and I want to be a part of the group who would stay here, day after day, to clear their names. I certainly apologize to the members of the House if I have been out of order, but I want to make it perfectly clear that I want to stay here until we have done some of the things that need to be done. I am not going to run away from the responsibilities which are mine to assume, those responsibilities which I took an oath of office to fulfill and carry out. If the rest of the members want to say that I am out of order, that is fine, but I say the issue before us at this time is whether or not we are going to go home tomorrow before the issues before us have been resolved.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, shares my views that we need to stay here until the work is done, and in these complex times our work is never done as legislators. We can sine die to please the chief executive, but we cannot adjourn, in my opinion, in clear conscience, without fulfilling the responsibilities which are ours to assume.

In resolving these problems we will assume leadership. Leadership is ours to provide. Responsibility is ours to assume. And if the Speaker of this House wants to think otherwise, that is fine, but I would like to call to the attention of this House that this Resolution No. 10, which we introduced in good faith, will not have an opportunity to be voted upon by this House or the other House.

I want to conclude by saying this, I think that if any of us leave this session without clearing the name of the Governor, without clearing the name of the former Governor or former Lieutenant Governor who, it has been alleged, received special treatment, I think we are doing a disservice.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I urge everyone to vote against the sine die resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in this forum one can hardly run away from a position that has been traditional for almost 30 years. I have served many, many more years as a member of a minority group than I have served as a member of a majority group.

Many, many years ago I took the position that this House should never commit suicide, that it should remain not in constant session forever, but in being. And who, I ask you, year after year, weary session after weary session, opposed that point of view? Not the members of my party. We have changed positions, many of us. I have not changed. I was privileged to be minority floor leader for five sessions, and we said to the Republicans, as I said before, Pennsylvania's General Assembly should not commit suicide; it should not remain forever in session, God forbid, but it should remain in being. And what were the means that were proposed to us for bringing it back into life? Upon the call of the Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

I can readily conceive that there are those in various circles who would say that we can not commit the convening or reconvening of the House into the hands of that fellow Andrews because he is a wild man. You cannot tell what he is going to do. Maybe he will not be in agreement with all the purposes of the higher-ups. But I say to you it is an absurdity to say that the Speaker of the House and the President Pro tempore of the Senate both would go wild. I say to the administration if you cannot trust my judgment—and I presume many of you do not—you can trust the judgment of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and he would not join in a call for the re-assembly of this House unless there were just and ample reason.

Now you talk about re-assembling for the purpose of passing upon vetoes. That is purely academic because all that we handed to the Governor, with the exception of one bill, are his own bills, his own budget scoped within the claims of the amount available by the budget office, and there are not really going to be any vetoes, with the exception of one bill. In the past session we sent bills that dealt with many things, and we feared vetoes and there were vetoes, but now there are not going to be any vetoes. That question is academic about vetoes.

In my opinion, what this House should do is vanish from the scene now, tomorrow, to be recalled only by the Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. And I give the President Pro Tempore of the Senate credit, that he certainly would not join in a call to run us back unless there were justifiable reason. I do not think there is any reason why the administration should be afraid of a setup of that kind. And I say to my good friend, the majority leader, that in times past he joined with me in our protest against sine die resolutions, and I ask that he does not be too hard on us who adhere to the position we both once took. Just say I am the sinner and he is the saint. Both of us speak from different points of view. I can tell him I am not going to quarrel with him, and he is not going to quarrel with me. If the House were to be recalled at the request of the Speaker, who would I ask first what I should do? I would ask the floor leader because I value his judgment in matters of procedure above that of every member of this administration.

So I say that I have to ride with the record I have made over a period of 30 years and oppose and vote against the sine die resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask the membership of this House to vote "aye" in favor of the sine die resolution and bring to an end the 1962 fiscal session of this General Assembly. As of tomorrow, February 28th, we will have completed the entire fiscal program of this Commonwealth for the fiscal year of 1962-

63. Under the constitution, we have carried out the full responsibility and duties of this General Assembly and will have completed and placed on the Governor's desk, as required by law, all our legislative-approved budget for the executive, all special funds and all special bills. Therefore, in my opinion and in the opinion of many others, this fiscal session is completed, the work has been done in an efficient businesslike manner, with the hearings being held throughout days and weeks of the months of January and the greatest hearings that were ever held by the joint appropriation committees of the House and the Senate. With our votes on the bills today and tomorrow, we will have completed a calendar in which no bills will remain on the calendar to be acted upon. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, even though in the closing moments of this session I hate to think that I follow the man who has tutored me for so many years and led me so straight and forward in the path of parliamentary procedure in this House; that I rise today to speak after he has spoken to oppose the position that he has taken. His record stands for twenty years; our record stands for this year, in this fiscal session that ends tomorrow. And I ask that we vote "aye" in favor of the sine die resolution and bring this session to a close tomorrow afternoon.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 15, 1961 (P. L. 373), entitled "Inheritance and Estate Tax Act of 1961" exempting from the provisions relating to entry into safe deposit boxes those safe deposit boxes held in the names of the decedent and his or her spouse.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, we have before us at this moment Senate bill No. 2. This bill purports to change the definition of what constitutes a safe deposit box for the purposes of the Transfer Inheritance Tax Act. This bill redefines a safe deposit box not to include one registered in the name of husband and wife.

First, in my remarks I want to make it abundantly clear that I do not intend, and I am not, debating the merits of this bill. Whether this bill is a good bill or not a good bill, in my opinion, is quite beside the issue which is facing us at this particular moment.

The issue before us is most fundamental. In my opinion it goes to the very heart of the respect and responsibilities of this House of Representatives. I do not think it is debatable by the most astute lawyers, in my opinion, that this bill, under our constitution, is not properly before this House of Representatives in a fiscal session. Why do I say that? I would first point out that this bill in no way changes the subjects of taxation. It does not make new property, new types of property subject to taxation, it does not remove from taxation any subjects and property which are presently taxed. This is simply a bill changing the substance of law with respect to the investigatory powers of the Commonwealth on safe deposit boxes. It has no relationship whatsoever, directly or indirectly, to a bill raising revenue. Now, when we convene in a fiscal session it is our duty to consider only two types of bills, bills raising revenue and bills making appropriations. Now, when we adopted House rule 13.1, which was our own interpretation of the constitution, we said that we would only consider bills raising revenue and went on to define it somewhat further in these words:

> A bill is one raising revenue, when its primary purpose is to produce income to the State Treasury for use of the State through taxation, fees and so forth.

This bill does not fit that definition as expanded by our own House. This bill in no sense meets the requirements or the provisions of our own House rules. It is therefore, in my opinion, an extremely dangerous precedent to act upon this bill today. Perhaps this bill in itself is not too important and perhaps the merits of the bill are good; that is, the substance changes perhaps are good. That I do not wish to debate, because it is not proper subject for debate at this time. But, I do say to each of you, we have endeavored over the years, since I have been a member of this House and particularly under the leadership of the present Speaker, to upgrade the dignity and responsibility of this House of Representatives. If we today pass upon the merits of this bill, in my opinion, we have started a dangerous precedent which will come back session after session, year after year, to haunt us and perhaps to make the meaning of the constitution meaningless insofar as the scope of our responsibility.

Now, assume that everything I have said to date is wrong. Let us assume that some constitutional lawyer, which I am not, can say, yes, this is a bill raising revenue. Then I would point to another section of the constitution. If this is a bill raising revenue and properly to be considered in this session, then I ask you, how can it originate in the Senate, because another provision of our constitution says all bills raising revenue must originate in the House? Yet, we have before us today for consideration a bill originating in the Senate. Therefore, I conclude by saying this. If you disagree with me, that this is not a bill raising revenue, and in your opinion is one raising revenue, then I say you must agree with me that it is not properly before this House as a Senate bill, but must originate in the House.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I therefore move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it was indicated in your statements that a bill originating in this session must either be a revenue-raising measure or a revenue-reducing measure, is that right?

Mr. BOWMAN. Our own House rule 13.1 has interpreted the constitutional provision to include bills either raising or decreasing or altering revenues, yes.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell us also, so that we are absolutely clear, under the rules, must a revenue-raising measure originate in the House?

Mr. BOWMAN. That is correct. That is under the constitution, not under our House rules.

Mr. McCANN. Under the constitution. This being Senate bill 2, what classification would you give it under House rules 13.1?

Mr. BOWMAN. If I understand your question correctly, I do not give it any classification under House rule 13.1; it cannot fit the definition of House rule 13.1.

Mr. McCANN. In your opinion then, Mr. Speaker, Senate bill No. 2 you are saying does not properly belong in the fiscal session of the General Assembly?

Mr. BOWMAN. I say that first and very strongly, yes. But, secondly, I say, Mr. Speaker, assuming I am wrong on that point, and let us say for the sake of argument that I am wrong on that point, then because this is a Senate bill it is improperly before us because it violates the other section of the constitution to which I referred.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if such a bill was enacted into law and signed by the Governor, it would be subject then to the constitutional provision of taking it to court for its test case, would it not?

Mr. BOWMAN. The ulimate determination of the constitutionality of any issue, of course, is in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and perhaps in the Supreme Court of the United States if it indirectly involves federal issues.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly. I have also, Mr. Speaker, been one of the gentlemen who has argued the last few days in favor of Senate bill No. 2. The Legislative Reference Bureau Director, Mr. Harry Hershey, very emphatically gives his opinion which is contained in the second paragraph and his answer is, no, this bill cannot be acted on in this session. This is his opinion and he also states that the primary purpose of the bill which you suggest would only be to change the law relating to the entry of safe deposit boxes and have no effect upon the revenue derived from the Inheritance and the State Tax Act of 1961.

Therefore, it is my opinion that if such a bill were introduced and enacted into law, upon a test the courts would be required to say that it was not within the area in which a General Assembly could constitutionally act during an even numbered year. Every place I have turned for information regarding Senate bill No. 2 puts me in a position in which I honestly believe the section of the law we enacted dealing with the inheritance tax or safe deposit boxes concerns a person's personal property, and an individual's personal property is sacred. This is my honest opinion. I am not a lawyer, I am not a constitutional lawyer, I do not know exactly what I am, but I know that I do not want someone else looking into your safe deposit box because this is as sacred as the safe in your home.

I have been speaking very strongly in favor of Senate bill 2. In the legislative meetings this week I argued over an hour in behalf of Senate bill 2, but I believe that I have been driven fast to the wall last night and today by the opinions rendered by the Legislative Reference Bureau, Mr. Harry Hershey, the director, and by the interrogation that has taken place by Mr. Bowman, and I will say to the membership that the motion made by Mr. Bowman to recommit the bill to the Committee on Rules will meet with no opposition from the chairman of the Rules Committee. I would like to enact this into law, and I will be honest that I believe this is what we should do, but at the same time to do something and then have it go to the court for a test case in the Supreme Court would not accomplish a single thing that could not be done in the 1963 session of the General Assembly in which I understand this bill properly would be a prospect for legislative action. Therefore, I too, will vote in favor of the recommittal, even though I have argued for two and one half days in favor of it.

The Speaker pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Zember.

Mr. ZEMBER. Mr. Speaker, I was the co-sponsor of House bill 77 which embodied the same subject matter as Senate bill 2.

On the day I submitted that bill to the hopper, the Speaker of this House and the director of the Legislative Reference Bureau questioned the constitutionality of it.

My reason for introducing it in view of such an esteemed opinion was to bring this subject to light this year. Many, many of my constituents—and I dare say I have received letters from your constituents also all over the State—support this measure. I agree that this measure should be recommitted primarily on the fact that this is a Senate bill and the subject of this bill should be properly one originating in the House.

Let me warn you, let me promise you that this subject matter will be before you next year. Vote "yes" to recommit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate Mr. Bowman?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, if these boxes were opened, would they produce taxes belonging to the Commonwealth?

Mr. BOWMAN. May I restate the question? I am not sure I heard you. If the boxes are opened, would they produce revenue for the Commonwealth?

Mr. HEAVEY. Yes.

Mr. BOWMAN. The contents of the boxes, whether the boxes are opened or not under the investigatory powers of the Department of Revenue, are either subject to tax or not subject to tax regardless of the investigatory powers. For example, if there is something in that box which is taxable, whether the Commonwealth has the power to go into that box or not, it nevertheless is subject to taxation and should be declared by the owner of the box or the decedents, the representatives of the decedents, as subject to taxation.

So this bill is not going to change, and I want to stress that. I want to stress that very much, this bill in no way changes the subjects of taxation. They are still the same. All it purports to change is the investigatory powers of the Commonwealth with respect to looking into a box. It does not change the subjects of taxation one iota.

I hope I have answered the gentleman's inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to give the reasons why I am going to vote for the motion to recommit the bill.

More than a month ago I went to the reference bureau to have a like bill drawn up to submit here and I was advised that inasmuch as this was a fiscal session it would be unconstitutional to submit such a bill at this session.

So, therefore, while I am in sympathy with the motive of the bill, I am forced to vote against it in the hope that we can do something about it in '63 to remedy this wrong.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. When I first read this bill and I formed an opinion about it, my conclusion was identical with the opinions expressed by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

However, that leaves me just a little bit confused for this reason, and I want to bring this observation to the attention of the House perhaps for clarification for future purposes. Now we know that the House rules state that any member may move to amend a bill or a resolution provided the proposed amendment is germane to the subject.

Earlier in this session there were a number of motor vehicle bills that had been introduced and when they reached the floor for debate and consideration amendments were offered to other sections of the bill which were not in the original version of the bill introduced. And I raised the inquiry as to whether or not under this particular rule of the House that was not an improper procedure, because I raised the question, was this, in essence, germane to the original purpose and intent of the bill? The Chair ruled that it was perfectly proper and the amendment could be considered. Now if that be the case, am I to understand that if this Senate bill had originated in the House that this would be properly before us?

I would like some enlightenment on the thing and perhaps someone in the House, perhaps Mr. Bowman, has an opinion on this subject. But I think it needs some clarification in view of our earlier position during this legislative session.

Mr. BOWMAN. I suppose that was an inquiry to me. I did not propose to speak again. If I can, I would like to summarize my observations this way:

First, in my opinion, even though this bill originated in the House, it is not the proper subject for consideration by the House at this session and that is because its primary purpose is not one of a bill raising revenue. Therefore, that argument is quite separate and apart from my second argument.

My second argument is only stated on the assumption that you may disagree with me as to whether or not this is a bill, the primary purpose of which is one to raise revenue. If you disagree with me and think it is one, then I say this particular bill ranks second and has an altogether independent reason and cannot be considered, because it is not a bill raising revenue originating in the House as required by the constitution. With respect to the observations made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, when he was speaking, I believe, in reference to a matter which came before the regular session, not this fiscal session, with respect to the scope of amendments to the bill as to whether they change its primary purpose, if I recall correctly, the ruling in that case was that if it in any way dealt with the vehicle code, whether it was a same, or separate, or independent section quite apart from the one that was originally in the bill, it was still a proper subject of the amendment. That was the ruling in the regular session, but I do not see the relevancy of that ruling to the issue now before us, except, perhaps, in a very, very indirect or abstract manner.

I do not think this bill before us today can meet the definition of the House rule in the first instance and, assuming that it originated in the House, perhaps it could be amended in the House by expanding it to touch upon the revenue-raising features of the inheritance tax act and thus qualify.

I am sorry I took so much time of the House, but I just want to summarize by saying this, it does not meet rule 13.1 and, if you disagree with me on that point, it does not meet the constitutional provision that such bills must originate in the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 8, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Commonwealth to create additional debt and to issue bonds for the acquisition of land for parks, reservoirs and other conservation and recreation and historical preservation purposes.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. A. M. LEE offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 1, last two lines of Title, by striking out "land for parks reservoirs and other conservation and recreation" in next to last line, and all of last line, and inserting: lands or interests therein or the development thereof for park, conservation, recreation or historical preservation purposes.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 24), page 2, line 9, by inserting after "bonds": subject to such conditions and limitations as the General Assembly may prescribe

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 24), page 2, lines 10 to 16, by striking out "land for State parks reservoirs" in line 10, all of lines 11 to 16, and inserting: lands or interests therein or the development thereof for immediate or future park conservation, recreation or historical preservation purposes and for participation by the Commonwealth with political subdivisions in acquisition or development for such purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, Senate bill 8, which is before us today, embodies the so-called Project 70, which is a long-range plan to meet the park, recreation and conservation needs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the issuance of bonds to the extent of $70 million. I want to say, in the first instance, Mr. Speaker, that there is no member of this House who is a firmer or stronger supporter of this proposal than I. As a matter of fact, during the 1961 session of this legislature, as a matter of Republican policy, this very same proposal was proposed, embodied in House bill 673 and introduced in this House. It never got out of committee. That House bill 673 would have done, in essence, the same thing that Senate bill 8 proposes to do.

I have read the language in Senate bill 8 and, in my opinion, it is rather muddy and vague and awkward. The substance of my amendments is to give to this language what, in my opinion, is the precision and clarity in which we should deal when we are considering an amendment to the constitution of Pennsylvania. That amendment process requires approval by two sessions of the legislature and a vote of the people. I am fearful that if we adopt the language that is presently in Senate bill 8, printer's No. 23, there may be confusion and we may, perhaps, in certain areas not be able to realize the full potential of this particular proposal.

I would like to read the change in the language, which are just a few lines, and then I will explain the three major elements in those changes. The language is the same in proposing a bond issue of $70 million and the purposes are as follows and I quote:

"For the acquisition of lands or interests therein or the development thereof for immediate or future park conservation, recreation or historical preservation purposes and for participation by the Commonwealth with political subdivisions in acquisition or development for such purposes."

Now, basically, aside from a rearrangement of the language in order to clarify the intention of this amendment, there are three changes that are embodied in my amendments. The original bill calls for the acquisition of land. I have modified the word "land" by including the language "or interests therein" so that there may clearly be available to those charged with the implementation of this program those very well known and useful devices such as easements or development rights, that is, the acquisition of less than the fee in land, if that would more nearly suit the purposes of this particular program.

I have also included, after "immediate purposes," the words "future purposes," so it will be clear that we can acquire this land for park, recreational and conservation purposes, even though there may be no immediate plans for the development of it along these lines, because the basic, underlying premise of Project 70 is that if we acquire the land now, we are going to save money in the long run, because the value of this land will continue to rise in the years ahead.

The final change is that Senate bill 8 provides only for acquisition of land. Not one penny of this money could be used for the development of these projects. Let me make it clear, Mr. Speaker, as far as I am concerned, I would hope that all of this $70 million would be used for the acquisition of land. However, there are possible changes in the method of capital budgeting in the Commonwealth; there are certain unforeseen matters that may at some future time require us of necessity to use some portion of this $70 million for development as distinguished from acquisition, and I do not believe that we, the legislature, should tie our hands in this manner by writing this into the constitution when it is going to take us all these years and the vote of the people to change it. It would be my purpose that the $70 million should be used for acquisition. On the other hand, I think it is a matter of wisdom that we also include the word "development" so that if the necessity does arise we could use a portion of these funds for development. It seems to me that if we limited this to acquisition, we are betting $70 million, or the major portion thereof, on the facts that somehow, some way, we will be able to provide these capital funds through another method.

For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I urge the adoption of my amendments. When we are dealing with a constitutional amendment, we should do it in clear, precise and unambiguous language, and that is the purpose of my amendment.

I ask for a roll call, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the members to vote "no" on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia. I hope that each of the members will consider the situation that when this is passed, should the people vote in favor of this constitutional proposal, the law to implement the program will carry out all the details which you in the General Assembly will enact at that time.

I ask that you vote "no" on the proposed amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. AUKER, GEORGE, HOCKER, ESHBACK, HOLLIDAY, MILLER, TOMPKINS and KORNS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 24), page 2, by inserting after line 16:

The law authorizing the creation of the debt and the issuance of the bonds shall not take effect until revenue-raising measures are enacted, which the Senate and House of Representatives, by concurrent resolution, declare and deem sufficient to amortize the amount to be borrowed and paid and to pay the interest on said indebtedness until the indebtedness is fully paid. The revenue derived from such revenue-raising measures shall be used only for the payment of the debt created, as herein provided, and interest thereon, and the measures shall provide for their termination when sufficient funds are accumulated to pay the debt and interest thereon.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to you first of all, sincerely, that the introduction of this amendment is based not on any political reasons whatsoever. As a matter of fact, I gave a copy of the amendment to the majority floor leader yesterday so he would have ample time, if necessary, to bring it before his caucus.

Secondly, I want to say I am absolutely sincere about these words "fiscal responsibility." That is the main reason why I am introducing this amendment.

Now, just to show you what it does, I want to read the amendment slowly so that you can fully grasp what it does. Again, I am amending Senate bill No. 8 that calls for going to the people for a vote for the Commonwealth to float $70 million in bonds for the various purposes set forth therein. It does not say anything at all in that about how that money is to be raised or how it is going to be paid.

The amendment that I am offering is practically the exact wording that was attached to the Korean War bonus. I am going to read it very briefly: "The law authorizing the creation of the debt and the issuance of the bonds shall not take effect until revenue-raising measures are enacted, which the Senate and the House of Representatives, by concurrent resolution, declare and deem sufficient to amortize the amount to be borrowed and paid and to pay the interest on said indebtedness." Now that is new language that was not used in the Korean War bonus amendments; ". . . to pay the interest on the said indebtedness until the indebtedness is fully paid. The revenue derived from such revenue-raising measures shall be used only for the payment of the debt created, as herein provided, and interest thereon, and the measures shall provide for their termination when sufficient funds are accumulated to pay the debt and interest thereon."

Now, Mr. Speaker, we have heard a great deal during the past session of 1960, not only from the members of this House, but from the front office, from the Governor himself, whose slogan is "Pay as you go." Now if we are sincere—and I would say to the Governor, I think he is sincere—if he is sincere in this slogan, then this amendment should be tacked onto this bill so the people of the State would know that when they are voting for a $70 million bond issue by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, not by any authority. These bonds that are going to be floated by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the full faith and backing of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Then I would say we should tack this amendment on to the bill so the people will know that when they are going to authorize, if they so favor to vote and do vote for the amendment to the constitution, that they will have to raise the money, that is, we, their Representatives, will have to raise the money through a special taxation of some kind or earmark a certain percentage of some tax that is on the books today to pay this $70 million.

Now that, Mr. Speaker, to my mind, is fiscal responsibility. And I ask you and I ask each one of you to ask yourselves if you are going to face up today to fiscal responsibility. Not only that, Mr. Speaker, but I also believe, and I am in favor of this bill, I am going to vote for it whether the amendment goes down or not, but I believe, I honestly and sincerely believe, that if this amendment is tacked onto the bill, it will have a fairer chance of passing when it goes to the voters of Pennsylvania, if it gets by another session, than without the amendment.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I sincerely hope that every member of the House will vote for this amendment. Then we face up to fiscal responsibility, and it is high time that we start to face up to fiscal responsibility by deed in this House and not by word of mouth alone. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the majority leader desire to be recognized?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the membership of the House to vote "no" on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House bill No. 15, entitled:

A Supplement to the act of April 1, 1863 (P L 213) entitled "An act to accept the grant of Public Lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges" making an appropriation for carrying the same into effect.

And has appointed Messrs. MURRAY, SEYLER and KROMER a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 15

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a Committee of Conference on the part of House, Messrs. POLEN, DOUGHERTY and WOOD.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 15

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House bill No. 15.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned resolution from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 47.

Directing certain departments boards and commissions to file rules and regulations with the Legislative Reference Bureau.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend resolution, page 2, line 9, by inserting at the beginning of the line the words "compile and"; line 18, by inserting after the word "Session" the following: and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the chief clerk of the House of Representatives to each administrative department board and commission except the Public Utility Commission.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the members on this side of the House, this is the resolution which directs the Legislative Reference Bureau to compile and codify the rules and regulations issued by the various departments on this hill. The amendments to this resolution which we passed unanimously last week merely authorize that copies of that resolution be sent to the various boards and commissions to inform them of the action of the General Assembly. We concur in the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in.

Ordered, that the clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1926.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that this 1962 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on the 28 day of February, 1962, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., e. s. t.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution (Not Printed) re: The One Hundredth Anniversary of the Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

This year, 1962, represents the One Hundredth Anniversary of The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company, of Mahanoy City, Pennsylvania. This represents a century of progress not only to Mahanoy City but to all of its citizens and industries as well as the Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company.

The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby takes pride in commending and congratulating The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company on the completion of a century of progress; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates and commends The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company on this, its one hundred years of progress for itself and the community in which it is located; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to The Charles D. Kaier Brewing Company, Mahanoy City, Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY CHIEF CLERK

The Chief Clerk (Mr. OMINSKY). When the House adjourns sine die for the 1962 session, will all members please return their keys to the chief clerk's office. Now, if members desire to take the contents of his or her desk with them, shopping bags will be provided for their convenience. We strongly advise that each member takes anything they desire to be preserved by them. Also, members' checks are now available in the chief clerk's office. May I also remind the members that our office is open every day in the week after adjournment for your convenience. Take advantage of it.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia. He did a workmanlike job.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that the majority leader will request the members to be present tomorrow to see to it that we do not close this session with simply a vanguard, two or three people, two or three members on the floor of the House. The majority leader will request that; the Speaker will insist upon it. There is a difference. We will not be able to get away with two or three members on the floor of the House when we close, I assure you of that.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is the intention of this House that tomorrow we go in session at 11 a. m. Also tomorrow, we have scheduled a little program in which various members who have announced their retirement or their intent not to run for re-election in their respective districts will have an opportunity to say a few words to the membership of this House. We would like to ask that all the members please stay with us tomorrow until the final gavel of sine die of the 1962 session. I ask all the Democratic members, please do not ask me if you can go home on the 1:10 plane or the 2:20; the answer is a cold "no." You can go home right after the sine die gavel tomorrow, so I ask your indulgence to bear with us.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. SULLIVAN and JENKINS.

RESOLUTION No. 56.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Whereas, The Russian atomic explosions have resulted in a fall-out through rainfall or atmospheric conditions causing cattle to consume the fall-out; and

Whereas, The radio-active strotium contained in the fall-out penetrates the grass consumed by the cattle and thereafter affects the milk produced; and

Whereas, The Federal Government has devised a method to extract the fall-out from the milk in order to make the milk safe for consumption; and

Whereas, Milk moves in interstate commerce, it is therefore not sufficient for one state here or there to pass legislation enforcing fall-out extraction; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will provide that milk may not be sold until the fall-out has been extracted from milk in order to make the milk safe for consumption; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States and to the Council of the Borough of Glassport, Glassport, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 56.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, before we adjourn for the day, in connection with House Resolution 46, printer's No. 179, dealing with Quehanna, I would like to insert in the record an editorial from "The Evening Bulletin" of February 24, 1962.

The SPEAKER. It will be inserted in the record.

Mr. TOMPKINS submitted the following for the record:

THE EVENING BULLETIN, Philadelphia, Pa.,

February 24, 1962.

What to Do With Quehanna?

There is a good deal of merit in the resolution introduced in the State House of Representatives this week by five Republicans calling for a study of possible uses to which the soon-to-be-abandoned Curtiss-Wright research facility at Quehanna, in North Central Pennsylvania, could be put.

The great hopes generated when Governor Leader completed the location transactions with the aircraft firm in 1955 diminished when employment sagged to a couple of hundred jobs (it never topped 1,500 despite estimates it would reach from 7,000 to 10,000) and collapsed when the firm recently announced it would move its research personnel to other plants and shut down completely in June.

The facility, once expected to become the East's leading center for research in jet engines and atomic development, was left behind by a shift in defense emphasis.

Both the state and the company had an extensive investment in the project. A total of 51,200 acres of prime game and forest lands, thought to contain natural gas reserves, were sold or leased to the company by the state. The state spent some $1.6 million for roads and additional money to purchase private camps in the area. The company plowed from $25 to $30 million into buildings and the erection of a nuclear reactor, which has since been given to Penn State.

The resolution called for a study of alternate uses which might be made of the facility, either by the federal government or private enterprise: on the feasibility of creating a State Atomic Energy Authority to direct research on the property of whether or not the land should be reclaimed for natural gas exploration, and of whether or not some of the land should be repossessed for hunting, recreation and tourist attractions.

The State Atomic Energy Authority idea is particularly interesting. Other states, including New York, have sponsored with some success atomic research to aid industries concerned with nuclear power and to help lure other such industries into their states.

At any rate, the area should not be abandoned and forgotten.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 48.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr BACHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, February 28, 1962, at 11 a.m., e.s.t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:56 p.m., e.s.t.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1962. 146th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 39. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1962. No. 20.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1962.

The Senate met at 4:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Jo Hays) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. KESSLER:

O Lord, what is before us we know not, but this we do know; that by Thy unerring wisdom, all things are ordered and sure.

Give us, then, O Lord, steadfast hearts which no unworthy desire may drag downward. Give us unconquerable hearts which no tribulation can wear out. Give us upright hearts which no unworthy purpose may tempt aside.

Guide us and strengthen us until we become as Thou wouldst have us be. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WEINER and Mr. LANE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has adopted Report of Committee of Conference on HB 15, which was laid on the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Paul W. Mahady) in the Chair.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HB 15 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Without objection, Mr. WEINER called from the table Report of Committee of Conference on HB 15, and received unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ADOPTED

HB 15 (Pr. No. 199)—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the Report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 15, entitled:

A Supplement to the act of April 1, 1863 (P. L. 213), entitled "An act to accept the grant of Public Lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges," making an appropriation for carrying the same into effect.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to mention that a copy of this Report of Committee of Conference is on the desk of each Member.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I intend to vote for this Conference Committee Report.

As I understand the bill as it comes from the Conference Committee, The Pennsylvania State University will be eligible to receive eight per cent of any excess in General Fund revenues above the $1,023,850,000 which has been estimated by the Department of Revenue. Of course, $200,000 has been taken from this bill for certain research on detergents. However, it is my further understanding from the President of The Pennsylvania State University that there is a possibility of other funds being available from other sources to begin and carry out this important research work in this area.

It is further my understanding, from responsible people in the Governor's Office, that the Governor's Office will recommend to the General State Authority that certain equipment and furniture for three projects on the campus —namely, the Education Building, the Horticultural Laboratory and the Nuclear Research Laboratory—be cared for from funds from the General State Authority.

With these understandings, Mr. President, I am quite happy and pleased to be able to vote for this Conference Committee Report.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILLS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, SB 8, 17, 19 and 20, with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE STATE COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL WRESTLING TEAM

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution (Serial No. 35), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

WHEREAS, On February 17, 1962, the State College High School Wrestling Team completed its fifth consecutive year undefeated on the wrestling mats. Over this period, the State College High School Wrestling Team engaged in sixty-nine wrestling events and in them defeated ninety-nine other teams. This is believed to be one of the longest, if not the longest, consecutive winning streaks in the annals of Pennsylvania athletics, high school, collegiate, or professional.

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its heartiest congratulations to Coach Homer J. Barr and his Wrestling Team and wish them continued success in the future, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary transmit copies of this resolution to Coach Barr; Dr. W. R. Bolton, Director of Athletics; Mr. Robert H. Fleck, Principal; and Mr. Roy S. Jamison, Supervising Principal of the College Area Schools.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, as the resolution states, I think this is the most phenomenal consecutive winning streak in the history of Athletics in Pennsylvania. If you name the town in Pennsylvania that has a good wrestling team, I think we will say that we have defeated it.

In addition to the schools in our immediate neighborhood, I call attention in this streak to Allentown, Canonsburg, Greensburg, Shamokin, Washington, Indiana, Latrobe, New Castle, Grove City, Kittanning, Mechanicsburg, Mt. Lebanon, Waynesburg, Columbia, Erie, Strong, Vincent, Williamsport, Cedar Cliff, which is across the river, Ithaca, New York, as well as Woodrow Wilson School in Levittown.

I have one personal comment about this, in that wrestling was begun as a sport in this school when I was administrative head of the schools. The man who we recommended for coach succeeded me as administrative head of the schools some years ago. He was pushing me pretty fast and I just had to get out to make way for him.

I urge your favorable vote on this resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you, Senator Hays.

I would draw to your attention, however, that when they defeated Latrobe, it was the first time Latrobe lost in eleven years.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in connection with this resolution, I just want to say that while the record of victories is very great, I note that the "Senate Wrestling Team" has not been included among the competitors.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John H. Ware, III) in the Chair.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE BOROUGH OF NORRISTOWN UPON ITS SESQUICENTENNIAL

Mr. PROPERT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 36), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

Norristown, the county seat of Montgomery County, is the oldest and largest borough in the United States. Frequently referred to as the "Gateway to Valley Forge," the Borough of Norristown has grown and prospered as this nation has grown and prospered.

In May of this year, the citizens of Norristown will celebrate the 150th anniversary of its establishment as a borough by the Act of March 31, 1812 (P. L. 255), entitled "An Act to erect Norristown in Montgomery County, into a borough."

It is with pride that this Senate of Pennsylvania, together with all Pennsylvanians, points to Norristown as a modern, progressive community with its roots in the early colonial period of this State and Nation, and a history of growth, progress and increasing importance in a vital section of this Country; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania offers its heartfelt congratulations to Norristown upon its sesquicentennial and expresses its sincere hope of continued growth and prosperity for the borough; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Alfred Taxis, Chairman of the Sesquicentennial Committee.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, does the record show who is now presiding?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I am sorry, but I did not hear your question.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I asked whether the record shows who is presiding over the Senate at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It does.

Mr. VAN SANT. I want to thank the President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would you care to examine the record?

Mr. VAN SANT. If you will have it printed, I would like a copy on my desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I will see that you receive an autographed copy, Senator Van Sant.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, for the information of the Chair, I might say that we just recently concurred in a House Resolution covering this same subject. Naturally, we in the Senate do not want to be overcome by the House.

Therefore, on behalf of the gentleman from Lackawanna County, Senator McMenamin, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY TO RESCIND ORDER CLOSING THE SCRANTON PLANT

Mr. LANE, on behalf of Mr. McMENAMIN, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 107), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

WHEREAS, The General Electric Company has announced it will close down the Scranton tube plant and remove the work to the South; and

WHEREAS, This act of the General Electric Company would mean great hardship to the 340 production workers who would lose their livelihood, and would mean deprivation and want to their families; and

WHEREAS, The loss of the $1,600,000 annual payroll from the General Electric plant would be a severe blow to the economic life of the city and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, Closing the plant would make a mockery of the area development program and all similar efforts to improve economic conditions in Scranton and other distressed areas; and

WHEREAS, The General Electric Company has itself admitted that the Scranton tube plant has been a profitable operation, and General Electric over-all increased its profits after taxes to $243,000,000 in 1961, a 21 per cent increase over 1960; and

WHEREAS, General Electric has stated publicly that it enjoys excellent labor relations with the union, Local 125 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UE), most of whose members have worked in the plant since it opened sixteen years ago; and

WHEREAS, The General Electric Company must recognize and carry out its obligations to the people of the community and the state where its profits are created; therefore be it

RESOLVED (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge Ralph J. Cordiner, Chairman of General Electric, to rescind his order closing the Scranton plant; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we call upon the government of the United States, particularly the President and the Defense Department, to do everything in their power to prevent this economic disaster that now faces Scranton and the Commonwealth; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, and to the United States Department of Defense.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE HONORABLE PARK H. MARTIN, SECRETARY OF HIGHWAYS, TO NAME THE ALIQUIPPA WYE OVERHEAD PASS THE "DAVID JOHNS MEMORIAL BRIDGE"

Mr. LANE, on behalf of Mr. MILLER, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 108), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

For many years, the Aliquippa Wye area presented a serious traffic bottleneck to the employees of the Aliquippa Jones and Laughlin plants and to other persons of the Altoona area.

The late David Johns devoted much of his time and worked with great diligence and perseverance toward the elimination of this traffic bottleneck.

Mr. Johns' efforts will come to a successful fruition with the forthcoming construction of the Aliquippa Wye Overhead Pass with its resultant benefit to the persons traveling in this area; therefore be it

RESOLVED (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly hereby requests the Honorable Park H. Martin, Secretary of Highways, to name the Aliquippa Wye Overhead Pass the "David Johns Memorial Bridge."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHADY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, concerning the resolution which I am about to offer, the county of Westmoreland, for the second time within several days, has lost one of its outstanding publishers. David W. Mack was the publisher of the Greensburg Tribune-Review, the Greensburg Morning Review and the Greensburg Tribune in the afternoon. He has, in the past five years, expanded his facilities, and made it one of the most modern newspapers in Pennsylvania.

David Mack was one of the spearheads in the redevelopment of Greensburg, and was one of the causes for its outstanding advancement within the last decade.

In his passing, we will not only lose a dear friend, but the community will lose a leader.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE DAVID W. MACK

Mr. MAHADY offered the following resolution (Serial No. 37), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby takes note of the untimely passing of David W. Mack, publisher of the Tribune-Review of Greensburg, Pennsylvania. He had been with this newspaper since 1946 and was the publisher since 1954.

David W. Mack was one of Greensburg's civic leaders and will be sorely missed. He was an outstanding member of the Presbyterian Church, a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Greensburg, the Greensburg Development Corporation, and the Salvation Army. He served with distinction with the U. S. Air Force in World War II and was the holder of a U. S. Air Force Medal.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Caroline T. Mack, and two children, David Jr. and Caroline Huff Mack; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends condolence to the surviving widow and children on the great loss suffered by the untimely death of a faithful husband and father; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Caroline T. Mack at her home in Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR AND THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. MAHADY offered the following resolution, which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

RESOLVED, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that this Regular Session is ready to adjourn sine die, and inquire if he has any further communications to make, and be it further

RESOLVED, That the committee also notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR AND THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Pursuant to the resolution

just adopted, the Chair wishes to advise that the President pro tempore has appointed, as a committee to notify the Governor and the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Mahady, Chairman; the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner; and the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Van Sant.

The committee may leave immediately to perform its duties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before the committee performs its task, I would like to say there have been a number of assertions and discussions concerning the balancing of the budget, and this was the only balanced budget that has been submitted in a number of years. I believe around thirteen was the number of years stated. I believe it is well recognized that constitutionally, the Administration must present a balanced budget in every fiscal period.

Mr. President, with that, I simply wish to submit this statement for the record, and ask that it be printed in the Journal in order to correct certain impressions that might have been gained by those statements.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you, Senator Berger. I am sure that the record will correctly reflect your remarks, and the statement will be printed in the Journal.

STATEMENT OF SENATOR JAMES S. BERGER

Governor Lawrence predicts a surplus of $8,900,000 at the end of the present 1961-1962 fiscal year. This will not be known until the year ends on June 30, of this year. He has contended that this surplus, if realized, will be the first in thirteen years. This statement is false, as the record shows. Thirteen years goes back to the end of the 1947-1949 biennium. During that biennium and the two following, there were substantial surpluses, as follows:

	Surplus
1947-1949	$63,235,461
1949-1951	$17,918,453
1951-1953	$16,615,844

These were bienniums falling completely in Republican Administrations. Since the Democratic Administration came in in January 1955, the State has been on a deficit basis up to and including the 1959-61 biennium, as the following facts show:

	Deficit
1953-1955	$63,831,601
1955-1957	$62,813,782
1957-1959	$141,598,685
1959-1961	$33,227,861

Governor Lawrence showed a beginning deficit in his first budget, 1959-1961, of $141,000,000. At the close of that biennium, there was a deficit of $33,000,000. There were two methods used to reduce the $141,000,000 deficit. One, establishing 80 per cent prepayment of several taxes, the corporate net income tax, gross receipts tax, insurance premiums tax and tax on bank shares. This prepayment of taxes produced about $82,000,000 during the 1959-1961 biennium. The second method of reducing the deficit was an increase and broadening of the sales tax, with an increase in rate of one per cent, from three per cent to four per cent. The amount of additional revenue received from the sales tax in the 1959-1961 biennium amounted to $296,000,000 over the last biennium of the Leader Administration, 1957-1959.

The Constitution forbids a deficit of more than $1,000,000. Republican Administrations, not only during the three bienniums mentioned above but before those, have felt that the constitutional provisions was controlling and managed the State's finances accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR AND THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair now recognizes the Sergeant at Arms.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS. Mr. President, I have the honor to present a committee on behalf of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The committee may proceed to come forward.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS. Mr President, I present the Chairman of the Committee on behalf of the Senate, Senator Mahady.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I wish to report that the committee, appointed by the President pro tempore to inform His Excellency, the Governor and the House of Representatives that the Senate has completed its work and is ready to adjourn sine die, has performed its duties.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Your colleagues congratulate you and your fellow committeemen on the dispatch with which you have conducted your affairs. Thank you, Senator Mahady.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, as the Secretary of the Committee which informed the House of Representatives and the Governor, we would like permission to submit a bill for subsistence.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator, you may do that in the usual course of business. It will be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (Anthony J .DiSilvestro) in the Chair.

BILLS SIGNED

The President pro tempore (Anthony J. DiSilvestro) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills: SB 8, 17, 19, 20, HB 1, 15, 28, 42, 50, 57 and 82.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John H. Ware, III) in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in the interest of time, I understand that Senate Resolution, Serial No. 7, will not be called up. I received a telephone call from Senator Pechan, who told me that the meeting which had been arranged by the Governor and other interested officials, including Senator Pechan, with certain personnel from the Federal Government to go to Quehanna tomorrow with a view to at least making some survey of the situation up there, has been canceled or postponed.

Senator Pechan states that he regrets very much that this occurred. He left in order to be present at that meeting at Quehanna, but it is the hope of himself and all others interested in that situation that a meeting will be arranged at a future date, at which time some solution to the problem and some means of using the property or acquiring the property for use by another industry or for some public purpose will be found.

NOTIFICATION THAT THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair again recognizes the Sergeant at Arms.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS. Mr. President, I have the honor to present a committee on behalf of the House of Representatives.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The committee will please come forward.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS. Mr. President, I present the Chairman of the Committee from the House, the Honorable Jules Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. President, we have been appointed, as a committee on the part of the House, to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has completed its business and is now ready to adjourn sine die.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to adress the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, as we finish our work here each Session, the statute laws are entered into a book without regard to subject matter or what they might contain, and that is the end of that. You have to go back in that year to find them. There is no procedure provided for review of all of the statute laws, and for deleting any repealed provisions or any of those which are void or obsolete. Sometimes you must do a great deal of searching until you find out what the present law is unless, of course, you go into Purdon's, and sometimes that might not be too clear.

On this basis, I am asking the Joint State Government Commission to look into not the codification of the laws, but the feasibility of doing this. Maybe it is not necessary that it be done, but I think somebody ought to take a look at the problem and see what it is.

I have drawn this resolution because there is no other machinery for handling this matter. I would more or less consider this a memorandum to the Joint State Government Commission, to be taken up by their Executive Committee to see if this needs any study. Temple University, and I am sure all of the other law schools in the Commonwealth, would be delighted to help us on this problem if we decided there was a need to do so. There may not be any need for it, but I would like the Executive Committee to have the benefit of this memorandom.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE FEASIBILITY OF CODIFYING THE STATUTE LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 38), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

The statutes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are published in separate volumes after the adjournment of the Session of the General Assembly by which they were enacted, in the order of approval by the Governor, without regard to subject matter.

No procedure is provided for review of all of the statute laws, for deleting repealed, void or obsolete provisions, or for printing the currently effective law in a single code; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission study and investigate the feasibility of codifying the statute laws of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission herein enlist the aid and co-operation of the Temple University Law School, and other law schools of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings to the 1963 Session of the General Assembly.

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

CLOSING REMARKS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this will be one of the last opportunities I will have to speak at this Session, I am sure. Possibly, next Sesison many things might be changed or things might be different, and I may not be at this microphone. Therefore, I would just like to thank, not only the Members with whom I have served, but also the employees of the Senate, and all of the Members who make up this Body, including the Press, most of whom try to report what goes on here. I want to thank the entire Body for the co-operation given me in the two years that I have been here as Majority Leader.

I want to assure everyone here—as I have said a number of times on this floor and I want to make sure it is in the record now—that the work of the Legislature is never the work of any one man. It is the sum total of what all of the people do here, both Republicans and Democrats. It is the compromises that are hammered out on many of the controversial issues. I am sure that all of the bills that we get always reflect the general feeling of the public. Sometimes we are a little bit ahead of the public in many of the areas we are in.

In many areas, our State is far ahead of others. This is not something that I have heard or seen somewhere, or that someone has told me. This has been as a result of personal observation made by myself and other Members who serve on the various boards and commissions, and who come in contact with other States. In many areas, we are far superior. Of course, there are always going to be areas where we are not ahead of all of the other States and where we are not in the forefront. It is our job and our duty, as members of the board of directors of this large corporation, known as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to try to repair to that area and try to get our State into that area where we can be first and where we can exceed and do better.

I would not want to leave here—because no one knows the role we will play in the next Session, whether we will be the Majority or the Minority, or whether I will be the leader or some other person will be the leader—without, on behalf of myself, personally thanking everyone for the co-operation and the kind of help they have given me in the two years that I have been here in my present capacity. I can assure this same co-operation to whoever will be the next leader, whether it be on the Democratic or the Republican side, and to the President pro tempore of the Senate as well. I especially want to thank everyone for the help and the co-operation they gave me.

I also would like to say a word about Senator DiSilvestro, who is the President pro tempore. We have not rehearsed this, I assure you. I can also say this about the former President pro tempore, Senator Taylor. The leadership here is very hard. People who are in the leadership need all the help and guidance they can get. It is difficult sometimes when you are trying to carry out a program or trying to carry out something that is being done in the heat of the battle that goes on here,—and there are fifty Senators, who have fifty distinct problems relating to their own areas—and you need some help from the Presiding Officer or the person who is in charge of the machinery here.

My experience here has been that both of these gentlemen have been most helpful and have been most encouraging at times when things did not seem to go as we had hoped they would go, or sometimes when we hit a snag, we got this kind of co-operation.

To the Membership of the Senate, the Caucus Chairman, Senator Stiefel, the Majority Whip, Senator Lane, and Senator Sarraf, who acted as the Caucus Secretary, these people in their roles as leaders played invaluable parts in producing a lot of work that was done by the Legislature. I just want to personally say thank you to them, and also to people like Mark Gruell and others at the desk who have also been very, very helpful, as well as the Lieutenant Governor, who has presided through some difficult Sessions.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I certainly would be amiss if I did not endorse the remarks made by the Majority Leader, Senator Weiner, and say that on behalf of all of colleagues in the Republican Caucus, and certainly myself, personally, we wish to extend our thanks to all of the elected officers and the employees of the Senate who have performed their services so well and without whom the Senate could not possibly function.

I want to also thank the members of the Press for their co-operation. I wish to say that we on this side appreciate the courtesies extended to us by the officers of our opposing Caucus. Of course, we have found some areas where we were not in complete agreement on matters of legislation, finance and other important problems of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. However, we have been able to work out most of them and the spirit of compromise has been present in many of our deliberations.

Consequently, Mr. President, I want to say to all of the Members of the Senate, all the people connected with the Senate, and particularly to our President pro tempore, Thank you very much for all of the courtesies extended to all of the Senators on this side of the aisle. I know that goes for every Member of the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, at the closing days of every Session there is always a certain amount of nostalgia which prevails in the Senate. We know that when the new Session of the Legislature begins, there will be some of us who will not be present in this Senate. We know of several on the other side of the aisle who are voluntarily retiring. I must say, Mr. President, that I have had the good fortune over the years to attend quite a number of the final days of the Sessions in this Senate. I have appreciated very much the opportunity to work with all of these gentlemen.

Those gentlemen on the other side must take their position, and I think it is good. We on our side must take our position, because I am a firm believer in the two Party system. At this past Session, we certainly did have a potent minority. I still think it is good. Good legislation, general speaking, is the result of sound thinking and compromise. I believe we have done a fairly decent job during this Session.

I want the Membership to know that I might have spoken out of turn at times, but I did not mean to offend any Member of this Senate. I have a wholesome respect for each and every man and their ability to represent their District.

Mr. President, I recall a speech made one time by Senator Walker with reference to politicians. I do not know whether I am a politician or not, but I am a public official. I respect the Members of the Senate as being politicians because they are dedicated men. I do not believe there is one man in this Senate who has not dedicated himself to work for the best interests of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. To me, I think that is a great asset. We meet a challenge here every day. By some means, we must overcome that challenge. Where we have these challenges, Mr. President, it brings about sound thinking. That is what is needed in the Senate of Pennsylvania and I think we have it.

Mr. President, I want to thank everyone for their fine co-operation. In particular, I want to thank the newsmen because they have been very fair. However, once in awhile I felt they got off the reservation perhaps a little bit to the right and a little bit to the left. Nevertheless, human frailties being such as they are, naturally, we cannot agree with everyone. They have a job to do, too, and they have tried to do their job as they think it should be done.

Thank you very much for listening to me. I hope to see all of you back at the next Session, although I know that Senator Stevenson will not come back and neither will Senator Mallery. However, I hope the rest of the gentlemen come back because we have a fraternalism here in this Senate. You know, it has often been said by the Members of the House: "Those Senators will fight each other, but do not allow an outsider in because the whole Senate will fight him." I think that is true.

Senator Taylor is laughing over there. I remember one time when Senator Taylor said that he did not mind fighting with the Democrats on the Democratic side, but he did not want any outsiders to fight with us. Therefore, we feel pretty good about it.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I would like to thank Senator Berger, the Minority Floor Leader; Senator Weiner, the Majority Floor Leader; the rest of the Senators; and my very close friend, Senator Taylor, for the wonderful co-operation rendered to me during this Session.

The Senate is a dignified Body and those who try to belittle the dignity of the Senate of Pennsylvania are not doing any good service to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. When I say that, I have in mind not only those within the rail enclosure, but also those outside. I can say that ninety-nine and three-quarters per cent, or maybe a better average than that, have always been respectful to the Senators of Pennsylvania and to the lawmakers of Pennsylvania. When I say that the Senate is a dignified group, I am happy that in the past few months I have done everything in my power to uphold the dignity of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

In terminating my remarks, I think I was inspired by Senator Lane when he said that whenever a problem came up, the Senate acted as one body behind the Senator or the colleague who was being disturbed. That brings to mind the fact that everybody said something about Senator Stevenson yesterday. However, I have been too emotional during the last few days and I felt that in speaking about Senator Stevenson, Senator Mallery and Senator McMenamin, I might be overcome by that Italian emotion. Therefore, I just refrained from saying anything.

I cannot forget the days of the 1937 flood, when I looked to the right and saw an anemic looking figure, Charlie Mallery, who was worried about the land that he represented up around Altoona and the nearby counties.

I remember one night while I was riding up Broad Street, in Philadelphia, with Senator Jaspan, we heard a squeaky voice on the radio. The voice said: "What do you think? Why should a mayor of a town of 10,000 people tell Philadelphia, where there are hundreds of thousands of inhabitants, what to do?"

Senator Jaspan said that he would answer him when the opportunity arrived. I said that I would answer him also. So, when the day did come and the bill came up for consideration, I beat Senator Jaspan to the punch. I gave a dissertation about the colleague to my right, notwithstanding the Party to which he belonged. He was a brother Member and I got up and did my duty as I know anyone on that side would do.

I cannot leave the halls of this Senate tonight without expressing my affection, devotion and friendship for Charlie Mallery and George Stevenson who, for me, have been men of high integrity and respectability in this General Assembly.

COMMENDING ROY A. SCHAFER, SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there is just one other person I think who ought to be mentioned. One of the unsung heroes I think, of the Lawrence Administration, who has done a notable job as a liaison man between the Legislature and the Governor's Office, is Roy Schafer. He is a lawyer from Pittsburgh, a real decent fellow and a good guy, who has done a laudable job in working out many of the problems, and carrying back and forth the detailed work that had to be done, and doing much of the hard work not only in a very quiet way but in a very diplomatic fashion.

At the very time when tempers sometimes get caught and people get caught in partisan views, Roy has been right in there doing a good job and doing it in a fashion that makes a lot of us proud of him not only as a lawyer, but as the kind of young person who is serving in government. I do not care which Administration is in office, we would do well to have somebody like Roy Schafer.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FOR THE INTERIM

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At this time, we will proceed with the election of the President pro tempore for the interim.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in accordance with the requirements set forth in Article II, Section 9 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I wish at this time to place in nomination the name of the Honorable Anthony J. DiSilvestro for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is my great honor to second the nomination of Anthony J. DiSilvestro as President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I also would like to second the nomination of my good, personal friend, Senator Anthony J. DiSilvestro.

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other nominations? If not, the Chair declares the nominations closed.

On the election of the President pro tempore for the interim, the Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and resulted as follows:

PRESENT—1

DiSilvestro,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Honorable Anthony J. DiSilvestro having received forty-nine votes, with one voting "present," the Chair declares the Honorable Anthony J. DiSilvestro duly elected President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania for the interim.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT, FOR THE INTERIM, TO THE ROSTRUM

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair takes pleasure in naming as the committee to escort the President pro tempore-elect, for the interim, to the rostrum: the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner; the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane; and the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor.

The committee will proceed in the performance of its duty.

(Whereupon, the President pro tempore-elect for the interim was escorted to the rostrum of the Senate.)

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH OF OFFICE TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The oath of office will now be administered to the newly elected President pro tempore of the Senate by the Honorable R. Dixon Herman, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

(The oath of office was administered accordingly.)

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Thank you, Judge Herman. Thank you very much.

Gentlemen of the Senate, I am sure you know what my thoughts are and what my heart is dictating at the present moment. I am the President pro tempore of the Senate for every Senator in this room. Every Senator in this room must understand that I am willing to serve each and everyone one hundred per cent. I am not the President pro tempore for one Party or for the other. We are all brother Members, and my interest is for the welfare and the best for the State of Pennsylvania that can be best expressed through the Senators themselves.

This election every few months of the President pro tempore reminds me of the French Parliament. I am lucky that I am not thrown out like some of the Premiers of the French Government have been thrown out.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart, and I hope that everything will go well.

I thank the press, the radio and television, Mark Gruell, all of the members of the employee force, and all of the Senators themselves for all of the co-operation they gave me for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

SENATE RESOLUTION

THANKS OF THE SENATE TENDERED TO HONORABLE R. DIXON HERMAN FOR ADMINISTERING OATH OF OFFICE

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution, which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, February 28, 1962.

RESOLVED, That the thanks of the Senate are hereby tendered to the Honorable R. Dixon Herman, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, for his services in qualifying the newly elected President pro tempore for the interim, the Honorable Anthony J. DiSilvestro.

EXPRESSING REGRET THAT SENATOR HUGH J. McMENAMIN AND SENATOR RAYMOND P. SHAFER WILL NOT BE RETURNING AS MEMBERS OF THE SENATE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, very briefly, I think it is proper to make a statement concerning something that was said by Senator DiSilvestro at the microphone on the floor. We do congratulate him on his election, and we are very happy to have him as President pro tempore of the Senate.

However, I think Senator DiSilvestro said that Senator McMenamin would not be returning to the Senate. I also understand that Senator Shafer will not be returning to the Senate. I want to say to Senator McMenamin that he has been a colleague here for many years, and I do not believe that we have ever had a more able Senator or a more likeable man than Senator McMenamin. We certainly will regret his decision not to return.

Senator Shafer has not been here with us as long, but he has demonstrated his ability and his co-operation with all of the colleagues in the Senate. We will certainly regret losing Senator Shafer along with our very esteemed colleagues, Senator Mallery and Senator Stevenson.

These things must come to pass, Mr. President, but it is always with regret that we note the decisions of our colleagues are such that they will not be among us at succeeding Sessions of this great Body.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you, Senator Berger. I am certain that you and the others who have preceded you have expressed the opinion of all of us with regard to each of these individuals.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman has spoken for all of the Members of the Senate, and I am sure that these remarks spread on the record will be available to these gentlemen not only for this year, but for time to come.

BENEDICTION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wonder if at this time we might have the benediction by the good Father who is here?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The benediction will now be offered by Reverend Stephen A. McCarren, Assistant Pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Ford City, Pennsylvania.

REV. McCARREN. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Divine Master and Supreme Lawgiver, we stand before

You with sentiments of sincere gratitude for the blessings which You have bestowed upon us.

As we bring to a close this term of the Senate, we place before You for Your approval that which we have done. May it find favor in your sight and be deemed worthy of Your infallible approval. We pray that You will find it just, honorable, charitable and wise. If we have made mistakes, we pray that they have been made in good faith and from inculpable ignorance.

Our judgment, wisdom and prudence are but imperfect reflections of Your infinite attributes.

As we return to our private lives, we beg your continuous guidance and protection. We pray for those entrusted to our care, and particularly for those who lead us. Watch over them. Guard, guide, comfort and keep from harm our President, our Governor, our public officials and all who share Your authority.

Support them in their weakness; they are frail. Enlighten them in their decisions; they are fallible. Strengthen them in their convictions; they are human.

Above all, bless them, Lord, and keep them close to Your divine heart so that that which they now do may be so done as to merit for them the eternal peace and happiness of heaven, for this alone is the accomplishment of a truly successful man. Amen.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn sine die.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. This being the day and hour fixed by Concurrent Resolution as the time when the General Assembly shall adjourn sine die, and the hour of 4:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time having arrived, I now declare this 146th Regular Session of the Senate of Pennsylvania adjourned sine die.

May the Lord bless us and keep us.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 28, 1962

The House met at 11 a. m., e. s. t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, to preside.

Mr. BOIES IN THE CHAIR

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, Thou whose Infinite love and tender mercy not only forgives our shortcomings, but also inspires our lives to greater service for Thee. In the closing hours of this session, we pause to thank Thee for Thine unspeakable goodness toward each one of us, for the blessed fellowship we have enjoyed with each other, for the lasting friendships we have been privileged to cultivate, and for the knowledge that Thou dost challenge and aid us to walk in righteousness. O God, in retrospect we are aware of what might have been as well as what should have been; but in human weakness we ask Thy indulgence and pray for Thy forgiveness. And even though some paths may never cross again, we ask that Thou wilt bless the members of this House wherever they may go, guide them in the performance of Thy Will, keep them in the hollow of Thy Hand, and grant them Thy perfect and abiding peace: through Jesus Christ, Thy dear Son, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Journals for Tuesday, February 6, Tuesday, February 13, Monday, February 27, 1962, are approved.

The Chair hears no objection.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McINROY. RESOLUTION No. 54.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

No provision is made in existing law for any insurance coverage or protection of members of the General Assembly against injuries which might be incurred while in the performance of their duties.

Appointed employes of the Commonwealth enjoy the protection provided by the Workmen's Compensation Act, but this act specifically excludes elected officers. Election to the General Assembly certainly does not render a person any more immune from injury than if he was an appointive employe, a fact to which persons with our present membership will readily attest.

If anything, the hazards of elective officials are greater due to the extensive travel which is often necessary in carrying out their duties. Acts against members by demented persons, similar to those which have occurred in other legislative bodies, are also within the realm of possibility.

The fact that an individual is a State Representative or Senator does not mean that he is a man of wealth, as we all well know, and the expensive medical care and other losses incidental to injury could be ruinous to many of the members and their families if they are not afforded adequate protection; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the need for protection of members of the General Assembly against loss in case of injuries which may be incurred while in the performance of their duties, and to determine how and to what extent adequate protection can best be provided; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study to the 1963 Session of the General Assembly, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. KOOKER, Mrs. KERNAGHAN, Mrs. WYND, Messrs. GEORGE, HORST, FOOR, Mrs. MARKLEY and Mr. McINROY. RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Commenting on the personality of America's first Astronaut, Lieutenant Colonel John Glenn, in the Sunday Times of February 25, 1962, Columnist James Reston wrote: "Courage, modesty, quiet patriotism, love of family and religious faith are not exactly the predominant themes of our novels, plays, TV shows, movies or newspapers these days. But Glenn dramatized them all coast to coast and around the world."

Contrasted with the inspiring personality of Lieutenant Colonel Glenn, as representing the best in American life, the seamy side of life is too often exploited by writers and producers of television shows, and in other mass media, which not only have a destructive effect on impressionable young people, but create a bad impression of America all around the world.

The Christian Science Monitor of September 6, 1961, commented editorially:

"Exporting crime, sex and filth! Why do we do this? America invests billions in foreign aid, hopeful that other nations will see the true spirit of this Nation . . . We are concerned that foreign students in this country come to see and appreciate American life at its best . . . Yet we export to the neutral countries we are wooing, and to countries whose loyalty we would strengthen . . . TV films that exploit the seamiest side of American life . . . Why do we do this, or permit this?"

The Christian Science Monitor then quotes a letter from a woman living in Melbourne, Australia, as follows: "Why do you people export so much that is misrepresentative of America? We get 80% of American programs on our TV and, believe me, they represent the worst aspects of American life to such an extent that an entirely erroneous picture of the United States is presented. I am at a loss to understand why—when the United States is so eager to gain a good impression among foreign peoples as to her way of life—you send abroad this mass of media which portrays America as a country of graft, violence, dishonesty, materialism. Parents will not allow their children to watch American programs because of the parade of violence, sex, murder and unnatural behavior . . ."

On the same subject, a Swiss official was quoted in the October 8, 1961 issue of the Harrisburg Patriot, as follows: "We believe in raising our children free from the violence and sex which characterize your American movies and television . . . In America you do not allow children to frequent bars and saloons. No minors may be served alcohol in your country; yet you permit your children to see movies about call girls, prostitutes, gangsters and infidelity. It makes no sense . . ."

Don Wharton, in an article in the March, 1961 issue of the "Reader's Digest," titled "How to Stop the Movies' Sickening Exploitation of Sex,' quoted Martin Quigley, Jr., editor of the "Motion Picture Herald," as follows: "Only when men who currently dictate the making of Hollywood pictures recognize their responsibility to themselves, to the entertainment medium and to the Nation . . ." can the current sickness of the movies be cured. "Others in the industry who finance, distribute and exhibit pictures have an obligation to raise their voices until they are heard."

Don Wharton continues: "Obviously there is no easy solution. Effective censorship is ruled out by the courts. Proposals to tackle the problem by strengthening Hollywood's production code are somewhat naive: the code authorities do not possess the power to enforce a strong code."

Wharton concludes that only through the boycotting of objectionable films can moviemakers be forced to discontinue making them: "If the picture is a 'Sick one,' stay away. Your abstention is the most powerful vote you can cast. It is particularly effective if you patronize worthwhile movies—the contrast will be telling."

Law enforcement officials have frequently stressed the destructive effect of violence, crime and the distortion of sex in movies and on television on impressionable young people.

Observers all over the world note that the image of America, projected through exported movies and television shows, is too often damaged through emphasis on the sordid and seamy side of life; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives call upon the writers, editors, producers, distributors and vendors of movies and television shows and other mass media to strive consciously to avoid the exploitation of crime, sex and violence, and to consciously seek to emphasize the more positive values in American life; and, be it further

Resolved, That writers, editors, producers, distributors and vendors of movies and television shows and other mass media show an active sense of responsibility to the young people of our country and to the image gained abroad of our Nation through export of these media; and, be it further

Resolved, That Pennsylvania residents, both individually and collectively, attempt, through their patronage or the withdrawal of it, to influence writers, editors, producers, distributors and vendors of movies, television shows and other mass media to generally improve the content of their offerings and reduce the emphasis on the sordid and seamy side of life.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. J. H. GOLDSTEIN and DAVIS.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Drawn from a nation of 183 million, only an infinitesimal percentage can and do reach high general or flag rank in the United States armed services.

Even more infinitesimal is the ratio of general or flag rank who reach positions where the responsibilities are regarded as "sensitive" in the lexicon of terms dealing with the safety of the nation from armed aggression.

Accordingly, it is phenomenal when two officers exercising such "sensitive" responsibilities come from a community whose municipal census numbers only fifteen thousand persons.

Specifically, and first, from the Borough of Warren, came Admiral Robert Lee Dennison, U. S. Navy, the Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Naval Forces and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet, a position of paramount world-wide importance. Secondly, the Superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, is Rear Admiral J. F. Davidson, U. S. Navy, a position of the most far-reaching responsibility in shaping the quality, governing traditions, basic knowledge and moral stamina of the nation's naval officers for generations ahead; therefore be it Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Borough of Warren is to be congratulated upon the high and distinguished quality of its citizenship which is so exceptionally indicated by its high command representation in the armed services.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence, resolution numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 105.

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study desirability of laws making tests for phenylketonuria mandatory for all newborn babies.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

CARLISLE Y.W.C.A. LADIES WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We are pleased to have the ladies of the Ladies Day Out program, Y. W. C. A. of Carlisle, Pa. There are 26 women present. The executive director is Mrs. Sid A. Carson. The ladies are here as the guests of the gentlemen from Cumberland, Messrs. George and Kistler.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to request that in a few minutes we will pick up resolutions beginning on page 2 today, but I would like to have a few minutes' delay in which some of the members desire to go to the Governor's reception room at 11:30 promptly for the swearing in ceremony of Mr. Abe Cohen, chairman of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, who will be sworn in for a new term of office in a few minutes in the Governor's reception room.

I would like to have the opportunity of meeting with the minority leader regarding a resolution that he requested to go over and the possibility of amending one.

Will the House be at ease, Mr. Speaker, for five or six minutes?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The House will be at ease.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. GRAMLICH, STIMMEL and BACHMAN. HOUSE BILL No. 105.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for airports and aeronautical facilities.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House a communication which was read by the clerk as follows:

February 28, 1962.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In compliance with Act No. 712 of the 1961 Session of the General Assembly, titled the "Lobbying Registration Act," we herewith jointly present a supplementary list containing additional names and addresses of the persons who, to date, have registered with the 146th Regular Session of the General Assembly. This list also contains the names and addresses of the organizations represented by these registrants.

Respectfully submitted by,
JOSEPH OMINSKY, Chief Clerk
House of Representatives
PAUL C. MOOMAW
Secretary of Senate

(For list of registrants, see Senate Journal pages 469-470 or appendix.)

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we ask that resolutions on page 2 be called up, beginning with Resolution No. 30, and proceed in order except on Resolution 34. There has been a request for an explanation, and I hope the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, if he is here, will be able to proceed.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 30

Mr. J. H. ANDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 30.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1962.

The Federal Highway Law presently prohibits the construction or location of commercial establishments or facilities of any nature on the rights-of-way of the Interstate Highway System

The purpose of this prohibition is highly commendable as it is intended to protect the traveling public from dangers and distractions caused by such establishments and also to protect the scenic beauty of the countryside

A minor exception to this provision in the Federal law however appears both desirable and necessary that exception being authorization for the erection at certain intervals of public telephones

The ready availability of public telephones along these highways would make possible the immediate reporting of any accident or other emergency Such telephones would also add greatly to the convenience of travelers and would not be unsightly therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to make necessary amendments to the Federal Highway Law in order to permit the erection of public telephones within the rights-of-way of the Interstate Highway System and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 32

Mr. GREENLEE. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 32.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1962.

The State of Pennsylvania is in desperate need of new job opportunities which will reduce the number of our unemployed

The lumber industry has always been important to our State and our vast forest reserves provide immense potential for increased employment

Pennsylvania State University has in the past proved very successful in studying and developing new and improved methods and processes for use in agriculture and related products of the earth therefore be it

Resolved That Pennsylvania State University be requested and urged to undertake a study of the lumber industry with a view to developing more efficient methods of logging and of converting logs into lumber and of developing or discovering new uses for lumber particularly for low grade wood

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 33

Mr. GREENLEE. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 33.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1962.

Concern for the present condition of the coal industry has caused various persons bodies groups and institutions to study and inquire into the possibility of discovering new uses for coal including processes for the direct extraction of energy from coal new processes for mining coal and the availability of new markets for coal

Considering the importance of the coal industry to Pennsylvania appropriate action on the part of our State is imperative therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to inquire into and collect all of the information available relating to the coal industry with particular reference to plans or suggestions for new uses of coal including the direct extraction of energy from it new mining methods and the availability of new markets for coal and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study to the next General Assembly

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 34

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 34.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1962.

Whereas The Nuclear Science and Engineering Corporation a corporation duly qualified to do business under the laws of this Commonwealth maintains its principal place of business in West Mifflin Borough of the County of Allegheny and

Whereas Said corporation has been a pioneer in the development of applications of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes and

Whereas This development has resulted in a better way of life for the citizens of this Commonwealth and of the nation and

Whereas The pre-eminence of said corporation has been established and contributes to the position of this Commonwealth as the leading state in nuclear research and industry and

Whereas Said corporation shall dedicate new nuclear laboratories on February 28 1962 in the Borough of West Mifflin of the County of Allegheny therefore be it

Resolved That the members of the House of Representatives meeting in Harrisburg by means of this citation express the due and proper recognition of the Nuclear Science and Engineering Corporation for its role in the development of the nuclear industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, just in case someone is wondering what this resolution is about, I might say that I have a letter here in my possession that might explain it more thoroughly than I could. With the amount of atomic blasts that have been going on in the world, in the United States and in Russia, I think it is very important that we help to sponsor this resolution and have it adopted. It goes on to state: "As you know, the Nuclear Science and Engineering Corporation has participated in government-sponsored studies on radioactive fallout since its inception in 1954. Increase in this work, plus our studies of environmental radiation surveys for the nuclear utilities and other installations handling radioactivity has resulted in our constructing new and enlarged analytical laboratories for low-level radioactivity determinations.

To inaugurate this recent addition to our laboratories, we will hold a dedication luncheon today."

I think that it is very important that we continue in this field of science for the preservation of mankind and I hope that everybody votes "aye."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I appreciate what Representative Filo had to say about this matter. Really it was from this side of the House that we wanted to know something about this activity, because naturally in a nuclear age and in the space age, anything that we can do in Pennsylvania to foster research and development in the field of nuclear energy, we should do. Because as I said here a year or so ago, going into the sixties, which is the space age and the age of nuclear energy, that anything we from Harrisburg, from the State Capital, can do to promote it and foster it, we should do.

In that connection, Representative Tompkins may have something to say about this. He has a resolution which has been joined in by others to look into this plant of Curtiss-Wright at Quehanna, which is out in the western part of the State, and which was built with the idea of going into activity research and development and building products, as a result of the advances of nuclear energy. And it is unfortunate that the contracts and so forth having to do with the Curtiss-Wright Corporation did not develop.

But certainly, we, as a legislature, in connection with that great activity and this research laboratory in Pittsburgh, could well do what we can to preserve that huge installation out at Quehanna and make that into an installation for development and studying of nuclear energy. And I am sure Mr. Tompkins has some ideas on it, and I would be glad to yield to Mr. Tompkins from Emporium, who will give you ideas of some things he has in mind for that particular plant. I realize it is not apropos to this resolution, but this resolution opens up the whole vista of what our State of Pennsylvania can do now that we are going through the cold stage and into an economy based on electricity and aluminum maybe. And with nuclear energy before us, it would be wonderful and we should do something with that plant at Quehanna. So I yield to Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in this connection several other members and myself joined in a resolution to have a committee of this House appointed to look into what might or could be done with the facilities at Quehanna.

Now I know that efforts have been made on behalf of the administration to try to make use of this facility. I also know that a group from Washington was supposed to go out there and look over the facilities tomorrow, but that was cancelled due to other circumstances and the meeting has now been set up for some time early in March. I do not know when the actual visitation will be made.

But I made a proposal in this resolution that the State look into the possibility of the creation of an atomic and space authority for the purpose of having the State try to develop and encourage the peaceful use of the atom and to take its proper place in the space age.

Now a committee at this time, working on behalf of the House of Representatives, certainly would implement and strengthen anything which the administration might do to bring facilities in there under the supervision of the Federal Government and to take a look-see at it.

Now government contracts, unfortunately, although they may last for a number of years, are not going to last forever. If we are going to get in step with the times, we are going to have to do exactly what New York is doing. Now they are going over in Cattaraugus County, outside of Olean, New York, and they are going to build a facility similar to what you have at Quehanna at the present time. They are going to acquire the land, build the buildings and bring their research center into there. They are trying to get in step with the times. Legislation has been introduced in New York State this year—I just got a copy of the bill this morning—to carry this program into effect.

Now we have a ready-built facility out there that is capable of being taken over by this State for the purpose of promoting the age in which we live and the age of the future. And we feel that the efforts of the administration could be very much strengthened by the force and power of the legislature behind it.

We are very grateful for this engineering firm out in Allegheny County. We hope they will expand and do great things. We have nuclear projects being brought into the community such as the General Electric plant down in southeastern Pennsylvania, the one proposed for Peach Bottom, the one that is out at Shippingport, and so forth. But there is no reason why the State should not also lend a hand in the promotion of this the same as they do for other industrial developments, their urban developments, their other authorities which they have in existence for the development of things for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We feel that this Resolution 46 should be reported out of committee and given implementation to put Pennsylvania on the track of the future.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 36

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 36.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

The forests of Pennsylvania are each day becoming increasingly more important from the standpoint of furnishing raw materials for industry employment for citizens areas for recreation protection for our watersheds to prevent sedimentation and to insure a uniform flow of pure water and to provide food and cover for wildlife

Insects and diseases are the most destructive forces of the forests each year destroying thirty-eight million board feet of saw timber trees (trees over twelve inches in diameter) and sixteen million cubic feet of pole timber (trees from six to twelve inches in diameter) while fire destroys only one million board feet of saw timber and only two million cubic feet of pole timber No well organized forest pest program similar to the fire protection program exists in Pennsylvania

The present laws relating to the subject of forest pest and insect control have not been reviewed since 1937 and a need for such review is apparent therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to examine present laws relating to forest pest and insect control and to inquire into the necessity and advisability of changing or improving the said laws and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report to the 1963 session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 37

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 37.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 19, 1962.

Pennsylvania has for many years been in the forefront in the field of consumer protection against mislabeling of consumer goods particularly with respect to foodstuffs

In recent years however more and more evidence has come to public attention of widespread possible abuses in the packaging labeling and pricing of merchandise offered to the public Among these practices are the employment of "odd" weights and sizes the use of small or illegible print in the required weight statement the employment of "slack fill" the multiplication of package sizes bearing in some cases deceptive descriptions the use of "unbased" price reduction statements and other techniques abusive of the confidence of the public

We have for many years considered it to be in the public interest to provide safeguards for the consumer who is not equipped to protect himself from abuses of his confidence therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to examine the law and practices relating to the packaging labeling and pricing of consumer goods and to inquire into the necessity and advisability of changing expanding or improving the said laws and be it further

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission report to the 1963 Session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leaves of absence were granted as follows:

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. HEFFNER for today.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. LIPPINCOTT for today.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 48

Mr. BACHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 48.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1962.

In the 1961 session of the General Assembly an amendment to The Realty Transfer Tax Act was enacted by 1961 Act No. 579 which redefined "document" so as to exclude transfers between nonprofit industrial development agencies and industrial corporations purchasing from them This amendment was adopted with the express purpose of making it clear that such transactions came within the existing exemption of transactions between "straw parties" from the tax

Since the adoption of this amendment the agencies of the Commonwealth charged with the administration of the Realty Transfer Tax Act have taken the view that said amendment created a new exemption and thereby showed that such transactions were not previously exempt from the tax. The interpretation if persisted in will work much to the detriment of the establishment of new industries within our Commonwealth therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares that its intent in enacting 1961 Act No. 579 amending "The Realty Transfer Tax Act" by redefining the word "document" so that it did not include transfers between nonprofit industrial development agencies and industrial corporations purchasing from them thereby excluding such transfers from the tax was intended only as a clarification of existing law to make it clear that such transfers were already exempt from the tax as being between "straw parties" and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly feels that said 1961 Act No. 579 should be interpreted in such a manner as to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended that purpose being to make it clear that the transactions described in said amending act are not now nor have they been in the past transactions subject to the Realty Transfer Tax and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Board of Finance and Revenue

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 56

Mr. T. F. SULLIVAN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 56.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1962.

Whereas The Russian atomic explosions have resulted in a fall-out through rainfall or atmospheric conditions causing cattle to consume the fall-out and

Whereas The radio-active strotium contained in the fall-out penetrates the grass consumed by the cattle and thereafter affects the milk produced and

Whereas The Federal Government has devised a method to extract the fall-out from the milk in order to make the milk safe for consumption and

Whereas Milk moves in interstate commerce it is therefore not sufficient for one state here or there to pass legislation enforcing fall-out extraction therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will provide that milk may not be sold until the fall-out has been extracted from milk in order to make the milk safe for consumption and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States and to the Council of the Borough of Glassport Glassport Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I believe the folks who introduced this resolution had good intent, but I am afraid that the effects of this resolution, if it passes, will be bad. We know from reports we have received that the consumption of milk has decreased. I believe that the publicity which has been spread about the radioactive fallout in milk had a considerable amount to do with that and that is probably the why of this resolution. I am afraid the effect would be bad because of not complete understanding of what this resolution is intended to do.

I want to read into the record a part of an article that was in a paper a short time ago to substantiate what I have said.

"Dairy product sales are being hurt by constant reference in news articles to the use of milk in testing for radioactive materials.

"Fallout reports will be increasingly 'page one' news early in 1962, when the heaviest fallout from the recent series of Russian explosions reaches North America.

"Current fallout is not at danger levels. Should it reach levels for real concern, what should we know about foods?"

That, of course, was a part of a news article a short time ago, and I want to also read a report which is part of an article that I believe was in a paper a short time ago with reference to milk, to substantiate what I said.

These are excerpts from a diet and health statement made by Dr. James M. Hundley, Assistant Surgeon General for the National Conference on Milk and Nutrition.

Mr. Speaker, I would ask the indulgence of the members for just a very short period because I think this is highly important or I would not be up here speaking on this resolution.

This statement is the statement of a doctor who is working with this very subject in milk. He says:

"Rising levels of health have been a prominent feature of the American scene over many decades. Declining mortality, increased longevity, lower infant and maternal mortality rates result."

Now I skip part of this and go down to where he refers to milk:

"Milk and other dairy products make a unique contribution to the adequacy of our diets. Milk is unrivaled in nutritive value, palatability, digestibility and versatility. Its consumption is firmly rooted in American culture as a main pillar to nutritional adequacy. Much of the general improvement in our diets over the last decades can be attributed to increasing consumption of milk and other dairy products."

Now I want to tell you what he has to say about the fallout in milk. I think you probably realize that the reason they have used milk to check the fallout is because it was a simple, easy article to find.

He says: "The amount of radiation in milk, in food generally, in air and in drinking water is under constant surveillance . . .

"Fourthly, the amounts of radioactive material in food generally and in milk specifically are now and have been in the past well below the level of which any actions to reduce intake of radioactivity are indicated according to the Federal Radiation Council's guidelines, which have been accepted by the President. There is no reason whatsoever for the public to reduce consumption of milk or other dairy products due to fear of radioactive contamination. The iodine-131 from the recent Soviet tests has already disappeared from milk. Even the peak levels of strontium-90 expected next spring will still be below levels which the Federal Radiation Council indicates would call for consideration of measures designed to reduce the levels in milk."

Mr. Speaker, I say again, I believe the intent of this resolution is good, but I also believe that it leaves a false impression on the people who read this resolution—the public—that will have a detrimental effect on the consumption of one of the most important foods we have available.

It has been proven that the radioactive fallout in milk is much less than it is in any other food, which this doctor has pointed out, and I think, ladies and gentlemen, that it would be a mistake at this time to pass this resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Fox.

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of this resolution, Mr. Sullivan.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sullivan, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. T. F. SULLIVAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, the first question I think we should have answered is whether there has been a standard established by the health officials in either our State or in the Nation to indicate the danger point or a point where the radioactivity in milk or in other foods is dangerous through consumption to human health? Has such a standard been established?

Mr. T. F. SULLIVAN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot hear the gentleman.

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, the question I was asking Mr. Sullivan was this, whether the Federal health officials or State health officials have established standards that indicate when milk, or any other food product, has an amount of radiation in it which would be harmful to people? Have such standards been established?

Mr. T. F. SULLIVAN. Mr. Speaker, to the best of my knowledge, there has been no standard established on this subject.

Mr. FOX. Will the gentleman tell me whether there is a proven and effective and workable method of taking this radioactive condition out of milk?

Mr. T. F. SULLIVAN. Mr. Speaker, not being smart about it, but I am sure if I knew that I would not be a legislator.

I would like to say this to the gentleman, I am not going to get into the technical side of radioactive fallout in regards to this particular problem, but I do say all the resolution asks for is that the Congress of the United States looks into the possibility of passing legislation in order to make sure that we are not contaminated by such event. Now, since milk is an interstate product, no particular State could pass legislation governing this particular subject, so all I am asking—I am not an expert on it—is that the government of the United States looks into the possibility of enacting legislation in order to protect the citizens in this regard. That is as much as I can tell the gentleman.

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for the answers to the questions. I would like to make just these brief comments on this resolution.

First of all, very often we have resolutions here memorializing Congress to do something or other and we do not bother to consider whether they are wise or not. We just almost automatically pass them. I think it is foolish, in the first place, to do that. We should not ask Congress to do something unless we know it is a common sense thing to do, unless it is something that we might do ourselves.

Now we are asking them to require a certain process to be done to one of the most important food products we have. At this point we do not know whether there is such a process that can be done. We further do not know whether anyone in the health field has as yet established standards to determine when this should be done. Then, if they should enact such legislation requiring that it be done, it would require tremendous inspection to see that all milk was treated in this manner. Therefore, we are acting, if we pass this resolution, very ill-advisedly, I believe.

I think then the other reason that I would give for opposing this resolution, other than the fact that we do not know anything about it yet and that we are asking them to do something we do not know anything about, would be this: People are very sensitive about these things that might cause harm to them physically. We have seen cases where a couple of years ago cranberries were taken off the market because somebody said a certain agent used might make them cancer-producing; we have seen harm to the cigarette industry because of articles about cancer-producing agents in cigarettes and we have seen harm to the milk industry because of unproven charges about the starting of heart conditions by using milk.

The very passage of a resolution like this, indicating that there might be radioactivity in milk, which we have not yet found to be true, the very passage of this and the publication of information about it will cause many people who do not read fully to think that there is a deplorable condition existing, that there is a condition where milk is contaminated and it should be taken care of. That condition does not exist, as far as we know.

I am sure that the public health people are fully aware of the danger and are going to protect us. We are merely causing a scare condition if we pass resolutions like this.

Of course, this same condition of radio activity would and could prevail in other foods, as well as milk. If it prevails in one food, it is going to prevail in the other. Therefore, we are singling out one particular food and putting that particular food industry in jeopardy.

I think it would be very unwise to pass a resolution like this without a great deal more information. I ask all the members to vote against it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Farabaugh.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make one brief statement. If this resolution had asked for an examination of all food and not spelled out milk alone, I would have no objection to it. But the point is, you are pointing out milk which would indicate that there is something wrong, and we know there is not.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call on this resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to have one word about this resolution before you put it to a vote.

I glanced at this resolution this morning; and if Representative Farabaugh had not opened the discussion on it, I certainly had intended to because I am afraid we might be doing a wrong thing to the milk industry and to the people of this State as a whole if we pass this. I wonder if we know what we are doing when we memorialize Congress to, in effect, say that every quart of milk in Pennsylvania henceforth, before it can be consumed, would have to be subjected to this test. Right now the only test, as I understand it, that is necessary is that milk has to be pasteurized and there is a minimum butter fat content that it must contain. You are certainly opening up a new vista here of some type of regulation in the milk industry, and I do not believe that this thing has had enough study. I believe we will be doing a wrong thing if we pass it.

I would, therefore, ask the members on our side of the House to vote "no" on this resolution. Not that we do not want clean milk, but I think we may not be doing the right thing.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, rise?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. To speak on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. If I understood correctly, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Farabaugh, inferred that the decline in the sale of milk was due to the scare brought about by atomic bombs. We feel this conclusion is unsound. We feel that the failure to bring about proper marketing provisions in accordance with the needs of the consumer is the basic reason.

Now to speak particularly about this resolution, what harm is there in asking Congress to investigate and pass proper legislation. If, as a matter of fact, scientific investigation shows that you do not need this type of legislation, then it will not be passed. But if the life of one individual in this State, in this Nation, can be saved by this resolution, we should pass it. Whether or not we sell milk is not the primary issue. The issue is whether or not we are going to save the lives of our children. I say that we on our side should vote in favor of the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION

URGING GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY TO RESCIND ORDER TO CLOSE SCRANTON PLANT

Mrs. MUNLEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Whereas, The General Electric Company has announced it will close down the Scranton tube plant and remove the work to the South; and

Whereas, This act of the General Electric Company would mean great hardship to the 340 production workers who would lose their livelihood, and would mean deprivation and want to their families; and

Whereas, The loss of the $1,600,000 annual payroll from the GE plant would be a severe blow to the economic life of the city and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Closing the plant would make a mockery of the area development program and all similar efforts to improve economic conditions in Scranton and other distressed areas; and

Whereas, The General Electric Company has itself admitted that the Scranton tube plant has been a profitable operation, and GE overall increased its profits after taxes to $243,000,000 in 1961, a 21% increase over 1960; and

Whereas, GE has stated publicly that it enjoys excellent labor relations with the union, Local 125 of the United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America (UE), most of whose members have worked in the plant since it opened 16 years ago; and

Whereas, The General Electric Company must recognize and carry out its obligations to the people of the community and the state where its profits are created; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge Ralph J. Cordiner, Chairman of General Electric, to rescind his order closing the Scranton plant; and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon the Government of the United States, particularly the President and the Defense Department to do everything in their power to prevent this economic disaster that now faces Scranton and the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, and to the United States Deparment of Defense.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it seems that this session of the General Assembly, and last session too, we had numerous resolutions imploring corporations planning to leave Pennsylvania to please stay here. I recall one up in Berwick, the Chester Ford Motor Company situation and now we have another one having to do with the General Electric Company.

We, naturally, on both sides of the aisle should be wholeheartedly in favor of this resolution and certainly plead with this great company to not only remain in Scranton, but to expand its facilities in the State, because we have always said that Pennsylvania has everything. That should be our slogan. We have land, labor, capital, enterprise, ingenuity, fuel and wonderful means of transportation both by rail and by turnpike and by sea and by air. As I said, we are a tremendous State and it is too bad that a company as big as the General Electric Company would see fit to remove this installation.

The real reason for my taking the floor is that this fall I had the opportunity to tour the Chrysler and Plymouth plant in Detroit. I talked to the chairman of industrial relations for the Chrysler Motor Corporation and we discussed the plant that the Chrysler Corporation built up in the coal regions, I believe it is at or near Scranton. And here was an amazing thing. We had always heard in Pennsylvania for the last 20 years that the reason industry was, perhaps, reluctant to locate up in the coal mining areas was that the workman was not trained, he was essentially a coal miner and would not adapt himself readily to the intricacies of operating precision tools, and things like that, and maybe because of being trained by John L. Lewis they would not make good workmen, and so forth. I discussed that with this particular gentleman from Chrysler, and he said that certainly is not true, that the best plant they have in their entire system for labor efficiency, for output per man-hour, for steadiness of employment and devotion of the personnel is this plant that has been built up in Scranton by the Chrysler people. So they were very assuring words and, certainly, I thought to myself, and I am sure other members of the party with me felt, if that is true up there and these rural people up in that area have so indicated by their desire to work and their performance, other plants could well locate up in the coal regions to relieve the unemployment caused through no fault of the people up there.

Therefore, I think this resolution is a good resolution and we should support it 100 percent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, with the resolution presented by the lady from Lackawanna, Mrs. Munley, pertaining to the General Electric plant at Scranton, Pennsylvania, we certainly concur wholeheartedly. This, of course, affects 340 people, production workers, who are employed at the General Electric plant in Scranton, Pennsylvania. We find the situation that the tax climate of the Commonwealth is continually improving. This has been certified to by the chambers of commerce, by the business people in the Scranton area and certainly by people from the other PIDA plants that have been brought into the area. The workers are excellent, well-trained workers, including skilled workers that are needed. We hope that this resolution, which should be adopted unanimously, would prevail upon the Secretary of Defense, Mr. McNamara, and the President of the United States, urging their assistance in trying to keep this plant at Scranton, Pennsylvania. We certainly have done everything we can to try to assist in every way, and this resolution is our only form of expressing our position. At the same time, as earlier was stated here today, there is a discussion regarding the Quehanna plant, and the National Aeronautics Space Administration will be meeting there in an effort to secure a program for the Quehanna plant.

Therefore, we ask that our members vote unanimously in favor of this resolution trying to assist in keeping the General Electric plant at Scranton, Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the lady from Lackawanna, Mrs. Munley.

Mrs. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to thank both floor leaders. Coming from a distressed area, they know how much we need these plants.

I would also like to thank the minority floor leader for the kind words he said about the people who work in the Chrysler plant, because that happens to be in my town. And I would like to say at this time that the people in my district are real hard-working people. They are all for work if they only can get it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

DESIGNATING MAY 1 AS LAW DAY

Messrs. McCANN, TOMPKINS and A. M. LEE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

In order to rededicate Pennsylvanias to the principles of the democratic form of government; to emphasize that our's is a government of law and not of men; and to further our philosophy that "the welfare of the people shall be the supreme law;" therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Governor of Pennsylvania is hereby requested to designate and dedicate May 1st of each year as Law Day U. S. A.; and, be it further

Resolved, That it is not the purpose of this resolution to declare another legal holiday but a day to solemnly declare allegiance to the principles of democracy and respect for law.

RESOLUTION

EMPLOYES

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Whereas, certain employes were elected by this House during the Session of 1961, by Resolution adopted July 13, 1961, in accordance with the requirements of Act 428 of 1959, and

Whereas, some of these employes were furloughed as of September 15, 1961, or subsequently were dismissed or resigned, and

Whereas, some employes were recalled for service in the House during the Regular and Special Sessions of 1962, and other employes hired or removed from the employe roll during that period; therefore be it

Resolved, that all employes who have served in the House in their assigned positions since the beginning of this Legislative Session, where election by the House was required, are hereby confirmed and approved as having been elected by this House prior hereto, and be it further

Resolved, that the Speaker, acting through the Chief Clerk is authorized to furlough or dismiss, at the end of this session, any employe so elected, with the exception of the Chief Clerk and the Secretary of this House.

RESOLUTION

COMMENDATION

Messrs. ADAMS and WEIDNER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Patrolman Frederick Lubas of Reading, Berks County, recently showed extreme courage and coolness in the performance of his duties as a police officer. His services to his community in the upholding and preservation of law and order have shown merit since his appointment as a patrolman; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby commends Mr. Frederick Lubas for his courage and honor in the performance of his duties; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Frederick Lubas, 522 S. 15th Street, Reading, Pennsylvania.

REQUEST FOR RECESS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to request a recess of one hour and ten minutes for the purpose of lunch and ask that the members come back here promptly at 2 o'clock, at which time the first roll call will be taken on Senate bill 8, also roll calls on Senate bills 17, 19, 20 and 15, and the additional closing program we have in addition to the sine die program. So, I would ask the membership to come back at 2 o'clock following a break for lunch.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour and ten minutes.

The Chair hears no objection, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

Mr. DOUGHERTY IN THE CHAIR

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gray, rise?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I consider it a distinct honor and privilege to make these few remarks today. This is the first time in this session I have had this opportunity.

I want to thank the membership for their kind thoughts and remarks in my days of illness.

I represent the 4th Legislative District of Philadelphia. The boundaries are Washington Avenue to Moore and from 18th Street west to the Schuylkill River. The district represents a cross-section of America. I am grateful and sincerely thankful for the warm reception given me by the members of the Assembly. I thank you.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 8, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the Commonwealth to create additional debt and to issue bonds for the acquisition of land for parks reservoirs and other conservation and recreation and historical preservation purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, this resolution, I think, pertains to the famous, much talked-about, and not highly controversial, I do not think, Project 70.

I have, and I imagine all of you have, received this Project 70 report from the Governor's office. I have read it very carefully and would like to make a few remarks in respect to the report and at the end of that I would like to interrogate the majority leader.

On page 3 of this report, and this report is either very cleverly drawn or very badly drawn, they go into chopping up this $70 million, which is where this project gets its name, and I find they have cut it up so that everybody gets in the act. The fish commission, the game commission, department of forests and waters, everybody comes in for a hunk of this $70 million.

However, after they go through all this, then very cleverly, on the next to the last page of the report, this language is found:

"Project 70 directs the State planning board to administer $20 million in grants to local communities for their open-space programs." If I may, at this time, I would like to interrogated the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, on this resolution, we will pass it in 1962, and in all probability it will be brought up again in 1963 and then it will be submitted to the voters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in November of 1963. I think that is correct?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Would this resolution, Mr. Speaker, go into effect using this report, or would we have to enact legislation to take care of it?

Mr. McCANN. If this resolution would pass its second round and be placed on the ballot and voted in the affirmative by the voters of this Commonwealth, the General Assembly would have to enact the necessary legislation to implement this resolution.

Mr. HOCKER. Then, of course, they in their wisdom, whoever may be here, would have the final say as to where the money went. They would not have to abide by this for the planning board or the fish commission; it would be coordinated into one body, would it not?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is absolutely correct. They could reject entirely the recommendations contained in that booklet and they could, if they saw fit at that time, implement into law specifically what they wanted done in that program.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I was a little disturbed when I saw that the State planning board would come into $20 million of this, because, in my opinion, the State planning board is set up primarily for planning. They are not an administrative body, in my way of looking at the thing. I think they were a creature created probably by the legislature for the sole purpose of planning the future for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

That being the case, the legislature, whoever it may be in 1964 or 1965, will have the right to say whether we coordinate all of this together, whether we bring all these branches together, which some people seem to think would be the thing to do. There are many rumors that the forestry department, the game and fish and wildlife departments should all be coordinated into one department.

But be that as it may, I am satisfied that the people of this Commonwealth—and as far as the report is concerned, in my opinion, that is the best part of the report or the resolution—that the people of the Commonwealth, the taxpayers, will have the right to say whether or not the government shall borrow and spend $70 million for a project such as this.

I have no quarrel with it, because if the people see fit to enact it, then the legislature will certainly have the guide as to how they think it should be done.

While I am on this subject, and I think it is pertinent to the question, we have many, many facilities in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which are in this category which for some unknown reason cannot or are not being used for the good of the Commonwealth. On Sunday I took time to take a drive 22 miles out Route 22 to our famous Indiantown Gap Military Reservation. We have one of the most beautiful man-made lakes at this institution that I think I have ever seen. The fish are lying in there waiting for someone to take them out. There is plenty of recreation there for the people from my area, the people from the county of Lebanon, the people from the county of Schuylkill, which all surround this. There is plenty of space available there for the most gorgeous park you could imagine.

This lake must be 40 or 50 acres in size and there it is, and all around this thing they have signs about 4 by 5 with the big letters no, n-o. I stopped at one of the signs and it says, no fishing, no trapping, no swimming, no this, no that. In fact, I looked over it very carefully and the only thing it does not say is no breathing.

It is the greatest waste of money I ever saw in my life. Do not get excited about it, because my people, the Republicans, when they were in power, built it. It hurts me as a Republican and it should hurt you to think that through two Republican administrations and now two Democratic administrations, because the Adjutant General has the most gorgeous home on a jetty out into this lake, that no one else in Pennsylvania can participate in it.

This, to me, is foolish. And I think if you people go back home and will look around, you will find many more places like I am speaking of. Now I know the argument they will give is that it is a military reservation, somebody might get hurt. Well, if Weber and Hay and Biddle and the rest of them did not get hurt, it will not hurt anybody else.

I say to you, think this over carefully. I am going to vote for it because the people have a right to choose, the people will say. But if I am a candidate, I will also campaign up and down my county and show them places where, if the State were liberal enough, the "biggety wigs" from this State would say, here it is, you can have it, it won't cost you a dime. Mr. Speaker, I thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that Project 70, as Senate bill 8 is commonly called, has been discussed in various meetings, various groups, by individuals, and I certainly am most pleased to note that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, also will join with us in the passage of the first round of Senate bill 8.

Mr. Speaker, I believe this has been debated and discussed in all forms, and I think it would be fitting that we just say that we ask the membership to vote "aye" on Senate bill 8.

Senate bill 8, or a similar bill dealing with the same resolution, will be offered in the 1963 session of the General Assembly, and if it is passed in its second round, it will be placed on the ballot, as the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, stated.

With that, I ask the membership to vote "aye" on Senate bill 8, printer's No. 23, on its first round as a joint resolution proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to take up the kind of a speech that Mr. Hocker made here, but I do want to put a little country talk into this matter. Of course, I will probably vote for it, because my newspaper came out with an editorial that they hoped their Representatives would back Project 70. I would say that the Governor, or whoever put out this folder, did a wonderful job of advertising on Project 70.

I could not sit still, though. You probably remember that I came down here six years ago to follow up some legislation that Bob Kent and Senator Mahany put in here. We have a lake, or a reservoir, in Crawford County called Pymatuning Reservoir. It is 71 miles around and encompasses 16,000 acres, and we were 25 years getting the privilege of using six horsepower motors. Seemingly, somebody somewhere, I am not throwing any accusations, did not want us to enjoy even the water to even get fish out of it. The Water and Power Resources Board has control of the height of the water. A breast was put in to save Sharon from floods and, also to augment the Shenango River in July and August when it happened to be a little low. All I asked at that time was to puddle around in that water before the steel mills got it for whatever use they wanted to put it to.

Now, we have been after Secretary Goddard and the State commissions to improve that up there so we could entertain the people who wanted to come up there. You did give us some more money. Maybe you will see some improvement up there this summer; the Secretary has a nice plan mapped out for us. But my thought here is, rather than take more money and spend it for more ground, we just have that one project that has never been developed over 25 years. Sure, we have a few camps down at Jamestown, just a few, possibly a mile out of that 72 miles of shore line has had slight development. It does not cost any money. It is a lake for the poor people. You can go there and fish and it does not cost a whole lot of money to even get a place to park your trailer. Let us spend this $70 million, or part of it, to do something with the ground that we already have. I have more arguments than that as far as Crawford County is concerned, because we have that goose reserve up there. I went to bat for Mr. Goldman to buy some of that ground that the people have spent a lot more money for than what we were given so that we would have a place for the geese from Canada to light. We have also allocated a portion of our ground in Crawford County for a duck program. There are a good many acres there for which the revenue has been taken away from our schools. And what do we get for it? Ten cents an acre. Now, this, of course, has not been passed by the people yet, but I could not keep quiet. This is only to acquire more land, take it away from the tax rolls, and if the towns, cities, municipalities, or whatever, get the money to develop it sometime, you add to it a huge maintenance bill on top of that.

I think the amendments that Representative Auker put in yesterday had a good deal of merit, if the people understood that this had to be paid for and that we would get the money to finish it. I have talked this over with some of my colleagues in visiting around with them, and they say we need water conservation. All right. How many millions is the Federal Government spending up in Kinzua? Over $100 million. That is to preserve water. What is the government doing in Sharpsville? Nineteen thousand acres, that is to preserve water. We recently voted for a Delaware compact. That was to preserve water. We have another project in Butler County, Muddy Creek. That was to preserve water and promote recreation. Why not spend some of this money? Why not actually go out and get some money like the Korean bonus, or something or other, and put that money into development such as we have started now with millions and millions of dollars invested. This is a question. I am not saying I am going to vote against this. It is not proper to vote against a referendum. Gentlemen, think of it seriously and see what is the best course to take. Get the money, develop what we have. If we were to take that money today, put it in a savings account, or better than that, put it in mutual funds, by the time that this thing would come to pass that money would have doubled or maybe tripled and by that time we could pay more money for this ground that lies around some of the cities that we want to make a green belt around.

Thank you for listening, gentlemen.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, is this the first time around on this amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate bill 20, printer's number 20, is the first round on this joint resolution changing the residence requirements in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, one further question. Did we not have a similar bill in the last session, but it was limited, the residential requirement was limited to that of presidential years?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is absolutely correct, that bill passed this House. If I remember correctly, it did not pass in the Senate, or it did not move from committee, I am not sure which, but, the gentleman is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. May I ask why we are making this the general proposition, instead of limiting it to presidential elections?

Mr. McCANN. I could not speak as to the exact reason this joint resolution changes this proposal in the Constitution dealing with the residence requirements for all elections, Mr. Speaker. I believe it requires ninety days' residence.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, we put a resolution through this House last session providing for ninety-day-residential requirements in presidential election years. Although it is statutory that a person, to qualify for DPA, must be a resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for one year, I wonder if perhaps the background story on that might not have been this constitutional provision with reference to a year's residence to qualify for voting. If this is passed, might we not find ourselves in the position of being pressured to reduce the residential requirements for DPA recipients from one year to ninety days? I am going to vote for the amendments this session, but I am raising that issue of whether we might not be inviting ourselves that issue to be solved at a later date.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, that the clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JIM. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker, today when the House adjourns sine die, for the information of the members of this House, the people of my district and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I am on my sixth year of 100 percent attendance, 100 percent voting record.

This is an accomplishment, I believe, of my faith and prayers in divine guidance for good health.

My thanks to the Speaker and members of the House for your attention to my statement.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I am sure the House wants to congratulate the gentleman. For a minute I thought he was going to sing the State song for us, but he disappointed me.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if I may add a word to Mr. Jim's statement, I am sure it is the hope and prayer and desire of every member that they could be recorded on every roll call in every session, and I think it exemplifies something to be able to say that for six years you have never missed a roll call. Certainly the good Lord has been with him; he has never had occasion to be sick that he had to be excused. Perhaps this would be our hopes and prayers that every member could be on every roll call ever conducted in this House. I add my thanks to this wonderful record.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to give my record. I will leave that up to Mason Dennison. We are all practical politicians. We all do favors for our people back home and it is very seldom that we ever receive any thanks. Before we adjourn today I should like to take this opportunity, and I hope some of the rest of you join with me, in paying tribute and a big thanks to Joe Ominsky, the chief clerk of the House.

You remember a few years back the deplorable telephone conditions we used to operate under. In fact, I came on the floor of the House one day in a fit of anger and made a speech about it. I think these telephone booths this year have been a real help to the legislators. Joe has been most cooperative. He has installed additional speakers and I have found every time I have asked the gentleman for a favor, he has cooperated. And I would suggest that we all give Joe a rising vote of thanks for the help he has been to the legislature.

(A rising vote of thanks was extended to the chief clerk).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the chief clerk.

The CHIEF CLERK (Honorable Joseph Ominsky). Mr. Speaker, on behalf of my staff I want to thank you all for this gracious vote of confidence you have given us for the service that they have given you. Without their help, of course, you know we could not do the things that Representative O'Dell has so ably set forth before you. May I also add that when this session is adjourned, you are welcome to receive the same service during the interim.

Thank you very much for your confidence.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe Representative O'Dell has opened up a phase of ideas here and I think maybe since we seemingly have finished our calendar, maybe we should move into some of the things we have on our minds.

This being the last day of this historic session, we hearken back to the beginning of the '61 session when we were all newly elected members. It was certainly delightful to come here and see all the flowers and meet the many new members and renew our acquaintances with each other and we looked forward to a good session, which we did say at the close of the '61 session was a fine, excellent session, wherein we did some wonderful things for the people of Pennsylvania. We did it in a bipartisan way as the voting records show.

Now here we are today with the job done in both sessions and we have received word on our side, as you have on your side, that there is quite a number of us who have elected not to return. That, of course, brings an element of remorse here today. We arrived here with an element of gladness when we came here a year and a half ago but now we have some who say they will not be back. And, as far as all of use are concerned, we have to face the people again and when we come back in January of '63 we will be a new body, a newly elected body, and, of course, there will be new faces and new friendships and we will again be faced with the job of taking care of the great State of ours for the next two years.

I might say we are really on a threshold today because we are facing another election. We will all have to face the people again. I think the issues are well drawn. I think you people have done your best to present your side of the program to the people of the State and I believe we, as the loyal oposition, have very effectively set forth the issues as we see them. And now we will face the people this year and it will be up to the people to decide whether you have done a good job the last eight years running our State or whether they want to change and put back the Republican Party.

Naturally we are going to do our level best to fight a hard campaign to win the governorship, win this House and come back here and take over. That is the American system. That is the way we have been doing it for 108 years that the Republican Party has been in existence. It was started, by the way, on this very day, February 28, 1854, as Representative Zimmerman pointed out to me today, and I will say this about the Republican Party: Today we are a vibrant, militant organization. When I campaigned this State in 1959, I covered every nook and cranny in Pennsylvania and I was amazed at the hard core of Republicanism that there is in Pennsylvania. The election last fall showed that the people of this State are essentially Republican. They want to be Republicans and they will vote Republican if we on this side of the aisle give them a program they have confidence in and feel that we will carry out. I feel today, and it was proven in the election last fall, that despite the way the registration is, the people voted Republican. That is as it should be in Pennsylvania now, with the advent of television and the greatest means of communication and the tremendous press coverage we get here, the people are well informed. They are not fooled. They know what is going on and they know what is being done and they express themselves at the polls, and as we depart from here now and go to our homes to face the people we want to wish you all well.

When we closed the 1961 session we thanked all our officers and gave credit for the tremendous job everybody had done to help us carry on and they have done the same thing this session. As I say, we all feel that we have an excellent staff.

I also feel this: that we are leaving a legacy to those who come next time. We leave them a heritage of hard work, of doing a job for our constituents, preserving the two-party system, preserving order and decorum and dignity. I believe we do some things here that are away ahead of other States and they copy us. They think we are a great legislature and one of the finest in this Nation. So therefore I want to say goodbye to all of you. We may be back in a special session but that will be a short-lived affair, but I think we have had a wonderful session and, as I say, we will face the people and come back here and we Republicans hope we are on the winning side. I thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair was glad to hear the minority leader refer to it as going "back" to the Republicans.

The Chair returns the gavel to the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER (HIRAM G. ANDREWS) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny who again has done a workmanlike job.

I will say to these doubtless alarmed members to the right of the middle aisle, don't be "skeered." When they get through fighting they will have to draft a Democrat to fill their ticket.

The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would also like to take a moment or two of time before we close this session sine die to say that also on our side of the aisle there are those who have elected by their own decision not to come back to the House of Representatives. One of these men, of course, is one of the senior members of this House, Mr. Martin Mihm of Allegheny County, who is not here today. He could not be here this week as he was ill. I talked to him on the phone and I wanted in the worst way to have Marty come back to this session yesterday and today because in his over thirty years of service in the House, Marty Mihm of Allegheny County, along with Mr. Norman Wood, has served with Adam Bower and Dean Polen as a committee that handled the greatest portion of the retirement legislation in this and many other sessions.

And then from Lackawanna County, the man we commonly call "Butch," the silent man, Mr. Reidenbach, has been elected by the citizens of the city of Scranton and will not be coming back here as a House member.

I do not know what I could say about "Butch" but that he is a man who in the years I have been here has not made a speech. I just tried to find out when he last made a speech, and I could not find in the record where he had made any speeches, but man, how effective he has been in securing votes and passing legislation. Perhaps it is wiser to be silent than talk so much—you get so much more done.

Then from Philadelphia, Henry Cianfrani, whom I learned to love as he fought so hard and regardless of how plain he tried to talk to me I could not hear what all he ever said, but I am sure I was in complete agreement because he seemed over the years to be one who, when he said, "I'll be here and you can count on me," you worried to beat the devil because you could not find him but he was standing right behind you.

And then, the Speaker's friend, Tommy McCormack. Tommy has elected not to come back to this House, but he will be employed in the capacity of an assistant district attorney, if I read the Philadelphia papers correctly. I can say sincerely and honestly that the years of service of Tom, and his wisdom and deliberation in the caucus particularly, and here on the floor, to me was a great enjoyment and experience because I never knew from one moment to the next whose blood pressure was getting the greatest—Hi's has always been low; I assume Tommy's is high.

Then, from up in the northwest corner of Pennsylvania, from the great city of Erie, this young man named Peter Schaaf. Pete has only been with us a short time and Pete has elected not to come back to the House of Representatives. Here, in my opinion, is a man who could fight you like the devil in caucus and then walk up on the floor and stand beside you and battle legally every point to see that you won and whose emotions at times were greater in external appearance and shown more often than many of us who down deep inside knew how difficult it was. Pete, to you and your lovely family we say, God bless you in good health and we certainly enjoyed your wisdom, your experience and your company here with us.

And then to those whose names are not known, because some will lose in the primary, some will lose in the general election. The records of this House clearly indicate that in both parties, particularly in roughly ten-year cycles, there is a change of a large number of members. This would again be the cycle.

I came here in a ten-year cycle, in 1952, if you recall. Also, this cycle seems to repeat in history for a great number of years, which you find when you study the manual of Pennsylvania and note the change of membership of this House. And some who have served here for years recall others by name.

But there are among us those who sit here today as members, who even though they will fight a just and gallant cause, who fall by the wayside, perhaps in the primary, perhaps in the general election.

It would be my wish and prayer that all who chose could come back to the seat they occupy, because the House would then be Democratic again and we would not have any difficulty because we have learned to operate as a team, sharing one another's doubts and questions, sharing one another's problems, and we could elect men like we have paid honor to here today, Joe Ominsky as our chief clerk; Phil Lopresti, the man who served us up until September of last year, being replaced by our former House member, C. O. "Lefty" Williams of Washington County. And a man that I wonder if any of you have paid too much attention to, from 1959 to the present date today, the man who opened each session of this House as our chaplain. If you have ever listened carefully to his prayers and the one he gave today, as he said the opening prayer the last time in the 1962 session, to Reverend Hoover who has counselled us and to whom we turn so often, we say, thank you, Reverend Hoover.

And so I say to each of you, I wish you God-speed, good health, and may I say honestly that I have not been able to agree with your platform and policies as a Republican, neither have you been able to agree with my platform or policies as a Democrat, but in our great form of government that we live under and operate under, none greater or none better in this world, we sit here together and enact the laws that in our wisdom are the best for the people. It is this type of government that shall forever make this State and Nation the free world that it is today.

I thank you very kindly.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and inform him that the House of Representatives is now ready to adjourn the 1962 Regular Session sine-die, and inquire whether there are any further communications he may wish to make to the House of Represenatives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Governor, Messrs. McCann, A. W. Johnson, and Dougherty.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that we take a moment of time following this resolution to have the members whose names I called out, Mr. Mihm, Mr. Reidenbach, Mr. Schaaf, Mr. McCormack, Mr. Cianfrani, I would like to ask them—that is why I tried to hold them here today—if they would care to take a moment of time, as we do have a little bit of time before we finish our closing ceremony, for any statement they would care to make on the floor. And I would like to ask the one fellow whom I said so much about, who never speaks, I would like to have "Butch" Reidenbach, at least, say a few words.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Reidenbach.

Mr. REIDENBACH. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the procedure of turning these mikes on. I rarely ever have occasion to get to the mike, but I want to say to the members of the House, you do not know how grateful I feel toward each and every one of you. You do not know how I appreciate you good people of the House, the kindness, and all the consideration you have extended to me over the years.

I want to say this in closing, I am going to miss you, but I will return occasionally to say hello. Thank you very much.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, since there is no question before the House and since I have the floor, how can you stop me in the event that I want to continue speaking.

The SPEAKER. Just try it.

Mr. Mc CORMACK. Mr. Speaker, despite the levity of the occasion, it is an occasion that fills me with emotion that I am not accustomed to. There was attributed to the great orator and lawyer, Daniel Webster, when he was arguing the famous Dartmouth College case before the Supreme Court of the United States, the statement, "As I have said, sirs, it is a small college and yet there are those of us who love it." And, Mr. Speaker, to paraphrase that, I want to say that this legislature is one of the greatest institutions in this great Commonwealth. It is a great institution and I am one among you all who indeed has loved it.

Mr. Speaker, I came here as a young man ten years ago, unschooled in the way of parliamentary procedure, and as a result of being put in this crucible I have really gotten an education that no one could purchase.

And speaking directly to the present occupant of the Chair, despite the many seeming difficulties that we have had, I have grown to respect him for his wisdom and his kindness and understanding more than anyone else in this Commonwealth. And I like to think of the many times that I modeled myself after him because, gentlemen, despite his chronological age, he has been a great leader and he has been a great fighter for a powerful legislature. And that is what I wanted to see more than anything else.

I remember when I started here that we did not receive a decent salary, we did not have decent accommodations, but as a result of the wisdom of the Speaker and the foresight of many of our present leaders, to name but a few, the present minority leader, Al Johnson, and Stu Helm and the fellows on our side, Dean Polen, and other leaders, we have really got a first-class legislature today that stands second to none in this great United States.

Mr. Speaker, I have learned a lot here, as I said, that I could not possibly purchase in dollars and cents. I have disagreed many times with the majority; I have disagreed with the minority; and it is true that a lot of people have thought that at times I was a maverick. But I want to say that never once did I get on this floor or never once did I take a position in caucus that was not motivated by what was good for the people of Pennsylvania. I want you to know that I have always been sincere and I say this knowing that at times I have rubbed a lot of people the wrong way.

Mr. Speaker, what I have said here and my record is in the legislative journal for all to see, maybe it is not a proud record, but I offer it for what it is worth, and I thank you all for this wonderful experience you have given me, for the wonderful education I have got. If I have any enemies, I ask them to forgive me as I certainly forgive everyone who might think that they had been my enemy or I had been theirs.

I thank you very much. I hope to see you often in the future and I hope that I always reflect credit in any future position of honor that I hold on this great General Assembly. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and good bye.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia has in writing the expression of my endearing friendship and regard for him.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cianfrani.

Mr. CIANFRANI. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am proud of being a member of the House of Representatives. I have made many friends, and no doubt I am going to miss my friends. I want to say one thing to all the members and my friends: I want to thank God that I was able, politically speaking, to have my son sponsored as a candidate for this office. I can assure my friends that you will find my son the same as you found your truly. I do not want to say goodbye; I will say I will be seeing you all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there is no doubt a number on this side of the aisle who would like to give expression or make some remarks in the nature of farewell. I first would like to yield to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, who would like to read a statement from a member who will not return.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman rom Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I see waiting in the back-:round a committee on the part of the Senate. Perhaps he Chair would like to recognize that committee first.

The SPEAKER. The Sergeant-at-arms will escort the :ommittee on the part of the Senate.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the com-nittee on the part of the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the chairman of the committee on the part of the Senate.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Senate, :he committee is here to advise you that the Senate has :ompleted its business and is ready to adjourn sine die.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the committee.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I think we approach this day with mixed emotions. I said the other day when I was speaking in a gathering in my hometown, speaking on somewhat the same type of an occasion, that I think we approach an occasion such as this with the same feeling that the young fellow had when he saw his mother-in-law drive his new convertible over the cliff.

We do have mixed emotions. We are perhaps happy about some phases of our session being over, but certainly very sad about all the things that we have to face, and that is the loss of the close association with each other that we have as members of this House.

I have two duties to perform. One I am doing completely on my own, without having had any previous clearance. I have the unfortunate experience at this session of losing a colleague who is not going to seek reelection. We have been colleagues and have been running together for these last nineteen years. He has decided for the best interest of himself and his family that he should not seek reelection and is therefore retiring at the end of this session. I want to say to all the members of this House that no member of this House has ever had a more compatable, more congenial, more cooperative member and colleague than I have had during the past nineteen years in my fine friend, W. Mac Guthrie. I am not going to miss him; I am going to miss driving back and forth to Harrisburg with him. I hope that he will take every occasion he possibly can to come back and visit with us.

I do have another duty to perform on behalf of a Republican member of this House from Montgomery County who is not seeking reelection. The member has asked me to read to you her statement because she has, I am sure, very deep personal and emotional reasons for not wanting to make it personally. I asked her to put it in writing, which she did, and I am going to deliver that message to you from her.

To the Members of the House:

Feeling too keenly my self-imposed retirement from these legislative halls, I have chosen to depart without personal good-byes and beg your indulgence to substitute this message.

These last eight years have constituted perhaps the most formidable period of my life. They have been filled with successes and failures, satisfactions and frustrations, personal and governmental. My gratitude is extended to each of you for helping me grow in understanding and strength.

Being forced to this decision by virtue of the fact that God in His wisdom chose to make me, several years ago, the "head of my household," a choice became necessary. I made it with the deepest regrets. My associations with all of you are, in the purest fashion, indelibly imprinted on my mind.

As I leave these halls, I extend to each of you warmest wishes for a happy and satisfying future.

Evelyn G. Henzel.

Thank you.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

Mr. FILO offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the House of Representatives be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House of Representatives is now ready to adjourn the 1962 Regular Session Sine-Die.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Senate to inform that body that the House of Representatives is now ready to adjourn sine die, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Musto, the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, and the committee will proceed upon its mission.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the sergeant-at-arms of the House.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Committee on the part of the House to wait upon the Governor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the chairman of the Committee to wait upon the Governor.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, to inform him the House is ready to adjourn sine die has performed that duty and there is no further business in this session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and the committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to make any speech about the termination of this session of the General Assembly excepting to repeat what I said before in debate on the floor of this House, that I love the House and all its members. The best I could wish all of them is that those who seek reelection will be successful.

Mr. Speaker, I did not make that statement as a swan song or a farewell speech, I made that as a statement in connection with my regard for this House, but we do have some people on this side of the House who have, one way or another, indicated that they do not intend to run again. We are not going to call upon them by name, but if any of them at this time wish to make a statement we will be very glad to have the Speaker recognize them.

The SPEAKER. Before the gentleman from Delaware speaks, the attention of the Chair has been called to the fact that some of the members are removing the plates with their names from their desks. It is the chief clerk's request that that not be done because it destroys the symmetry of the desk and if the member departs and wants the plaque he can doubtless get it because another will replace him. Please do not take the plaques away.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Isaacs.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak briefly on behalf of the Honorable Edwin E. Lippincott, II, the senior member from the county of Delaware. Ted has indicated that he will not come back to the House and, on behalf of my colleagues, I want to say this: He has been our dean for a few years. We respect him highly; we love him; and I might say that I think many of you will agree with me that Ted was one of the keener minds in this House. After the expense account raise we received a couple letters from people in our district criticising us and I think Ted had a classic answer. He answered the constituents and told them that even with the raise he could not afford to remain here and he could not be a candidate for reelection.

He was an able and a sincere member and I know we will all miss him.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. McInroy.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to me this afternoon seems like graduation day. I feel like I am graduating and going out into a life of retirement. I do not look forward to it with dread. I look forward to it with anticipation. There are a lot of big fish that I have been trying to catch for years, and I am going to have more time to catch them. There are some big rabbits, grouse and turkeys, and so on, up there in the fields that I hope to have a little more time to chase.

I, perhaps, feel a little different from some others because I am retiring not very young, since I will be lacking only one month and nine days of being sixty-five when I get through this year, and I have looked forward to that for a long time as my time of retirement.

When I look back over my years, perhaps I will be remembered most for shouting out words like this: Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, and so on.

I want to say to you sincerely today—and I have no reason to say it any other way—that I did not say those words or some of the other words that I said to gain votes. Such talk is feasibly very unpopular, and I did not take the stand up there to act as your chaplain on two occasions to gain votes. I considered my proudest moments when I stood up there as the chaplain of this House.

As I look back on my years, I am also mindful of what is up over where I am pointing now. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Sometimes I wondered, as I listen to certain speeches in the House, just what was the truth, but I hope in the end that we did get the truth and the truth did make us free.

One other thought and I am going to stop. Yesterday morning to me the greatest thrill of the twelve years that I have been here was attending that breakfast, the Governor's breakfast. I would like to leave you with this thought. And being sort of a half preacher, I wish you would listen to this closely if you have not listened to anything I said back through the last twelve years. When I depart and go up above, as I hope I will, I hope to see every one of you there.

I am reminded of what a certain fellow said. He said: "I died and went to heaven and I was surprised at the people I found up there. There were people I never expected to be there and, on the other hand, there were people I did expect to be there who were not there." But I expect all of you to be there. I do not know whether you are going to the same heaven that I want to go to, but I hope you will be there. When you see my obituary in the papers sometime, do not let any tears fall; just say there goes a fellow who had a good time in life. He has lived a full life and has died happily. God bless every one of you.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the sergeant at arms of the House.

The SERGEANT AT ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Committee on the part of the House to wait upon the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the chairman of the Committee to wait upon the Senate.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, your Committee appointed to inform the Senate the House is now ready to adjourn sine die has performed that duty.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the committee, and the committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call on the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Peter Schaaf.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, the majority leader has indicated that I get sometimes emotional, but I am never at a loss for words despite his counsel to keep silent at times.

To say that these four years have been enjoyable is certainly an understatement. I might also say that I do not look upon this as a permanent departure. I have rather made up my mind that I was not going to seek re-election in 1962—and this was, I might say, before the November 7 election of last year—but I made up my mind some time in September. Nevertheless, in October I paid into the pension fund, something I never joined, so I fully anticipate someday coming back here to this rather wonderful place.

Gentlemen and ladies, it is not easy to go. The General Assembly is more than an impersonal thing, to say the least. It is a body of men, and all of what we do and what we say represents the collective ideas, the ideas of thinking men, free men, and certainly it is a tribute to be here. I could thank every one of the 210 members here but it is impossible. I certainly thank my good friend and colleague Julian Polaski. I even thank those two gold dust twins out in Erie County, O'Dell and Blair. We have crossed swords at times, but I think generally we have kept a very kind and considerate opinion of one another. To say that I could stop there is impossible. Needless to say this fellow down here who sits as our floor leader, despite the fact that he murders the English language sometimes by calling things the "ominous road bill" and despite his great influence over the members of this body, he seldom has the last word as far as Hi Andrews is concerned, a truely remarkable man. He looks somewhat irritated right about now because I say kind things about him but he is, and I say to you, sir, you are a truly remarkable man.

And if I had one word of caution for the gentlemen and ladies of this House to pass on to the incoming members of the 1963 session, I would say, beware of those fellows from Bucks and Northampton Counties, Gallagher and Prendergast, true and wonderful fellows, my friends. Thank you all, very, very much.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, I am one of those silent-type members that have been talked about and it is with some emotion that I speak to you today.

It is a little difficult to say goodbye, farewell, to something that has been about a third of your life. I came here in 1943. At that time there were 208 members. At this present time there are five Republicans remaining besides myself and also five or six—I got the information from the chief clerk's office—Democrats who were here when I came.

I have enjoyed serving these many years, having served under five Governors and six Speakers. It has been an experience which I will never forget. I have made friendships that I will cherish the rest of my life.

I want to say a word at this time about my colleague, Stuart Helm, to thank him for the kind words he said about me. He has been my closest friend and counsel during all these years. He has brought much prestige to this House as a former Speaker, and also as the chairman of the Republican Council.

I also want to say that over these 20 years I think this House has grown immeasurably, has grown in stature. The dignity and decorum we have did not always prevail in this House. I think the Speaker and the officers of this House are to be congratulated and I want to extend to each and every one of you members my best wishes, you who are leaving and also the ones who are coming back. I have enjoyed serving with you and I will always cherish those memories.

Relating to the interpretation of Act 579 amending "The Realty Transfer Tax Act."

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 15

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses on House bill numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 15.

A Supplement to the act of April 1, 1863 (P. L. 213), entitled "An act to accept the grant of Public Lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of Agriculture Colleges" making an appropriation for carrying the same into effect.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1962.

Whereas, The General Electric Company has announced it will close down the Scranton tube plant and remove the work to the South; and

Whereas, This act of the General Electric Company would mean great hardship to the 340 production workers who would lose their livelihood, and would mean deprivation and want to their families; and

Whereas, The loss of the $1,600,000 annual payroll from the GE plant would be a severe blow to the economic life of the city and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Closing the plant would make a mockery of the area development program and all similar efforts to improve economic conditions in Scranton and other distressed areas; and

Whereas, The General Electric Company has itself admitted that the Scranton tube plant has been a profitable operation, and GE overall increased its profits after taxes to $243,000,000 in 1961, a 21% increase over 1960; and

Whereas, GE has stated publicly that it enjoys excellent labor relations with the union, Local 125 of the United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America (UE), most of whose members have worked in the plant since it opened 16 years ago; and

Whereas, The General Electric Company must recognize and carry out its obligations to the people of the community and the state where its profits are created; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge Ralph J. Cordiner, Chairman of General Electric, to rescind his order closing the Scranton plant; and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon the Government of the United States, particularly the President and the Defense Department to do everything in their power to prevent this economic disaster that now faces Scranton and the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, and to the United States Department of Defense.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Knecht.

Mr. KNECHT. Mr. Speaker, it is with some degree of sadness that I approach voluntary retirement at the end of the present session. The four years that I have served have been pleasant and rewarding ones, if at some times frustrating. Some very fine friendships have been acquired during this time and these I shall always cherish.

Had I the physical stamina and mental alertness of our esteemed venerable Speaker, I should have aspired to continue as a member of the House, but physical conditions have ordained otherwise.

My heartfelt thanks go out to all officers and members of both sides of the House for the many courtesies extended to me and particularly to the leadership of my own party who have fought such a valiant fight in recent years under such difficult conditions.

My deepest regret in leaving is that I shall not be a member of that victorious group who shall march upon Capitol Hill next January and restore the Republican Party to its former proud position of leadership.

May God grant you all long life and an abundance of good health and happiness, and keep this country of ours a bulwark of freedom, a land of opportunity for every individual, and the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the cradle of independence, foremost among all the States of the Union. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to come before this body today. However, since I am one who also will not be returning, I feel that I must. I wish I had the words to adequately express how I feel. In fact the reason that I did not want to speak was because I was afraid I might overemote. I have some very nostalgic feelings about this body and I did not want to make a fool of myself and I hope I will not. But, I sincerely mean it when I say that it is a priceless privilege for anyone to serve in this hallowed hall with such wonderful people. I cannot at this time be at all political because I think the strength of our country is in the strength of our system, of course the two-party system. And I am one who believes that Democrats are fine people. If we must have a party that is different in philosophy from us Republicans, then let us have the kind of Democrats that we have over there right now.

I do hope Mr. Keiser is right. Of course, you do understand why we feel that way. We would like to be in power for a change, too. We have some ideas that we think the public might like. Quite seriously, after seven terms here I have had a little bit of legislative experience. I have not had to do much talking. I had a lot of help. I have to say that I had a lot of help from Bob Hamilton on some of these insurance bills. What a guy! He carried the banner, and I tried to carry it over on this side.

I have had quite a few distinctions. I had the multi-line bill and the rating law. It is a business I know. I think that after these fourteen years I have come a long way. I have supported the Democrats and I have supported my party. I have had some wonderful experiences in passing legislation with cooperative and interested, intelligent people.

It is hard to wrap up in a few moments what is in your heart when you feel so wonderfully toward all of the people who have been so kind. I wish you all good health, good luck and now goodbye.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I think it is time that we heard from someone who is going to stand for re-election. Seriously, I ask the indulgence of the House for these brief few moments because in spite of all that has been said here today, I think the pages of the Journal of this House would indeed be bare if there were not spread upon these pages some few words of commendation and expressions of gratitude for the work of both floor leaders. Particularly is this so in light of the rumor that we read about and hear about that political fortunes might move our own floor leader, Stephen McCann, to another branch of this government of ours. I do not know that there is anyone in this House who can really paint or portray a picture of the magnitude of the work of these two men. I know from being on the same team as Steve—I am not so terribly familiar with the amount of effort that Al extends, but I know it must be equally as great as the effort that Steve extends—but I know that Steve works and has worked the hours around the clock. He has toiled sometimes in the face of great strife and sometimes with much frustration. I know that the experience is one that pulls on the emotions in all directions. It is a tremendous emotional trauma to work diligently for a particular project and come to your caucus and not find the support that you were expecting, and on occasions to be overwhelmed by support from unexpected sources. That is why I say that this is an experience that pulls the emotions in all directions.

It has been an education to me to watch the dedication and the diligence and the devotion of both Al and Steve, but, most important, the keynote of the way that they handled their respective jobs has been fairness. They have treated every member in this House with cordiality and with respect. There has never been a time when I have asked for help either from Al or Steve that my solicitation has gone unheeded.

I think the members of this House will join with me in an expression of the high regard and respect and devotion and admiration that we have for these two men. And I hope that the good Lord in his infinite wisdom will continue to bring them happiness and good luck and continued good health.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I certainly want to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, for those very kind words. I know when I made my little farewell speech today I did not extend thanks to the majority side for the kindnesses they have shown not only myself, but members of my own party. I certainly would be remiss if I did not from the bottom of my heart thank the members on the minority side. I think we as a minority have stuck together in a remarkable way, and I certainly want to thank all members of the minority for the way they have cooperated with the leadership and gone down the line together.

I think we are leaving these halls a united Republican Party, and you people are leaving a united Democratic Party, and, with that note of farewell, I want to thank you all very kindly.

The SPEAKER. Would Mr. Dengler like to lead in singing "Auld Lang Syne," or something of that nature?

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I think we are all in the mood now for a little song. Let us all rise now and sing "Auld Lang Syne."

(Members joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne," led by Mr. Dengler.)

SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate and the House of Representatives as the time when this General Assembly shall adjourn sine die, I now declare this 1962 regular session of the House of Representatives adjourned without day.

APPENDIX
TO THE
LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL
SESSION OF 1962

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
HARRISBURG

January 2, 1962

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons and commutations granted by me from January 4, 1961, to date.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph S. Brown, E3188, No. A 4101, September Session, 1960, (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph S. Brown, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on August 27, 1952, computed from May 5, 1952 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years 8 months 20 days expiring on January 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 38 years of age, and was sentenced for the crime of robbery to a term of 10 to 20 years. He and two accomplices held up a pawn shop at gun point, and while being taken to the police station, the applicant tried to escape, was shot by an officer and recaptured.

During incarceration, this applicant enrolled in several correspondence courses, completed all with excellent grades and received a diploma. He is currently employed with Maintenance Construction as a glazer, and performing his duties in a capable and satisfactory manner. He also received a citation from the Warden for helping to put out a fire in the prison typewriter shop.

The sentences of both accomplices have already been commuted, Stanley Williams in 1956 and Eugene Kennedy in 1955. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Joseph Sloan, did not express an opinion. The District Attorney stated that he is not opposed to commutation.

The Board believes that this man will live a law-abiding life when released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Leo Buckus, E 2177, No. 6467, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leo Buckus, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 14, 1948, computed from February 23, 1951 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 11 months expiring on January 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 46 years of age and has almost completed his minimum sentence for robbery. He was arrested by the police as he was leaving the scene, and identified by the victim as one of three men who accosted him and stole $16.36.

The applicant has adjusted well during his incarceration, and has shown maturity and stability.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, stated that he is strongly in favor of commutation. The District Attorney stated that he is not opposed to clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willie Byrd, 6271-B, No. A 1069, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Willie Byrd, convicted of armed robbery with accomplice in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Washington County on February 17, 1950, computed from November 21, 1949 be commuted from 12 years to 11 years 3 months expiring on February 21, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 21, 1961.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willard E. Comer, Sr., No. A 3661, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Willard E. Comer, Sr., convicted of burglary, larceny, unlawful possession firearms and burglar tools, violation uniform firearms act in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Washington County on May 29, 1950, computed from January 23, 1950 be commuted from 19 years to 11 years expiring on January 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 72 years of age, stole cash and merchandise from the Loyal Order of Moose, and was also charged with Violation of the Uniform Firearm Act and possession of burglary tools in connection with this burglary.

The Board commuted his minimum sentence in 1957, after he had served 8 years, and he now lives in Indiana with his sister. He is self-employed and also receives a small Social Security benefit each month.

The Board of Parole recommends commutation because of the applicant's age, the fact he is ill with cancer, and the further fact that the parole authorities in Indiana report that the applicant had made a good adjustment and will not again lapse into criminal activities.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the bench. The President Judge, the Honorable Roy I. Carson, states he has no knowledge of the case.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ronald Crisci, No. 5751, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ronald Crisci, convicted of burglary and larceny; robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on June 29, 1958, computed from May 24, 1958 be commuted from 3 years to 2 years 8 months expiring on January 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 22 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 to six years for burglary, larceny and robbery, and has served over 2½ years. He and accomplice burglarized thirteen or fourteen stores and homes during one brief period.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Frank L. Pinola, stated the applicant was given a very lenient sentence, but that he neither opposed nor favored commutation. The District Attorney stated that he is not opposed to clemency but believes the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant comes from a good family, his mother and father are hard-working people, and he seems to have been raised in a good Christian environment. The Warden at the Luzerne County Prison stated that the applicant has been cooperative during his confinement and his attitude is good, and he urged that the sentence be commuted in order to give the applicant an opportunity to demonstrate his ability to lead a law-abiding life in the future.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
NOT SITTING
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Vere Felker, 9135-D, No. A2859, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Vere Felker, convicted of Sodomy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on September 18, 1952 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years 5 months expiring on February 18, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 18, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jesse Finkes, 5358-B, No. A 1037, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Jesse Finkes, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County on September 1, 1949, computed from June 25, 1949 be commuted from 12 years to 11 years 8 months expiring on February 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until June 25, 1961.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Earl W. Fuller, 5074-C, No. A 2529, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended maximum sentence of Earl W. Fuller, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods; burglary; violation uniform firearms act, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on October 25, 1948, computed from August 14, 1948, be commuted from 95 years to 12 years 6 months expiring on February 14, 1961; and further recommend that the maximum sentence of Earl W. Fuller, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen property, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County on March 1, 1949, computed from October 25, 1948, be commuted from 20 years to 12 years 4 months expiring on February 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until August 14, 2043.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roland Garvin, D8108, No. A 826, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Roland Garvin to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on February 2, 1945 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 16 years expiring on February 2, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 72 years of age, and has served approximately 16 years of a life sentence for the crime of murder in the first degree. He and his victim, after drinking in several taprooms, started arguing over money matters. A fight ensued and during the scuffle, the applicant stabbed the victim several times about the face, neck and body.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, stated he was opposed to granting clemency in a letter dated 1959; in a recent letter to the District Attorney, however, he reversed his opinion. The District Attorney states that he is not opposed to commutation.

The staff of the State Correctional Institution at Philadelphia reports that the applicant has maintained an unblemished conduct record, has adjusted well, is very cooperative and respects authority, and they believe this is the best time for favorable consideration.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this life sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.

JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry Gilpin, 8357-B, No. A 1213, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Harry Gilpin, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County on March 29, 1951, computed from September 1, 1950 be commuted from 12 years to 10 years 5 months 10 days expiring on February 11, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 1, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Henry Hill, B 8944, No. A 2201, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of John Henry Hill, who plead guilty to the crime of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 13, 1942, be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 18 years 4 months expiring on February 13, 1961; and further recommend that the maximum sentence of John Henry Hill, who plead guilty to the crime of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on January 8, 1943, be commuted from 20 years to a new maximum of 1 day, expiring on February 14, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 36 years of age, with two accomplices, held up a pedestrian and severely beat him. On that same evening, they strong-armed another man and beat him, whereupon his head struck a sewer cover and his skull was fractured. They picked him up, carried him to a vacant lot, rifled his pockets and left him there to die. He never regained consciousness. The applicant received a life sentence and in addition a twenty year sentence for the crime of robbery. One of the accomplices, Ellwood Marsh, had his sentence commuted on May 29, 1958.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Frank Graff, stated to the Parole Agent that in view of the applicant's satisfactory institutional adjustment during the past four years, he would be in favor of a commutation. The District Attorney stated that he was opposed to commutation. The staff of the State Correctional Institution at Pittsburgh reported that the applicant has made a good vocational adjustment, has become a skilled machine operator, and has consistently earned very favorable work reports. The victim stated to the Parole Agent that he believes the applicant has served sufficient time and is in favor of commutation.

The Board believes that this applicant, who served 18 years, and has maintained satisfactory conduct and disciplinary records, appears to be a more mature individual and will conduct himself in a law-abiding manner, if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentences be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Jenkins, C2813, No. A3919, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Jenkins, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on September 11, 1952, computed from May 28, 1952 be commuted from 15 years to 8 years 8 months expiring on January 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 39 years of age, together with several accomplices, was convicted of armed robbery for the hold-up at gun-point of cab drivers and several stores. He has served over 8 years of a 15 year minimum sentence.

Since his confinement, he has adjusted well and has maintained a satisfactory record at the institution. The penitentiary staff reports that he should have no serious difficulties in adjusting to society upon release, and he has a job arranged and will live with his mother.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable E. G. Bauer, was not available for comment. The President Judge, the Honorable William H. McNaugher, said that he did not care to comment. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Kiliszewski, No. A 3608, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Joseph Kiliszewski, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on February 3, 1954, computed from November 15, 1953 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 2 months expiring on January 15, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 52 years of age, was convicted of the crime of voluntary manslaughter, and had served nearly 4 years of his 5 year minimum sentence when the sentence was commuted in 1957. The crime occurred in 1953 when he had been hunting rabbits with his son, and, upon his return home and during the process of loading his gun, the gun accidentally went off and fatally wounded his wife. He had been drinking heavily at the time. There is no doubt that his excessive drinking contributed to this offense.

The applicant is now living in Arizona because of his health, and is able to maintain himself on his Veterans' Administration pension. He now wants his maximum sentence of 10 years commuted so that he will have a better chance for employment.

The Board of Parole does not object to commutation of his maximum sentence. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Samuel Y. Rossiter, believes that this man is completely rehabilitated and should be permitted to take his position in society. The District Attorney states that his office is not opposed to commutation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Arthur Mooney, 5967-C, No. A 2907, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Arthur Mooney, convicted of robbery, rape in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on June 19, 1933, computed from July 6, 1953 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 7 months 10 days expiring on February 16, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until July 6, 1963.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Clarence Payne, 8255-C, No. 3375, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Clarence Payne, convicted of assault with offensive weapon with intent to rob in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County on July 1, 1936, computed from January 2, 1955 be commuted from 10 years to 6 years 1 month 10 days expiring on February 12, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until January 2, 1965.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Henry V. Rivers, 6306-D, No. A 1703, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Henry V Rivers, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lackawanna County on December 5, 1947, computed from November 9, 1947 be commuted from 24 years to 13 years 3 months expiring on February 9, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 9, 1971.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry R. Troike, Jr., No. A 5778, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Henry R. Troike, Jr., convicted of carrying firearms in auto without license in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 19, 1958 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 22 years old, was arrested when his car was stopped for checking by police and 2 revolvers were found hidden in it. He and the young man riding with him were found guilty of carrying firearms without a license in an automobile and were given suspended sentences. The offense occurred in 1958, when the boys were students at Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia.

At the present time the applicant resides in the State of New Jersey, where he is in his second year of an electrical engineering course at the Farleigh Dickinson College. Investigation reveals that the subject enjoys an excellent reputation in the community where he resides with his parents, and he acts as an assistant scoutmaster for his church Scout Troop during the summer months. He desires a pardon to clear his record.

The sentencing judge, the Honorable John A. Boyle, recommended clemency, saying that he was satisfied the applicant was not of criminal type, and that he did not intend to commit any offense but was only carrying the firearm because he thought it was necessary for his own protection. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re application of Floyd Walsh, 7865-B, No. A 5862, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Floyd Walsh, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 7, 1953, computed from July 22, 1953 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 7 months expiring on February 22, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until July 22, 1963.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Garrett Hobert Williams, No. A 5697, September Session, 1960 (Recommended at the November 1960 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Garrett Hobert Williams, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 22, 1959, computed from April 6, 1959 be commuted from 22 months to 1 year 9 months 10 days expiring on January 16, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 51 years of age and has served approximately 21 months of a 22 month to 5 year sentence for larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was tried in the Federal Court on a charge of violating the Dyer Act and received a concurrent sentence. He had bought two automobiles, which had been stolen, taken them to Georgia and sold them there to an automobile dealer.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, stated that he would not object to commutation. The District Attorney stated that he is not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The prison staff feels confident that the applicant will not be difficult to supervise and in all likelihood will make good if released. He has adjusted well at the institution and is doing a satisfactory job as an instructor in automotives. He has a home and a job to go to.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
DISSENTS,

In re application of George Wilson, No. 7841, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of George Wilson, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County November 26, 1930, computed from November 26, 1953 be commuted from 20 years to 7 years 3 months expiring on February 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 26, 1973.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Edward N. Yagatich, C3904, No. A4254, November Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Edward N. Yagatich, convicted of Accessory before the fact to armed robbery, robbery armed with offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County September 27, 1955, computed from August 22, 1955 be commuted from 8 years to 5 year 5 months expiring on January 22, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 33 years of age, pled not guilty to a series of robberies, but one of the accomplices implicated him and another accomplice, and this applicant admitted driving the car while the two accomplices robbed two Loan Companies. He has served over 5 years of a minimum 8 year sentence.

The applicant has maintained a good record in the institution, and has made an effort to improve himself by obtaining credits through passing high-school course examinations. The penitentiary staff believes that, with a good parole program, he will conduct himself as a law-abiding citizen upon release.

The Trial Judge is deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable John M. OConnell, stated he would leave the matter up to the Board. The District Attorney states that whatever action is taken by the Board will be satisfactory with his office.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

In re application of Carman A. Amodei, No. A 5852, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Carmen A. Amodei, convicted of violation of State Liquor Law in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 10, 1949 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 40 years of age, and received a suspended sentence in 1948 for a violation of the State Liquor Laws. He had been employed as a bartender in a private club, which was operated very carelessly. He and several other employees were charged with serving intoxicated people, also with serving alcoholic beverages after legal hours.

The applicant is married and has four children, and has an excellent reputation in his community where he has contributed a great deal to community activities. He was present at the hearing and presented evidence of his work with juveniles, together with written commendations from his local church and commendating editorials from local newspaper. He desires to have his record cleared, because he believes his criminal record limits promotional employment opportunities.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this pardon be granted.

In re application of George Barnhill, 8779-B, No. A 2288, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of George Barnhill, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on June 25, 1951, computed from March 12, 1951 be commuted from 12 years to 10 years expiring on March 12, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until March 12, 1963.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jacob Cooper Clark, No. A 5894, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Jacob Cooper Clark, convicted of larceny of motor vehicle in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County on February 26, 1960 be commuted from 1 year to 9 months 27 days expiring on December 23, 1960.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 22 years of age, and be served over 9 months of a 1 to 2 year sentence for the crime of larceny of an automobile. He had attended a Christmas Eve party with some friends in Columbia, Pennsylvania, and, when he asked to be taken home so that he could see his children open their gifts, his friends refused to leave. He left the party, himself, and took the first means available as transportation which was a friend's car parked close by. When it broke down, he left it and took another car along the way. He was arrested at his home the following day by the State Police.

It was brought out at the hearing that, since this applicant's confinement, a doctor has discovered that his wife has leukemia and has only a few months to live.

The prison record of this applicant has been good. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Joseph B. Wissler, stated that he is not opposed to commutation of the sentence. District Attorney Alfred C. Alspach stated that he is very much in favor of granting clemency, especially in view of the fact of the wife's illness.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

In re application of William Dahl, 5366-B, No. A1830, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of William Dahl, convicted of armed robbery; conspiracy to rob; carrying concealed deadly weapons without a license in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 12, 1949, computed from July 29, 1949 be commuted from 40 years to 11 years 8 months expiring on March 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until July 29, 1989.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Charles Dempsey, E2500, No. A3783, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles Dempsey, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 1, 1947, computed from September 1, 1951 be commuted from 12 years to 9 years 6 months expiring on March 1, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 44 years of age, and was sentenced to a 12 to 35 year term for armed robbery. He and his accomplices were involved in several hold-ups, and stole cash, merchandise and automobiles from a number of business establishments.

The penitentiary staff states that the applicant has recently demonstrated stability and appears to have acquired some self-discipline.

The trial judge, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., wrote that he is not opposed to commutation. The district attorney also stated that his office was not opposed.

This applicant has almost completed his minimum sentence, and it is felt by the Board that a release from the penitentiary now would be a definite encouragement to him to live a law-abiding life in the future. He has a job and a home to go to upon release.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

In re application of Louis Di Orio, No. A5883, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Louis Di Orio, convicted of pool selling and bookmaking in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 20, 1949 and December 6, 1949 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 47 years of age, and was sentenced in 1949 to pay two fines for pool selling and bookmaking. He was arrested in January, in June and in September 1949 at his home, where bets were being placed on horses. He has not been involved in any criminal activity since.

The trial judge, the Honorable Stauffer Oliver, is no longer active, and the president judge, the Honorable Francis X. McClanaghan, stated that he has no information in regard to the case. The district attorney stated that he was not opposed to granting a pardon.

The applicant is in partnership with his father-in-law in a delicatessen and sandwich shop and enjoys a very fine reputation in his community where he is well regarded by friends and associates. Because of his family and his position, he desires to have his record cleared.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

In re application of Joseph Fanelli, 579-D, No. 6448, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Joseph Fanelli, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 20, 1930 be commuted from life to 30 years 9 months expiring on March 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until end of life.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of David Gore, 5786D, No. 9887, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of David Gore, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 24, 1945, computed from February 21, 1945 be commuted from 20 years to 16 years 1 month expiring on March 21, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until February 21, 1965.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles Haney, 7121-C, No. 277, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Charles Haney, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bucks County on September 23, 1931 be commuted from life to 29 years 6 months expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until end of life.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Harris, 6671-D, No. A 1670, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of William Harris, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 22, 1945, computed from September 24, 1945 be commuted from 20 years to 15 years 6 months expiring on March 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 24, 1965.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James D. Hawthorne, 2017-C, No. A 1418, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of James D. Hawthorne, convicted of robbery and burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 14, 1947, computed from December 19, 1946 be commuted from 20 years to 14 years 3 months expiring on March 19, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until December 19, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Nancy Jeanette Holt, 2093, No. A 1770, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the sentence of Nancy Jeanette Holt to imprisonment for Life for Murder in the First Degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Greene County on November 3, 1944, computed from June 18, 1943 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 17 years 9 months expiring on March 18, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 46 years of age, and was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree in 1943. Throughout the trial, applicant contended that she was not guilty, but she was charged with having administered different kinds of poisons to her husband by means of food and drink and possibly in capsules supposed to be medicinal. An autopsy showed arsenic trioxide in the viscera, and three physicians testified that the victim died of arsenical poisoning.

During her 17-year incarceration at the State Correctional Institution at Muncy, the applicant has maintained an excellent disciplinary record and is employed as a waitress. The staff of the Institution reports that she is in good health, mentally alert, cooperative, and very industrious and well able to live at home and be self-supporting.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Challen Waychoff, is deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable John Ingram Hook, stated that he was the applicant's attorney at the time of her trial and that he is in favor of commutation. The District Attorney stated that he had no objection to the granting of clemency at this time.

The Board believes that the applicant will no longer be a menace to society, and will spend the rest of her life as a law-abiding citizen.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the life sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Cledith L. Johnson, 4597-C, No. A955, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Cledith L. Johnson, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Berks County on September 18, 1947, computed from June 18, 1947 be commuted from 20 years to 13 years, 9 months, expiring on March 18, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until June 18, 1967.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roger H. Jones, 1521-C, No. A2247, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

from November 30, 1946 be commuted from 20 years to 14 years, 4 months, expiring on March 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 30, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ernest Jordan, 7960-D, No. A623, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Ernest Jordan, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 27, 1946, computed from April 24, 1946, be commuted from 20 years to 14 years, 11 months, expiring on March 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 24, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank P. Kennedy, No. A5882, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frank P. Kennedy, convicted of criminal libel in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County, on June 25, 1928 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 70 years of age. He was convicted on a charge of criminal libel in 1928 and sentenced to pay costs of prosecution and a fine of one hundred dollars and to undergo imprisonment. He was a reporter for a New York State newspaper, which had a rather large circulation in the Pittston-Luzerne County area. On various dates, he authored certain allegedly false, malicious and defamatory libel concerning a local coal operator and prominent political figure.

The trial judge, the Honorable John S. Fine, stated that he has no objection to the granting of this pardon. The district attorney did not advise the Board of his opinion.

Since the commission of this crime, the applicant has been involved in no trouble of any kind. He worked for the Lehigh Valley Railroad as a car inspector, and retired after twenty years. He is presently employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He owns his own home and lives with his wife. His reputation in the community is good.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Levin Logan, 151-D, No. 5096, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Levin Logan, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 3, 1929 be commuted from life to 31 years, 11 months, 20 days, expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until end of life.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Lawrence J. Mangis, Jr., No. A5472, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the minimum sentence of Lawrence J. Mangis, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 12, 1958, computed from November 26, 1958 be commuted from 3 years to 2 years, 3 months, expiring on February 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 28 years of age, entered a gas station, masked and armed with a shotgun, and, while pointing the gun at the gasoline station attendant, he was observed by three patrolmen and immediately apprehended. He was sentenced to a term of 3 to 6 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective November 26, 1958.

The applicant's record at the Allegheny County Workhouse has been good. He comes from a very good family, and this is the first time he has been in any serious trouble. He served twenty months in the United States Marines and received an Honorable Discharge.

The trial judge, the Honorable Clarence Nixon, recommended that the applicant's minimum sentence be commuted. The district attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jacob Merril, D4315, No. A5881, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Jacob Merrill to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Montgomery County on October 6, 1939, computed from October 9, 1939 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 21 years, 5 months, 10 days, expiring on March 19, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 49 years of age, and was sentenced in 1939 to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree. He had been drinking in a taproom, and, during the course of the evening, the bartender refused him drinks. He then went to his home, procured an ice-pick, went back to the tavern until the place was closed. As the bartender came out, a fight started, during which the applicant struck the bartender with the ice-pick, rupturing his aorta and thereby causing his death.

The trial judge, the Honorable William F. Dannehower, stated to the Parole agent that he was opposed to commutation. The district attorney stated that, in view of the time served, his office would not oppose.

The prison staff reports that the applicant's institutional record has been satisfactory and that he has shown ability for emotional control. His conduct record has been clear for over fifteen years.

The Board believes that this applicant, who has served over 21 years of a life sentence, has become stabilized, and, if released would never violate the law again.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this commutation be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles R. Morgan, No. A5863, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Charles R. Morgan, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on April 20, 1949 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 31 years of age. He, together with a friend, had been drinking at a bar, and, during the course of the evening, they made the acquaintance of the victim. They all left the bar together, an argument ensued, and the applicant and his accomplice struck the victim and took his suit and wallet.

The trial judge, the Honorable Henry X. O'Brien, stated to the Parole Agent that he would rely upon the Board's discretion. The district attorney stated to the Board that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant is married and has a family. He is employed by the City of Pittsburgh in the Department of Bridges. He has had no difficulty since his release from parole, and he maintains a good reputation in his community. He desires a pardon in order that he may get a better job and provide better for his family. The Board of Parole is in favor of a pardon.

The Board believes that this applicant, who has not been involved in any difficulty for the past twelve years, and who is desirous of bettering himself, merits a pardon.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louis C. Randolph, 4044A, No. A774, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Louis C. Randolph, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on September 21, 1949 be commuted from 12 years to 11 years, 6 months, expiring on March 21, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 21, 1961.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Edward Saltrick, 3537-B, No. A5913, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Edward Saltrick, convicted of burglary; larceny of auto in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on October 7, 1948, computed from August 12, 1948 be commuted from 14 years to 12 years, 7 months, expiring on March 12, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until August 12, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Carmen Suero, 9612-D, No. A2214, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Carmen Suero, convicted of robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on January 9, 1953, computed from July 19, 1952 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years, 8 months, expiring on March 19, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until July 19, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Alfred Tramtor, 4039-B, No. A2293, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Alfred Tramtor, convicted of robbery, etc. in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 12, 1949, computed from December 31, 1948 be commuted from 20 years to 12 year, 3 months, expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until December 31, 1968.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Armand Trapuzzano, No. A5903, December Session, 1960.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Armand Trapuzzano, convicted of fornication in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on May 11, 1934; and further recommend that Armand Trapuzzano, convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on April 14, 1937, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 50 years of age, was found guilty of fornication with a 17 year old girl and of receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25.00 and the costs of prosecution on the one charge and to a term of 6 months to 2 years on the other. One sentence was in 1934; the other in 1937.

The trial judge is deceased and the president judge, the Honorable William H. McNaugher, stated to the Parole Agent that he could make no recommendation because he is not familiar with the facts. The district attorney of Allegheny County is not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

These offenses occurred when the applicant was 28 years of age, and, since that time he has conducted himself in a most respectable manner. He is eager to obtain a pardon not only to clear his name but also to facilitate his obtaining employment. He indicated that, when he recently obtained a temporary position with the State Highway Department as a maintenance mechanic, he was denied permanent appointment because of his criminal record.

The Board feels that this applicant has conducted himself as a law-abiding citizen since his release from parole, and now merits a pardon.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Evan R. Brown, No. A4868, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the minimum sentence of Evan R. Brown, convicted of murder in the second degree and aggravated assault and battery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Northampton County on May 24, 1954, computed from December 24, 1953 be commuted from 11½ years to 7 years, 3 months, expiring on March 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 44 years old, received a sentence of 11½ to 23 years for murder in the second degree and aggravated assault and battery. It appeared that he and the victim were drinking heavily, and, when they went to the applicant's home, he started to fight with his wife. The victim tried to stop the fight, but the applicant got a rifle, and, after several threats, shot and killed the victim and injured his own eleven-year-old daughter. The daughter recovered.

The applicant has served over 7 years of his minimum sentence and is presently a trusty working in the Law Library of the Prison. If released, he is assured of employment at Lehigh University.

The sentencing Judge, the Honorable William A. Frack, is deceased, and the President Judge, the Honorable William G. Barthold, wrote to the Board that he had no objection to commutation. The former Assistant District Attorney, now a Judge, the Honorable Clinton Budd Palmer, wrote to the Board that he unhesitatingly recommended favorable action. The District Attorney, Andrew L. Herster, Jr., advised the parole agent that he had no objection to commutation. The former District Attorney, Elias W. Spengler, who prosecuted the applicant, wrote to the Board requesting favorable consideration of the application.

The Warden of the Northampton County Prison, Mr. Thomas Ceraul, appeared before the Board on behalf of the applicant, assuring the Board that the applicant is completely rehabilitated. He stated that the applicant has joined Alcoholic Anonymous and is, in fact, President of that Group in the prison.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

In re application of Richard Bulgarino, No. A 5926, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that Richard Bulgarino, convicted of Poolselling and Bookmaking, Lottery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 20, 1956 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 33 years old, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs for setting up and maintaining an illegal lottery, and for poolselling and bookmaking in December 1956. He had been arrested by the city police, who found slips of paper with numbers on them in his possession.

Since this offense, the applicant has had a clear record and now desires a pardon so that he can qualify for a Civil Service position in the Federal Government. He had no previous record.

The District Attorney of Philadelphia stated that he favored the granting of a pardon. The Trial Judge, the Honorable George A. Gleeson, also indicated that he was in favor of the application.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Clarence Graham, 7177-D, No. A 1403, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Clarence Graham, convicted of robbery, etc. in the Court of Oyer & Terminer & Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 29, 1946 computed from January 10, 1946 be commuted from 18 years to 15 years, 2 months expiring on March 10, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until January 10, 1964.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Homer Hill, A 5915, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Homer Hill, convicted of Riot in the Court of Quarter Session of Philadelphia County, on February 2, 1943, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 37 years of age, was given an indeterminate to three year sentence for riot, effective February 2, 1943. It appeared that he, and several other boys became involved in a teenage gang fight, and, during the course of the fight, one of the boys was killed.

Since the applicant's release on parole in 1944, the Parole Board indicates that his conduct under parole supervision was satisfactory and he was granted a final discharge from parole in 1946. He has become active in civil affairs and is a member of the Vestry Board of his church. He has married, has a family, owns his own home, and is now attending LaSalle College. He is also presently employed in a large department store.

The District Attorney indicated that he would have no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant is desirous of clearing his record so that he may progress in his business and civic life. He appears to be completely rehabilitated.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Irving Hilman, No. A 5937, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Irving Hilman, convicted of Arson in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County, on October 17, 1958 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 41 years old, was sentenced to a term of 1 to 3 years for arson. It appeared that he set fire to his place of business in order to collect insurance.

The applicant was paroled at the expiration of his minimum sentence in October 1959, and is now employed in New Jersey as a Certified Public Accountant. The crime for which he was sentenced was his first offense, and since his release he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. He feels that he needs a pardon to qualify as manager of an office his firm intends to open in the future. His employer appeared before the Board and verified this.

The Board of Parole indicated that the applicant's conduct on parole has been satisfactory. Neither the Trial Judge, the Honorable John V. Diggins, nor the District Attorney is opposed to the granting of a pardon. The applicant appears to have become fully rehabilitated.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of LeRoy Holliman, No. A 5934, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that LeRoy Holliman, convicted of Highway Robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County, on February 8, 1926 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 57 years old, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for highway robbery. It appeared that he and two accomplices held up and robbed the paymaster of a small plant.

The applicant served his minimum sentence, and his maximum sentence has expired. He is employed by the Federal Electric Corporation in Alaska, where his earnings are over $750.00 a month. He now desires a pardon to clear his record. He has maintained a clear record, and submitted a statement from neighbors setting forth that he has been a good citizen. He appears to have demonstrated his determination to live a law-abiding and useful life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Howard, E3642, No. A 4559, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Howard, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on April 17, 1953, computed from February 28, 1953 be commuted from 20 years to 8 years 1 month expiring on March 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is 24 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 20 to 40 years for robbery on February 28, 1953. It appeared that he and several accomplices were involved in a series of armed holdups of stores and various business places, and that, in one of the holdups, he struck one of his victims over the head with a gun butt.

During his imprisonment, the applicant has taken advantage of the educational opportunities in the institution and he has learned a useful occupation, being currently employed as a technician in a dental laboratory. The staff reports that he has shown marked improvement through schooling.

The President Judge, the Honorable Peter F. Hagan, wrote to the Board that he had no objection to the granting of clemency. The District Attorney advised the Board that he had no objection to commutation.

The applicant was only 17 years of age when arrested and sentenced for this offense, and has served over eight years. He seems to have made a definite effort to improve himself during his confinement, and it is believed that, under an adequate parole program he will conduct himself in the future as a law-abiding citizen.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willie London, 2029-C, No. A 2799, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Willie London, convicted of murder in the Second degree in the Court of Oyer & Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 26, 1947, computed from October 23, 1946 be commuted from 20 years to 14 years, 5 months expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 23, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,

JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Grace Clara Prophet 9277-C, No. 6235, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the life sentence of Clara Grace Prophet, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer & Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 13, 1931 be commuted from life to 29 years, 9 months expiring on March 13, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until end of life.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re applicant of Joseph Charles Russo, H0237, No. A 5935, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Charles Russo, convicted of frauduently making a written instrument, uttering and publishing the same in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on July 12, 1960, computed from March 26, 1960 be commuted from 1½ years to 1 year expiring on March 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 33 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 1½ to 5 years for fraudulently making a written instrument, uttering and publishing the same in March 1960. It appeared that he stole some bank checks, filled them in, and was able to have them cashed in various places.

The institution stated that the applicant has established excellent work habits, and is presently a clerk in the Doctor's office. He is, however, suffering from cancer of the lung and the medical director indicates that his prognosis is extremely poor.

It would seem that further incarceration may be very harmful for this applicant and that, if released, he might be treated so as to alleviate his very bad physical condition to some degree.

The District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated that he had no opposition to the granting of commutation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Vincent J. Shimp, Jr., E9029, No. A 5441, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Vincent J. Shimp, Jr., convicted of robbery, armed assault, robbery by accomplice in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on January 23, 1959 be commuted from 2½ years to 2 years 2 months expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 29 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for robbery on January 23, 1959. He and his brother, William, held up a messenger and robbed him of the payroll he was carrying.

The District Attorney stated to the Board that he was not opposed to commutation. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Walter R. Sohn, also indicated that he would not oppose. The penitentiary staff reported that he conducted himself in a satisfactory manner and is currently serving in a capacity of trust and responsibility. He was recently elected to the presidency of the Holy Name Society at the institution.

The records indicate that this was the first offense of the applicant and that prior to this crime he had led a very law-abiding life. Friends of the applicant appeared before the Board and spoke very highly of him and of their impression of his present attitude. He is an optometrist of some ability and has been assured of a position with an optometrist firm upon his release.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William E. Shimp, E9019, No. A 5440, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William E. Shimp, convicted of robbery, armed assault, robbery by accomplice in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on January 23, 1959 be commuted from 2½ years to 2 years 2 months expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 31 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for robbery, effective January 23, 1959. He and his brother, Vincent, held up and robbed a payroll messenger.

The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation, and the Trial Judge, the Honorable Walter Sohn, also indicated that he was not opposed.

This was the applicant's first offense, and, since his incarceration, he has demonstrated capacity for trust and responsibility, and has also gained some insight into his alcoholic problem. He has been active in the A.A. and has made an excellent response to his religious obligations. At present he is steward to one of the institution's conservation camps. He will have an excellent parole program and has the active interest of many individuals who have expressed their interest in his behalf. Several of these appeared before the Board.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

In re application of Benjamin John Stango, No. A 5939, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Benjamin John Stango, convicted of Poolselling and Bookmaking in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 13, 1951 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is 46 years of age, and was fined and put on one year's probation for poolselling and bookmaking in 1951. He is presently employed by the State Government and desires a pardon so that he may qualify for a Civil Service appointment. He served in the United States Army in World War II, where he was severely wounded.

The District Attorney indicated that he was not opposed to clemency and believed the application should be granted. The Parole Board reported that the applicant enjoys a very good reputation in his community and has conducted himself in a law-abiding manner ever since his arrest back in 1951.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Stanley Stuart Stone, No. A 5273, April Session, 1960 (Recommended at the January 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Stanley Stuart Stone, convicted of fraudulent pretense, fraudulent conversion, larceny by bailee in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County on January 10, 1958, computed from February 25, 1959 (with credit of 3 months) be commuted from 4 years to 2 years 8 days expiring on March 3, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 44 years of age, was involved in an operation wherein businessmen gave him money to invest on his assurance that their investments would bring them handsome returns. There were at least twenty such transactions over a period of several years, and when the applicant was unable to make good his assurances he was prosecuted and convicted on charges of fraudulent conversion and of cheating by fraudulent pretense. He was sentenced to a term of four to eight years.

The sentencing judge, the Honorable Homer L. Kreider, wrote to the Board that, when the applicant would serve at least one year of his minimum sentence, he would not object to commutation. The applicant has served 2 years to date. The District Attorney stated that he would rely on the Board for its decision.

The applicant was incarcerated in the Dauphin County Prison, and, since his incarceration, his health has become progressively worse. At present he is confined in the Harrisburg Hospital, under guard, with a severe attack of coronary arteriosclerosis together with a stroke affecting his left side.

The Board has received reports from qualified physicians relative to the applicant's physical condition, and is informed that the prognosis is not good. The Board is further informed that, if the applicant recovers from this attack, he will have to be transferred to the State Correctional Institution at Philadelphia, because the hospital facilities he will require are not available at the Dauphin County Prison. The Board has in its file numerous letters from businessmen in Harrisburg requesting that the Board commute the sentence of the applicant. There is also a letter from the person most defrauded by the applicant asking that the Board commute the sentence because the applicant has made partial restitution to him.

The Board believes that the applicant's sentence should be commuted; first, because of the serious condition of his health; and second, because of the sentencing judge's statement that a minimum of one year of imprisonment would be sufficient.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted, effective upon the signing hereof by your Excellency, subject to the requirement that the applicant make restitution in monthly payments.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Melvin L. Thomas, E9954, No. A 5810, October Session, 1960 (Recommended at the January 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Melvin L. Thomas, convicted of larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 22, 1960 be commuted from 1½ years to 1 year expiring on March 22, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 38 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 1½ to 3 years for larceny in 1960. It appeared that he removed a suit case from a train, which had stopped in the railroad station, was observed by the owner of the luggage, reported to the police, and arrested. At the time, he was a Postal employee with free access to the trains in the station. This was his first offense.

The sentencing Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, advised the Board he was opposed to commutation. The District Attorney, however, stated he was not opposed, because this was the applicant's first offense, and his family was in dire need. His record in the institution is good.

The applicant is married and has three children, two of them being retarded. His wife is in need of his assistance, because she is unable to support these children at a subsistence level.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted to expire when the applicant has served one year thereof, which will be March 22, 1961.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

In re application of Ross Calvin Vilches, 1618-C, No. A 2424, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Ross Calvin Vilches, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer & Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 27, 1947, computed from January 16, 1947 be commuted from 100 years to 14 years, 2 months expiring on March 16, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until January 16, 2047.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Rhoads Wissler, E3320, No. A 2901, January Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Rhoads Wissler, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Northumberland County on October 10, 1952, computed from April 3, 1952

be commuted from 10 years to 8 years 11 months 20 days expiring on March 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years, effective April 3, 1952, for burglary. It appeared that he and several accomplices entered a private dwelling and forced the occupants to open a safe, which was then robbed.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Robert M. Fortney, stated to the parole agent that he had no objection to the commutation of this sentence. The District Attorney did not express his opinion as to the merits of the application. Two of the accomplices have already been released, and the penitentiary staff reported that the applicant has a very satisfactory institutional record. The Board is favorably impressed by the applicant's adjustment during the eight years he has served, and feels that further incarceration will serve no useful purpose in his rehabilitation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Baranowski, E2333, No. A 3878 December Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Baranowski, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 11, 1951, computed from April 7, 1951 be commuted from 40 years to 10 years 22 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 28 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 40 to 80 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective April 7, 1951. It appears that he and an accomplice entered a restaurant, the accomplice drew a revolver, announced that it was a hold up, and fired one shot. The cash register was then rifled. The applicant has been confined over 10 years.

The institution staff states that the applicant has had an unblemished conduct record and is considered an above average inmate. He has taken advantage of some of the educational courses offered at the institution and is at present a licensed barber.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Charles L. Guerin, does not favor commutation, but the District Attorney stated to the Board that he was not opposed.

The Board believes that this applicant has matured and it is unlikely that he will offend against the rules of society if released. He has a good parole program and will be under the supervision of the Board of Parole for many years to come.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

In re application of James Brooks, 192, No. A 2417, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of James Brooks, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on November 26, 1930, computed from October 26, 1933 be commuted from 60 years to 27 years 5 months 5 days expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 26, 1973.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Robert Jerome Conkling C4999, No. A 5130, November Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Jerome Conkling, convicted of prison breach in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County on November 20, 1958, computed from February 8, 1961 be commuted from 1 year to 2 months 21 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 23 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 to 10 years for the crime of arson, effective January 31, 1938. It appeared that he, while a student at St. Francis College, set fire to one of the dormitories. The fire destroyed the building but no lives were lost. Following his arrest, he was committed to the Torrance State Hospital but escaped from that hospital, was rearrested, and was then returned to the penitentiary. He received psychiatric treatment there.

The applicant was sentenced in Westmoreland County to a term of 1 to 2 years for his escape and started to serve this sentence on February 8, 1961, after serving the 3 year Cambria County minimum sentence for arson. The Westmoreland County sentencing judge, the Honorable L. Alexander Sculco, recommended the granting of clemency and the District Attorney of Westmoreland County also stated he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

Prior to his arrests, the applicant had been an outstanding student and was well regarded by his friends and acquaintances both in school and in his home community. He came from a good home and his parents have appeared before the Board and indicated their great interest in his rehabilitation, assuring the Board that they would continue psychiatric treatment upon his release as long as necessary. The Board has been assured that the applicant will have a job. Under the circumstances, the Board believes that the applicant may safely be released from further confinement.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James A. Davis, E1039, No. A 874, November Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James A. Davis, convicted of armed robbery; burglary and robbery by violence in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Northumberland County on April 25, 1949, computed from April 4, 1949 be commuted from 14½ years to 12 years 25 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 44 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 14½ to 29 years for the crimes of armed robbery, burglary and robbery by violence, effective April 4, 1949. It appeared that he and several accomplices were involved in a series of robberies and burglaries in both Northumberland and Schuylkill Counties, and his sentence in Schuylkill County was made concurrent with the one in Northumberland County, and he has served over 12 years of the 14½ year minimum.

The Penitentiary authorities report that the applicant has had a satisfactory conduct record and that he has taken advantage of the educational work offered at the institution. At present he is working in the tailor shop.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William J. Troutman, wrote that he recommended a commutation of this sentence. The District Attorney of Northumberland County stated to the parole agent that he would not oppose commutation.

The Board believes that the improvement the applicant has displayed in the penitentiary, and the acquiring of a trade which will give him an opportunity to earn a living wage, will give him the opportunity to adjust to society and avoid any further violations of the law.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frances Hoffman Day, 1299, No. A 5844, November Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Frances Hoffman Day to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Mercer County on September 19, 1938, computed from May 11, 1938 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of 22 years 11 months 18 days expiring on April 29, 1961 provided she receive psychiatric treatment.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 54 years of age, was sentenced to a life term for murder in the first degree, and manslaughter and robbery. It appeared that she and two accomplices were involved in a robbery, in which the victim was killed by an axe wielded by one of the accomplices. She has been confined for over 22 years. The accomplice who actually wielded the axe, received a 10 to 20 year sentence and is now released.

The institution reports that the applicant has a good record in the institution and has adjusted well while confined. During confinement, she was transferred for a short time to the Warren State Hospital, but, upon her return demonstrated continued improvement. The latest psychiatric report indicates that she has no mental problems that would interfere with her adjustment to society. She will have a good parole program and will live with her relatives who expressed an interest in her release.

The President Judge, the Honorable Herman M. Rodgers, leaves the matter of clemency up to the Board as does the District Attorney.

The Board believes that this applicant's adjustment during her twenty-two years in prison indicates that she could now adjust well in society.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the life sentence be commuted provided she receive psychiatric treatment.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Malcolm Epstein E3810, No. A 4022, December Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Malcolm Epstein, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on May 5, 1950, computed from February 1, 1950 be commuted from 40 years to 11 years 2 months 28 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 61 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 40 to 80 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective February 1, 1950. It appeared that he and several accomplices were involved in armed robbery of several supermarkets. This was his first major arrest and conviction.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William H. McNaugher, wrote that he had no objection to the granting of commutation. The District Attorney stated that any decision of the Board would be satisfactory to him.

The staff of the institution reports that the applicant has matured, that his conduct is satisfactory, and that he has a position of trust in the penitentiary as a secretary to one of the officials. During the penitentiary riots of some years ago he cooperated with the officials, thus endangering his own life.

The Board believes that the applicant will have a satisfactory parole program, and since he intends to live with his brother in North Carolina, he should be able now to avoid all future trouble.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John A. Gilchrist, 3919-B, No. A 1792, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of John A. Gilchrist, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Crawford County on January 3, 1949, computed from December 13, 1948 be commuted from 20 years to 12 years 3 months 18 days expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until December 13, 1968.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Norman Lincoln Harman, E 5184, No. A 3149, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Norman Lincoln Harman, convicted of arson in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County on January 13, 1955, computed from September 27, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 6 years 8 months expiring on May 27, 1961 provided he receive psychiatric treatments.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 29 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crime of arson, effective September 27, 1954. It appeared that he set fire to various barns causing a considerable amount of damage, but no loss of human life.

During his confinement, the institution reports that the applicant has maintained an excellent conduct record, has taken advantage of the educational work offered at the institution, holds a position of trust, and has a very positive outlook on life. They state that further incarceration will be of little benefit to the young man.

Both the Trial Judge, the Honorable Homer L. Kreider, and the District Attorney indicated that they opposed commutation, but the Board believes that this young man has made such definite progress in the institution that he will, if released, continue his adjustment and will lead a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted provided he receive psychiatric treatment satisfactory to the Board of Parole.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re application of Walter Hicks, 4371-D, No. A 5963, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Walter Hicks, convicted of sodomy; assault and battery with intent to commit sodomy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on December 3, 1947, computed from October 29, 1947 be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 5 months expiring on March 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 29, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Michael Hnat, 3502-D, No. 7713, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Michael Hnat, convicted of statutory rape in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on September 21, 1939, computed from August 9, 1939 be commuted from 30 years to 21 years 7 months 20 days expiring on March 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until August 9, 1969.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Theodore Lanager, 262-C, No. A 5977, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Theodore Lanager, convicted of burglary in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Clearfield County on September 26, 1949, computed from August 11, 1949 be commuted from 18 years to 11 years 7 months 20 days expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until August 11, 1967.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Eugene Joseph Linko, G3752, No. A 5720, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Eugene Joseph Linko, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on April 12, 1958 be commuted from 4 years to 3 years 17 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 22 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 4 to 10 years for the crimes of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods, on April 12, 1958. It appeared that he and four accomplices robbed a drive-in theatre and a store.

The applicant has served over half of his minimum sentence, and is presently employed at the institutional furniture factory as a machine operator. His work has been very good and his disciplinary record is satisfactory.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Eustace H. Bane, wrote that he had no objection to commutation. The District Attorney stated to the parole agent that he would rely on the Board for its decision.

The Board believes that this young man presents every prospect of living a law-abiding life if released and if a good parole program is arranged for him.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

In re application of John R. Lupu, C4716, No. A 5962, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John R. Lupu, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on January 10, 1958 be commuted from 4 years to 3 years 3 months 19 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 36 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 4 to 8 years for crime of burglary, on January 10, 1958. It appeared that he and several accomplices, burglarized a gas station and, while attempting to open the safe, were arrested by the police before any money was taken.

While incarcerated, the applicant has maintained a very satisfactory record. He is now employed in the machine shop, in a position of trust; his particular work involving the making of keys because he is the lock smith of the institution. The institution reports that his overall adjustment has been highly satisfactory.

Neither the sentencing judge, the Honorable Samuel Y. Rossiter, nor the District Attorney made a favorable recommendation.

The Board believes that this young man, who has proved trustworthy while confined will continue to be adjusted to society if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Richard Byrd McClintock, No. A 4112, December Session, 1960 (Recommended at the February 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Richard Byrd McClintock, convicted of assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on October 6, 1955 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 32 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 to 23 months, a fine of $100 and costs, and ordered to make restitution for the offense of assault and battery in October 1955. It appeared that he had an altercation with a truck driver and, in the course of the fight, the victim was beaten. He served his sentence and was released after serving 68 days. He completed his probation in September 1957.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable John B. Diggins, stated that the facts of the crime were a bit different than those set forth in the application, but he did not express any opposition for the plea for the pardon. He further stated he was not opposed to a pardon, feeling that the applicant may well have rehabilitated himself, and, if the Board believes that the applicant has done so, he would have no opposition. The District Attorney's office did not express an opinion as to the merits of the application.

The applicant is presently working for a motor freight line and desires the clemency of the Commonwealth in order to obtain a better job as a driver for the Red Arrow Bus Lines in Philadelphia. The Burgess of the community in which he lives stated to the parole agent that the applicant bears an excellent reputation, and the community bears no resentment against him. While on probation, he conducted himself in a satisfactory manner, and he has continued to live a law-abiding life ever since.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Peiffer, E 8998, No. A 5943, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 28 years of age, was sentenced in Lebanon County to a term of 4 to 8 years for the crime of burglary on February 6, 1959, and was sentenced in Berks County to a concurrent term of 1 to 2 years for the crime of burglary on September 26, 1960. It appears that he and two accomplices entered a motel and stole a television set and cash. They also broke into a restaurant and rifled the coin machines. Following these burglaries, the applicant went to California to visit his brother, told his brother of his offenses and, at the brother's advice, returned home and surrendered to the police.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Harry Ehrgood, did not express his opinion as to the merits of the case. The present District Attorney, James R. Whitman, Esquire, advised that he was strongly in favor of commutation of the sentence, because the applicant gave himself up and was helpful to the county in the prosecution of his accomplices. The Board does not have an expression of opinion as to the merits of the application from either the trial judge or the district attorney of Berks County.

During his imprisonment, the applicant has maintained a good record and is presently employed as a tailor. The prison staff states that he lacks a criminal pattern, seems well motivated and is ready to adjust when released to society. They further state that they all feel this is an unusually worthy case.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry H. Perkins, Jr., No. A 1591, December Session, 1960. (Recommended at the February 1961 Session.)

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Harry H. Perkins, Jr., convicted of pandering, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on February 29, 1952, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 49 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for the crimes of pandering, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and larceny on February 29, 1952. It appeared that he was released at the expiration of his minimum term in 1953, and while he has been under supervision of the parole board, his conduct has been satisfactory. He presently resides with his family and is regularly employed as an assistant to his father, who operates a detective agency.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Clarence B. Nixon, wrote that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon. The District Attorney also stated that he had no objection. An investigation of the applicant's present occupation and behavior in his neighborhood indicated that his conduct has been excellent since his release, and that he seemingly does very little drinking at present, although there had once been a problem. He has not been involved in any criminal offenses whatsoever since his release from prison in 1953, but he now desires a pardon to remove any stain on his own record or on the name of his children, and also to enable him to furnish bond and do whatever else may be required to advance in his present occupation.

The Board believes that this applicant has demonstrated his adjustment to society by living a law-abiding life and by becoming so well regarded in his community.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Bruce Price, No. A 3034, September Session, 1960. (Recommended at the February 1961 Session.)

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Bruce Price, convicted of attempted robbery, being armed, aggravated assault and battery with intent to ravish in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 18, 1953, computed from December 30, 1952 be commuted from 9 years to 8 years, 4 months expiring on April 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 30 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 9 to 35 years for the crime of robbery, effective December 30, 1952. It appeared that he had entered a dwelling house and threatened a woman occupant with assault. Later the same evening he accosted another woman and stole her pocketbook.

The institutional record of this applicant is good and the staff reports that he appears to have made definite progress. This was his first offense and he has served almost the entire minimum sentence, being scheduled for release in December 1961.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Theodore L. Reimel, wrote that he was not opposed to a commutation at this time. The District Attorney stated that he was opposed to commutation.

The Board believes that this applicant's improvement while confined indicated that upon release he will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Rice Quay, E3130, No. A 3861, December Session, 1960. (Recommended at the February 1961 Session.)

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Rice Quay, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on July 29, 1952, computed from August 1, 1951 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 8 months 28 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 50 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crime of murder in the second degree, effective August 1, 1951. It appeared that he and his accomplices were all drunk when they took the victim with them for a ride in an automobile, and, on the trip, a fight ensued. The applciant hit the victim with his fists causing his death. The group then left the victim lying in a vacant lot.

The applicant has been confined for over 9 years and the institution states that his improvement both in conduct and in discipline have been unusually good and they rate the case as a meritorious one.

The present Judge, the Honorable Gerald A. Gleeson, has written that he recommends favorable consideration of the petition. The District Attorney also stated that he was not opposed to the petition.

A good parole program will be set, and the members of the applicant's family, who were present at the hearing, indicated that they are much interested in his well being. The Board believes that the advances the applicant has made during the past nine years indicated that he will lead a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re application of John Romito, 4586-C, No. A 1824-1, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of John Romito, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on September 22, 1947, computed from August 6, 1947, be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 7 months 25 days, expiring on March 31, 1961; and further recommend that the concurrent maximum sentence of John Romito in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County on September 1, 1950, computed from August 6, 1947, be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 7 months 25 days, expiring on March 31, 1961; and further recommend that the concurrent maximum sentence of John Romito in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Greene County on March 28, 1949, computed from August 6, 1947, be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 7 months 25 days, expiring on March 31, 1961; and further recommend that the concurrent maximum sentence of John Romito in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Washington County on January 4, 1962 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 2 months 27 days expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until August 6, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Luke Lamar Shade, No. A 5965, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Luke Lamar Shade, convicted of violation of liquor control act in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County, on January 19, 1959 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 26 years of age, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs for the offense of furnishing alcoholic beverages to minors on January 19, 1959. It appeared that he held a party for the football team of the Hummelstown High School, who had completed a successful season, and he furnished alcoholic beverages to these young people.

The applicant appeared before the Board, and with him were several officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard. He is a member of the Guard, has just about completed his officer's training course, and is eligible for a commission. General William S. Bailey stated that this conviction would interfere with the applicant's progress in the National Guard, and said that every time special assignments might be delegated to him, this matter would again be brought up to his detriment. The other officers who appeared also spoke very highly of the applicant and his progress in the National Guard.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Walter Sohn, wrote that he was not opposed to a pardon, and the District Attorney stated that he heartily recommended the application.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Russell Glenn Sleighter, D 2202, No. 7292, November Session, 1969. (Recommended at the February 1961 Session.)

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Russell Glenn Sleighter to imprisonment for Life for Murder in the First Degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Franklin County on May 11, 1937 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 23 years 11 months 18 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 50 years of age, was sentenced on May 11, 1937 to life imprisonment for the murder of a six year old child, who had been placed in his custody by the Children's Aid Society of Franklin County. He claimed that she had lied to him about a torn school book, and he punished her, not intending to kill her. It was indicated, however, that the child had been severely beaten. The applicant's wife, who also took part in the beating, was sentenced to Muncy but has subsequently been paroled.

The penitentiary authorities state that this man, who has been confined for over 23 years, has maintained an unblemished record and that his attitude and adjustment have been excellent. Indeed, the staff indicates that he has had an outstanding institutional record. He has been active in the religious activities of the institution and has been a good example to other prisoners.

The District Attorney advised the Board that he was opposed, and the President Judge, the Honorable Chauncey M. Depuy, had no comment to make.

The Board has received many letters from citizens of the County recommending that the sentence now be commuted, and the applicant is assured of a good parole program with a job and sponsor in another locality. He has spent almost a quarter of a century in prison, and appears to be completely rehabilitated.

In view of the fact that the applicant will be under the supervision of the Board of Parole the remainder of his life, the Board believes that he can now safely be released from further confinement.

The Board, therefore, recommends the commutation of this life sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harvey Steadman, 4562-D, No. 8169, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Harvey Steadman, convicted of breaking and escaping prison in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County on November 14, 1951, computed from July 2, 1952 be commuted from 14 years to 8 years 8 months 29 days expiring on March 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until June 30, 1965.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edgar Charles Via, E1814, No. A 1645, February Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Edgar Charles Via, convicted of aiding prison breach, prison breach, burglary, larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on May 24, 1958, computed from August 1, 1950 be commuted from 14½ years to 10 years 8 months 28 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 40 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 14½ to 29 years for aiding prison breach, prison breach, burglary and larceny effective August 1, 1950. It appeared that he was involved in the burglarizing of a garage and likewise in the theft of an automobile. While held in the county jail the applicant escaped and used a stolen automobile to get away. He was picked up in Virginia and served a short sentence there before being returned to Pennsylvania.

The penitentiary staff states that this applicant's conduct while in prison has been satisfactory and during his confinement he has taken advantage of a vocational course, learning the plumbing trade.

The Trial Judge is deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable William H. Neeley, wrote that any action taken by the Board would be satisfactory to him. The District Attorney stated that he felt that the applicant has paid sufficient penalty for his offense.

The Board believes that the applicant's record during his incarceration for over ten years has indicated that he will likely adjust to society and if released will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph E. Williams, E3497, No. A 4072, January Session, 1961. (Recommended at the February 1961 Session.)

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph E. Williams, convicted of assault and robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 22, 1953, computed from December 10, 1952 be commuted from 20 years to 8 years 4 months 19 days expiring on April 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 38 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 20 to 40 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective December 10, 1952. It appeared that he and an accomplice robbed several taprooms.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Curtis Bok, did not express an opinion as to the merits of the application. The District Attorney stated that the application was meritorious and should be granted.

The applicant has been confined for over 8 years and the staff of the institution states that he has had a satisfactory disciplinary record and is presently employed in the shoe shop. He was Honorably Discharged from the United States Army at the end of World War II. The staff of the institution states that this application can be considered an unusually meritorious one. He will have a good parole program and will be under the supervision of the Board of Parole for approximately thirty years.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of David Aikens, E8362, No. A 3182, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of David Aikens, convicted of prison breach in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 17, 1947, computed from May 23, 1958 be commuted from 10 years to 3 years expiring on May 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 64 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years in March 1947. He had a long prior record of convictions, and has been confined for over 23 years.

The Trial Judge is deceased and the President Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, did not express an opinion. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed.

The prison authorities report that the applicant's health is rapidly failing, and that he has lost over twenty-five pounds in the last two years. He has maintained an unblemished disciplinary record and had a satisfactory work record, but the medical director reports that his bad heart condition prevents him from any more active work assignments.

The Board believes that commutation of this sentence will probably prolong this applicant's life and that he will live his life as a law-abiding citizen.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Bordunn, No. A 5998. March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William Bordunn, convicted of illegal possession of narcotics in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 19, 1938; and convicted of violation of the Motor Code in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on August 3, 1940, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 42 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 9 months for the illegal possession of narcotics in January, 1938, and was placed on probation for a period of 6 months in November 1940, when he violated the Motor Code.

The sentencing judges are no longer on the Bench. The President Judge, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., wrote that he would rely upon the Board for it's decision and would be satisfied therewith. The District Attorney also stated that he is relying upon the Board for it's decision.

At present the applicant is employed as a bartender. He owns his own home and lives with his wife and children. He desires a pardon so that his name may be cleared for business reasons.

The Board believes that the applicant is now fully rehabilitated and holds an esteemed position in his community.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Earl A. Brogan, E4422, No. A 3985, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Earl A. Brogan, convicted of assault and robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 30, 1954, computed from February 10, 1954, be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 3 months 10 days expiring on May 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 31 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for assault and robbery, effective February 10, 1954. It appeared that he and his accomplices conducted an armed hold up of a Beer Distributing Plant.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, wrote that he was in favor of commutation of the sentence in view of the fact that the applicant's sponsor is a very responsible businessman in Philadelphia. The sentencing judge further stated that he believes that the applicant was greatly influenced by one of the accomplices. The District Attorney stated he was opposed.

The institutional staff reports that the applicant has a good record and has made some major gains in education during his incarceration. The applicant will reside with his mother and a satisfactory parole program will be set up for him.

The Board believes that the applicant will lead a law-abiding life if he is released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Joseph Dyer, E5881, No. A 2589, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Joseph Dyer, convicted of prison breach in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on January 16, 1956, be commuted from 3 years to a new minimum of 1 day to expire following release by the Board of Parole on the 11 year flat sentence he is presently serving.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 36 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 to 10 years for prison breach on January 16, 1956. It appeared he was serving an 11 year flat sentence for involuntary manslaughter and assault and battery when the prison breach sentence was received.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Henry G. Sweney, stated he was opposed. The District Attorney left the matter up to the Board. The former Superintendent of the Delaware County Prison, A. W. Reeder, appeared before the Board and stated that he had personal contact with the applicant when he was Rehabilitation Director, and he will assist the applicant in taking his place in society.

The prison authorities report that the applicant has served approximately 12 continuous years and that his attitude and adjustment are very satisfactory. He has demonstrated positive attitudes and realistic goals. He is employed in the dental laboratory as a technician and has been a competent employee. He has taken advantage of some of the educational courses offered at the institution. He was addicted to excessive drinking, but has taken advantage of counseling and has demonstrated his interest in controlling his drinking habits.

The Board believes this applicant is rehabilitated, and, if released, will lead a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends commutation of this minimum sentence to 1 day, following his release by the Board of Parole on sentence now being served.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Fletcher Harris, E786, No. A 3423, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Fletcher Harris, convicted of robbery, assault with intent to kill in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 12, 1949, computed from December 31, 1948 be commuted from 18½ years to 12 years 5 months expiring on May 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 33 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 18½ to 37 years for robbery and assault with intent to kill, effective December 31, 1948. It appeared that he had committed three armed hold-ups.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, is deceased and the President Judge, the Honorable Peter F. Hagan, stated he would take no position in this case. The District Attorney stated that the application was a meritorious one and he would recommend clemency.

The applicant has served over 12 years of his minimum sentence and the institution states that he has been a satisfactory inmate, and he has demonstrated sufficient change to be considered an unusually meritorious applicant by the staff.

The applicant has learned a trade while confined in the institution and is assured of a home and a job upon release. He will be under the supervision of the Board of Parole for the next eighteen years.

The Board believes this applicant should be given an opportunity to prove his determination to live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward L. Haubenstein, No. A 4348, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Edward L. Haubenstein, convicted of embezzlement in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 18, 1956, computed from October 18, 1956, be commuted from 6 years to 4 years 7 months expiring on May 18, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 44 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 6 to 15 years for embezzlement, effective October 18, 1956. It appeared that he embezzled over $73,000 from the Girard Corn Exchange Bank of Philadelphia, and used the money for family needs in connection with his wife's illness.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Leo Weinrott, wrote that he would rely upon the Board's decision. The District Attorney said that he had no objection to a commutation and would also rely on the Board's decision.

During his confinement the applicant has demonstrated his ability in a remarkable way. At present he is in charge of a program studying dermatology under the guidance of Dr. Albert M. Kligman of the University of Pennsylvania who is director of the program, and the applicant has immediate charge of the work in the prison. This program study of dermatology had $100,000 appropriated for its completion. Dr. Kligman appeared before the Board and spoke very highly of the work of the applicant in carrying out his program at the prison. He stated that he would be willing to take him into the laboratory at the University for further work and experiment in this field. Dr. Burton Cahn, on the staff of the Norristown State Hospital, also appeared before the Board and spoke in behalf of the applicant. In addition he wrote a letter stating that he felt this applicant was quite ready to enter society and that further imprisonment would seriously endanger his chances to make good.

The Board believes that this applicant has demonstrated such ability to conduct a research program in the County Prison and be responsible for the expenditures of a large sum of money, that he demonstrated a rehabilitation which qualifies him to live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles G. Johnson, D7138, No. A6000, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles G. Johnson, convicted of robbery, attempted robbery, aggravated assault and battery, rape in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 7, 1943, computed from May 3, 1943 be commuted from 32½ years to 18 years 1 month expiring on June 3, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 40 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 32½ to 65 years for the crimes of robbery, attempted robbery, aggravated assault and battery and rape, effective May 3, 1943. It appeared that he and three accomplices held up a woman and struck her, knocking her down. They then carried the victim to a nearby garage and raped her. The three accomplices all served their minimum sentences of 17½ years and are now on parole. This applicant has now served over 18 years of his minimum sentence.

The District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated that his office had no objection to commutation. The Trial Judge is deceased.

The penitentiary staff reported that the applicant's record is satisfactory and he has taken some of the educational courses offered by the institution. He is subject, however, to epileptic attacks which somewhat limits him in his work progress.

The Board believes that this applicant, having spent over 18 years in prison and having demonstrated his ability to adjust, will if given his freedom in society, conduct himself in a law-abiding manner. His age and rehabilitation eliminates a recurrence of his crime.

The Board, therefore, recommends that his minimum sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Douglas Joseph, 3749-B, No. A631, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Douglas Joseph, convicted of assault, being armed with offensive weapon, with intent to rob, etc., in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 1, 1948, computed from September 25, 1948 be commuted from 30 years to 12 years 7 months expiring on April 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 25, 1978.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Walter Calvin Kullman, E9199, No. A5990, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter Calvin Kullman, convicted of burglary, larceny receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County on April 20, 1959, computed from February 24, 1959 be commuted from 2½ to 2 years 3 months expiring on May 24, 1961, provided he receive psychiatric treatments satisfactory to the Board of Parole.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 39 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods, effective February 24, 1959. It appeared that he was a guest in the home of a friend and while there stole some of his friend's clothes and some blank checks which he forged and cashed.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Norris Gerber, wrote that any decision would meet with his approval. The District Attorney is opposed.

The applicant has an unblemished conduct record at the institution. He holds a position of trust and has taken advantage of some of the educational courses. He is an honorably discharged veteran of World War II. As a young man he had a severe brain operation, and it is recommended that he take advantage of psychiatric treatments upon his release.

The Board believes that, if this applicant is required to take psychiatric treatment and if his parole program also provides for a job and good supervision, he can safely be released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence of this young man be commuted on condition that psychiatric care be provided as long as required.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Leaphart, D7009, No. A3220, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Joseph Leaphart to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on March 11, 1943 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 18 years 2 months 20 days expiring on May 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 50 years of age and was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective March 11, 1943. It appeared that there was a dispute as to the use of $5.00 to purchase some wine, in the course of which the applicant shot the victim.

The Judges who heard this case are no longer on the bench, and Judge Gerald F. Flood wrote the Board that he could give no helpful information. The District Attorney stated he was not opposed to the granting of commutation.

The applicant has been confined for the past 18 years, and the prison staff reports that he has maintained an excellent disciplinary record, has acquired a vocation in the tent peg shop, has made a good vocational adjustment, and has matured considerably. They express the opinion that he will undobutedly perform adequately in society because his attitude and outlook on life is good.

The Board believes that this applicant has rehabilitated himself to such an extent that, if released, he will lead a law-abiding, useful life.

The Board, therefore, recommends a commutation of the life sentence to life on parole.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas L. Mack, No. A5781, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the minimum sentence of Thomas L. Mack, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on January 12, 1960 be commuted from 1½ years to 1 year 4 months 10 days expiring on May 22, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 26 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 1½ to 3 years, effective January 12, 1960. It appeared that he and an accomplice broke into a gas station and stole tools, merchandise and money.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William R. Toal, said he had no objection to commutation providing the applicant receives employment upon release. The District Attorney stated that he would rely upon the Board's decision. A letter was received from the American Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia, offering the applicant a job upon release, or, if this job should not be available at the time, another one will be secured for him. The Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee of the Overbook Baptist Church spoke to the Board and stated he also would secure a job for the applicant. The applicant has a home to return to with his wife and five children. The prison authorities state that the applicant's conduct record is satisfactory and he is at present employed as a baker.

The Board believes that this applicant's conviction and confinement has been a great help to him and that, if released now, he will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted, provided a job will be secured for him.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph W. McLoone, A5954, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph W. McLoone, convicted of larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County, on March 29, 1946 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 57 years of age and was sentenced to a 5 to 10 year term for the crime of larceny in 1946. It appeared that, while under the influence of liquor, he walked into a store and stole some dresses.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the Bench. The Presdent Judge, the Honorable William F. Dannehower, stated that he was very much in favor of a pardon being granted. The District Attorney also stated he does not oppose the granting of a pardon.

The applicant has been employed as a watchman for the buildings owned by the County of Montgomery, is trusted with the keys and performs his work in a very satisfactory manner. He has been active in Alcoholics Anonoymous for a number of years and has become a real asset to his community in his work with alcoholics. He has been in no further trouble since 1946.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Leo F. McMahon, D7665, No. A3581, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Leo F. McMahon to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on March 21, 1944 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 17 years 2 months expiring on May 21, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is now 44 years of age and was sentenced to a life term for murder in the first degree, effective March 21, 1944. It appeared that he and an accomplice held up a meat plant, and in the pursuit of the applicant by the employees of the plant, the applicant shot one of his pursuers.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, wrote that he has no objections. Supreme Court Justice Curtis Bok wrote a strong letter of recommendation. The District Attorney stated that the application was meritorious and he would not oppose the granting of it.

The applicant has been confined for over 17 years and while in the institution he has performed in a satisfactory manner and is presently employed in the bake shop. The staff states that he appears to have obtained maximum benefit from his period of confinement. He should be an independent, useful citizen when he is returned to society.

The applicant, during his prison term, has learned to operate an I.B.M. machine and will be under the supervision of the Board of Parole for the remainder of his life.

The Board believes that this applicant has been rehabilitated and, if released, will lead a law-abiding life when released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this life sentence be commuted to life on parole because of the excellent record the applicant has made in the institution and the splendid report the Board has received about him.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Miraglia, No. A5980, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Miraglia, convicted of violation of the Uniform Firearms Act in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northampton County, on April 11, 1949 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 40 years of age and was sentenced to pay a $150.00 fine and serve 1 year probation on April 11, 1949, for violation of the Uniform Firearms Act. It appeared that he was involved in an automobile accident, during which a scuffle ensued. One party had a tire iron while the applicant drew a revolver in his defense.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William G. Barthold, wrote that he would rely upon the Board's discretion. The District Attorney stated that he, too, would rely on the Board for its decision.

The applicant is now employed as secretary and treasurer of a club and restaurant concern. He has recently purchased a home and is living there with his wife and children. He enjoys an excellent reputation in his community and he desires a pardon in order that he may not suffer any embarrassment in his business life. He is also concerned for his son who is studying law. During his probation he consistently conducted himself in a law-abiding manner.

The Board believes clemency is proper in this case because the applicant has lived a law-abiding life for the past eleven years and enjoys an excellent reputation in his community.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Dale Carey Obenstine, E9851, No. A5410, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Dale Carey Obenstine, convicted of robbery with accomplice, robbery with offensive weapons in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County on February 11, 1960, computed from January 25, 1960 be commuted from 2 years to 1 year 4 months, expiring on May 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant is now 48 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 2 to 4 years for robbery, effective January 25, 1960. It appeared that he and two accomplices held up a taproom and several patrons.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Samuel Lichtenfeld, stated he would rely upon the decision of the Board. The District Attorney did not submit any comment as to the merits of this case.

The applicant has been confined over half of his minimum term, and during his confinement, has conducted himself in a satisfactory manner and is at present employed as a cook in the prison cannery. He has been in poor health and has undergone eleven operations.

The Board believes that the last few years of this applicant's confinement have vastly changed his attitude, and that his impaired health will hardly permit him to return to a life of crime.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ellison Odom, 5507-A, No. A1505, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Ellison Odom, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods, assault and battery with intent to kill in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 15, 1948, computed from March 10, 1948 be commuted from 20 years to 13 years 1 month expiring on April 10, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until March 10, 1968.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Leonard P. Parkinson, No. A5997, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Leonard P. Parkinson, convicted of attempted sodomy in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 15, 1957 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 42 years of age and was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 for attempted sodomy, on March 15, 1957. It appears that he induced a young girl to pose for photographs of an obscene nature.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Peter F. Hagan, stated he had no objection to the granting of a pardon. The District Attorney stated to the Board that he was not opposed.

The applicant paid the fine and costs and is presently employed as a salesman for an electronics concern. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the Harvard Business School, and he was honorably discharged from the United States Army after serving five years as a Major. Since his conviction for this offense he has not violated the law and has conducted himself as a law-abiding citizen. Because of this offense he wants a pardon so that he may advance himself in his work. He lives with his mother in a comfortable home in Philadelphia. He is said to be earning $1,000 a month as a salesman.

The Board believes that this applicant has become fully rehabilitated and there is little likelihood of him violating the law in the future but will lead a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted, provided that the State Department be advised of the nature of this offense so that it can determine the desirability of employing him.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roy Samuels, D9541, No. A1364, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Roy Samuels, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 25, 1947, computed from February 28, 1947 be commuted from 21 years to 14 years 3 months expiring on May 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 35 years of age and was sentenced to a term of 21 to 43 years for armed robbery, effective February 28, 1947. It appeared that he held up a tavern and store and stole a small sum of money.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, was not in favor of commutation. The District Attorney did not oppose the granting of the petition.

The prison staff reports that the applicant has served approximately 14 years of his minimum sentence and is now conducting himself in a satisfactory manner. He is credited with a very good work record and educational program. The applicant and his family appear to be closely tied together, and they will see that a job is procured for him.

The Board believes that if the applicant is released he will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Will Smith, B9132, No. A3418, February Session, 1961. (Recommended at the March 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Will Smith to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Allegheny County on November 8, 1944 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 16 years 7 months expiring on June 8, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 52 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective November 8, 1944. It appeared that he fatally shot his common-law wife following a violent fight, during which the victim slashed him with a knife and the applicant then got a revolver from another room and fired the fatal shot.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Henry Ellenbogen, stated that he was not in a position to make any recommendation in this matter. The District Attorney stated that he was opposed to clemency at this time, feeling that the application was premature.

The prison staff stated that the applicant's conduct has been satisfactory and that he has been enrolled in the educational classes of the institution and has made progress. They further reported that he has maintained a wholesome contact with his family and friends and has behaved maturely and dependably.

During the trial of the Pittsburgh prison riots in 1953, the applicant cooperated with the prison authorities, and, in order to protect him from violence from his fellow inmates, he was transferred to the State Correctional Institution at Huntingdon. He took the stand as a witness in behalf of the Commonwealth 126 times during the trial of cases arising from the riots.

The Board believes that this applicant has demonstrated his stability and progress in the institution, and is appreciative of his cooperation with the authorities during and after the prison riots of 1953.

The Board, therefore, recommends the commutation of this life sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re application of Ralph Tietjen, E2395, No. A4454, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Tietjen, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 15, 1951, computed from January 29, 1951, be commuted from 16 year to 10 years 4 months, expiring on May 29, 1961; and recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Tietjen, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on October 3, 1951 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 7 months 26 days expiring May 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 39 years old and was sentenced to a term of 16 to 25 years in Philadelphia County and 10 to 20 years in Delaware County for the crime of robbery, effective January 29, 1951, the Delaware County sentence to be concurrent with the Philadelphia County sentence. It appeared that he and his accomplices, committed a series of robberies and hold-ups.

The Philadelphia Trial Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, stated that he was not acquainted sufficiently to advise the Board as to the merits of the application. The Philadelphia District Attorney stated that the application was a meritorious one and recommended commutation. The Trial Judge of Delaware County, the Honorable Henry G. Sweney, does not favor commutation; but the District Attorney of Delaware County offered no objection.

The penitentiary staff reports that the applicant has shown a marked change in attitude and has attempted to improve himself. He took some of the educational courses offered at the institution, and has also taken advantage of psychological counseling, which has benefitted him greatly. The staff feels that now is the best time for the applicant's release, because his family is willing to help him.

The Board believes that this applicant, who has conducted himself so satisfactorily in the penitentiary, has demonstrated his adjustment abilities, and is ready for release, having an adequate parole program including a good home, a sponsor, and a job.

The Board, therefore, recommends commutation of this minimum sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

In re application of Herman J. Todd, No. A5945, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Herman J. Todd, convicted of sodomy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 5, 1953 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 41 years of age and was given a suspended sentence for the crime of sodomy in January 1953.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, is opposed to the granting of a pardon. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to this petition.

The applicant is buying his own home and is presently employed at the Baldwin Locomotive Company. He is active in church work, and the police of his home area report that he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner and that he enjoys an excellent reputation. He wants a pardon for the sake of his family and for his own peace of mind. He is married and has two teen-age sons.

The Board believes that the applicant should now be cleared of a mistake he made as a young man, because he has made every effort to live a law-abiding life ever since.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Peter Trolene, No. 8165, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Peter Trolene, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bucks County, on May 5, 1942, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is now 39 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 7 to 20 years for armed robbery, effective May 5, 1942. It appeared that he and accomplices hid in the basement of a theatre with the intention of attacking the manager of the theatre and stealing his money. They were scared off, however, before they could accomplish their purpose.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Calvin S. Boyer, is deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable Edward G. Biester, stated that he is not opposed to a pardon if the Board sees merit in the application. The District Attorney is of the same opinion.

The applicant was released in April of 1949 after serving his minimum sentence of 7 years. Since his release on parole, he has been in no trouble except for one arrest for disorderly conduct. He completed his maximum sentence when it was commuted in 1952, and the Board of Parole states it has no objection to the granting of a pardon. Investigation indicates that the applicant has a good community reputation, and has become a community leader. He is now a property owner, supporting a wife and three children as an automobile dealer. He feels that his past record has caused him some embarrassment in his business activity.

The Board believes that the conduct of this applicant for the past twelve years and his rehabilitation after serving his minimum sentence offers every proof that he will continue his satisfactory conduct.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

In re application of Alfred Young, 7141-D, No. 9987, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Alfred Young, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 22, 1946, computed from October 17, 1945, be commuted from 20 years to 15 years 6 months, expiring on April 17, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 17, 1965.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Lacey Young, E6325, No. A5992, March Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lacey Young, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on March 21, 1956, computed from January 16, 1956, be commuted from 10 years to 5 years 4 months 10 days, expiring on May 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now 25 years of age, and was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crime of burglary, effective January 16, 1956. It appeared that he entered houses and apartments and stole cash and articles of value.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Edward P. Little, wrote that if the Board believed it safe to release the applicant, he would have no objection. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation.

The applicant has served over one-half of his minimum sentence, and the institutional staff states that his conduct has been satisfactory and he has made some attempts at self improvement. He took the complete Pennsylvania High School course and received a high school diploma.

Members of his family were present at the hearing, and his mother stated that she believed an older nephew influenced the applicant to commit these offenses. She further stated that he is badly needed at home, and she believes that the present confinement has taught him a lesson which he will not soon forget.

The Board believes that there is every indication that the applicant will live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

In re application of Jack E. Beltz, 6649-C, No. 8049, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Jack E. Beltz, convicted of armed robbery; robbery; receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on May 8, 1943, computed from April 18, 1943, be commuted from 20 years to 18 years 1 month 11 days expiring on May 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 18, 1963.

In re application of Quinton E. Beveridge (Beverage), 9785-B, No. A 6019, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Quinton E. Beveridge (Beverage), convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 7, 1952, computed from November 20, 1951 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 6 months 5 days expiring on May 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 20, 1961.

In re application of Ernest Covington, No. A 6044, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Ernest Covington, convicted of violation of the narcotic act; larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 17, 1953 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 28 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 1½ to 3 years, effective May 25, 1953, for Violation of the Narcotics Act and Larceny. It appears that the applicant was employed at the Psychiatric Institute in Pittsburgh, and stole about 300 morphine and about 1,000 codine tablets. He served all his minimum sentence and was released in November of 1954. His maximum sentence expired in 1956.

The District Attorney of Allegheny County stated he had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The Parole Board reported that the applicant has had a very satisfactory parole record and it would have no objection to the granting of a pardon. He was a user, not a seller.

The applicant has been employed by the Peoples Taxicab Company as a driver since 1956, but, because of this sentence, he fears that he may be deprived of his drivers license. He is married, has two children, and has maintained a good record as a law abiding citizen since his release.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert L. Dourlain, No. A 5994, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert L. Dourlain, convicted of aggravated assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on March 17, 1960 be commuted from 1½ years to 1 year 4 months 10 days expiring on July 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 25 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 1½ to 3 years for the crime of aggravated assault and battery, effective March 17, 1960. It appears that he picked up a woman who resisted his advances, whereupon he hit her on the head with a wrench.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Robert M. Morris, did not express an opinion to the Board. However, the District Attorney indicated that he had no objection to commutation being granted.

The staff of the Allegheny County Workhouse reported that the applicant has received an award for his outstanding record at that institution, and that his record indicates a serious effort toward self-improvement.

The applicant will be assured of a job with his father, who is a plastering contractor, and the Board believes that he is now determined to lead a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward Glaze, 3721-D, No. A 1733, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Edward Glaze, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on November 21, 1944, computed from June 23, 1944 be commuted from 20 years to 16 years 11 months expiring on May 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until June 23, 1964.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Wesley Graves, No. A 6087, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Wesley Graves, convicted of robbery and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on October 6, 1959, computed from April 6, 1960 be commuted from 17 months to 1 year 3 months 20 days expiring on July 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 32 years of age was sentenced to a term of 6 months for the crime of assault and battery; 11 to 23 months for the crime of robbery and 6 to 12 months for the crime of larceny. He served the 6 months and started to serve the other sentences on April 6, 1960.

One of the Trial Judges, the Honorable William H. Neely, wrote that he would rely upon the decision of the Board. The other Trial Judge, the Honorable Walter R. Sohn, agreed with Judge Neely. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to the granting of commutation.

A report regarding the applicant's physical condition and mental status, by Dr. Richard P. Fitzgerald, indicated that medical and psychiatric treatment would be very helpful for him. He appears to be in poor physical condition, and the Board was informed that he can be admitted to the Veterans' Hospital in Wilmington, Delaware, where he will receive both mental and physical treatment.

The Board believes that the treatment the applicant could receive at the Veterans' Hospital in Wilmington, Delaware, would benefit him, and that he would, if released for such treatment, henceforth live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
NOT SITTING,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roddie Jones, 667-E, No. A2491, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Roddie Jones, convicted of rape, fornication, assault and battery, indecent exposure in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on October 21, 1953,

computed from October 14, 1953 be commuted from 15 years to 7 years 7 months 15 days expiring on May 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 14, 1968.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert G. Skipper, C2348, No. A 2862, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert G. Skipper, convicted of robbery, armed with an offensive weapon; larceny; receiving stolen goods; assault; conspiracy; aggravated assault and battery; prison breach in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Blair County on September 4, 1951, computed from July 17, 1951 be commuted from 11½ years to 10 years 10 days expiring on July 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 31 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 11½ to 27 years for the crimes of robbery, armed with an offensive weapon; larceny; receiving stolen goods; assault; conspiracy; aggravated assault and battery; and prison breach, effective July 17, 1951.

The Trial Judge is deceased, but Judge John M. Klepser stated that he is not opposed to clemency and would be satisfied with any decision reached by the Board. The District Attorney stated that he had no objection to commutation if the applicant had a strong parole plan.

The penitentiary staff reported that the applicant has conducted himself in a satisfactory manner and has taken advantage of the educational work at the institution. At present he is employed in the electrical shop, and from the reports received, he has improved very much since his confinement.

A complete parole program is available, and the applicant has been confined for nearly 10 years of his minimum sentence of 11½ years. The family were present at the hearing and indicated their great interest in the rehabilitation of this young man.

The Board is of the opinion that with the help of his family and the supervision of the Parole Board the applicant will adjust himself to society and live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
NOT SITTING,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

In re application of Jack Snell, 9661-D, No. A 6001, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Jack Snell, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 3, 1953, computed from January 15, 1953 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years 4 months 10 days expiring May 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until January 15, 1963.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Richard Tattersall, No. A 5546, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Richard Tattersall, convicted of issuing fraudulent checks in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on February 13, 1959, computed from February 28, 1961 be commuted from 1 year to 5 months expiring on July 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 31 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 1 to 2 years for the crime of Issuing Fraudulent Checks in February 1959. He was also given a 2 to 4 year sentence for the crime of Larceny and served over 2 years when he was paroled to start the 1 to 2 year sentence on February 28, 1961. He has been confined since February 13, 1959. It appears that he issued a number of worthless checks while operating a business in Wilkes-Barre, some being for wages to his employees and others in payment of bills due.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Frank L. Pinola, recommended that the applicant's sentence be commuted, indicating that restitution has been made. The District Attorney wrote to the Board that he is opposed to commutation.

The Warden of the Luzerne County Prison states that the applicant's conduct record in the institution has been very good, and that he has learned the trade of a carpenter and been helpful around the prison in that work.

The applicant has a wife and three children who are in real need of his support, and the Board believes that he will live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles Williams, B 8373, No. A 4118, April Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Charles Williams to imprisonment for Life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Allegheny County on October 13, 1942 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 18 years 9 months 18 days expiring on July 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 41 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment, effective October 13, 1942, for murder in the first degree. It appeared that he and accomplices were drinking heavily and strong-armed the victim, beating him severely. In the scuffle the victim fell and suffered a fractured skull, which caused his death.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Frank Graff, expressed no opinion as to the merits of this particular application, but when this applicant asked commutation in 1958 Judge Graff then said that he left the matter of commutation up to the Board. The District Attorney stated that he did not object to commutation.

The penitentiary staff stated that the applicant has a good disciplinary record and has been a model prisoner. He is presently employed as a clerk in the Canteen which is considered a very responsible job. His mother and other members of his family visit him frequently, and there is evidence of strong family ties.

The Board believes that this applicant has shown evidence of maturity and rehabilitation, and that, after serving over 18 years of a life sentence, he is now prepared to lead a law-abiding life in the future. He has a home and a job available and he will be under the careful supervision of the Board of Parole for the remainder of his life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of this applicant be commuted.

In re application of Theodore Abrams, 1080-E, No. A 2690, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Theodore Abrams, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 25, 1954, computed from October 27, 1953 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 9 months expiring on July 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 27, 1963.

In re application of Samuel Byrd, 3226-B, No. A 829, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Samuel Byrd, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 9, 1948, computed from May 12, 1948 be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 2 months 16 days expiring on July 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until May 12, 1963.

In re application of Bruce Carter, No. 8587, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Bruce Carter, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on June 13, 1935 be commuted from life to 26 years 3 months expiring on September 13, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 67 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree in June 1935. It appeared that he had become involved in a bar room fight with the victim over a girl. He left temporarily, procured a revolver, returned and shot the victim several times.

The applicant received a commutation of his life sentence in April 1954 and has been on parole for the past seven years. At present he is living in Chicago, Illinois, with his wife, whom he married after his release from prison. He is employed by the Jeffrey Sales and Service Garage.

The Honorable Henry G. Sweney, the President Judge of Delaware County, wrote that he was unfamiliar with the facts of the case and had no opinion to express as to its merits. The District Attorney stated to the Board that he would rely on the decision of the Board.

The Illinois Board of Parole stated that the applicant has made a very favorable adjustment, and has had no arrests or irregularities; it believes that a commutation appears warranted at this time. The Pennsylvania Board of Parole offered no objection to the commutation of the maximum sentence.

The Board believes that this applicant has demonstrated his intentions and his ability to lead a law-abiding life and that parole supervision is no longer required.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Raymond Flaville, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 22, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 3 months expiring on July 22, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 22, 1964.

In re application of Peter Goff, 8978-D, No. A2979, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Peter Goff, convicted of conspiracy, robbery, carrying concealed deadly weapons in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 22, 1952 computed from April 16, 1952 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 3 months 10 days expiring on July 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 16, 1962.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Thomas Gourley, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 5, 1955, computed from November 25, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 6 years 8 months expiring on July 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles William Grisack, Jr., E4423, No. A 4369, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles William Grisack, Jr., convicted of assault and robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 30, 1954, computed from March 6, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 5 months 25 days expiring on August 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 31 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crimes of assault and robbery in March 1954. It appears that he and several accomplices held up a wholesale beer establishment at gun point. This was his first offense.

The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to the granting of commutation. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, also wrote that he was not opposed to commutation.

During his incarceration, the applicant has taken advantage of the educational work offered at the institution, and his conduct has been good. He has taken training as a plumber and steam fitter. The staff reports that he has evidenced self-improvement and state that his is an excellent case, of unusual merit.

The Board believes that the applicant, having acquired a trade and being under the guidance and counsel of persons very much interested in his welfare, will lead a law-abiding life and will not venture into any criminal activity in the future.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

In re application of John W. Grubb, No. A 6007, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John W. Grubb, convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on June 19, 1940 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 61 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 60 days to 5 years for the crime of receiving stolen goods in May, 1940. It appears that the applicant bought two dresses from a stranger, and that these dresses had been stolen from a Philadelphia store.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Eugene V. Alessandroni, wrote that he would rely upon the decision of the Board. The District Attorney stated that the application was a meritorious one.

Since his arrest and incarceration for 60 days in 1940 the applicant has lived a law-abiding life. At present he is employed by the Philadelphia Redevelopment Authority and reports indicate that he is performing his work in a satisfactory manner. He is married and lives in his own home, and inquiries among his neighbors and friends disclose that he has an excellent reputation.

The Board believes that the applicant has demonstrated his rehabilitation by the life he has lived for the last twenty-one years and by the work he is now doing.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

In re application of James F. Harley, No. A 6004, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that James F. Harley, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on January 4, 1956 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 24 years of age, was placed on one year's probation for the crime of burglary in January of 1956. It appears that the applicant, while intoxicated, broke into a gas station, opened a vending machine and took out the money. Upon the arrival of the police, he fled, and the police fired four shots during the chase. He was 18 years old at the time.

The District Attorney stated that this was a very meritorious application and recommended clemency.

The applicant presently is employed by the Long Acres Poultry Company and holds a managerial position. One of the company's officials appeared before the Board in the applicant's behalf.

In view of the fine record that this young man has made in the past six or seven years, and the fact that a pardon will assist in the applicant's advancement, the Board feels that clemency is warranted.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Leach, 6429-B, No. A 1704, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of John Leach, convicted of robbery, etc., in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 8, 1950, computed from January 24, 1950 be commuted from 12 years to 11 years 6 months expiring on July 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until January 24, 1962.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

NOT SITTING,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Arnold McNeeley, 1925-E, No. A3155, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Arnold McNeeley, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 23, 1954, computed from February 10, 1954 be commuted from 12 years to 7 years 5 months 18 days expiring on July 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until February 10, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

In re application of William Meehan, 460B, No. A2998, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of William Meehan, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 24, 1948, computed from April 16, 1948, be commuted from 23 years to 13 years 3 months 10 day expiring on July 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 16, 1971.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert S. Moffett, No. A6068, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Robert S. Moffett, convicted of felonious entry and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County, on October 1, 1943 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 37 years of age, was placed on probation for two years, fined and ordered to pay costs, for the crimes of felonious entry and larceny. He and a juvenile accomplice entered a building and stole a radio and guns, most of which were returned the next day. He was 19 years old at the time.

The applicant now resides in California and is the President of the Insul-Seal Corporation which manufactures insulating materials. He is married and resides with his wife and two children in Woodland Hills, a fashionable suburban area of Los Angeles, where he has been active in community affairs and has an admirable reputation. He feels that a pardon is necessary for business reasons.

Neither the Pennsylvania Board of Parole nor the California Board of Parole offer any objection to clemency.

The Trial Judge is deceased and the President Judge, the Honorable William F. Dannehower, leaves the matter of clemency up to the Board. No report was received from the District Attorney.

The Board believes that this applicant has demonstrated his full adjustment to society and has conducted himself in a very excellent manner during the years he was on probation, and since that time.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willie Paddlefoot, 7893-C, No. A3072, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Willie Paddlefoot, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on October 7, 1947, computed from June 23, 1947 be commuted from 20 years to 14 years 1 month expiring on July 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until June 23, 1967.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Solomon Parlin, G2264, No. A5545, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Solomon Parlin, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 15, 1957, computed from June 4, 1956 be commuted from 6 years to 5 years 2 months 24 days expiring on August 28, 1961..

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 21 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 6 to 12 years for the crime of murder in the second degree in June 1956. It appears that he and two accomplices stole an automobile in which they sped up Broad Street in Philadelphia, lost control of the car and fatally struck a pedestrian. The applicant was sixteen years old at the time. The applicant was confined for a short period of time in the State Correctional Institution at Philadelphia, but, because of his age, was later transferred to the State Correctional Institution at Camp Hill.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Charles L. Guerin, wrote to the Board that he felt that the matter was entirely within the discretion of the Board. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to a commutation of the minimum sentence.

The penitentiary staff reports that the applicant has taken advantage of some of the educational work in the institution, is thoroughly repentent and has learned the trades of carpentry and sheet metal working. The parents of the applicant were present at the hearing, indicating that they would maintain a close supervision over him and help him in every way to live a useful and law-abiding life if he is released. Both accomplices have been released.

The Board believes that the experiences the applicant has undergone have had a very sobering effect upon him and that, with these trades he has learned and a proper parole program, he will live a useful life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louis I. Parris, No. A6062, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Louis I. Parris, convicted of assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on October 10, 1946 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 54 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 months for the crime of assault and battery in October 1946. This sentence was then suspended and the applicant was placed on probation for 3 months and the costs were paid. It appears that he owned a store where beer was sold, and the victim was refused a drink and ordered to leave the premises, whereupon the victim pulled a knife on the applicant. The applicant retreated, got a revolver and fired it into the ceiling. The victim continued to come after the applicant, whereupon the applicant shot the victim in the shoulder. The applicant is still the operator and owner of this store and continues to retail beer. He has been at this location for nine years.

The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to the granting of this pardon. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Thomas Bluett, did not reply to our note of inquiry. However, a member of that court, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, wrote the Board that he would rely on their decision in the matter.

The report of the Parole Board investigation indicates that the applicant has enjoyed a good reputation in the neighborhood and his desire for a pardon is to clear his record so as not to interfere with his business activities. The applicant owns his own home, where he resides with his wife who is now in poor health.

The Board believes that this offense, which was committed some fifteen years ago, was not entirely of the applicant's doing, and is impressed by the fact that the applicant's conduct has been completely satisfactory ever since this incident.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Clarence James Robertson, D7588, No. A3038, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Clarence James Robertson to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Berks County on January 18, 1944 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 17 years 7 months 10 days expiring on August 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant who is 54 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree on January 18, 1944.

It appears that the applicant and the victim were both playing poker at a Club and one of the players took a dollar from the winnings of the applicant, over which there was a dispute. The applicant procured a rifle, returned to the poker table and fired six or seven shots into the victim's body.

The Honorable Warren K. Hess, President Judge of the Berks County Courts, wrote that he would rely on the Board's decision and would make no recommendation either for or against commutation. The District Attorney also stated that he was offering no recommendation and would rely upon the decision of the Board.

The prison staff reported that during the entire seventeen years of the applicant's incarceration, he has maintained an unblemished conduct record. He has been employed in offices of trust and has carried out his responsibilities, taking advantage of the educational courses offered at the institution. He is in good health and his mental attitude is excellent.

The Board is of the opinion that this applicant, who has demonstrated stability and improvement in personality, will conduct himself in a law-abiding manner if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence of life imprisonment be commuted to a sentence of life on parole.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert A. Simpkins, No. A6080, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Robert A. Simpkins, convicted of larceny of automobile and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on October 23, 1952 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 28 years of age, was fined $10.00 and costs for the crimes of larceny of an automobile and receiving stolen goods, but the sentence was suspended. He and two youthful accomplices had taken an automobile and used it for a joy ride in what appeared to be a high school prank. Since his arrest in 1951, he has not become involved in any other offenses.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Edward Lewis, is no longer on the bench. The District Attorney indicated that he favored granting this applicant a pardon.

The applicant has qualified in an examination for appointment to the Philadelphia City Police Force and he is desirous of having this pardon so that he can become fully eligible for such employment.

The applicant is employed by the United Parcel Company of Philadelphia. He is married, has two children owns his own home and lives a law-abiding life, enjoying a good reputation in his community. He holds an honorable discharge from the United States Army, and many letters in his behalf have been submitted by friends and neighbors.

The Board believes that this young man has demonstrated a fine character and has shown that he can live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

In re application of Malcolm W. Stewart, 3003-E, No. A 6056, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Malcolm W. Stewart, convicted of assault with intent to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on January 17, 1955, computed from November 20, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 6 years 8 months expiring on July 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until November 20, 1964.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Harry Vasery, 3838-D, No. A 147, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Harry Vasery, convicted of conspiracy-robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 6, 1940, computed from May 25, 1940 be commuted from 40 years to 21 years 2 months expiring on July 25, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until May 25, 1980.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Cleveland Walker, 6282-B, No. A 6057, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Cleveland Walker, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 16, 1950, computed from October 28, 1949 be commuted from 20 years to 11 years 9 months expiring on July 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until October 28, 1969.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Wheeler, S2902, No. A 4941, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Wheeler, convicted of robbery, etc. in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on March 25, 1952, computed from February 7, 1952 be commuted from 25 years to 9 years 6 months 24 days expiring on August 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 31 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 25 to 50 years for the crime of armed robbery in February 1952. He and an accomplice were involved in a series of armed holdups, wherein about $1500. in cash was stolen.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Charles L. Guerin, stated that he was not in favor of the prayer of the petition, but the District Attorney recommended commutation and stated that he thought the application was meritorious.

This is the applicant's first sentence and conviction, and the institutional staff report that he has adjusted very well, has enrolled in the educational classes, and has received the equivalent of a high-school diploma. It is further reported that he is a musician and has been active in that branch of the institution's activity. The family of the applicant was present at the hearing and indicated that they will give him the guidance and counsel necessary for his adjustment in civil life.

The applicant has served a substantial portion over 9 years of his minimum sentence and there is every reason to believe that the adjustment demonstrated in the institution will be continued upon his release.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Morris Yick, No. 5117, May Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Morris Yick, convicted of conspiracy, holdup at point of gun, breaking and entering, larceny, violation uniform firearms act, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 5, 1939; and convicted of aggravated assault and battery, conspiracy, robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on March 28, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 39 years of age, was convicted of aggravated assault and battery, conspiracy, and robbery in Delaware County in 1938; and convicted of conspiracy, hold-up at point of gun, breaking and entering, larceny and violation of the uniform firearms act in Philadelphia County in 1939. The Board of Pardons recommended the commutation of his minimum sentences in 1942, and recommended the commutation of his maximum sentences in 1947. Now he desires a pardon to clear his record.

It appeared that the applicant and several accomplices entered a bar, where they met a stranger with whom they then drove to Philadelphia. While enroute an attempt was made to rob this stranger. Later the same group robbed a store and stole a considerable sum of money.

The District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that he had no objection to the pardon. The Board did not receive any comment from the District Attorney of Delaware County. Both Trial Judges are deceased.

Since the applicant's release from confinement he has not been involved in any criminal offenses, and the report of the parole agent indicates that he has lead a law-abiding life. He is presently in business and is the President of the Wah Wing Sang Funeral Corporation. He indicates that a pardon, which would clear his record, would help him in his business. He has an honorable discharge from the United States Army.

The Board has been advised that this applicant has conducted himself in a law-abiding manner for many years and has demonstrated his rehabilitation by conducting a successful business.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Bass, C 2500, No. A 4459, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Bass, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 25, 1952, computed from June 14, 1951 be commuted from 12 years to 10 years 4 months 10 days expiring on October 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 32 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 12 to 30 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective June 14, 1951. It appeared that he and his accomplices had held up 13 taxi-drivers at knife point and taken their money.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Samuel A. Weiss, stated that he would rely on the Board for its decision. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation.

The applicant has served over 10 years of his 12 year minimum sentence and the penitentiary staff reported that his conduct has been good and that he was recently awarded an "A" honor rating in recognition of his adjustment. During his incarceration, he has attained a High School Diploma, and at present holds a position of trust as a clerk in the institution office.

The Board believes that this young man had indicated his efforts at rehabilitation and that the education he has obtained will help him in his determination to live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

In re application of Joseph L. Beck, 9662-B, No. A 2803, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Joseph L. Beck, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 19, 1952, computed from September 20, 1951 be commuted from 16 years to 9 years 10 months expiring on July 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until September 20, 1967.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

In re application of Philip Biondo, Jr., C3610, No. A 4479, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Philip Biondo, Jr., convicted of armed robbery, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 9, 1954, computed from October 27, 1954 be commuted from 8 years to 7 years expiring on October 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 32 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 8 to 16 years for the crimes of armed robbery and receiving stolen goods, effective October 27, 1954. It appeared that he held up a proprietor of a dairy store, and a pedestrian, both at gun point.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Loran L. Lewis, stated that he would rely on the discretion of the Board. The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to commutation.

The penitentiary staff reported that the applicant has a good prison record and is presently a clerk to the prison Chaplain. He has taken advantage of the educational courses offered, and has attained a High School Diploma.

The Board believes that the applicant has earned, by his adjustment and rehabilitation in the penitentiary, the right to be released so that he can begin serving on the detainer sentence of 2½ to 5 years which is to follow the present sentence.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louis Bongiorno, No. A 6097, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Louis Bongiorno, convicted of assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette County on February 28, 1930; and convicted of violation of the liquor control law in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette County on November 19, 1932, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 60 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 30 days in the County Prison and also to pay a fine and costs in November 1932. It appears that he and an accomplice were in possession of alcoholic beverages in violation of the liquor laws. He was also charged with assault and battery in 1930. He now desires a pardon.

Both Trial Judges are deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable Eustace H. Bane, stated that he had no objection to a pardon.

The applicant now lives in Manhasset, Long Island, New York, where he is employed by the Lilly-Tulip Cup Company. He has become a citizen of the United States and served in the armed forces during World War I. He is married, owns his own home valued at $35,000 to $40,000, and the New York Parole Officer reports that he bears a good reputation and appears to be in good shape financially. He has lived a law-abiding life ever since these early indiscretions.

The applicant fears that his minor criminal record may put him in danger of his being deported, and the Board believes a substantial citizen of his type is deserving of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John F. Boyd, 3788-B, No. A 1374, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of John F. Boyd, convicted of arson in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 7, 1948 be commuted from 18 years to 12 years 7 months 20 days expiring on July 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until December 7, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Bradford Brandon, No. A 6106, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Bradford Brandon, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County on April 23, 1948 be commuted from 18 years to 13 years 6 months expiring on October 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 65 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 9 to 18 years for the crime of burglary, effective April 23, 1948. It appears that he burglarized school buildings, a dwelling and a church.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Michael J. Eagen, is no longer on the county bench. The District Attorney did not express any opinion as to the merits of the application.

The applicant's minimum sentence expired on April 23, 1957, and he has been under the supervision of the Board of Parole since that date, which reported that he has completed 4 years of satisfactory parole and that it has no objection to the commutation of his maximum sentence.

The Board has been advised that this applicant has a chance to be self-employed, expects to purchase a news stand, and would like to be relieved of further supervision. The Board believes that he has proved his rehabilitation and no longer requires supervision.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Caras, D 8146, No. A 1825-1, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of John Caras to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Northampton County on January 29, 1945 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 16 years 9 months expiring on October 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 51 years of age, was sentenced to a term of life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective January 29, 1945. It appears that he shot his good friend in a social club where both were drinking, and where the applicant was evidently being taunted by the victim.

The applicant has served over 16 years of a life sentence and the staff at the penitentiary reports that he has maintained a good disciplinary record and has made efforts of self improvement. A psychiatric report furnished by the penitentiary indicates that he is capable of abstaining from the use of alcohol and that there is every chance that he will be a good parole risk.

At the hearing the applicant's son and nephew were present and said that the applicant materially assisted the nephew through college and Medical School. Both promised to look after him if he is released. A letter was received from the son of the victim, who stated that he had no objection to the applicant's release.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William G. Barthold, wrote that he would rely upon the decision of the Board. The District Attorney stated that he would also rely upon the Board's discretion.

The Board believes that the applicant will live a law-abiding life if released. His stability has been tested in the penitentiary, and the psychiatric report indicates that he is not subject to the emotional upsets that caused the fatal shooting. He had no prior criminal record and there is every indication that, with a proper parole program, he will live a law-abiding and respected life in the future.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence of life imprisonment be commuted to a life sentence on parole.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert F. Cullen, E2334, No. A4742, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert F. Cullen, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 11, 1951, computed from April 7, 1951 be commuted from 50 years to 10 years 6 months 20 days expiring on October 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 30 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 50 to 100 years for armed robberies, effective April 7, 1951. It appears that he and two accomplices held up garages, drug stores and a restaurant, and, in one of the hold-ups, shot a waitress.

The District Attorney stated that he would rely on the Board's decision. The Trial Judge, the Honorable Charles L. Guerin, however, wrote the application was without merit.

The institutional staff reported that the applicant has been active in the programs there and has taken advantage of some of the educational work offered. He has taken psychological counselling, has gained insight into his behavior, and his attitudes appear to be such as to assure his good adjustment in free society. He is now the editor of the magazine published by the inmates at the penitentiary, known as the "Eastern Echo." He has shown ability as a cartoonist and writer.

The Board believes that the adjustment that this applicant has made in the penitentiary in many fields indicate to the Board that, if released, he will no longer lead a life of crime. He received a severe sentence, and has served over 10 years.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Donald Daly, E5308, No. A5428, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Donald Daly, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on March 14, 1955, computed from December 23, 1954 be commuted from 7½ years to 6 years 10 months expiring on October 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 38 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 7½ to 30 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective December 23, 1954. It appears that he and his accomplices, in need of money, held up various stores and pedestrians.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Edward J. Griffiths, states that he would have no objections to commutation. The District Attorney stated that he would rely on the Board for the decision. The applicant has selected his uncle, Fred Humphrey, to be his sponsor and Judge Griffiths states to the Board that this sponsor, from all appearances, will have a decided influence upon the applicant.

He has served over 6½ years of his 7½ year sentence, and, during his incarceration, his conduct has been good and his work performance above average. He has developed habits of saving and the staff states that the application is unusually meritorious.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,

In re application of Ralph DeAngelis, 9811, No. A897, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Ralph DeAngelis, convicted of robbery, armed with offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 29, 1948, computed from April 13, 1948 be commuted from 30 years to 13 years 3 months 18 days expiring on July 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 13, 1978.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Eskil Robert Englund, No. A6105, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Eskil Robert Englund, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen property in the Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County on September 16, 1960, computed from August 29, 1960 be commuted from 18 months to 1 year 2 months 2 days expiring on October 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 22 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 18 to 36 months for the crimes of larceny and receiving stolen property, effective August 29, 1960. It appeared that he and his accomplices stole automobile accessories from cars on car lots.

The District Attorney wrote that he was in favor of commutation. The Honorable Alexander Sculco, the sentencing judge, also stated that he had no objection to commutation.

Since confined in the Allegheny County Workhouse, the applicant's conduct has been satisfactory and his general attitude and work habits have been favorable. He is reported to be friendly and courteous in his manner and seemingly rehabilitated.

At the time of the commission of these offenses, the applicant was a member of the United States Army, stationed at Irwin, Pennsylvania. He has made restitution for the value of the articles he stole and has also paid the costs of the trial. If released, he will return to his home in Michigan where his parents reside and where a proper parole program will be provided.

The Board believes that the applicant, who will soon have served about 2/3 of his 18-month minimum sentence and made full restitution, would live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted, but that no change be made in the maximum sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Luther Hagerty Heffelfinger, No. A6139, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Luther Hagerty Heffelfinger, convicted of larceny by the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lebanon County on December 5, 1941; and convicted of carrying concealed deadly weapons and assault by the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on May 8, 1950, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 33 years of age, was originally placed on probation for a period of 1 year by the Juvenile Court of Lebanon County for the crime of larceny in 1941. He was sentenced for the crimes of carrying concealed deadly weapons and assault by the Dauphin County Court in 1950. It appears he took a car for a joy ride in 1941, and in 1950 he fired a revolver at some people in a car.

The Trial Judge in Lebanon County, the Honorable C. V. Henry, did not reply to the Board's letter of inquiry, and Judge Robert Woodside, of Dauphin County, stated that he had no opinion on the matter. The District Attorney of Dauphin County stated that he saw no reason for opposition to a pardon.

Both counties placed the young man on probation, and, since his probationary period, he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. He has been employed in recent years as a truck driver. He was present at the hearing before the Board, and indicated that, due to his criminal record, he is finding it difficult to hold a job and he wants a pardon in order to maintain a job and support his family.

The Board believes that the applicant merits an opportunity to maintain his unblemished record of employment and improve his earning ability if he can.

The Board, therefore recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Holmes, D8076, No. A2763, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of William Holmes to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on January 11, 1945 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 16 years 9 months 20 days expiring on October 31, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 33 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective January 11, 1945. It appears that he was handed a gun by one of his accomplices in a street gang fight in West Philadelphia, and, in the course of the fight, one of the members of the other gang was fatally shot.

The District Attorney advised the Board that he would rely on its decision. The Trial Judges did not express any opinion as to the merits of the case.

The applicant has spent half of his life in jail, and, during this incarceration, he has taken advantage of the educational courses of the institution and has received a high school diploma. His conduct has been satisfactory. The staff further reported definite improvement in both his conduct and his rehabilitation.

This applicant, who has been behind jail walls for 16 years of his life and has shown efforts of adjustment and rehabilitation during his incarceration, indicates to the Board that if released he will continue his progress and will not continue in criminal activity.

The Board, therefore, recommends that the sentence be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Russell Lindie, 1608-C, No. A6152, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Russell Lindie, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Blair County on June 10, 1946, computed from March 9, 1946 be commuted from 20 years to 15 years 4 months 20 days expiring on July 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until March 9, 1966.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph J. Meas, E5410, No. A5552, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph J. Meas, convicted of arson in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Berks County on April 6, 1955, computed from August 4, 1954 be commuted from 10 years to 7 years 2 months 20 days expiring on October 24, 1961 provided psychiatric treatments are arranged, satisfactory to the Board of Parole.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 26 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crime of arson, effective August 4, 1954. It appears that he started several fires in the City of Reading, where he was a member of a fire company. He would accompany the fire company to the fire and assist in the firefighting. He set fire to a dwelling, a foundry, a garage, a warehouse and a church, causing estimated damage of over $140,000, but none of the fires seem to have been set maliciously or for revenge.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Warren K. Hess, wrote that he would rely upon the decision of the Board in the matter. The District Attorney indicated that he was not in favor of commutation.

The applicant's conduct while confined has been good, and up to the time of this offense, he had no criminal history. The penitentiary staff stated that he has an unblemished disciplinary record and has made several attempts at self-improvement.

The Board ordered a psychiatric examination of the applicant, and the report thereof indicates that he is considerably more relaxed and there is every indication that he will refrain from further anti-social behavior. Letters from various individuals were received testifying to the applicant's good character and indicating that he will be helped to lead a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted, provided that a parole program is set up which will include adequate psychiatric treatment as long as required.

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,

In re application of Stephen Moochan, B8115, No. A4295, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Stephen Moochan to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Allegheny County on March 23, 1942 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 19 years 7 months expiring on October 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 63 years of age, was sentenced to a term of life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective March 23, 1942. It appeared that he and two accomplices were drinking and decided to obtain some money, so the three of them stopped an automobile and one of the accomplices shot the driver. This occurred in 1929. The applicant fled to the State of Montana where he was apprehended about 12 years later and brought back for trial.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Frank Graff, did not express an opinion as to the merits of the application. The District Attorney advised the Board he was not opposed to commutation.

The penitentiary staff stated that the applicant has had a stable institutional adjustment in all respects and holds a position of trust in the institution. The psychological report indicated that he appears now to have become a social being and is unlikely to gain more in his personality from continued confinement.

The Board believes that the adjustment which the applicant has demonstrated during the past 19 years of confinement indicates that there is little likelihood of his reverting to a life of crime if he is released.

The Board, therefore, recommends the commutation of this life sentence to a life sentence on parole.

In re application of Michael T. Pernie, No. A6089, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Michael T. Pernie, convicted of violation Uniform Firearms Act in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 24, 1957 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 24 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 6 days to 1 year in the County Prison for the crime of carrying concealed and deadly weapons, in January 1957. It appears that he and a friend were in the friend's automobile when they were stopped by the police, who found a revolver in it.

The District Attorney stated that he was not opposed to the granting of a pardon. The Trial Judge, the Honorable John A. Boyle, did not express any opinion as to the merits of the application.

The report of the Board of Parole indicated that the applicant enjoys a good reputation in his community, that he has violated no law since his release, and that he is now employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the Bureau of Employment in Philadelphia. His supervisor reported that he is performing his duties in a satisfactory manner.

This was the applicant's first and only offense. He is married, has a family, is living a law-abiding life and desires a pardon to clear his record and be better able to advance in employment.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

In re application of Walter Riley, 4829-B, No. A2391, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Walter Riley, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Phliadelphia County on May 19, 1949, computed from April 16, 1949 be commuted from 20 years to 12 years 3 months 10 days expiring on July 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until April 16, 1969.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Herman Stone, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Washington County on May 5, 1950, computed from December 26, 1949 be commuted from 20 years to 11 years 7 months expiring on July 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Irvin Stoudt, D6126, No. A3535, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Irvin Stoudt to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Chester County on November 26, 1941 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 19 years 11 months expiring on October 26, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 42 years of age, was sentenced to a term of life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective November 26, 1941. It appeared that he was robbing a dwelling when the owner appeared unexpectedly, and the applicant shot and killed him.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the bench and neither the President Judge nor the District Attorney expressed an opinion to the Board.

The applicant has been confined over 19½ years, has maintained a good record in the penitentiary and has made serious efforts at self improvement. He has become an assistant in the prison laboratory making blood tests and it was indicated that if he were released, a job in that field would be offered to him. A proper parole program will be arranged so that he will have a home with his sister and a job.

The Board, therefore, recommends a commutation of this life sentence to a life sentence on parole.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Mike Turk, 5404, No. 9474, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Mike Turk, convicted of incestuous rape in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Washington County on February 17, 1948, computed from February 10, 1948 be commuted from 15 years to 13 years 5 months 10 days expiring on July 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Parole has received a request from the applicant to be relieved of further parole supervision on the basis of his adjustment and progress on parole. The Board of Parole has favorably recommended this action to the Board of Pardons after reviewing his record. But for this action the applicant, because of his sentence, would remain on parole until February 10, 1963.

For the reason that this applicant has served a long time on parole, and the further reason, that the Board of Parole recommends him for release, the Board of Pardons recommends to your Excellency that the term of the maximum sentence of the applicant be commuted and that he be freed from further parole supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roger Williams, C4334, No. A5631, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Roger Williams, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 1, 1957, computed from January 3, 1957 be commuted from 7½ years to 4 years 9 months 20 days expiring on October 23, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The aplicant, who is 27 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 7½ to 30 years for the crime of burglary, effective January 3, 1957. It appeared that he and an accomplice were involved in a number of burglaries of churches and dwellings.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Warren Hess, stated that he would be satisfied with any decision the Board might make. The District Attorney stated that he was opposed to the commutation.

The penitentiary staff reported that the applicant has taken advantage of the educational courses offered and has obtained a high-school diploma. His conduct in the penitentiary has been good and he has learned the barber trade and obtained a license.

The family of the applicant were present, and the father of the applicant stated to the Board that he would finance the young man in setting up a barber shop upon his release.

The Board believes that this young man has demonstrated a mature improvement in his personality during the past 4½ years of his confinement, and will have no difficulty in adjusting himself to society upon release. A proper parole program will be arranged, and there is every indication that he will conduct himself as a law-abiding citizen in the future.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William E. Wolf, E-5496, No. A-6130, June Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William E. Wolf, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Bucks County on May 13, 1955, computed from July 14, 1954 be commuted from 7½ years to 7 years 3 months 10 days expiring on October 24, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant who is 28 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 7½ to 15 years for the crime of murder in the second degree, effective July 14, 1954. It appeared that he was invited to stay in the home of the victim, and both were drinking heavily. He claims that the victim evidently awoke during the night, and was committing an act of sodomy on the person of the applicant, so he struck the victim over the head with a bottle causing his death.

The penitentiary staff reported that the applicant has taken some of the educational work offered by the institution and is teaching mathematics at present. He has earned a high school diploma, and the psychological report indicates that he lacks a criminal pattern. This was his first arrest, and, as far as the record indicates, he had had no previous arrests. He has served over 7 years of his 7½ year minimum sentence and the staff reports that he appears to have profited from his penitentiary experience and to have obtained the maximum level of benefit. They consider the application an unusually meritorious one.

One of the Trial Judges, the Honorable Edward G. Biester, wrote the Board he had no recommendation to make. The District Attorney advised the Parole Agent that he concurred in the opinion of the Judge.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
ANNE X. ALPERN,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward H. Ayres, No. A6192, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edward H. Ayres, convicted of solicitation to commit sodomy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on August 8, 1950 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 41 years of age, was given a suspended sentence for the crime of solicitation to commit sodomy in August 1950. It appears that he approached a police officer and was then arrested.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the Bench, and the President Judge, the Honorable Gerald A. Gleeson, wrote that he was not opposed to a pardon. The District Attorney recommended clemency.

The applicant is presently employed by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission as a toll collector. He has been in no trouble since this offense, nor did he have any prior record. He is a veteran of World War II and has an Honorable Discharge. He desires a pardon to clear his record for possible advancement in employment.

The Board believes that the applicant's present good reputation indicates he is a proper subject for pardon.

The Board, therefore, recommonds that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Alfred Baker, G-5311, No. A6151, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Alfred Baker, convicted of robbery while armed; larceny; receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Beaver County on February 10, 1960 computed from January 20, 1960 be commuted from 2½ years to 1 year 10 months 10 days expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 22 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for the crime of armed robbery, larceny and receiving stolen goods, effective January 20, 1960. It appeared that he and an accomplice, while riding in a taxi, hit the driver with an unloaded gun, took about $5.00, put the driver out of the cab, drove the cab away and later abandoned it.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Robert E. McCreary, wrote that in view of the applicant's prior good record, he has no objection to commutation. The District Attorney stated that he would leave the matter to the discretion of the Board.

The prison staff reported that the applicant has adjusted well and is rated as a dependable worker. He attended school in prison, and earned an above average record. His wife and two children are in need of his care and help.

The Board believes that the applicant's record indicates rehabilitation to such a degree that, if released, he will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Duane Eugene Breth, C-4944, No. A6186, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Duane Eugene Breth, convicted of accessory to burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Jefferson County on June 20, 1958, computed from June 18, 1958 be commuted from 5 years to 3 years 5 months 10 days expiring on November 28, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 35 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 1 to 5 years for the crime of Accessory to Burglary, effective June 18, 1958. It appeared that he and his accomplices stole groceries from a warehouse. He completed his minimum sentence on June 18, 1959.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Robert Morris, did not comment on the merits of the application. The District Attorney recommended commutation.

The Board of Parole stated that it would leave this case within the Board's discretion, and reported that the applicant's adjustment has been satisfactory. He is currently employed as an oiler on a diesel shovel and is working steadily.

Applicant wishes to seek empolyment outside of his immediate area and feels that a commutation of his maximum sentence would enable him to search for better employment.

The Board believes that the possibility of any future involvement in crime for the applicant is negligible. He has demonstrated that he can live a law abiding life, and that he will continue to do so if supervision is terminated.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William P. Campbell, No. A6081, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William P. Campbell, convicted of Lottery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 15, 1951 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 44 years of age, was sentenced to pay a fine for the crime of lottery effective September 15, 1951. It appeared that he met an acquaintance who asked him to take two packages to a man. He was not offered any money for this service but assumed that he would be given money. He was arrested after he gave the packages to the man. The packages contained number slips.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable John J. Kennedy, is deceased, the President Judge, the Honorable William H. McNaugher, stated that he had no information on the case. The District Attorney said that he was not opposed to clemency.

Investigation indicated that the applicant is married and has three children. They have lived at the same address for over 10 years, and he has worked for the City of Pittsburgh for 5 years. He desires a pardon so as to clear his record and so that he can secure higher positions in the Union.

The Board, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Henry DeSipio, No. A 6172, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Henry DeSipio, convicted of receiving stolen goods; unlawful possession of untaxed liquor in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 2, 1957 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 43 years of age, was placed on probation for a period of 3 years for the crimes of receiving stolen goods and unlawful possession of untaxed liquor in January 1957. He was released from probation February 27, 1957. It appears that he and an accomplice were arrested on complaint of various business places because they were selling contraband merchandise.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Edward Leroy Van Roden, wrote that he would rely upon the Board's discretion. The District Attorney did not oppose the granting of a pardon.

The applicant is married and lives with his wife and two children in a home which he is purchasing. He alleges he did not know that his accomplice, who was his business partner, had purchased any stolen merchandise, and that the liquor, consisting of twelve miniature bottles in a small box, was purchased as a gift for a friend. He bears a good reputation in the neighborhood, works steadily, does not drink and adequately supports his family. He is presently employed by the City of Philadelphia as a Housing and Fire Inspector.

The Board feels he will continue to be a good citizen and will not again offend against society.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Anthony DiMichele, No. A 6183, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Anthony DiMichele, convicted of receiving stolen goods and conspiracy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on November 29, 1955 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant who is 42 years of age, was placed on probation for a period of five years for the crimes of receiving stolen goods and conspiracy in November 1955. It appears that he purchased ignition parts that were stolen. He pled guilty and his probation was on condition that he make restitution in the amount of $2,000.00 which has been paid.

The Trial Judge was Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis who as a member of this Board joins in this recommendation. The District Attorney recommended that a pardon be granted.

The applicant is married and living with his wife and three children in Philadelphia in his own home. He operates his own repair garage, employs four other men, and is doing a good business. The Board is in receipt of a letter from the company from which the parts were stolen and that company is satisfied to have a pardon granted.

The applicant desires a pardon to clear his record so that he will be free of this stigma when he sends his children to college.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jack P. Garretson-Butt, No. A 6176, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Jack P. Garretson-Butt, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on March 23, 1949 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 31 years of age, was placed on probation for a period of 23 months and fined $25.00 and costs, for the crimes of burglary and larceny in 1949. It appears that he entered a store and stole merchandise valued at $47.99. He completed his probation period on February 23, 1951.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the Bench, but the Board was advised by the President Judge, the Honorable Henry G. Sweney, that he had no objection to a pardon. The District Attorney advised the Board that he had no objection, either.

The applicant is presently residing in the State of Maryland, with his wife and three children. He was graduated from the University of Baltimore Law School and was admitted to the Maryland Bar in June 1960. The authorities in Maryland knew about this offense, and investigation indicates that the applicant has a good reputation and has been in no further trouble. The Board is in receipt of letters from several Maryland state officials testifying to the applicant's good character.

The applicant indicated that he desired a pardon in order to clear his record and to avoid any possible embarrassment in the future. The Board believes that his accomplishments in the past ten years indicate his complete rehabilitation, and feels he is worthy of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louis Gendeloff, a/k/a Louis Love, No. A 6182, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Louis Gendeloff, also known as Louis Love, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on December 3, 1936 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 47 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 3 months to 3 years in 1936 for the crimes of larceny and receiving stolen goods. It appears that he and two accomplices entered a hosiery company and stole a substantial amount of ladies silk hose and underwear.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., left the matter of clemency up to the Board. The District Attorney was not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant is married, living with his wife and two boys in his own home in Pitman, New Jersey. He is very active in Boy Scout work and is Chairman of the Transportation Committee of the Washington Township Boy Scouts, New Jersey. He has led a law-abiding life and has been in no further trouble since 1936. He desires a pardon to clear his record, because his sons will be entering College soon.

The Board believes the applicant's present record indicates his complete rehabilitation.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.

In re application of Ralph Grippo, No. A 6214, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Ralph Grippo, convicted of larceny carrying concealed weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 17, 1926 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 54 years of age, was sentenced to 3 years probation for the crimes of larceny and carrying concealed weapons effective September 17, 1926. It appeared that he met a friend on the street who offered him a ride in an automobile. He accepted the offer, but claims he did not know that the auto was stolen and that there was a gun in the glove compartment.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Josiah Cohen, is deceased. The President Judge, the Honorable William H. McNaugher, stated that he had no information on the case. The District Attorney is not opposed.

Investigation indicates that the applicant has been employed for over 6 years by the City of Pittsburgh, Department of Highways. He has lived in the same community for over 30 years and his reputation has been excellent.

The applicant was 17 years old at the commission of the crime and he has lived a law-abiding life ever since.

The Board believes that the applicant is worthy of clemency, and, therefore, recommends the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas Holbrook, C 5127, No. A 5746, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Thomas Holbrook, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on January 14, 1959, computed from September 20, 1958 be commuted from 5 years to 3 years 2 months 10 days expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 34 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 5 to 10 years for the crime of armed robbery, effective September 20, 1958. It appeared that he and his accomplices entered a store held up the clerk at gun point and demanded money.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Morgan H. Sohn, stated that he has no objection to clemency and will concur with the decision of the Board. The District Attorney favors commutation.

The prison staff reported that the applicant's record has been good, that he has learned both electrical and acetyline welding, is becoming aware of his responsibilities to his family and others, and is expressing positive attitudes.

The applicant's wife and parents were present at the hearing, and they assured the Board that he will have a job in Ohio, if he can be released in the very near future.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Knott Hollins, Alias (John Rogers), D-6211, No. A1800, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of John Knott Hollins, Alias (John Rogers) to imprisonment for Life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on January 7, 1942 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 19 years 11 months expiring on December 7, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 81 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, affective January 7, 1942. It appears that he shot his common-law wife when she refused to return to him after a separation.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable L. Stauffer Oliver, is no longer on the Bench. The Board received word from the Honorable Francis X. McClanaghan that he had no information on the case. The District Attorney advised the Board that he had no objection to the commutation of the sentence if the applicant will have a suitable home.

The applicant, due to his age, has not taken any educational courses, nor has he participated in any sports activities in prison. The staff, however, states that his conduct and adjustment have been considered satisfactory. He has served over 19 years of his life sentence and the Board feels that he will no longer be a menace to society, if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this life sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Percy McCoy, D-8267, No. A1840, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Percy McCoy to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on May 2, 1945 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 16 years 7 months expiring on December 2, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 69 years of age, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime of murder in the first degree, effective May 2, 1945. It appears that he shot his victim during an argument with the victim about stealing his money, in which the victim used a knife. Both had been drinking.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Vincent A. Carroll, wrote that he would have no objection to commutation if a proper parole plan could be arranged. The District Attorney advised that he had no objection to commutation.

The applicant has not participated in any sport activities, nor has he enrolled in any correspondence courses at the prison, but he has maintained an unblemished work record. He has served over 16 years of his life sentence and the Board is inclined to feel that, because he had no previous record, there is every indication that he will be a law-abiding citizen if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this life sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Leo F. McMahon, No. A3581, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Leo F. McMahon, convicted of burglary of Auto in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, be commuted from 5 years to a new maximum of 1 year 6 months 19 days, total time served, expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 38 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2 to 5 years for the crime of burglary of auto in September 1942. It appears that he and accomplices entered a garage and stole an automobile. While serving this sentence, the applicant escaped and committed the crime of murder, for which he received a life sentence. The Board, at the March 1961 Session, recommended the commutation of this life sentence, which was granted.

The applicant had served 1 year 2 months and 9 days of the sentence for burglary of auto when he escaped, and no detainer had ever been lodged against him to complete the sentence, nor had an indictment for prison breach ever been filed. However, when the authorities at the Philadelphia County Prison learned that the life sentence was being commuted, they immediately took steps to have the applicant re-admitted to serve the balance of the burglary of auto sentence.

Although the Trial Judge, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, feels that the applicant should complete this sentence, the District Attorney advised the Board he had no objection to commutation.

The Board, having recommended commutation of the life sentence after that Trial Judge, the Honorable Byron A. Milner, the District Attorney and Supreme Court Justice Bok strongly recommended clemency, feels it would be a miscarriage of justice if the applicant should be required to remain longer in prison.

The Board feel that the sentence for burglary of auto should be commuted.

The Board, therefore, recommends commutation of that maximum sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Dominic Melino, No. A3254, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Dominic Melino, convicted of setting up an illegal lottery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 10, 1943; convicted of setting up an illegal lottery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 28, 1947, and convicted of bookmaking and lottery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 23, 1951, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 43 years of age, was placed on probation for the crime of setting up an illegal lottery in 1943 and in 1947, and for bookmaking and lottery in 1951. It appears that he had been writing numbers, taking bets on football games, and accepting horse bets.

The Trial Judges are no longer on the Bench, and the Board received a letter from the President Judge, the Honorable Eugene V. Alessandroni, stating he would rely on the Board's discretion. The District Attorney advised that he was not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

This applicant has been in no further trouble since 1951. He is married and lives with his wife in a home they own, with their 3 children; a son is in military service. He has been employed by the Boeing Aircraft Company, has been recommended for promotion to foreman. He desires a pardon to clear his record and to aid him in securing this promotion. He enjoys a good reputation in the community, and the Board feels that his record indicates his complete rehabilitation and that he is worthy of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Samuel Moskowitz, No. A6220, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Samuel Moskowitz, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 17, 1934 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 48 years of age, was placed on probation for a period of 3 years in January 1934 for the crimes of larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy. It appears that he and accomplices were stealing store merchandise for a period of several months, in the total value of about $500. Restitution was a condition of the probation.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the Bench, and the Board did not hear from the President Judge. The District Attorney advised the Board that he did not oppose the granting of a pardon. In fact, he stated that the application was an unusually meritorious one.

Investigation indicates that the applicant has owned his own business in Philadelphia since 1952 and his yearly income is over $25,000. He owns his own home where he lives with his wife and three daughters, aged 21, 14, and 8 years. He bears a good reputation in the neighborhood and is interested in civic affairs. He desires a pardon to clear his record.

The Board believes the applicant's present record indicates that he is worthy of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Boise O. Neal, No. A6164, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Boise O. Neal, convicted of violation of the Liquor Control Act in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 16, 1955 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 48 years of age, was sentenced to pay a $200 fine in December 1955 for violation of the Liquor Control Act. It appears that he kept a quantity of white untaxed liquor in a garage adjacent to his residence.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable John A. Boyle, wrote that consideration should be given provided the applicant has not been in any further trouble. The District Attorney advised that he would rely on the judgment of the Board.

The applicant has not been in any further trouble since 1955. He owns the home in which he resides, his wife is deceased, and his children are married. He is employed as an Investigator for the City Controller's Office, has a good work record, and holds a position of trust. He bears a good reputation in his neighborhood.

The applicant desires a pardon to clear his name and to assist him in employment advancement. The Board believes that his record indicates complete rehabilitation, and that he is worthy of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Parker, D2829 No. A6232, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Parker, convicted of armed robbery, burglary, carrying concealed deadly weapons, conspiracy, aggravated A&B, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 27, 1938, computed from January 15, 1938 be commuted from 25 years to 23 years 10 months 15 days expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 48 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 25 to 50 years for the crimes of armed robbery, burglary, carrying concealed deadly weapons, conspiracy and aggravated assault and battery, effective Janaury 15, 1938. It appears that he and two accomplices on 21 different dates during the period from October 12, 1937 to January 1, 1938 participated in 24 armed robberies. At least 19 took place in 19 different restaurants. In all cases, revolvers were used, and cash taken from the victims, in amounts ranging from as little as $.28 to as much as $130. The total amount taken during this period was about $860.36.

The Trial Judge is no longer on the Bench, and the Board did not hear from the President Judge. The District Attorney advised that he did not oppose, in fact, he recommended clemency because of the long period of time served by the applicant, who now has been in prison for more than 23 years. He has a good record in the institution, and is presently working there as a carpenter.

The Board believes that the applicant's record indicates rehabilitation to such a degree that, if he is released, he may be reasonably expected to live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
NOT SITTING,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry Grant Reid, No. A6237, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Harry Grant Reid, convicted of violation of the Motor Code in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County, on December 9, 1960 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 50 years of age, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs, for the crime of violation of the Motor Code, effective December 9, 1960. It appears that he was driving his automobile in a narrow alley when he suddenly swerved and struck an old fence. He did only negligible damage to the fence.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William G. Johnstone, Jr., wrote to the Board stating that the charge should have been a summary offense. He urges that a pardon be granted. The District Attorney also stated that the petition is well founded and that a pardon should be granted. The applicant did not have legal advice for some time after the sentence was imposed, and the fact of its improper imposition was not discovered until after the term had expired, and the court was without authority to change the sentence.

The record indicates that the applicant has been employed for several years by a reputable company, owns his own home, and enjoys a good reputation in his community. Restitution and damages have been paid.

The Board is of the opinion that a pardon is fully justified, and, therefore, recommends that a pardon be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry C. Stoebe, No. A4709, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry C. Stoebe, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on June 9, 1952, computed from February 15, 1952 be commuted from 10 years to 9 years 9 months 15 days expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 50 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the crime of murder in the second degree, effective February 15, 1952. It appeared that applicant's wife attacked him with a knife, and he picked up a hammer for the purpose of defending himself. He then secured the knife from the victim and, in the struggle, claims that he uknowingly stabbed her.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Samuel Weiss, is not opposed to commutation. The District Attorney stated that he will rely on the discretion of the Board.

The prison staff reported that the applicant has a good general attitude and has always been considered a good worker. He has also maintained a clear conduct record throughout incarceration.

The applicant has a large family of brothers and sisters who are all interested in his future, and also has a complete parole plan prepared.

The Board believes that the applicant's record indicates rehabilitation and that, if released he will live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willie Toliver, E5853, No. A4127, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Willie Toliver, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 10, 1955, computed from November 30, 1954 be commuted from 8 years to 7 years expiring on November 30, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 45 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 8 to 16 years for the crime of murder in the second degree, effective November 30, 1954. It appeared that he had an argument with his common-law wife, and, when she cursed him, he struck her with his fist. He denied choking her, but the medical reports indicate death was caused by asphyxiation.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Gerald T. Flood, did not forward any comments to the Board. The District Attorney wrote that he approved commutation.

The prison staff advised that the applicant has made an excellent adjustment, has enrolled in educational classes in which he has been making good progress, and that all reports are considered satisfactory.

The applicant has served nearly 7 years of his 8 year minimum sentence and the Board believes he will live a law-abiding life if released.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT SITTING,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Eugene Updike, G5408, No. A6231, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Eugene Updike, convicted of burglary and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on March 16, 1960 computed from February 17, 1960 be commuted from 2½ years to 1 year 9 months 10 days expiring on November 27, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 18 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 2½ to 5 years for the crimes of burglary and receiving stolen goods, effective February 17, 1960. It appears that he and his accomplices would pick places at random to see what they could find, and, in many places, nothing of value was taken.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Walter R. Sohn, is opposed to commutation. The District Attorney stated to the Board that he thought the minimum sentence should be reduced.

The prison staff reported that the applicant has adjusted to a satisfactory degree under training. He has consistently been rated as a good worker and has been a cooperative individual. He has attended both academic and evening school in an effort to further his education. The applicant was 16 years of age when the crime was committed.

The Board believes that the applicant's record indicates his complete rehabilitation and that he is worthy of clemency.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
DAVID STAHL,
Attorney General.
GENEVIEVE BLATT,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert F. Voelker, Jr., No. A6246, September Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert F. Voelker, Jr., convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 11, 1960 be commuted from 18 months to 1 year 1 month 18 days expiring on November 29, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 22 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 18 months to 36 months for the crime of burglary, effective October 11, 1960. It appears that he and an accomplice burglarized a warehouse, but he avers that nothing was stolen.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Harry B. Crytzer, wrote that he does not oppose commutation of the minimum sentence but feel that the applicant should remain under parole supervision until the expiration of his maximum sentence. The District Attorney also favors commutation.

The prison staff reports that the applicant has been employed in the prison power house since incarceration and his work record has been good. He has never been reprimanded or been disrespectful to authorities, and seems to get along exceptionally well with others.

The Board believes that the applicant's record indicates rehabilitation, and that, upon his release, he will conduct himself as a law-abiding and useful citizen.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Milton Clark, D3006, No. 8432, October Session, 1961.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Milton Clark to imprisonment for life for murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery of Philadelphia County on April 1, 1938 computed from September 21, 1937 be commuted from life imprisonment to a term of imprisonment of 24 years 3 months expiring on December 21, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 56 years of age, was sentenced to imprisonment for life for the offense of murder in the first degree, effective September 21, 1937. It appeared that he killed his wife when he learned she had been unfaithful. He also was convicted of killing her paramour and received a sentence of 10 to 20 years for the offense of murder in the second degree. This 10 to 20 year sentence has been entirely completed.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., advised the Board that the granting of clemency was a matter to be determined by the Board. The District Attorney approved the granting of clemency.

The staff of the penitentiary advised that this applicant's present attitude is completely acceptable and that, in view of his maturation and stability, he would be a good risk in free society. He has received promotions and has earned a "B" honor rating status.

This applicant has served over 24 years of his life sentence and the Board believes his record indicates rehabilitation to such a degree that, if he is released, he may be reasonably expected to live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this life sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry P. Kagarise, C5138, No. A5609, June Session, 1961 (Recommended at the October 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Henry P. Kagarise, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bedford County on January 26, 1959, computed from January 20, 1959 be commuted from 4 years to 2 years 11 months expiring on December 20, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, who is 23 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 4 to 8 years for the crime of burglary, effective January 20, 1959. It appeared that he and three accomplices all of whom had been drinking, broke into several places of business and stole merchandise of relatively small value.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Richard C. Snyder, expressed the opinion that, if given a helping hand, he was sure this applicant would make a satisfactory adjustment. The District Attorney was of the same opinion.

The applicant's record in the penitentiary has been good. The authorities report that his attitude has changed considerably since his admission and that he is presently working in a trusted and responsible position in the Officers' cafeteria. In the very near future the staff will consider him a possible candidate for the conservation camp, which is an honored position.

The applicant's former employer was present at the hearing and assured the Board he will give the applicant a job in his dairy farm if he is released. He has friends who will assist him in every possible manner.

The Board believes that this applicant who has served almost 3 years of his minimum 4 year sentence, has shown an entirely different and favorable outlook on life and will no longer be a menace to society.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Vincent Platukis, No. 8908, June Session, 1961 (Recommended at the October 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the maximum sentence of Vincent Platukis, convicted of armed robbery and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County on August 14, 1952, computed from October 7, 1942 be commuted from 20 years to 19 years 2 months expiring on December 7, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 51 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years for the offenses of armed robbery and larceny, effective October 7, 1942. It appeared that he, and three accomplices entered the office of a Loan and Investment Company with drawn gun, rifled the cash drawer of $348.00, and took $5.00 from the pocketbook of an employee.

The applicant was released on parole after serving his minimum sentence and has recently been removed from close supervision and placed on regular supervision. During his entire parole period of almost 8 years, he has been in no further trouble. The Board of Parole has no objection to his being released from supervision.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable William H. Neely, stated he has no objection to commutation of the maximum sentence. The District Attorney advised the Board that he was not opposed, either.

The applicant has been residing with his mother and will continue to do so.

The Board believes the applicant has demonstrated, under parole supervision, that he can live a law-abiding life, and that he will continue to do so if supervision is lifted.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this maximum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Dean Smith, C-4964, No. A5220, June Session 1961, (Recommended at the October 1961 Session).

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Dean Smith, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer of Butler County on August 31, 1954, computed from August 7, 1958 be commuted from 5 years to 3 years 4 months expiring on December 7, 1961.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant, who is 29 years of age, was sentenced to a term of 5 to 10 years for the crimes of Burglary and Larceny, effective August 7, 1958. It appeared that he roamed the countryside, stealing automobiles for transportation, and breaking into 25 various camps, stores and homes to obtain money, food and clothing. When apprehended he confessed to the offenses and assisted the police by showing them the places he burglarized, and where he stole and abandoned the automobiles.

The Trial Judge, the Honorable Clyde S. Shumaker, stated he would leave the matter of commutation up to the Board. The District Attorney also left the matter up to the Board.

The applicant has served over half of his minimum sentence of 5 years, but has been continuously confined for 8 years, having served a sentence for an offense in the same series, which was committed in Clarion County, before starting this sentence. The prison authorities report that his adjustment has been excellent. He has made noteworthy progress in the vocational-educational areas. He received a High School Diploma in 1959, has completed a Dale Carnegie Course and received a certificate, and participates in the organized recreational program. He keeps in touch with his family and he will live with them if released.

The Board believes the applicant's record in prison indicates rehabilitation to such an extent that, if he is released, he may be expected to live a law-abiding life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that this minimum sentence be commuted.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
E. JAMES TRIMARCHI, JR.,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

PREFACE

THE GENERAL FUND

The fund structure of the Commonwealth includes those funds established for general purposes, working capital, bond, trust or agency, and enterprise. The General Fund and certain special funds finance the programs and operations of the various departments of State Government. It is to these funds that the budgeting process is principally applied.

This budget document presents the General Fund—the major operating fund of the Commonwealth. It receives all tax receipts and other types of revenue not specified by law to be placed in special funds. Except for certain restricted receipts, the income of the fund is appropriated in specific amounts for the ordinary programs of government. The appropriations so made are subject to budgetary control.

In this document, all amounts presented in bold type at the department level signify the Governor's Recommendations upon which the General Assembly is requested to act. The bold figures in department and general summaries represent totals of such appropriations.

The amounts for continuing appropriations presented in the 1959-61 Actual column represent all expenditures, encumbrances and balances. This presentation was based upon the assumption that the entire amount eventually would be expended. In the 1961-62 Amount Available column, continuing and regular appropriations represent the amount passed by the General Assembly.

DESCRIPTION OF REVENUE SOURCES

The following is a description of the major General Fund revenue sources. Presentation of the actual and estimated revenues in detail is shown in the Appendix.

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Actual and Estimated (13 months)	1962-63 Estimated (12 months)
TAX REVENUE
Corporate Net Income Tax	$ 294,389,219	$ 148,100,000	$ 157,000,000

The Corporate Net Income Tax is paid by all domestic and foreign corporations having capital stock, by joint-stock associations and by limited partnerships for the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania. A rate of six per cent is levied on the taxable income as returned to and ascertained by the Federal government. When the entire business of any corporation is not transacted within this Commonwealth, the income taxable in Pennsylvania is determined by the proportion of tangible assets, payrolls and gross receipts attributable to Pennsylvania. The tax was first enacted in 1935 (Act of May 16, 1935, P. L. 208 as amended) as an emergency tax. It was continued every two years at various rates and now is permanent. (Act of May 30, 1957, P. L. 80; Act No. 13, Feb. 21, 1961).

Both calendar-year and fiscal-year operating corporations are required to transmit annually tentative reports together with 80 per cent prepayments of the current year tax based on the last reported annual net income received or on income received or accrued during the first three months of the current year. These tentative reports and tax payments are due four months after the beginning of the current year. The remaining portion of the tax due is to be reported and paid within 105 days after the close of the calendar or fiscal year or within 30 days after the filing of Federal returns.

The 1959-61 Actual amount includes an additional 30 per cent prepayment of the 1961 tax required by Act No. 13, Feb. 21, 1961, increasing the prepayment requirement to 80 per cent.

Capital Stock and Franchise Taxes	106,997,317	57,500,000	57,400,000

The Capital Stock Tax is property tax levied at the rate of five mills on the actual value of capital stock of domestic corporations, joint-stock associations, and limited partnerships. Although the first levy of this nature went into effect in 1840 (Act of June 11, 1840, P. L. 612), the present tax is based on the Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420 as amended.

The Franchise Tax, an amendment to the original Capital Stock Tax Law, was enacted in 1935. (Act of May 16, 1935, P. L. 184 as amended).

This tax carries a five-mill rate and applies to any foreign corporation, joint-stock association, and limited partnership for the exercise of their franchise in Pennsylvania. The value of the firm's capital stock subject to tax is determined by its activity in Pennsylvania in relation to its activity everywhere using the three-fraction formula, tangible property, wages, salaries and gross receipts. Both the Capital Stock and Franchise Taxes provide for the exemption of that part of the taxable value actually and exclusively used in manufacturing or processing in this state. Domestic and foreign liquor distilling companies are taxed at a ten-mill rate on the value of their capital stock employed within the state. (Act of July 15, 1897, P. L. 292)

Both calendar-year and fiscal-year operating firms are required to transmit annually tentative reports together with 80 per cent prepayments of the current year tax based upon either the amount of estimated taxes reported for the preceding taxable year or upon the amount of taxes last settled or resettled against the corporation for a preceding taxable year, whichever amount is greater. These tentative reports and tax payments are due four months after the beginning of the current year. The remaining portion of the tax due is to be reported and paid within 105 days after the close of the calendar or fiscal year.

Gross Receipts Taxes	$ 56,533,270	$ 26,200,000	$ 25,600,000

The Utility Gross Receipts Tax is levied on the gross receipts from business transacted within Pennsylvania by specified utilities owned, operated or leased by corporations, associations or individuals. (Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420 as amended)

The tax rate is 14 mills for all utilities except motor transportation companies, which are taxed at a rate of eight mills.

All companies, except municipally owned or operated public utilities, are required to transmit annually tentative reports together with 80 per cent prepayment of the current year tax based on the taxable gross receipts reported for the entire preceding calendar year or on the taxable gross recipts for the first three months of the current calendar year. These tentative reports and payments are due on April 30 of the current year. The remaining amount due is to be reported and paid by April 15 of the next year.

The 1959-61 Actual amount includes an additional 80 percent prepayment of the 1961 tax as required by Act No. 16, Feb. 21, 1961.

Insurance Premiums Taxes	$ 54,943,821	$ 22,900,000	$ 24,400,000

The Insurance Tax is a premium tax of two per cent (subject to the retaliatory provisions of the act) levied on all demestic life or limited life insurance companies (Act No. 15, Feb. 21, 1961) and on all foreign insurance companies, except marine insurance companies. (Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420 as amended)

The tax levied on foreign companies is based on the amount of business transacted by each company in Pennsylvania. Receipts from the tax on foreign fire insurance companies are not deposited in the General Fund, but are distributed for the benefit of local volunteer fire companies. That portion of the tax in excess of two per cent due from retaliatory provisions with other states plus an amount for administration of the tax is deposited in the General Fund as general revenue. The remainder is deposited in a restricted receipts account in the General Fund for payment to local police retirement systems.

All marine insurance companies, both domestic and foreign, pay a five per cent tax on underwriting profits attributable to Pennsylvania in lieu of gross premiums tax. (Act of May 13, 1927, P. L. 998 as amended)

All life and limited life insurance companies, both domestic and foreign, are required to transmit annually tentative reports together with 80 per cent prepayment of the current year tax based on the taxable gross premiums reported for the entire preceding calendar year or on the taxable gross premiums for the first three months of the current calendar year. These tentative reports and payments are due April 30 of the current calendar year. The remaining amount due is to be reported and paid by April 15 of the next year.
The 1959-61 Actual amount includes an additional 80 per cent prepayment of the 1961 tax, as required by Act No. 15, Feb. 21, 1961.
Bank Shares Taxes	37,275,890	20,000,000	18,900,000
The Bank Shares Tax is levied at the rate of eight mills on the actual value of shares of state and national banks located within the Commonwealth, (Act of July 15, 1897, P. L. 292 as amended), title insurance companies, bank and trust companies, and trust companies. (Act of June 13, 1907, P. L. 640 as amended) Actual value, as used in computing this tax, is ascertained by adding the amount of capital stock paid in and the amount of surplus and undivided profits, and dividing this total by the number of shares. Each institution functions on a self-assessing basis and may pay the tax from general funds or collect the amount of the tax from its shareholders.
Effective January 1, 1961, this 8-mill rate is also levied on the sum of the surplus, on undivided profits, and on reserves of building and loan associations, Federal and State savings and loan associations, and savings banks without capital stock. (Act No. 17, Feb. 21, 1961) The date of ascertainment of actual value of shares of capital stock or other prescribed tax base is January 1 of the current year. Beginning with the 1961 calendar year, 80 per cent of the ascertained tax incurred as of January 1 of the current year is due and payable with proper report by April 15 of the same year. The remaining amount due must be paid by April 15 of the next year.
The 1959-61 Actual amount includes an additional 80 per cent of the 1961 tax on state and national banks, title insurance companies, banks and trust companies, and trust companies, as required by Act No. 17, February 21, 1961. Also included in this amount is the initial 80 per cent payment of the newly levied tax on building and loan and savings and loan associations.
Other Selective Business Taxes	$ 10,882,774	$ 5,500,000	$ 5,400,000
The Commonwealth received revenue from the following business taxes: Corporation Excise Tax—Domestic and Foreign—Acts of July 25, 1953, P. L. 560 and 564.
Loans Tax—Domestic and Foreign—Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 414 as amended.

Electric Cooperative Corporations Tax—Act of June 21, 1937, P. L. 1969. Agricultural Cooperative Associations CNI Tax—Act of May 23, 1945, P. L. 893. Gross Receipts Tax—Private Banks—Act of May 16, 1861, P. L. 708 as amended. Boxing and Wrestling Exhibits Tax—Act of June 14, 1923, P. L. 710. Tax on Net Income—Savings Fund Societies—Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420 as amended—Expired 1961.
Corporation Income Tax—Act of Aug. 24, 1951, P. L. 1417 as amended. The 1959-61 actual amount includes an additional 30 per cent prepayment of the 1961 tax as required by Act No. 12, Feb. 21, 1961, increasing the prepayment from 50 to 80 per cent.
Selective Sales, Use and Hotel Occupancy Taxes	721,295,363	429,200,000	404,000,000
The Sales and Use Tax is levied on the purchaser or user of specific classes of tangible personal property, utility services and other selected services in Pennsylvania. The tax rate is four per cent of the purchase price based on a bracket system. The tax was adopted by the Act of March 6, 1956, P. L. 1228 at a three per cent rate, amended in 1959 to three and one-half per cent effective April 15, 1959, and to four per cent rate effective Aug. 20, 1959.
The Hotel Occupancy Tax was adopted at the same time as the Sales and Use Tax by the Act of March 6, 1956, P. L. 1256. It taxed at a three per cent rate the amount of rent paid for temporary occupancy of a room or rooms in a hotel or other type of lodging house. Amendments increased the rate to three and one-half per cent on April 15, 1959 and to four per cent on September 18, 1959. The Hotel Occupancy Ta was incorporated into the Selective Sales and Use Act on Feb. 1, 1960.
Vendors who collect $600 or more in a calendar quarter send their collections monthly within 45 days of the last day of the collection month, with the exception of collections for May, 1961 and May, 1962, which are due within 20 days after the end of the collection month. In fiscal 1960-61, the April, 1960 payment was due within 20 days after the end of the collection month. All other vendors report quarterly and transmit their collections within 30 days of the end of the collection-quarter period, except that the April and May collections in the second quarters of fiscal 1961-62 and 1962-63 are due within 20 days after the end of the second month. The remaining amount is due within 30 days of the end of the collection-quarter period. The Sales Tax on Motor Vehicles is collected directly by the Department of Revenue when application is made for a certificate of title.
Cigarette Tax	$ 129,462,328	$ 76,200,000	$ 72,700,000
The Cigarette Tax is an excise tax imposed and assessed upon the sale or possession of cigarettes within this State at the rate of three cents per 10 cigarettes or fraction thereof. The tax is imposed upon the ultimate consumer but usually is collected by sale of stamps to dealers who affix the stamps to each package. The tax originally was imposed for a two-year period at the rate of two cents per 10 cigarettes or fraction thereof (Act of June 14, 1935, P. L. 341), and was extended by each Legislature until 1955 when it was made permanent. (Act of Sept. 3, 1955, P. L. 561) An additional excise tax of one-half cent per 10 cigarettes or fraction thereof was imposed for a two-year period by the Act of Sept. 3, 1955, P. L. 561, and was made permanent. (Act No. 14, Feb. 21, 1961). The tax collected during the 1955-57 biennium was deposited in the Special Disaster Relief Fund; however, since June 1, 1957, the tax collected is deposited in the General Fund.

(Note: An additional excise tax of one-half cent per 10 cigarettes or fraction thereof was imposed by the Act of May 4, 1959, P. L. 284. This tax is deposited in the Korean Conflict Veterans Compensation Sinking Fund to pay the bonds issued for the payment of the Korean bonus.)
Malt Beverage Tax	43,334,746	24,700,000	22,700,000
The Malt Beverage Tax, a selective excise tax, is levied on all malt or brewed beverages manufactured in Pennsylvania which are prepared for market in the Commonwealth and on the transportation of such beverages into Pennsylvania for sale, delivery, or storage. (Act of May 5, 1933, P. L. 284 as amended.)
The tax rate is two-thirds cent per half-pint of eight fluid ounces or fraction thereof, one cent per pint of 16 fluid ounces or fraction thereof and $2.48 per barrel. The tax is paid by manufacturers through purchase of stamps or crowns which are affixed to the product.
Liquor Tax	$ 51,733,549	$ 29,100,000	$ 27,000,000
The Liquor Tax is levied at a rate of 10 per cent of the net purchase price on all liquors sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board. (Act of June 9, 1936, P. L. 13 as amended)
Realty Transfer Tax	38,989,284	22,000,000	21,100,000
The Realty Transfer Tax is levied at the rate of one per cent of the value of the property transferred as represented by deed, instrument or other writing. (Act of Dec. 27, 1951, P. L. 1742) The tax is paid through the purchase of stamps which are affixed to the legal document by the person presenting it for recording. The tax was first levied for the 1951-53 biennium and was extended for two-year periods in 1953, 1955, 1957, and 1959. It was made a permanent tax by Act No. 9 Feb. 9, 1961.
Inheritance Taxes	96,703,191	52,000,000	49,400,000
The Inheritance Tax is a transfer tax levied on the clear value of property passing to heirs of a deceased person. (Act of June 20, 1919, P. L. 521, Act No. 207 approved June 15, 1961 with an effective date of January 1, 1962) The rate on such property is two per cent of value after a personal exemption if passing to direct or lineal heirs and 15 per cent without exemption if passing to collateral heirs. The Act of May 3, 1956, P. L. 1525 exempts property passing to charities and other listed organizations. The Inheritance Tax is collected by counties for the State within one year after death of a person whose property is being transferred. In addition to the Inheritance Tax an Estate Tax is levied on estates situated in Pennsylvania and applies to residents and non-residents. (Acts of May 7, 1927, P. L. 859 and June 4, 1947, P. L. 1091) The tax comprises the difference between the Inheritance Tax imposed by the State and the credit allowed under the Federal Estate Tax.

Minor and Repealed Taxes	1,017,253	600,000	600,000
Minor taxes are those taxes whose potential individual annual yields are comparatively small. They include: Tax on Legal Documents—Act of April 6, 1830, P. L. 272. Spirituous and Vinous Liquors Tax—Act of 1933, P. L. 38 and P. L. 91. Repealed taxes are those which are no longer in effect but for which revenues outstanding continue to be received. They include: Consumers Sales Tax—Act of July 13, 1953, P. L. 389—Expired August 31, 1955. Anthracite Coal Tax—Act of May 11, 1921, P. L. 479—Expired 1931. Stock Transfer Tax—Repealed by Act of July 10, 1957, P. L. 671. Documentary Stamp Tax—Act of May 16, 1935, P. L. 203—Expired 1937. Soft Drink Tax—Act of May 14, 1947, P. L. 249—Expired May 31, 1951. Personal Property Tax 1937—Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 414—Expired 1943. Tax on Net Income—Savings Fund Societies—Act of June 1, 1889, P. L. 420, as amended—Expired 1961.
TOTAL TAX REVENUE	$1,643,558,005	$ 914,000,000	$ 886,200,000
NON-TAX REVENUE
Liquor Store Profits	$ 97,000,000	$ 56,000,000	$ 51,000,000
Liquor Store Profits represent the amount of profit realized from the operation of the State liquor stores less sufficient deductions for reserve and inventory. This amount is transferred to the General Fund from the State Stores Fund to be used for general appropriation purposes.
Institutional Reimbursements	50,565,206	30,700,000	30,800,000
Institutional Reimbursements include all payments by patients or their families for care in State hospitals and institutions. Also included are payments by the counties for inmates committed to penal and correctional institutions by the courts of those counties.
Licenses, Fees and Miscellaneous	32,215,018	18,670,000	18,450,000
The Licenses and Fees category includes collections by the various State departments which are not specifically required by law to be placed in special funds to support a specific purpose. Although amounts obtained from an individual class of license very often are sufficient only to cover the regulatory costs, any additional money is available for general purposes. Licenses and fees are required in a multitude of laws designed to protect the public from indiscriminate and unsafe practices. Those which bring the largest amounts of revenue into the General Fund are Dog Licenses, Public Utility Assessment Fees, Insurance Licenses and Fees, Vital Statistics Fees, Professional License Fees, and Cigarette License Fees (beginning with 1961-62 fiscal period). Legislation of the 1959 session changed the renewal requirement of most professional licenses issued by the Department of Public Instruction from an annual to a two-year basis.

The Miscellaneous category includes all other income to be used for general appropriation purposes in the General Fund except monies which are given to the State by individuals, or are provided by law to be used for a specific purpose only. Included in this miscellaneous income are monies from such sources as escheats, sale of forest products and sale or rent of Commonwealth property.
Fines, Penalties and Interest	$ 7,452,059	$ 4,200,000	$ 4,400,000
This source includes all penalties and interest collected in the enforcement of tax regulations. The largest portion is from penalties and interest on Selective Sales and Corporation Tax enforcement.
Also included are fines and penalties other than those used to enforce tax regulations and those not required by law to be placed into a special fund for a specific purpose. Most of these fines and penalties collected by the various departments are an integral part of enforcement of the laws providing for licenses and fees. By far the largest segment of the amounts received are fines for violations of the Vehicle Code.
Transfers from Eliminated Special Funds	384,557	159,000	.....
Monies transferred from the following Special Funds, eliminated by legislation, are included in this revenue source: Federal Unemployment Relief Fund—$152,107 (eliminated during 1960-61), Veterans' Compensation Fund (World War I)—$232,450 (eliminated during 1960-61), Toll Bridge Fund—$158,154 (eliminated during 1961-62).

SOURCE OF FUNDS
Federal Funds for Health Programs
The Federal government assists the State through a variety of programs under the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In order to receive the funds, the State must meet Federal standards. Often Federal funds from one Federal program are distributed among several State programs or a State program may receive funds from a number of Federal programs. Consequently, it is difficult to state the exact proportion of the Federal contribution to some State programs. The various Federal programs and the degree of contribution are as follows:
Maternal and Child Health Services and Aid to Crippled Children, varying bases.
General Health Services, matching.
Venereal Disease Projects, matching.
Tuberculosis Control, matching.
Heart Disease Control, matching.
Cancer Control, matching.
Water Pollution Control, based on per capita income.

Health Rehabilitation Services

Maintains and operates four hospitals for treatment of pulmonary and other forms of tuberculosis. Two of the hospitals provide for enforced isolation of recalcitrant patients who refuse to cooperate in their own cure and, if free, would constiute a public health menace. (Acts of April 27, 1905, P. L. 312 as amended; May 14, 1907, P. L. 197 as amended; April 23, 1956, P. L. 1510; Admin. Code of 1929, Sec. 2107)

Maintains and operates a crippled children's hospital at Elizabethtown where physical defects are treated by surgery and therapy, and children are taught to make the most efficient use of limited faculties. A full school program, psychological services and outpatient clinics are among other features of the Hospital. (Acts of April 27, 1905, P. L. 312; May 14, 1925, P. L. 749; Admin. GENERAL GOVERNMENT—INSTITUTIONAL

PROGRAM

Mental Health Services

INSTITUTIONS FOR THE MENTALLY ILL: Provides care and treatment for mentally ill persons at 18 State mental hospitals. The mental hospitals are under the supervision of the Commissioner of Mental Health, and the superintendent at each hospital is advised on patient care, management and personnel matters by the board of trustees of that hospital. The present emphasis at the mental hospitals is upon early intensive treatment and care of mentally ill patients through the use of modern psychiatric methods in a therapeutic environment. Approximately 51,000 patients were treated at the State hospitals during the year which ended May 31, 1961. In 80 per cent of the cases treated, it has been possible to return the patient to useful life in society in less than a year. This can be done for less than five per cent of the cost of the Commonwealth's maintenance of the patient as a chronic custodial case of his entire lifetime, aside from the profound saving in human dignity and in the patient's economic productivity. Although there were more than 9,200 admissions to the mental hospitals during the second year in the 1959-61 biennium, there has been a noticeable decrease in the number of hospitalized patients. The early intensive treatment of the mentally ill will result in long range savings, but a continued high level of expenditure will be necessary to maintain the gains achieved during the past few years. An expanded program of $25,311 State funds is recommended to provide for full time operation of an outpatient clinic at Mayview State Hospital. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended; Admin. Code of 1929, Sec. 202, 401, 2302, 2303, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2313, 2313.1, 2313.3, 2314, 2315, 2315.1 2315.2, 2315.3, and 2330)

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE (Continued)

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Amount Available (13 months)	1962-63 Recommended (12 months)

Makes payments to Philadelphia General Hospital for the care and treatment of mental patients referred to it by the State. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended; Admin. Code of 1929, Secs. 2313.1 and 2329)

Reimburses counties, county institution districts and institutions for the care of mental patients boarded out to alleviate State hospitals' chronic shortage of facilities and to evaluate the ability of some patients to adjust in a non-psychiatric setting. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended; Admin. Code of 1929, Secs. 2313.1 and 2329).

Reimburses counties, county institution districts and private institutions for temporary care given to retarded children, awaiting admittance to a State training school. An expanded program of $476,250 State funds is recommended to increase the average rate of reimbursement from $4 to $5 per day for the 750 retarded children presently receiving such care and to provide for the care of an additional 110 children. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended)
Supports the education, care and training of mentally retarded children at the Elwyn Training School. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended; Admin. Code of 1929, Sec. 2329)
Makes grants to community psychiatric clinics and other community agencies for the purpose of providing early diagnosis and treatment of emotional disorders, assisting other professional people in the community in the mental health aspect of their jobs, and assisting in the maintenance and elevation of mental health in the community. The cost of this activity is shared by the State, the Federal Government and the communities. An expanded program of $150,000 State funds is recommended to provide six additional community mental health facilities. An additional $60,000 State funds is recommended to develop research projects relating to community psychiatric services. (Admin. Code of 1929, Secs. 2306 and 2313.1)
Provides support for the establishment and maintenance of mental health diagnostic clinics and treatment centers in general hospitals throughout the State. An expanded program of $144,000 State funds is recommended to provide for an additional 96 psychiatric beds in general hospitals. This expanded program will enable many persons to receive immediate short term psychiatric treatment at a General Hospital, thereby eliminating the need for a prolonged stay in a State mental hospital. (Act of June 12, 1951, P. L. 533 as amended; Admin. Code of 1929, Secs. 2306 and 2313.1)

PROGRAM
Courts of Common Pleas
Courts of Common Pleas are established for every county to have jurisdiction and power to hear and determine pleas, actions, suits, and causes, civil, personal, real and mixed. The Courts also have chancery powers. (Acts of June 16, 1836, P. L. 784)
Common Pleas judges are judges of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer, Quarter Sessions of the Peace and General Jail Delivery, and of the Orphans' Court, and justices of the peace as to criminal matters within their districts. (Constitution of Pennsylvania, Art. V)

PREFACE

THE SPECIAL FUNDS

The special funds have been created over a long period of time to account for taxes and other revenues which have been set aside by law for a particular purpose. At present there are 59 such funds other than the General Fund. Because the activity of most is restricted, it would not be valuable to present a budget for each.

The Motor License, Fish, Game, Banking, Milk, and Farm Products Funds are all subject to the same budgetary controls as the General Fund and are presented in this document. Another fund, the State Harness Racing Fund, joins this group for the first time in this Special Funds budget presentation.

Other funds in the special revenue fund group have been made available for expenditure by continuing legislative appropriation and do not require authorization by the Governor.

As in the General Fund document, bold face figures represent the Governor's Recommendations for appropriations.

2—MOTOR LICENSE FUND

MOTOR LICENSE FUND

COMPARATIVE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The Motor License Fund is a special revenue fund composed of monies received from the Liquid Fuel and Fuel Use Taxes, licenses and fees of motor vehicles, fines from certain Vehicle Code violations, Federal Aid for highway purposes, contributions from local subdivisions for construction and maintenance and other miscellaneous highway revenues.

The Fund provides for the operation of the Department of Highways and the administration of licensing, highway safety and highway purchasing. The Fund also finances State Police highway patrol operations and pays subsidies to local subdivisions for construction and maintenance of roads.

DESCRIPTION OF REVENUE SOURCES

The following is a description of the major Motor License Fund revenue sources. The 1962-63 estimated amounts are based upon the present tax structure.

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Amount Available (13 months)	1962-63 Recommended (12 months)
LIQUID FUELS TAX
Liquid Fuels Tax	$ 284,232,119	$ 228,600,000	$ 213,100,000

The Liquid Fuels Tax is an excise imposed upon all fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth. (Acts of May 21, 1931, P. L. 149 as amended; April 29, 1959, P. L. 58 as amended). The tax, ultimately borne by the consumer, is imposed upon and collected by the distributor. After deduction of allowable discounts, all monies collected from the Liquid Fuels Tax are placed in the Motor License Fund, except that an amount equal to one-half cent per gallon is placed in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund. Fuels sold and delivered to the U. S. government and those under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States are exempt from payment of the tax. In addition to these exemptions, reimbursement is made for fuels used for certain agricultural purposes. At present the permanent rate of the Liquid Fuels Tax is seven cents per gallon. This rate became effective April 1, 1961. (Act No. 7, Feb. 9, 1961) Originally the permanent rate was three cents per gallon and in 1949 a temporary levy of two cents per gallon was added. The 1961 legislative session made the temporary levy permanent and added an additional two cents per gallon, bringing the total to seven cents.

The 1959-61 actual amount reflect a deposit of four and one-half cents per gallon in the Motor License Fund. The 1961-62 and 1962-63 amounts reflect a deposit of six and one-half cents per gallon.

Fuels Use Tax	10,947,863	9,700,000	9,000,000

The Fuels Use Tax is a tax levied upon all dealer-users for the use of fuels within the Commonwealth other than fuels taxed under the Liquid Fuels Tax Act. (Acts of Jan. 14, 1952, P. L. 1965 as amended; April 29, 1959, P. L. 58 as amended) All monies collected, less allowable discounts, are paid into the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund in the same proportion as the Liquid Fuels Tax monies. Exempt under this tax are fuels under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States, fuels used and sold by the Commonwealth and any of its political subdivisions, fuels sold and delivered to the U. S. government, fuels (less than 50 gallons) brought into the Commonwealth in the fuel tanks of motor vehicles and fuels used for certain agricultural purposes. At present the permanent rate of the Fuels Use Tax is seven cents per gallon. This rate became effective April 1, 1961. (Act No. 6, Feb. 9, 1961) Originally the rate was set at five cents per gallon, three cents of which was permanent and two cents temporary.

The 1961 legislative session made the temporary tax permanent and added an additional two cents per gallon to bring the total to seven cents.

DESCRIPTION OF REVENUE SOURCES

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Amount Available (13 months)	1962-63 Recommended (12 months)
The 1959-61 actual amount reflects deposits in the amount of four and one-half cents per gallon in the Motor License Fund. The 1961-62 and 1962-63 amounts reflect a deposit of six and one-half cents per gallon.
TOTAL—LIQUID FUELS TAXES	$ 295,179,982	$ 238,300,000	$ 222,100,000
MOTOR LICENSES AND FEES	$ 190,123,032	$ 94,600,000	$ 108,000,000
The Commonwealth receives revenue from the licensing of motor vehicles and from collection of fees levied for the registering and titling of motor vehicles and for the issuance of learners permits and operators licenses. The classification and rate schedules for the various types of motor vehicles using public highways are set forth in the Vehicle Code. (Act of April 29, 1959, P. L. 58 as amended, Acts No. 266, July 6, 1961; No. 613, Sept. 16, 1961)
The larger revenue producers are fees for the registration of vehicles, commercial motor vehicles, truck-tractors, trailers and buses, and for the issuance of operator licenses, certificates of title and transfer of registration fees. The 1959-61 and 1962-63 amounts reflect the change from a one-year to a two-year renewal of operator licenses. (Vehicle Code)
TOTAL—MOTOR LICENSES AND FEES	$ 190,123,032	$ 94,600,000	$ 108,000,000
FEDERAL AID AND LOCAL CONTRIBUTIONS
FEDERAL AID	$ 202,563,325	$ 115,800,000	$ 145,800,000
The Commonwealth receives contributions from the Federal government for the construction, improvement and maintenance of highways. The funds are paid under the provisions of Public Law 627 of the 84th Congress, Title I, Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 and previous legislation. It is part of the program designed to build a national system of interstate and defense highways.
LOCAL CONTRIBUTIONS	7,862,613	2,500,000	3,000,000
The Commonwealth receives revenues contributed by the various political subdivisions of the State for the construction, improvement and maintenance of highways and bridges.
TOTAL—FEDERAL AID AND LOCAL CONTRIBUTIONS	$ 210,425,938	$ 118,300,000	$ 148,800,000
OTHER MOTOR FUND REVENUES
FINES	$ 2,475	$ 1,550	$ 1,500
The Commonwealth receives revenue from aeronautics fines and other fines collected under the Fuel Use Tax.
MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE	$ 9,308,809	$ 4,698,450	$ 4,956,000
The Commonwealth receives revenue from interest on deposited Motor Fund monies, investments and securities; from the sale of unserviceable properties, maps, plans, and inspection stickers; and from the rental of State properties and equipment.

DESCRIPTION OF REVENUE SOURCES

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Amount Available (13 months)	1962-63 Recommended (12 months)
GROSS RECEIPTS TAX	29,914	32,000	35,000

The Gross Receipts Tax is an excise tax imposed upon the gross receipts of owners or operators of motor vehicles transporting passengers or property for hire on public highways. (Acts of June 22, 1931, P. L. 694 as amended; August 21, 1953, P. L. 1270) The tax rate is eight mills. Only the tax received from companies operating over routes which are not entirely within the Commonwealth is deposited in the Motor License Fund.

TOTAL—OTHER MOTOR FUND REVENUES	$ 9,341,198	$ 4,732,000	$ 4,992,500
TOTAL—MOTOR LICENSE FUND REVENUES	$ 705,070,150	$ 455,932,000	$ 483,892,500

DESCRIPTION OF REVENUE SOURCES

The following is a description of the major Game Fund revenue sources.

	1959-61 Actual (24 months)	1961-62 Amount Available (13 months)	1962-63 Recommended (12 months)
Licenses and Fees	$ 8,427,792	$ 4,178,217	$ 4,145,005

The Commonwealth issues resident hunting and trapping licenses for wild birds and animals upon payment of a fee of $3.15 by Pennsylvania residents. Upon proper application and payment of a $20 fee, nonresident hunters' licenses, which entitle the holder to hunt, take, or kill wild birds and animals, are issued to nonresidents and alien nonresidents. Nonresident trappers' licenses for trapping wild animals are issued upon similar application and payment of $25. Three-day licenses are issued to nonresidents, upon payment of a $3.15 fee, to hunt on regulated shooting grounds. In years when the Commission declares an open season, licenses for hunting antlerless deer are issued to residents and non-residents upon payment of a fee of $1.15. Other fees deposited in the Game Fund include those received from issuance of special game permits and special archery licenses. (Act of June 3, 1937, P. L. 1225 as amended)

The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews
Speaker
House of Representatives
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg,
Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Andrews:

I have the honor to hand your herewith an official copy for the Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of the supplemental report made by the Delaware River Port Authority to the Governors and Legislatures of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, under the terms of the Compact creating the Delaware River Port Authority.

This supplemental report was adopted by the Port Authority at a meeting held on January 10, 1962, and is a supplement to and part of the report on the Southern New Jersey Rapid Transit System made to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey under date of April 19, 1961.

Very respectfully yours,

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING
P. O. BOX NO. 1949
CAMDEN 1, N. J.

January 10, 1962.

To the Honorable:

Governor David L. Lawrence
Governor Robert B. Meyner
and the Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
and the
State of New Jersey

SUPPLEMENT TO
SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY RAPID TRANSIT SYSTEM
REPORT
Dated April 19, 1961

Under date of April 19, 1961, the Delaware River Port Authority, in accordance with a resolution of the Authority duly adopted at a meeting held April 19, 1961, submitted a Report, to which this is a supplement, setting forth the plans, cost estimates and means of financing a rapid transit line, with necessary appurtenances, between points in the City of Philadelphia and Kirkwood, New Jersey, and requesting approval of Governor David L. Lawrence and Governor Robert B. Meyner to the construction, erection and operation thereof.

Subsequent to the forwarding of the report, Governor Robert B. Meyner requested the Authority to consider certain modifications and amendments to the plan for the rapid transit line. Upon receipt of such a request, the Authority submitted the suggested changes to Simpson & Curtin, Engineers, for the purpose of obtaining that firm's opinion of the effect of the changes on its prior recommendation that the system was feasible. Simpson & Curtin have completed their study of the proposed changes, and have prepared an addendum to their original report, which addendum is attached hereto and made a part of this Supplemental Report.

Drexel & Co., financial consultants to the Authority, have also studied the suggested revisions and changes, and have prepared an addendum report, also attached hereto and made a part of this Supplemental Report.

On the basis of the facts and recommendations contained in the addendum report of Simpson & Curtin and the addendum report of Drexel & Co. and after careful consideration, the Authority approved, by resolution adopted January 10, 1962, that the changes recommended by Governor Robert B. Meyner as listed in the addendum report of Simpson & Curtin attached hereto be incorporated by supplement in the report dated April 19, 1961. The resolution adopted January 10, 1962, follows:

> BE IT RESOLVED: That the Authority accept and approve the revisions to the proposed rapid transit line suggested by Governor Robert B. Meyner and concurred in by Simpson & Curtin, and Drexel & Co., which revisions and changes are contained in a Supplement to the Report heretofore made to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, under date of April 19, 1961, and
> BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Supplement be and is hereby approved and made a part of the Report dated April 19, 1961, and
> BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the officers of the Authority are hereby directed to transmit the Supplement dated January 10, 1962, to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, requesting approval of the construction, erection and operation of a rapid transit line between Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Kirkwood, in Voorhees Township, New Jersey, substantially in accordance with the Report dated April 19, 1961, as amended and revised by the Supplement dated January 10, 1962.

In compliance and conformity with the directions of the Authority contained in the foregoing resolution, the Delaware River Port Authority respectfully requests the approval of His Excellency Governor David L. Lawrence and His Excellency Governor Robert B. Meyner to the construction, erection and operation of a rapid transit line, and necessary appurtenances, extending between points in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Kirkwood, Voorhees Township, New Jersey, substantially in accordance with the plans contained in the Report dated April 19, 1961, as modified and amended by this Supplement.

Respectfully submitted,

Gentlemen:

In compliance with your request of January 9, 1962, we have reevaluated the engineering, operational and cost aspects of the conclusions forwarded by Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey with his letter dated January 9, 1962, concerning Governor Meyner's action with respect to the report of the Delaware River Port Authority relative to the Southern New Jersey Rapid Transit System, Haddonfield-Kirkwood Line, dated April 19, 1961, and submit the following as an addendum to our report of February 15, 1961.

The design changes recommended by Governor Meyner have been previously studied by us, together with numerous other possible alternate plans, and from an engineering point of view we believe them to be entirely feasible.

These changes are:

(1) The elimination of the third level rapid transit overpass of the Woodbury Branch of the PRSL at Division Street, Camden.
(2) The alteration of PRSL tracks in the Terminal Tower and Pavonia Yard areas in Camden, necessary for rapid transit operations.
(3) The depressing of the single PRSL track and the two rapid transit tracks from West Haddonfield to east of Lincoln Avenue in Haddonfield.
(4) The elimination of the PRSL operations and contemplated single track adjacent to the rapid transit right-of-way from Division Street in Camden to West Haddonfield.

The estimated capital cost of all work necessary to construct a modern rapid transit line as outlined in the Delaware River Port Authority's reported dated April 19, 1961, but amended to incorporate the changes enumerated above, is $54,231,000. These costs are inclusive of 1962-1963 prices.

Deducting $3,000,000 to be allocated by the New Jersey Highway Department toward the cost of grade separations, a reimbursement by the Highway Department of $1,148,000 for expenditures concerning the North-South Freeway and $390,000 for the sale of the existing bridge line cars, the total cost to the Delaware River Port Authority becomes $49,693,000, or $5,093,000 above the comparable estimated cost of $44,600,000 contained in our February 15, 1961 report.

The attached table shows the detailed costs for the major construction items.

The changes recommended by Governor Meyner do not require basic changes in the operating procedure as originally proposed. However, there will be a minor increase in maintenance costs because of the depressed right-of-way in Haddonfield.

It is our finding that the changes recommended by Governor Meyner are feasible from an engineering viewpoint as well as operationally.

Respectfully submitted,

SIMPSON & CURTIN

Dear Sirs:

We have been informed regarding the supplemental proposal for the "Proposed Rapid Transit System in Southern New Jersey" which the Authority has under consideration for approval and submission to the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey for their approval. We have also had the opportunity to confer with members of your transportation and finance committees, your counsel, members of your executive staff and Messrs. Simpson & Curtin, engineers. This revised proposal in the opinion of the engineers represents certain increases and decreases entering into the cost of construction. In our report to you under date of April 19, 1961, which was made a part of your report to the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the cost of construction as then estimated by Simpson & Curtin amounted to $44,600,000 after certain credits. Simpson & Curtin advise us their estimate of the net cost of the revised plan of construction will amount to approximately $49,400,000.

As stated in our April 19, 1961 report, we used a total cost figure of $50,000,000 in considering financial feasibility. Simpson & Curtin's revised report estimates that the cost of construction of the revised project is less than the $50,000,000 figure we used in considering financial feasibility. In view of the foregoing we are of the opinion that the revised project is financially feasible.

Very truly yours,
Drexel & Co.

Honorable Anthony J. DiSilvestro, President of the Senate
Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, Speaker of the House of Representatives and Members of the General Assembly of the
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The annual report of the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee for the calendar year 1961 is herewith submitted.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT D. FLEMING,
Chairman

LEGISLATIVE BUDGET AND FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Legislative Budget and Finance Committee was created by Act 195, approved August 4, 1959 and amended by Act 645, approved September 20, 1961, as a permanent fiscal review agency of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Powers and Duties

1. Appoint its own officers and sub-committees from its membership.
2. Make rules and regulations governing its proceedings.
3. Keep complete Minutes of its meetings.
4. Appoint Chief Executive Officer to be known as the Executive Director. To select and employ other personnel and establish compensation and salaries.
5. Perform all duties and functions relating to the study of the revenues, expenditures and fiscal problems of the Commonwealth, its officers, boards, committees, commissions, institutions and other State agencies.
6. To request, receive, review, examine, study, ascertain and compare fiscal information concerning the budget, the revenues and expenditures of the Commonwealth and to make recommendations to the Legislature, when found advisable, directed to the elimination of unnecessary expenditures and to the promotion of economy in the government of the Commonwealth.
7. To make current examination and, when pertinent, reports concerning the current condition of all State funds, appropriations and other moneys, whether or not such appropriations are being currently expended for the purposes and within the statutory restrictions provided by the Legislature, and concerning the current availability of revenue to meet expenditures under appropriations.
8. By continuous review of State expenditures, revenues and analysis of budget, to ascertain the facts, compare cost, work-load and other data, and make recommendations concerning the State's budget and revenue of the departments, boards, commissions and agencies of the Commonwealth.
9. Report to the General Assembly when they are in session, the Governor and the Auditor General, when it appears that any appropriation is being expended for purposes other than the purposes for which the appropriation was intended, or if it appears that any statutory restrictions or provisions are being violated.
10. Make reports from time to time to the members of the Legislature and upon request to the standing committees of the Senate and House of Representatives with respect to any of its findings or recommendations of a fiscal nature.
11. Make and distribute its final report to the members of the ensuing Legislature not later than ten (10) days after the convening of the regular session of the Legislature.

Meetings

Meetings of the Committee were held in Harrisburg on March 21, April 5, August 16 and November 15, 1961.

* * * * *

On March 7, 1961, President Pro Tempore of the Senate, Anthony J. DiSilvestro, appointed or reappointed the following members of the Senate to this Committee:

Hon. Anthony J. DiSilvestro
Hon. Charles R. Weiner
Hon. William J. Lane
Hon. James S. Berger
Hon. Robert D. Fleming
Hon. Henry J. Propert

Senator James S. Berger, Minority Leader of the Senate, advised the Committee on April 19, 1961 that he was resigning from the Committee and designated Honorable Raymond P. Shafer as replacement.

On February 13, 1961, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Hiram G. Andrews pursuant to Act 195, approved August 4, 1959, P. L. 587, appointed or reappointed the following members of the House of Representatives to this Committee:

Hon. Hiram G. Andrews
Hon. Stephen McCann
Hon. J. Dean Polen
Hon. Edwin W. Tompkins
Hon. Ronald L. Thompson
Hon. Norman Wood

At the meeting on March 21, 1961, the Committee was reorganized with the following members elected as officers:

Hon. Robert D. Fleming, Chairman
Hon. Anthony J. DiSilvestro, Vice-Chairman
Hon. J. Dean Polen, Treasurer
Hon. Norman Wood, Secretary

Due to the fact that the 1961 Legislature was in session through the summer the Committee did not meet again until August 16, 1961. At this meeting they completed the staff appointments. Mr. Philip Lopresti, Secretary of the House of Representatives, was appointed Executive Director; John A. McKinney was appointed Co-Director; J. Alexander Jacobs, Casper Burns and John Kost were appointed as Analysts. Truman B. Thompson was retained as Legislative Analyst and Mrs. Anne Thomas was retained as Secretary. The position of Clerk-Typist was created. The above appointments were effective September 1, 1961 and Chairman Fleming held an organization meeting on that date. Mrs. Helen McNeill was employed to fill the Clerk Typist position effective October 1, 1961.

During October 1961, the Committee moved to its permanent quarters in Rooms 627-28, Main Capitol Building.

In November 1961 the staff completed the compilation of a report on the Major Programs of State Expenditures in legislative districts by county or counties, where the district contained more than one county, for the biennium June 1, 1959 to May 31, 1961. The reports were mailed to all members of the General Assembly.

The Committee staff is now in process of completing a comprehensive review of all funds of the Commonwealth. This is the first time that such a complete study and report has been made of all funds. This report will be available within a very short time and will furnish the members of the General Assembly information not previously available to them concerning the financial operations of the State government.

The Committee plans to follow up the report on "Funds of the Commonwealth" with a special report with recommendations concerning the possible abolishment of some of the "special' or "dedicated" revenue funds.

A new project to be presented to the Committee for consideration will be the review of the programs and functions of agencies on a selective basis. A report will be prepared for each program or function which will show a description of the program, statutory authority for the program, performance comparison, number of employees assigned to the program, and the cost of carrying on the program.

We believe that reports such as this will be of invaluable assistance to the members of the General Assembly in arriving at the decisions they must make concerning appropriations and other fiscal matters.

On October 24, 1961, Chairman Fleming accompanied Mr. Lopresti, Mr. McKinney and Mr. Thompson on a visit to Baltimore, Maryland, to confer with Mr. John S. Shriver, Director of the Legislative Fiscal Research Bureau, which is the counterpart of our Committee in Maryland, concerning their organization, method of operation and activities. The bureau has been functioning since 1947 and apparently has been very helpful to the legislature in matters involving the fiscal affairs of the State.

One of the main functions of the bureau is to prepare an annual report on local government finances in Maryland for the Governor and the General Assembly. In addition they make special investigations, studies and reports relating to matters involving state taxation and make continuing studies of all state fiscal relationships.

On November 14, 1961, Chairman Fleming, Mr. Lopresti, Mr. McKinney and Mr. Thompson visited Mr. John L. Brown, Legislative Budget and Finance Director for the State of New Jersey at Trenton, to review their organization, method of operation and activities. This committee was organized in 1941, later abolished and then reactivated in 1955.

Under the direction of the Legislative Budget and Finance Director, the staff collects and assembles factual information relating to the fiscal affairs of the State. All budget requests and estimates made by each spending agency are filed with the Legislative Budget and Finance Director at the same time they are filed with the Governor's Budget Office. The requests are carefully analyzed and compared with expenditures of the previous years. The Director attends all budget hearings. The Director makes recommendations to the Joint Appropriations Committee, and his staff assists in the preparation of the appropriation bill.

We believe these visits to other states having a committee such as ours, which has been operating over a period of years have, and can be, very helpful to our committee in studying their operations and accomplishments.

The Governor has been very cooperative and the Office of Administration and the Cabinet members have also cooperated fully with the Committee and the staff.

The Director and staff review all audit reports of State agencies received from the Department of the Auditor General and any deficiencies reported are called to the attention of the Office of Administration with the request that a report be furnished the Committee when deficiency has been corrected. Follow up is made to see that reports are received.

Following is a list of reports prepared for this Committee, under contract, by the Joint State Government Commission:

Public Assistance, Changes in Statutes, Standards, Load, Composition of Load and Commonwealth Costs.

Post High School Education: Sources and Uses of Income of Institutions of Higher Education in Pennsylvania and Selected Reference States and Commonwealth Appropriations, and Allocations for Biennia 1949-51 to 1959-61, inclusive.

Yield of the Selected Sales and Use Tax, 1959-61 and Estimated Annual Yields of Selected Extensions of the Tax.

Statutory Functions and Actual Operating Procedures of the State Tax Equalization Board.

Public School Buildings: Commonwealth Re-Imbursement Procedures and Factors Generating Differences in Costs of Structures.

School Health Services and County Health Units.

The Honorable Dennis T. Mulvihill
Chief Clerk
Senate
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Mulvihill:

I have the honor to hand you herewith an official copy for the Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of the supplemental report made by the Delaware River Port Authority to the Governors and Legislatures of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, under the terms of the Compact creating the Delaware River Port Authority.

This supplemental report was adopted by the Port Authority at a meeting held on January 10, 1962, and is a supplement to and part of the report on the Southern New Jersey Rapid Transit System made to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey under date of April 19, 1961.

Very respectfully yours,

C. H. McWilliams,

P. O. Box No. 1949

CAMDEN 1, N. J.

January 10, 1962

To the Honorable:

Governor David L. Lawrence

Governor Robert B. Meyner

and the

Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

and the

State of New Jersey

SUPPLEMENT TO

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY RAPID TRANSIT SYSTEM

REPORT

Dated April 19, 1961

Under date of April 19, 1961, the Delaware River Port Authority, in accordance with a resolution of the Authority duly adopted at a meeting held April 19, 1961, submitted a Report, to which this is a supplement, setting forth the plans, cost estimates and means of financing a rapid transit line, with necessary appurtenances, between points in the City of Philadelphia and Kirkwood, New Jersey, and requesting approval of Governor David L. Lawrence and Governor Robert B. Meyner to the construction, erection and operation thereof.

Subsequent to the forwarding of the report, Governor Robert B. Meyner requested the Authority to consider certain modifications and amendments to the plan for the rapid transit line. Upon receipt of such a request, the Authority submitted the suggested changes to Simpson & Curtin, Engineers, for the purpose of obtaining that firm's opinion of the effect of the changes on its prior recommendation that the system was feasible. Simpson & Curtin have completed their study of the proposed changes, and have prepared an addendum to their original report, which addendum is attached hereto and made a part of this Supplemental Report.

Drexel & Co., financial consultants to the Authority, have also studied the suggested revisions and changes, and have prepared an addendum report, also attached hereto and made a part of this Supplemental Report.

On the basis of the facts and recommendations contained in the addendum report of Simpson & Curtin and the addendum report of Drexel & Co. and after careful consideration, the Authority approved, by resolution adopted January 10, 1962, that the changes recommended by Governor Robert B. Meyner as listed in the addendum report of Simpson & Curtin attached hereto be incorporated by supplement in the report dated April 19, 1961. The resolution adopted January 10, 1962, follows:

> BE IT RESOLVED: That the Authority accept and approve the revisions to the proposed rapid transit line suggested by Governor Robert B. Meyner and concurred in by Simpson & Curtin, and Drexel & Co., which revisions and changes are contained in a Supplement to the Report heretofore made to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, under date of April 19, 1961, and
> BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Supplement be and is hereby approved and made a part of the Report dated April 19, 1961, and
> BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the officers of the Authority are hereby directed to transmit the Supplement dated January 10, 1962, to the Governors and Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, requesting approval of the construction, erection and operation of a rapid transit line between Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Kirkwood, in Voorhees Township, New Jersey, substantially in accordance with the Report dated April 19, 1961, as amended and revised by the Supplement dated January 10, 1962.

In compliance and conformity with the directions of the Authority contained in the foregoing resolution, the Delaware River Port Authority respectfully requests the approval of His Excellency Governor David L. Lawrence and His Excellency Governor Robert B. Meyner to the construction, erection and operation of a rapid transit line, and necessary appurtenances, extending between points in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Kirkwood, Voorhees Township, New Jersey, substantially in accordance with the plans contained in the Report dated April 19, 1961, as modified and amended by this Supplement.

Respectfully submitted,

DELAWARE RIVER PORT AUTHORITY

Gentlemen:

In compliance with your request of January 9, 1962, we have reevaluated the engineering, operational and cost aspects of the conclusions forwarded by Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey with his letter dated January 9, 1962, concerning Governor Meyner's action with respect to the report of the Delaware River Port Authority relative to the Southern New Jersey Rapid Transit System, Haddonfield-Kirkwood Line, dated April 19, 1961, and submit the following as an addendum to our report of February 15, 1961.

The design changes recommended by Governor Meyner have been previously studied by us, together with numerous other possible alternate plans, and from an engineering point of view we believe them to be entirely feasible.

These changes are:

(1) The elimination of the third level rapid transit overpass of the Woodbury Branch of the PRSL at Division Street, Camden.

(2) The alteration of PRSL tracks in the Terminal Tower and Pavonia Yard areas in Camden, necessary for rapid transit operations.

(3) The depressing of the single PRSL track and the two rapid transit tracks from West Haddonfield to east of Lincoln Avenue in Haddonfield.

(4) The elemination of the PRSL operations and contemplated single track adjacent to the rapid transit right-of-way from Division Street in Camden to West Haddonfield.

The estimated capital cost of all work necessary to construct a modern rapid transit line as outlined in the Delaware River Port Authority's report dated April 19, 1961, but amended to incorporate the changes enumerated above, is $54,231,000. These costs are inclusive of 1962-1963 prices.

Deducting $3,000,000 to be allocated by the New Jersey Highway Department toward the cost of grade separations, a reimbursement by the Highway Department of $1,148,000 for expenditures concerning the North-South Freeway and $390,000 for the sale of the existing bridge line cars, the total cost to the Delaware River Port Authority becomes $49,693,000 or $5,093,000 above the comparable estimated cost of $44,600,000 contained in our February 15, 1961 report.

The attached table shows the detailed costs for the major construction items.

The changes recommended by Governor Meyner do not require basic changes in the operating procedure as originally proposed. However, there will be a minor increase in maintenance costs because of the depressed right-of-way in Haddonfield.

It is our finding that the changes recommended by Governor Meyner are feasible from an engineering viewpoint as well as operationally.

Respectfully submitted,

SIMPSON & CURTIN
By: HAWLEY S. SIMPSON.

Dear Sirs:

We have been informed regarding the supplemental proposal for the "Proposed Rapid Transit System in Southern New Jersey" which the Authority has under consideration for approval and submission to the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey for their approval. We have also had the opportunity to confer with members of your transportation and finance committees, your counsel, members of your executive staff and Messrs. Simpson & Curtin, engineers. This revised proposal in the opinion of the engineers represents certain increases and decreases entering into the cost of construction. In our report to you under date of April 19, 1961, which was made a part of your report to the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the cost of construction as then estimated by Simpson & Curtin amounted to $44,600,000 after certain credits. Simpson & Curtin advise us their estimate of the net cost of the revised plan of construction will amount to approximately $49,400,000.

As stated in April 19, 1961 report, we used a total cost figure of $50,000,000 in considering financial feasibility. Simpson & Curtin's revised report estimates that the cost of construction of the revised project is less than the $50,000,000 figure we used in considering financial feasibility. In view of the foregoing we are of the opinion that the revised project is financially feasible.

Very truly yours,
DREXEL & CO.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, January 22, 1962

SPECIAL SESSION

The SPEAKER, the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, called the House to order.

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable David L. Lawrence, in his Proclamation convening the General Assembly in Special Session by virtue of the authority conferred upon him under Article IV, section 12 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the members of the House of Representatives here assembled will come to order.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O God of all grace and protector of all mankind, it is with heartfelt thanks and boundless praise that we come before Thee in this hour. We pray that Thou wilt look mercifully upon our infirmities, and in all our dangers and necessities stretch forth the right hand of Thy Majesty to help and defend us. In the decisions of this hour we pray that Thou wilt be our strength and stay, and guide us by the counsel and might of Thy Spirit: through Jesus Christ, our Lord, to Whom be glory, honor and praise, world without end. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The House will be at ease awaiting the arrival of the respective floor leaders.

The Chair would remind the respective whips that it will shortly be in order to determine the presence of a quorum.

If the respective whips can assure the Chair that a quorum is present, we can proceed with the order of the day.

NOTIFICATION SENATE IS ORGANIZED

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Committee on the part of the Senate to wait upon the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Committee on the part of the Senate.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, we are a Committee on the part of the Senate to inform the House that the Senate is now organized in extraordinary session and ready to proceed with the business of the session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the Committee on the part of the Senate.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leaves of absence were granted as follows:

Mr. Dougherty for Mr. NEEDHAM for today.

Mr. Dougherty for Mr. REIDENBACH for the week.

Mr. Dougherty for Mr. McKEEVER for the week.

Mr. Dougherty for Mr. GELFAND for the week because of illness.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. ESHBACK for today to attend funeral.

RULES

The SPEAKER. Under the provisions of Article II, section 11, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, this House in 1961 adopted rules to govern its procedure which will continue to be the rules for this extraordinary session, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

STANDING COMMITTEES

The standing committees and the members thereof as constituted by the House in the 1961 regular session will remain the same for this special session, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

Mr. MUSTO offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, Monday, January 22, 1962.

Resolved, That a committee of three members be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House of Representatives is convened in Special Session, pursuant to the proclamation of His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth and is ready to proceed with the business of the session.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House is in session and ready to proceed with business, Messrs. Musto, Filo and Tompkins.

The committee will now proceed in the performance of its duties.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives
Monday, January 22, 1962.

Resolved, That a committee of three members be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon His Excellency, The Governor of the Commonwealth, and inform him that the House of Representatives is convened in Extraordinary Session in conformity with his proclamation and is ready to receive any communication he may wish to make.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to wait upon the Governor and notify him the House is convened, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Committee on the part of the House to wait upon the Governor.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed to inform his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, that the 1962 special session of the House of Representatives is convened has completed its duty and is here to state that there is no other official business.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the committee and the committee is discharged.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SENATE

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on the part of the House to inform the Senate that the 1962 special session of the House of Representatives has convened and is ready to proceed with business has performed its duty.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the committee and the committee is discharged.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. McCANN, A. W. JOHNSON, DOUGHERTY, Mrs. KERNAGHAN, Messrs. PETROSKY, ESLER, SHERMAN, LAMB and KORNICK.

HOUSE BILL No. 1.

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

Referred to the Committee on Congressional Apportionment.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Congressional Apportionment to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the House will be at ease awaiting the return of the committee.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. If the House will be in order, the Chair would like to make a brief statement of possible interest to some members of the House.

As perhaps some members of the House have noted, when the legislature in its wisdom increased the emoluments of the members of the General Assembly, it knocked out the compensation for special sessions. However, as a result of an inadvertence, the $1,000 paid to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House was not knocked out. It was not the intention of either presiding officer that that appropriation should stand. Now I have this problem: I can either let the appropriation lapse, which is contrary to all legislative practice, you know, or I can use it for some cause which in my discretion I deem appropriate. What I want to do is this: divide the $1,000 into three equal sums.

Some members of the House have liberal arts colleges in their senatorial districts which have student loan funds. Now, if those members will just send to the Speaker's office their names and the names of the institutions to which they would give $333 to a students' loan fund, the Chair will appoint a committee and the committee will pull two of the slips out of the hat. I would like to control one of the three.

I hope I have made myself clear. Any member of the House who has in his district a college which has a student loan fund and will send to the Speaker's office a slip of paper with his name and the name of the institution to which he would give $333, we will put them all in a hat and we will have a responsible and reputable committee draw them out of the hat.

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this is a rather historic day in that it is the first time, I believe, in Pennsylvania's history that we have had a concurrent special session running along with a regular session. I believe it would be in keeping to make a few observations of the dilemma, shall I say, in which Pennsylvania finds itself.

Several years ago we all read about the situation that prevails in California, where they have a special session generally running at the same time as a regular session is running. It was predicted that if we adopted the plan we have in Pennsylvania we would also get into that unfortunate situation, which is where we find ourselves today.

I think this General Assembly could well consider our situation. I have been attending the budget hearings. We find it is very difficult to even estimate what a fair expenditure by departments will be for one year. We used to do it for two years and everybody said that was an almost impossible task. We find, too, that in trying to estimate revenues for one year we are not assured of any greater accuracy on a one-year basis than we were when we used to be on a biennial basis, and the real reason for having annual sessions was to make it easier to budget and easier to estimate revenues than when we did it on a biennial plan. Now we find that it is very, very difficult to estimate revenues on an annual basis, and this current budget that we are in shows that for this present fiscal year there are $16 million in lapses, which goes to show you that we were in here just last September and we were told we had a tight budget, that there was no money in it for the schools, yet there is $16 million worth of lapses in the bill.

I would say this, at this session of the General Assembly we, as Republicans and Democrats, should sit down on a nonpartisan basis and determine where we go from here, should we go back to having biennial sessions rather than annual. An awful lot of thought should be given to that. Maybe we would save money. Perhaps to save a skyrocketing budget we should go back to biennial sessions.

Someone made the statement that if we went into annual sessions, the first thing we knew we would have an annual General Fund budget of one billion dollars. Folks, here we are in our second annual session and already our budget is one billion dollars for the one year, whereas in 1953 it was a billion dollars for two years.

We should sit down and seriously examine this whole problem. Should we go back to the old two-year session? Should we, then, go on an annual basis and have a general session so that we could do anything, or should we have a general session with a cutoff date of about April 1st or May 1st? Or should we adopt the plan of the Committee on Constitutional Revision which provides for a continuing session and give your committees and everything a continuance the same as they do in the National Congress. Certainly what we are doing is not right. I do not think it is good for the Commonwealth. It does not seem to be answering the situation. We could well sit down, all of us, find out what other States have done, what their experience is, and get a new constitutional amendment to straighten out the situation so that we will not have another situation like the one here today, that we have a special session superimposed on a regular session. It has now opened the door and a precedent has been established, and in the future you may see many special sessions during the same year as the fiscal session. And that is not good government.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make an announcement of interest to the Republican side of the House.

I have just confirmed with Mr. McCann that this extraordinary sesison will reconvene tomorrow at 1 o'clock. The Republican plan will be to come here on the floor at 1 o'clock and ask the Chair for a brief recess for the purpose of a Republican caucus. Mr. McCann has agreed to this, and, without objection, we would like to have that as our plan for tomorrow.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GREENLEE from the Committee on Congressional Apportionment, reported as committed, House bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, to be laid aside for second reading.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we will adjourn the special session in a minute, and I ask the membership to come back to the hall of the House at 2 o'clock, at which time the fiscal session will begin. This will give them an opportunity to get a bite to eat at the cafeteria. Before they leave I would like also to meet now with the chief clerk, Mr. Sherman and Mr. Eilberg, at the end of the extraordinary session.

When this House adjourns now, it will reconvene at 2 o'clock for the fiscal session.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RENWICK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this day's special session do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 23, 1962, at 2 p. m., e. s. t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:03 p. m., e. s. t.) the House adjourned.

Special Session 1962. 147th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 40. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1962. No. 2.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 23, 1962

SPECIAL SESSION

The House met at 2 p m., e. s. t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, in the beauty of this day we come before Thee with thanks and praise for the many blessings which are ours. We know that Thou hast granted to us the privilege of living and laboring in a land of glorious opportunity. We ask that Thou wilt bless the members of this House of Representatives; and instill within each one the sincere realization of their dependency upon Thee, the frank understanding of the problems which face them, and the utmost need of calling upon Thee and receiving from Thee the guidance which Thou hast to give. In Thy dear name. Amen.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the House of Mrs. Beatrice Z. Miller, a former member of this House from Philadelphia County. If she is present, will she stand?

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as announced yesterday, the hour having arrived, we would like permission to hold a brief caucus not to exceed one-half hour on the Republican side, immediately.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Democratic members of the House will not caucus but I will ask that they remain nearby so that when the Republican members do return we will proceed immediately on the reapportionment session.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess of one-half hour.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, January 22, 1962, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Dougherty for Mr. MIHM for the week because of illness.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. A. M. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendments and, if the clerk will read them in a short way, I will explain my amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk the short way and explained at length by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. A. M. LEE offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 1 to 3, by striking out "first second, third, fourth" in line 1, all of lines 2 and 3 and inserting: "twenty-fourth, twenty-seventh, thirty-fourth, fortieth, forty-fourth, forty-sixth, fifty-first and fifty-second wards of the City of Philadelphia.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 4 to 7, by striking out "seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth" in line 4, all of lines 5 to 7, and inserting: first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, twenty-sixth, thirtieth, thirty-sixth, thiry-ninth and forty-eighth wards of the City of Philadelphia.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 8 to 11, by striking out "fifth, sixth, eleventh, twelfth" in line 8, all of lines 9 to 11 and inserting: nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-fifth, twenty-eighth, twenty-ninth, thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-seventh, forty-third and forty-seventh wards of the City of Philadelphia.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 12 to 14, by striking out "twenty-second, thirty-fifth" in line 12, all of lines 13 and 14 and inserting: twenty-first, twenty-second, thirty-eighth, forty-second, forty-ninth, fiftieth and fifty-ninth wards of the City of Philadelphia.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 15 to 17, by striking out "twenty-third, twenty-fifth" in line 15, all of lines 16 and 17 and inserting: twenty-third, thirty-fifth, forty-first, forty-fifth, fifty-third, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth, fifty-seventh and fifty-eighth wards of the City of Philadelphia.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, the amendments which I offer to this bill only affect section one of the bill which has to do with the apportionment of congressional districts in the City of Philadelphia. It has no effect upon the apportionment of any of the other 66 counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think everyone in this House is familiar with the reapportionment plan written into this bill which was received from Congressman Green, the chairman of the Democratic City Committee in the City of Philadelphia.

The amendments which I offer would create in Philadelphia five congressional districts which are essentially equal in population, which are contiguous and which are compact. By that I mean that these districts, each of them, would be in a recognized community within the City of Philadelphia where there is a community of interest. For the information, especially, of my colleagues from the City of Philadelphia, I would say that my amendments would create five districts, one in Northwest Philadelphia, one in Northeast Philadelphia, one in North Philadelphia, one in South Philadelphia, and one in West Philadelphia. I think that these amendments, if they are adopted, will give the City of Philadelphia a fair and equitable reapportionment plan, something that we were promised in these deliberations, but which unfortunately has not come about because the districts submitted by Congressman Green have the most fantastic shapes imaginable. I am not going to dwell on it. I think that everyone is familiar with the type of gerrymandering that went on in creating those districts in Philadelphia. I can only say this, Mr. Speaker, and that is that the congressional reapportionment plan for the City of Philadelphia is vicious, it is arrogant, and it is a fraud on the people in the City of Philadelphia, and the only thing that I cannot understand is how Boss Bill Green expects to get away with it, how he thinks that the people of Philadelphia are going to take this thing lying down.

There is a lot of argument among knowledgeable people in the City of Philadelphia as to when the era of good government, so-called, ended. These knowledgeable people give various estimates and almost everybody in Philadelphia knows that for a long, long time the Democratic organization in Philadelphia has been parading under the false colors of good government, but I submit to you, Mr. Speaker, that when this reapportionment plan was presented to this legislature by Boss Green, it was the end of an era because now they have dropped even the pretense of good government. They do not even pretend to be for good government any more.

I would like to say to my friends, my 38 colleagues from the City of Philadelphia, when they advanced this plan, and if they are going to support it, they should be ashamed of themselves. And I say to them and I warn them that the people of the City of Philadelphia are not going to let them get away with it.

Now I would also like to say a word to the other Democrats on the other side of the House, the ones who come from outside Philadelphia, I have a certain sympathy for them. I watched them all through the regular session in 1961 and they took this dirty wash from the City of Philadelphia and they laundered it to the best of their abilities, and they went down the line. I know that from time to time it was pretty tough for them to take, but this caps them all. They are going to have to get all the soap products that were ever advertised on television to try to get this load of dirty wash clean because it just is not going to wash.

We are now approaching a moment of truth, Mr. Speaker. It reminds me of a story which may be aprocryphal but it has always made a great impression upon me. It is sort of topical because it has to do with French Colonialism. Some of you may have been familiar with the Island of Haiti when back around 1800 the Island of Haiti was trying to throw off the colonial yoke of France. They had a terrible war in Haiti and it was a vicious, vicious time.

There was an Emperor of Haiti, a native Emperor, whose name was Henri Christophe. His headquarters were in a citadel, away up in the mountains, on the Island of Haiti. And the Emperor's castle was up on this great promontory in the mountains. This particular piece of land was surrounded on three sides by sheer cliffs; the drop was a thousand feet to the rocks below; and on the fourth side was the castle, the citadel.

As the story goes, one day Henri Christophe, the Emporer, had some visiting dignitaries and in order to impress these people, the visiting dignitaries, with the obedience and the loyalty of his troops, he sent out a company commander and a hundred of his soldiers on the parade ground which was surrounded by this tremendous precipice. Then he had the company commander give these hundred soldiers the command, "Forward, March," and they marched forward and their loyalty was so great to the Emperor of Haiti that they marched right off the edge of that cliff and fell a thousand feet to their deaths.

Now I suggest to you, Mr. Speaker, that we see a similar situation here today. This is an attempt to frustrate the will of the people in the City of Philadelphia. "Emporer" Green has given the orders and I wonder what the response will be. I suspect that the members on the other side of the aisle are going to take that command and march right off the cliff and fall the thousand feet as these soldiers did.

I think we approach the moment of truth today in another way, Mr. Speaker, because we are going to find out, and the people of Pennsylvania are going to find out, exactly who runs this legislature of ours. Is it the people of Pennsylvania or is it Bill Green? He ran it in the last session; the question will be whether he still runs it today, here and now.

Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of these amendments.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Rather than read about this amendment in the paper tomorrow to learn what it is, I would like to know how the amendment changes the districts in Philadelphia. Is there any way I can see that now?

Mr. A. M. LEE. I give the gentleman this map, Mr. Speaker, which has it all blocked out.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendments which have been offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

I should like to point out that since the incorporation of the City of Philadelphia in 1854, over a hundred years ago, the Republican Party ever since then has had the responsibility and has reapportioned the City of Philadelphia as it saw fit, with the exception of 1940, when we were temporarily in control and when they promptly reorganized Philadelphia after 1940. So I think it is important to note that the majority party does have this responsibility and somebody has to do it, but now that we are in control they scream bloody murder.

I would like to say further that it was the position of Philadelphia that by relinquishing the one seat, six to five, it made possible a settlement of the picture statewide, one which will prevent a state-wide election at large. I feel that we are entitled to some credit for making possible a state-wide settlement of the situation, which nobody is happy with but which we all have to live with.

I was somewhat amused, Mr. Speaker—and I am going to conclude my remarks very shortly—by the statements which were made by the gentleman, Mr. Lee. I have been in this legislature four terms now and I have listened with considerable interest whenever he took the floor, because he represented to me an intelligent, factual kind of person. I am amazed, amused, irritated, delighted, when he just completely goes "off the handle." All he is capable of saying is "fantastic," "arrogant," "dirty wash." These are expressions which I have come not to expect from a gentleman like Mr. Lee. He does not talk about the merits of the proposal, or the demerits. He says the people of Philadelphia are against it. Well, the people of Philadelphia have expressed themselves over many, many years now as to just what their preferences are.

I think it is very clear, Mr. Speaker, that the voice we have just heard was not the voice of Philadelphia but the voice of Wilbur Hamilton, without a doubt. So let us vote these amendments down.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, desire to be recognized?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentlemen from Bucks, Mr. Williams.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I would like to join my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee. In the adjoining county of Bucks County, adjoining Philadelphia, we very recently have seen what our citizens thought of the Bill Green—what we call the "Green Grab." What this present reapportionment will do in Philadelphia—we have called it the "Greenmander" and, as far as we are concerned, it is no better.

Bill Green has robbed, as I understand it, the citizens of Philadelphia of fair, compact and regional representation for only one purpose, as we see it, an effort to protect himself in his own district, which I think went to the opposite party in this last election.

In addition, Bill Green has robbed the women of Philadelphia of their one representative. I think the women of Philadelphia and the women of Pennsylvania are taking recognition of this fact.

The amendments offered by Representative Lee make sense. They are fair and they serve the best interests of the citizens of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, just a brief comment. I did not intend to speak on this, but when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, said that we in Philadelphia should be ashamed of ourselves, I really want to accept the challenge and address myself to the merits of his amendments as opposed to the bill that is before us.

I disagree with the gentleman's choice of language. I do not think anybody here has any reason to be ashamed of themselves, either if they vote for the bill as it is in its present form or as it will be if it is amended.

I think the true answer to the gentleman's contention is that these amendments are going to go down and they are going to go down on a bipartisan basis, and I think that is proof of the pudding that the bill before us, without the gentleman's amendments, might very well be a good one.

We must recognize that this is political. We are politicians. We are dealing in politics. There are men here on both sides of the aisle who like some phases of this reapportionment plan and dislike other phases. That is to be expected. I do not care what type of plan you have or who submits the plan for reapportionment, that is necessarily so.

Now, factually, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, says that these districts in his amendments are contiguous and compact, unlike the districts that are in the bill before us. But looking at the gentleman's amendments, we have in here the very situation about which some of the opposition have been critical, namely, that one or more of the districts run from river to river, from the Schuylkill River to the Delaware River, and under this gentleman's amendment, in District C we have the congressional district running from the Schuylkill River clear across the city to the Delaware River. Now, if that is contiguous and if that is compact, then I submit that I do not understand the English language as well as some of the other members who are using it.

Another thing, to show you this is clearly political, Congressman Green's district—Congressman Green, the dean of the Philadelphia delegation and the chairman of the party, is ward leader in the 33rd ward. All of his wards, except one or two, are taken away from him. His own ward is taken away from him and given to Representative Nix. Now is that political? It seems to me it is, Mr. Speaker. As I say, you just cannot submit a reapportionment program that is not political.

If you want to argue on a state-wide basis, all you have to look at is one of the districts that was just changed that goes from Northumberland clear across to Berks

County. If that is compact and contiguous, then, Mr. Speaker, I do not know what those words mean. How many people are in that district? Five hundred and fifty-two thousand as opposed to the mean of 400,000. Is that political? Sure it is. We are politicians.

Is this not a clue that the amendments of the gentleman from Philadelphia are clearly 100 percent political, the fact that he is restricting his amendment to the City of Philadelphia? I do not blame him for doing this. This is a political issue, but that is all it is, and I want to make sure that when you vote for or against it you realize that he is talking politics.

I think the plan we have before us is about as fair a plan state-wide as any you can conceive of. I think it is something we need and I do not think the gentleman's amendment will really help the situation any.

As a very prominent Republican said, when he heard of the opposition of the Republicans in Philadelphia to this Philadelphia reapportionment, if the Republican party in Philadelphia—and I am not quoting him verbatim—is going to build itself up, it had better start building on stronger legs than congressional reapportionment.

So I think those words should be absorbed by the local leadership in Philadelphia. You cannot get the confidence of the people of Philadelphia by being negative, by being critical all the time. You have to develop a program that appeals to the people and you are not doing it when you are submitting political amendments like this to a bill that a lot of people worked on.

Furthermore, and in conclusion, I resent the implication contained in Wilbur Hamilton's letter to the members of the legislature that this is a reapportionment plan perpetrated by the Democrats and perpetrated, in particular, by Congressman Green. Most of this program, it seems to me, was dictated by "Georgie" Bloom. He is the one responsible for what is happening here today. Therefore, I think not only is Wilbur Hamilton unfair in the implication and inferences contained in that letter, but he is factually inaccurate. For that reason I think we should pass this bill without the amendments and let the Senate work on it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb, has requested to be heard. Will the majority leader yield to the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. McCANN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in opposition to these amendments. As I sat listening to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, speak, mention was made that he was about to lead Philadelphia and that part of the Commonwealth back into good government by these amendments.

I want to point out one fact, Mr. Speaker. An attempt was made to fairly, and I say fairly, reapportion this Commonwealth. I think that if we look at this analytically and factually, we would say that to fairly apportion congressional districts in this Commonwealth you would divide the total population by the number of districts and, doing that, you would come up with approximately 419,000 to 420,000 persons per district. With that figure you would attempt to move across the State and create legislative districts as near as possible to that figure.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. LAMB. Inasmuch as I felt that the discussion went far afield from that, Mr. Speaker, I will get back to the subject.

The SPEAKER. The discussion has gone rather far afield and the Chair would be very much pleased if the members would confine the discussion to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee. We will have an opportunity later on to pass upon the bill as a whole, and then we will discuss reapportionment throughout the State.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the amendments are to the congressional districts in Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. That is right.

Mr. LAMB. May I just point out then, Mr. Speaker, that, as I said earlier, an attempt was made that would create certain districts in Philadelphia which might go beyond the boundary of Philadelphia, with the idea of giving fair reapportionment, that is, keeping the districts within size, and the same proponents of these amendments and those who offered to support them at this time cried county line, do not go over the county line, do not disturb present congressional districts. I only wish to point out, Mr. Speaker, I may have been a little far afield of the actual amendments themselves, but in the attempt to pin the blame where it rightfully belongs, if the State is not apportioned fairly I do not believe it is the fault of the Democratic forces in this State or any other particular leader.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I think all those who served on the committee know the problems as we worked week after week, and where we are here today in this special session. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, has offered amendments to the sections dealing with the congressional seats in the City of Philadelphia. Now, I read on page 2 of the present bill, on line three, that it contains the 51st and 60th wards, and as I read the gentleman's amendments, I find that he is presenting to us an unconstitutional amendment in which he eliminated the 60th ward in the City of Philadelphia, which does exist. If this amendment were to be adopted, the bill could be unconstitutional and the entire reapportionment program would be thrown out by the courts and we would have all the congressmen running at large. I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, unless there is an additional page to your amendment, I cannot find the 60th ward in any congressional district which you have outlined for this House. I would like to question the gentleman from the City of Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. A. M. Lee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. M. LEE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The majority leader will proceed.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell me where the 60th ward appears in his amendment?

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, when I gave the instructions yesterday to the gentleman from the Legislative Reference Service, I pointed out to him that on the map that I had, the 46th ward had been subdivided and what was the 46th on this also included the 60th, and that that should be added in the amendments. Now, apparently, they were not included in the amendments. However, I would refer the gentleman to page 6 of the bill, section 3, which says and I will give you it in words to this effect, that if there is any district that is omitted and it is completely surrounded by other parts of the district, what was omitted is to be included in the district. I submit, Mr. Speaker, the amendments probably should have had 60th in there. If the gentleman thinks that it is important, I will ask permission to insert that, but I would also say that under the terms of the bill itself, the 60th ward would be included in this particular congressional district.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us in which section of the amendments the 60th should appear properly?

Mr. A. M. LEE. It should be in the same as the 46th.

Mr. McCANN. In your amendments, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. M. LEE. It says amend section, the first part of the amendments where it says 24th, 27th, 34th, 40th, 44th, 46th, it should also include 51st, 52nd and 60th.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Lee.

Mr. Speaker, on the amendment then the 60th ward would appear in this section. Mr. Speaker, we have worked long and hard and it seems that there are Democrats not satisfied and Republicans not satisfied. And I say to our membership here that we stand behind the commitment we make, that these amendments will be voted down, and I ask the membership to vote "no" on these amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. A. M. Lee. I think they have been discussed very thoroughly; the position has been well taken, and I ask that both Republican and Democratic Members support the measure by voting "no" on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I asked for a roll call, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Is the demand for a roll call seconded?

Mr. McCANN. It is agreed to, Mr. Speaker, that the roll call will be of record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

NOT VOTING—11

Gelfand,	Goodrich,	Mihm,	Willard,
Gibb,	Heffner,	Needham,

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ADAMS offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 18 and 19 by striking out "Northumberland"" and inserting: Lebanon

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 19 by striking out "Lebanon" and inserting: Northumberland

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, briefly, what this amendment does is swap Northumberland for Lebanon County. It takes Northumberland out of the proposed Berks-Schuylkill district and moves it in with the Dauphin County district and takes Lebanon away from the Dauphin County district and moves it in with Berks and Schuylkill.

It pleased me to note that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, pointed out the grotesqueness of the Northumberland-Schuylkill-Berks district as proposed in the present bill, and here we will give him an opportunity, along with all the other members, to try to remedy at least that situation.

In addition to the proposed setup of Northumberland, Schuylkill and Berks Counties, I do not think it is fair, especially to people of Northumberland and Berks County being strung out in this monstrosity of a district which runs all the way down from Boyertown to Susquehanna, around Sunbury, a hundred or more miles with many mountains in between, and people who are not as kindred as the people in Berks and Lebanon Counties. Schuylkill County lies between these two districts. They are not contiguous. Schuylkill, Berks and Lebanon would be contiguous districts. In addition, the population as proposed in the bill before us of 552,000 would be reduced to 539,000 which is closer to the theoretically correct figure. It would also increase the size of the district which includes Dauphin County. It will figure closer to the 419,000 than what it is now. It is considerably below that figure.

Also, I believe this district, which I propose, of Berks, Schuylkill and Lebanon, would probably be the closest district in political registration of any district of the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There would be 143,400—some Democrats and 143,800 Republicans, less than 400 difference in the registration of the two districts. I think that pretty well sums up the situation. The present bill is not fair. This will make it fair.

I am pleased to see that the majority leader is amused and not angry. He isn't always that way every time I take the microphone.

I noted in the previous bill here there were 65 yeas and 133 nays. Now that means 65 would not go over the cliff, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, pointed out. One hundred thirty-three did go over. Now I am going to give the 65 that did not go over another opportunity to go over; and if there are any amongst the 133 that went over the 1,000-foot drop and survived it, they are going to get a second crack at it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I say by way of humor, I can see where now he has moved Ehrgood against Fenton against Rhodes and is going against Harvey Taylor. May I say to you, please vote "no" on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams. And I thoroughly enjoyed his explanation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks asks for a roll call and I presume the request is seconded.

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SHERMAN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 12 by striking out "fourth" where it appears the first time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, these amendments are a printer's error. The original bill contained only one "fourth", and the bill you have in front of you on line 12 repeats the word "fourth" two times and this will strike it out. It is a correction of the printer's error, and I ask the membership to vote aye on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second to fifth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

PUBLIC HEARING, APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE, Mr. Polen, chairman, immediately after today's session for hearing on the revenue raising measures, in Room 245.

APPROPRIATIONS, Mr. Polen, chairman, Room 245, Wednesday, January 24, at 10 a. m.

INTERROGATION

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The minority leader will proceed.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand our timetable for tomorrow, this extraordinary session reconvenes tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of acting on this bill. How are we to have a simultaneous meeting of the Appropriations Committee as well as having a session here on the floor?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, it will only take a matter of a few minutes. It deals with the three deficiency bills and nothing else, sir. They will be back on the floor of the House in a short period of time. Nothing else is before the Appropriations Committee at the meeting at 10 a. m. That is your question?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then you do not contemplate budget hearings at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning?

Mr. McCANN. No, sir. There will be no hearings, Mr. Speaker, tomorrow morning at 10 a. m.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WARGO. Is it in order for me to present amendments to House bill No. 1 on third reading?

The SPEAKER. It is.

BIRTHDAYS

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the gentleman from Sullivan, Mr. Kenneth Lee, and the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Anderson, have birthdays. Will Mr. Dengler proceed?

Mr. DENGLER. First, let us sing to Sarah Anderson, "Happy Birthday, dear Sarah."

The next one is to Kenneth Lee. How about, "Dear Ken."

(Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday")

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to read from section 12 of the Constitution.

> "The Governor shall have power to convene the Senate in Extraordinary Session by proclamation for the transaction of executive business."

This session has been referred to popularly as an extraodinary session. It is not an extraordinary session; it is a special session. That is its official designation. When the Governor convenes the Senate for the purpose of passing on executive business, which means the approval of the appointments desired, that is an extraordinary session. This is a special session. Our bill is so labeled.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this day's special session of the House do now adjourn until Wednesday, January 24, 1962, at 10 a.m., e.s.t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:03 p.m., e.s.t.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Special Session 1962. 147th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 40. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1962. No. 3.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1962

The Senate met at 3:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. RICHARD L. TOME, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Bedford, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Bless, we beseech Thee, merciful Lord, our Country and all our people. Give Thy special aid and grace to the Senators of this Commonwealth. Be their counselor and their defense. Give them faith, wisdom, courage, health and patience to bear the burden of their office. Grant that, relying upon Thee and seeking to do Thy will, wise laws may be enacted which will be administered justly, so that the welfare of all people may be assured, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WEINER and Mr. SEYLER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence HB 1, which was referred to the Committee on Reapportionment.

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a ten minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a meeting of the committee on Reapportionment, to be held in the President pro tempore's office.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a ten minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EHRGOOD, from the Committee on Reapportionment, reported, as committed, HB 1.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The bill was as follows: HB 1.

And said bill having been read at length for the first time.

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Special Session do now adjourn until Thursday, January 25, 1962, at 10:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:23 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, January 24, 1962

SPECIAL SESSION

The House met at 10 a. m., e. s. t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thou in whom we live and move and have our being, it is with reverence, respect, and assurance that we look to Thee. We pray that we may always honor Thee and give Thee first place in our lives. Teach us the value of acknowledging our trust and confidence in Thee as well as the awareness that Thou can'st bring calm to troubled waters. And implant Thy Word and the truth thereof within our hearts and minds, so that calling upon Thee we may find the strength and power to labor diligently for Thee and Thy kingdom. Through Him who has given us the goal of life itself, we humbly pray. Amen.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. It is the thought of the respective floor leaders and of the Chair that at the termination of this special session today, instead of waiting for the convening of the fiscal session upon the adjournment of the special session until next Monday, that we immediately go into the fiscal session. This arrangement will enable the members to make an earlier departure than would otherwise be possible.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, January 23, 1962, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I was prepared at this time to offer two separate amendments. However, after the vote was taken on the various amendments yesterday, I feel that it would only be a waste of my time and the time of this House.

When the so-called bipartisan committee had its meeting a week ago Sunday, I feel that the decision was then made and its was made for political expendiency. Although it is shabby treatment to an industrial area like Lackawanna County, I feel nothing that could be said here would change the position of the men here.

I would say this to the fellows who represented the Democratic Party at this conference, I think when the Republican State Chairman insisted that Bradford County be included in the Tenth District, that our conferees should have held out and made their decision perfectly clear that it was not fair. If you look at this reapportionment as it stands right now, Philadelphia did give up one seat, there is a swing district, and the old Tenth District should not have been touched.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, desire to be recognized at this time, or does he prefer to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee?

Mr. SHERMAN. I shall yield to anyone else, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, should be privileged to conclude the debate.

The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I spoke yesterday briefly in connection with this bill and I do not intend to retrace that particular debate.

I do, however, want to say that this is the same bill today that we had before us yesterday. The sections which gerrymander the City of Philadelphia are exactly the same and they are just as indefensible today as they were yesterday. I certainly hope that this bill will be defeated.

I would say, Mr. Speaker, the most eloquent argument which was made against this particular piece of legislation as respects Philadelphia was the fact that yesterday there was not a single person on the other side of this House who got up and said one word in defense of the plan for the City of Philadelphia. They talked about a number of things, dealt in personalities, and so forth, and some collateral issues, but not one of them was willing to get up and defend the plan that "Boss" Green sent up here for the City of Philadelphia.

Now, if this bill should pass and if it should be signed into law, I can only say, Mr. Speaker, that the people of the city of Philadelphia will have but one recourse, and that will be in the voting machine. As far as this business of "Greenmandering" is concerned, it was submitted to a vote of the people once before, because it was an issue in this last fall's campaign, and I am sure that the same sort of decision will be rendered by the people of the City of Philadelphia when they have an opportunity to express their will in this matter.

I ask everyone who can to vote against this vicious piece of legislation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, on the question before us and because of the type of heat that could be engendered on the matter that the House is considering, I would like to make these observations:

I want to commend the leadership of this House on both sides of the aisle. I want, too, to commend the leadership of both of our great political parties of this Commonwealth for being the kind and type of individuals and personalities who were able to sit down and reach accord in an agreement which, in effect, is today House bill No. 1 on reapportionment.

This in itself has lent itself to good government in Pennsylvania, because it has eliminated the havoc that would have ensued had the 27 Congressmen been made to run at large.

I also want to commend the select committee on both sides of the aisle that worked so diligently in this area. I say to the membership of this House on both sides of the aisle, it was a job well done between two political parties and the leadership of those parties should be complimented on it, and the members on both sides of this House should be complimented upon receiving it as an agreement in good faith.

I would recommend that the House on both sides should unanimously pass this so we can get on with the representation, the kind of representation that the people in each of their local areas would want to vote for Pennsylvania in our United States Congress.

The SPEAKER. Does the lady from Lackawanna, Mrs. Munley, desire to be recognized?

Mrs. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, at this time, in order to save the time of the House, I would like to insert into the record an editorial which appeared in our Scranton Times last week. This editorial expresses my sentiments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and the editorial will be inserted into the record.

Mrs. MUNLEY submitted the following editorial for the record:

THE SCRANTON TIMES

We Take It on the Chin

Ten years ago a Republican-controlled Legislature, in a reshuffling of the state's congressional districts, made Lackawanna County the pawn in a ruthless game of power politics. This county was robbed of the preferred status it had enjoyed since 1887 as a separate congressional district.

For no other reason than to overcome Lackawanna County's Democratic leanings, this county was tied to five rural and predominantly Republican counties in the newly created 10th Congressional District. Protests of civic leaders were brushed aside. No heed was paid to the fact that Lackawanna, as an industrial county, had little in common with the adjoining counties, whose interests are largely agricultural and dairying.

We are now apparently about to see history repeating itself on a smaller scale. Under an agreement purportedly reached by a 14-member legislative committee and the state chairmen of the two major political parties, the forthcoming special session of the Legislature is to be asked to drop sparsely populated Pike County from the 10th District and substitute bigger Bradford County, with its far heavier Republican voter enrollment, for Pike.

If ever there was a case of adding insult to injury, this is it. The political motivation is obvious and it is not at all surprising to see Harrisburg dispatches noting that the deal to boost the Republican registration in the 10th District by nearly 7,000 is the result of pressure exerted from the office of incumbent Republican Congressman William W. Scranton. The GOP state leaders, it is reported, would not approve the over-all reapportionment plan unless Democratic spokesmen agreed to this gerrymandering scheme intended to make it easier for Congressman Scranton, or some Republican successor, to be elected next Fall.

Aside from its strong political overtones, this proposed realignment of the 10th Congressional District is an unconscionable injustice to a county which is striving mightly to establish itself as an industrial community and which can only be handicapped by having more rural territory hitched to it by congressional reapportionment. Since reapportionment has already been made an accomplished fact by the revamping of three other districts in the state, there is no excuse whatsoever for tampering with the 10th District.

Why should Lackawanna County take it on the chin merely to satisfy the political ambitions of a single Republican officeholder? Sen. Hugh J. McMenamin and members of the House of Representatives from this county should ask themselves this question and prepare to oppose, with all the force at their command, this unfair political grab even before it gets to the point of being voted on at the special session of the Legislature opening Monday.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams, desire to be recognized?

Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, yield?

Mr. SHERMAN. I yield.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, yields to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot understand why anybody on either side is complaining about lack of fair play after what happened yesterday or what is happening today on this bill. Yesterday, when I appealed for fair play and a better shake for Berks County, there was not one Democrat on the other side that felt that way, including the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo, who complains about it today. There were only seven on this side of the aisle who could see it that way too. Let us face up to it, it seems that political expediency was the most important thing on both sides, So why complain about it?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Berks County, Pennsylvania is a large State. I am very familiar with my area. I also voted against the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee. Now, I know less than a pot of beans about Philadelphia and I am surely not that familiar with his area. As we stand here, we represent an area and, if there is shabby treatment, we let our position be known. In this particular case, to my knowledge and my understanding, this was a 12:30 at night deal where the Republican State Chairman had taken the position, take it or I will pick up my marbles and go home. I, personally, would say, go home.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, who will conclude the debate. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. A. M. Lee, rise?

Mr. A. M. Lee. I would just like to say, Mr. Speaker, that I do not know what Pandora's box is about to be opened, but if there is anything in there of interest to me, I want to reserve the right to comment on it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would hold that someone has the right to conclude the debate. The proper person, in the opinion of the Chair, to conclude the debate, which has to end sometime, is the chairman of the committee concerned.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I appreciate that, Mr. Speaker, and may I say in my own defense, I do not think that I unduly trespass upon the time of this House in the debate of legislation. It is my right, as I understand it, under the rules to speak twice, and no more than twice, on any particular question. And again I say that if the gentleman is going to discuss the subject which I feel should be answered, I want to reserve the right to make that answer. I can assure the Chair that the answer will be succinct and to the point, as I have tried to make it my practice in the past.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in order to protect my rights as a member, I merely want to say to the Speaker that it is not for the Speaker to decide when the debate ends but for the majority members of this House. And if I, as a member, want to answer Mr. Sherman, in case he says something that I do not like, I want the right to answer.

The SPEAKER. While the Chair has never used it, the Chair would remind the gentleman from Philadelphia that recognition depends upon the ability of the Chair to see the gentleman who asks for recognition. We have never used that, but it is within the power vested in the Speaker to recognize those whom he can see. I do not propose to debate the prerogatives of the Chair with the gentleman from Philadelphia, who has so frequently transgressed the rules and has not been called to order by the Chair.

Mr. McCORMACK. If the Speaker wants to be a dictator, I cannot stop that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. You can if you have the votes. It is funny why the gentleman from Philadelphia, from the time he came to this House, has picked on the Chair. We are a sensitive plant, the Chair, and we would like to have the esteem and confidence of the gentleman from Philadelphia, but he just does not like the Chair; he never has and he probably never will.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman. And we will, at the conclusion of any statement made, in answer to it, again recognize the chairman of the committee if he desires recognition.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the Committee on Congressional Apportionment, I wish to express my thanks to the House for having been appointed as chairman of the Committee on Congressional Apportionment. I do consider it a great privilege. It is very difficult for the public to recognize the important yet difficult task that confronts a committee of that nature. That committee, no doubt, had to yield to what is termed practical politics and practical considerations in discussions of a bill of this great magnitude.

My main object in getting up is to express my thanks to those who deserve the thanks. Perhaps I may omit some, but you do know that I try to be fair at all times in my remarks.

First, let me express my thanks to the many students throughout Pennsylvania and to the educators, and I may say that even to the newspaper reporters, who have been kind enough to convey some ideas to myself as chairman and to the other members of the committee.

I also express, as you may say, thanks to the Hamilton faction in Philadelphia, and perhaps to Mr. Lee, their Representative, for doing their part by their failure to have a bill introduced in the past session and, also, for their failure to bring even one thought to our chairman for proper consideration by the committee. I well remember, as do a good many others, the Hamiltons of the twenties, the thirties, and the forties, and I hesitate to think what they would have done to a bill of this kind if they were in the majority in Philadelphia.

May I say to Mr. Lee, our State Representative, that he has been nice enough to know that he has been on the defensive before any remarks are made concerning him. He is not on the offensive; he has pleaded a defense. So I ask him where he has defended himself in acting like Brutus in knifing Caesar? Where he has in any way benefited our City of Philadelphia by failure to submit one idea to the chairman of the Committee on Congressional Apportionment? Where he has taken up the cudgels in defending our City of Brotherly Love so that they should have six Congressmen instead of five? Would it not have been to the advantage of men like the Hamiltons and the Lees and their representatives to try to protect the interests of our City of Brotherly Love, rather than knifing them as Brutus stabbed Caesar?

It is unfortunate and we do render complete apology to the Congressmen who may have lost. I say as far as the Philadelphia Congresswoman who may have lost in Philadelphia, we selected on the basis of districts and for no other reason. It is unfortunate that it worked out that way, but the only reason that she lost and has to surrender voluntarily, with the niceness of her, the district in which she resides is because we failed from a practical standpoint to have one additional Senator in the State of Pennsylvania. For the lack of a Senator we lost a Congressman in Philadelphia, and for no other reason.

May I give thanks at this time to the others who participated, to the three wise men, if I may so refer to them apologetically but with good intentions, to Harvey Taylor, a shrewd but intelligent politician, to George Bloom, who did his utmost in trying to benefit the Republicans, and I assure the Republicans that with Harvey Taylor, George Bloom and your leader, Mr. Johnson, and the others who sat on that select committee, you were amply and well protected and no apology is owed.

May I also give thanks to our State chairman, Otis Morse, who did as fine a job as he could under the circumstances, an intelligent man who will make a name for himself in the near future.

We have divided, as Mr. Lee wishes to say, Philadelphia. We originally started with the idea that 419,000 is the average in Pennsylvania, that we would come to a division between the number 357,000 and 479,000. What have we done? In our City of Brotherly Love the lowest number is 387,000, well within about seven or eight percent of 419,000. The districts are well represented in the apportionment.

What have we done to the rest of the State? We have eliminated and distributed as few districts as possible, in fact, only three districts outside of Philadelphia. There has been some disturbance, of course, to the particular Congressmen affected, but all in all they knew in advance that someone had to be hurt. We tried to hurt the least and in doing so the select committee, together with the leaders of the State of Pennsylvania, came through with an apportionment bill, which they had to under the circumstances. No bill could have come through that you could say would be a Democratic bill or a Republican bill. No bill could have passed the Senate, with an evenly divided body, that would be greatly beneficial to the Democrats or greatly beneficial to the Republicans, or even pass the House, for that matter.

Therefore, let me once again express my thanks to both the Republican and Democratic leaders of the State of Pennsylvania, to the select committee, to those who served so faithfully long into the wee hours of the morning, to the students, to the educators, to the newspaper reporters who came up with ideas, good or bad, so that finally we could save the State of Pennsylvania and come through with an apportionment bill reducing the Congressmen from 30 to 27, which from practical and political considerations is the best bill that could be arrived at under all the circumstances. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. In the opinion of the Chair, the gentleman from Philadelphia has opened the door to consideration of the bill as a whole. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. A. M. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman did open up Pandora's box. I listened quite attentively and I could not quite figure out what he was trying to say. He did convey to me the impression that apparently there were some students who had something to do with this reapportionment bill. I can only say, Mr. Speaker, that if any students did have anything to do with it, our school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in a lot worse shape than even we suspect. As far as students are concerned, if you would examine these districts in the City of Philadelphia, perhaps the students involved were kindergarten students who were engaged in finger painting, because that is exactly the way some of these districts in the City of Philadelphia look. As far as I am concerned, Mr. Speaker, regardless of what the gentleman from Philadelphia may say, it still is a bad bill; it is bad for the people of the City of Philadelphia, and I am absolutely and utterly opposed to it.

The SPEAKER. It was the opinion of the Chair that a bill, in which there was a predetermined result, should have reduced to a minimum the debate, but that view has not prevailed and the bill is open for general discusion. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Piper, desire to be recognized?

Mr. PIPER. I do, Mr. Speaker. I am not pleased with this reapportionment bill. As a member of the Berks delegation, I am not going to oppose it. I would much rather have seen our district remain as it is at the present time. However, since both parties have labored and put in many hours trying to arrive at a non-partisan bill, I am not going to be an obstructionist for publicity and, therefore, I will vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—8

Down,	Gibbons,	Mihm,	Ujobai,
Gelfand,	McKeever,	Reidenbach,	Willard,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. McDEVITT filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1:

My chief concern as to Congressional Reapportionment is naturally the Congressional district including Reading and Berks County . . . as represented by Congressman George M. Rhodes.

There are other districts (notably Philadelphia) where this dissatisfaction has been expressed from both sides of the aisle. My vote on the Reapportionment Bill was determined mainly on the belief that a combination restricted to Berks and Schuylkill Counties would have been more practical and efficient and more equitable.

However, I also recognize that the chaos of electing 27 Congressmen at large on a state-wide basis would be unthinkable.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. GREMMINGER filed the following reasons for his vote on House bill No. 1:

The problem of re-apportionment has not been resolved to my satisfaction: nor has it been resolved to the satisfaction of the people of my legislative district or the adjoining districts in Delaware County. I feel very strongly about this matter, and it is for this reason that I stand before you today to cast my vote against a program of political blackmail that is advocated at the expense of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I should like to remind my fellow colleagues here in the House of Representatives, that in Novermber 1961 the Republican Party of Delaware County made re-apportionment the major issue of their campaign. It was upon this issue, which they proceeded to inflate completely out of proportion to the real issues, that our voters were falsely led to believe that they were casting their votes for or against last November.

The great solution that these voters were told would be brought forth by the Republican Party after the election, disappeared into the ranks of obscurity. Indeed this was nothing new to the people in Delaware County, for they have seen their many promises made by the Republican Party evaporate within days after each election.

Instead of an intelligent solution aimed at giving adequate representation to the people of Delaware County, the Republican Party forced the creation of a so-called swing district elsewhere in Pennsylvania, that imposed the same lack of representation on the people in that district as we have in Delaware County.

Using an implied threat of an "at large election" the Republican organization of this state forced a solution that insures Delaware County the same inadequate representation that it has had in the past, and creates the same chaotic conditions elsewhere.

The Republican Party of Pennsylvania is guilty of political blackmail. The Democratic Party is at fault for becoming a party, even though an unwilling one, to this scheme.

I do not purport to speak for people other than from my area, but I am voicing their sentiments in regards to other areas of the state. I should like to call the attention of the House of Representatives, to the fact that Delaware County continues to be inadequately represented. Delaware County is the largest Congressional District in the state, and is being acted against prejudicially in this arrangement. The Republican Party has failed to give the people of Delaware County the help and assistance that they should have.

It appears as though the only solution to this problem will be the election of a clear majority of Democrats to both the Senate and the House, in order to end the intolerable situation that has been created.

The Republican Party has been an "aginner party." They have been against aid towards establishment of a port in Chester; they have been against aid towards our school districts; they have been against better conditions in our State Hospitals in Delaware County; they have been against high speed cross county expressways; they have been against cleaning up conditions of vote fraud in the City of Chester; they have been against confirming the Governor's appointments to non salaried agencies and commissions from Delaware County, in short, they have been "agin" anything and everything that meant progress in Delaware County; and now of more recent date they have been against fair and equitable re-apportionment.

For these reasons I today cast my vote "agin" the Republican Party's reapportionment fiasco.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MEETING

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to remind all members of the task force of the Joint State Government Commission on Juvenile Laws, that the meeting called for today will proceed immediately after the close of these sessions in the Assembly Room at the Penn-Harris Hotel. I would certainly appreciate House members of that task force going at once to the Assembly Room at the Penn-Harris Hotel to participate in the meeting of the task force on juvenile laws.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GROSS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this day's special session of the House do now adjourn until Monday, January 29, 1962, at 12 o'clock noon, e. s. t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:53 a.m., e. s. t.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Special Session 1962. 147th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 40. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1962. No. 4.

SENATE

THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1962.

The Senate met at 10:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. RICHARD L. TOME, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Bedford, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal Father, Who art the true guide of all who put their trust in Thee, we commend ourselves to Thy gracious keeping. Guide us when we come to the cross-roads of decision. Help us to choose the better part and direct our feet into paths of righteousness and truth. Deliver us alike from lingering doubt and hasty decision. Inspire us with calmness and self-control. Be our leader as we move into the unknown future. Whether we meet adversity or prosperity, grant us the awareness of Thy presence. Preserve us in our going out and our coming in from this time forth and even forevermore.

In the name of Christ, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WEINER and Mr. LANE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

HB 1 (Pr. No. 2)—The bill was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. YATRON offered the following amendments:

> Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 18 and 19 by striking out "Northumberland".
> Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 19 by inserting after "Lebanon": Northumberland

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. YATRON. Mr. President, I would like to state that I am in favor of reapportionment, but I feel that I would like to see a reapportionment of districts which is equitable to all the people in the counties that are involved.

In my particular district of Berks County, this proposal will be tied in with Northumberland and Schuylkill Counties. The average ratio of the Congressional Districts will be about 419,000. Now with the three counties of Berks, Schuylkill and Northumberland, it will give us a population of 552,000 people. This is 133,000 over the average ratio of 419,000. This will make our district the second largest of the twenty-seven districts, only a few hundred below Delaware County, which is a much smaller district, geographically. The three counties would extend over 100 miles in length and they would encompass a wide diversity of community interests. It would be an area of 2,100 square miles. By contrast, Berks and Schuylkill alone would be 448,000, still 29,000 over the proper ratio. However, this would certainly be much fairer than throwing in Northumberland County with 103,000 more people.

My proposal calls for placing Northumberland County with the present Four-county district of Juniata, Perry, Dauphin and Lebanon Counties, which is presently 66,000 under the fair ratio. Under this proposal, in House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 2, if it would go through as it is, with those four counties combined and the other three of Berks, Northumberland and Schuylkill, there will be a difference of 200,000 in population.

In my opinion, I do not feel that it is fair. I do not feel that it is fair to the people who reside in Northumberland, Schuylkill or Berks Counties. I do not feel that they will be receiving the proper type of representation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to request a roll call on my amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I more or less agree with Senator Yatron when he made the statement that this is not an equal representation when it comes to our Congressional Districts in Pennsylvania. However, the Members of the Majority and the Minority of the Senate, and the House of Representatives, had a series of meetings with reference to Congressional Reapportionment. We arrived at the conclusion that the present plan is the best we can have at this particular time. There is an agreement with both sides that we will try to have this plan enacted into law.

I might say, Mr. President, that in my opinion this is just a temporary reapportionment program for our Congressional Districts because it is a political question. Here in the Senate of Pennsylvania we have a division of twenty-five Democrats and twenty-five Republicans. Therefore, whoever may win a majority next year, in the House and Senate, will probably have a new reapportionment program. Therefore, I wish to say to my distinguished colleague from Berks, Senator Yatron, that this is temporary. This is the best we can do under present circumstances. I, for one, have committed myself with the leadership of the other side to support the present program and that I must do. I sympathize with the gentleman's position, but he knows politics as well as I do. We are confronted with the problem of having Congressional Reapportionment passed now. If we do not pass it at this particular time, we may get into a hassle whereby we will be confronted with all of our Congressmen running at large. I do not believe that calls for representative government.

Therefore, Mr. President, I must object to the passage of the amendments and vote for this bill.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Berks, probably for the same reason which prompted him to offer them. I think it would be completely unfair to the Congressional District in which I hold my residence. I certainly agree that it would be advantageous to the Democratic Party to have Berks County and Schuylkill County hooked together, because it would give a traditionally Democratic county an advantage of two to one, population-wise, over a traditionally Republican County. That particular hookup of Schuylkill and Berks, I opposed in the special committee. I also opposed a number of other arrangements about which I certainly am not particularly happy.

If we must have a temporary arrangement which is going to be uncomfortable to both political parties, each of which will long for the day when they can control a different kind of Congressional Reapportionment, then, at least, we should take a proposed swing district, which the gentleman is dealing with in his amendments and give it some semblance of fairness and some semblance of proper proportion.

Traditionally, Berks County would, barring a miracle, win nine times out of ten over Schuylkill County in a Congressional fight. As the matter stands now, the combined populations of Schuylkill and Northumberland Counties would be about equal to the population of Berks County, which is equitable.

I must take this opportunity to say that I am quite uncomfortable and quite disappointed that we Republicans, apparently, have not been as successful in protecting our loyal Congressmen as you Democrats have been. I complimented and commended the Democratic Members of the committee because they so well protected and insured the re-election of Congressman Walter in the counties of Northampton and Carbon, because he is the Dean of their Delegation in Congress. He is a good public servant and should have the advantage in the redistricting. On the other hand, Doctor Fenton, the Congressman from the Twelfth District of Schuylkill and Northumberland, is the Dean of the Republican Congressmen. He is one of the finest gentlemen and finest public servant and finest personal friend whom I have ever known.

Mr. President, as matters now stand, I am unhappy and I shall probably feel impelled by my conscience to vote against this reapportionment bill. We have not done right by our venerable and revered Congressman from Mahanoy City. However, certainly, under no circumstances, will I vote for or refrain from asking my colleagues to vote against the amendments which have been offered here tonight.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I listened very carefully to the remarks just made. Although a great deal of water has gone over the dam and a great deal of discussion has been had on this matter, I do not think it would be amiss nor do I think that the record would be complete unless we took a few minutes and reviewed exactly how this all came about and why we are here at this moment and going into this very issue.

Pennsylvania has been reduced from thirty Congressmen back to twenty-seven. That meant, in some areas of the Commonwealth, we had to reduce people who had served well in the Congress. I think that what I am now about to state is not revealing any confidence. However, I think I would be less than candid if I did not reveal it here. The Republican position on this is that they began this discussion with the people who were in it by stating that we must lose one Congressman in Philadelphia and then we would talk about the Congressman we would lose. It is all very well for the gentleman from Schuylkill to commend us for the great job which we have done. If I were he, I would do likewise because if I would have gotten off as easy as the Republicans have in this matter, I would also commend my colleagues on the other side who have aided and abetted in this program. However, let us look at this realistically for just two minutes.

What has happened? In Philadelphia, we have six Democratic Congressmen and we are losing one. In the other part of the Commonwealth, where the Republicans are giving up a Congressman, one of the gentlemen who is being talked about as being one of the people who is giving up his seat is a gentleman who is moving up to another office. Whether he will get to that other office or not, I do not know. However, they are discussing him as a candidate for running for a higher officer. Actually, therefore, no one has been lost.

In the swing district that we speak of, where they are putting two Congressmen together, one from each Party, to run against each other, what are they doing? They are taking a man who is in an area which, at the moment, is Democratic, and putting him into an area which has been, almost traditionally, Republican. They have also taken a number of other counties that are heavily Republican and attaching them onto districts which are marginal Democratic districts.

Therefore, how the Democrats have done well under this bill certainly escapes me. I will be glad to listen to anything anybody has to say to correct the error, if I am in error.

To go one step further, Mr. President, I admit—and anyone who is honest and looks at this bill honestly, I believe must admit—there is no question about it that the gentleman from Berks has taken his position and taken it well. However, we agreed that we must have reapportionment and we agreed that this is the best measure that we can work out. We also agreed that if we do not do this, there will be chaos in the sense that there will be great numbers of people running for the office of Congressman throughout Pennsylvania, at great expense to the Commonwealth and possibly a loss in the standing of some of the Members who are now in Congress and who have built up seniority on the committees. I agree that we must come to some understanding and this possibly might be the only vehicle with which we can arrive at it. The reason for that is a very simple one.

I think the political facts of life must also be faced. In the House, we have a very narrow margin which is Democratic. In the Senate, there is no margin because the number of Members is even up, consisting of twenty-five Members on each side and it takes twenty-six votes to pass any measure. What we have here is a matter that has been hammered out as the best the parties were able to do. With that in mind, Mr. President, we cannot change, ask for any change or support any amendments. To do so, would mean to go back to where we were almost a year or two years ago. This would be quite impossible and practically infeasible to do because February 20, which is almost the first day for filing petitions, is almost at hand.

I would just like to address myself for one more moment to one other phase of this bill and then I will stop.

Concerning the criticism which has been hurled in the area of Philadelphia, all of us I think who are in the arena of politics realize that this is strictly political when they have gone into the fact that we have taken a woman's seat away in the Philadelphia area. To some women, this is a complete catastrophe. I think the loss of any woman's seat—using that term in its ludicrous sense and its facetious sense—might not be as bad a loss as some of us think. However, in a serious vein, what other party in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has done more for women? What other party in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has run women on a State-wide ticket? For example, the Secretary of Internal Affairs happens to be a woman and has served two terms in that office. As another example, the present Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania happens to be a woman. All these people were nominated and elected, if you please, by the Democratic Party putting them up for office and the people of the Commonwealth, both Democrat and Republican, helping to elect them.

Let us just go back to this past November. We nominated a lady for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of this State. This has never been done in the Commonwealth. We nominated this woman, and where was she defeated? She was defeated in the northern tier counties of the State, which happen to be Republican.

I do not know of anything further that anybody can do to show that they are interested in the women. I do not know of anything that any Party can do to manifest this interest, as we have done in Philadelphia. We do have a Councilwoman who happens to be Democratic, and we had a prior Councilwoman who was Democratic. Many of the women Representatives over in the House are Democratic women who have been there for a number of terms, and who have served well.

It was not by design that Mrs. Granahan lost her position in Congress. It was done after evaluating all of the facts and evaluating the seniority on the committees on which they have served. I have seen some texts which say that she has served a longer term than one or two of the other Congressmen who are there. This does not happen to be absolutely accurate. I think that the record will reveal that Mrs. Granahan has served since 1956, and she has served well.

As a matter of fact, we have been accused in all of the newspapers up and down the State—and I believe that some of the gentlemen on the other side used this to advantage in the subburban areas, holding up Philadelphia as the villain in this piece—of absolutely refusing to take out one of our Congress Members. Having done so now, we are the villain again because we have done it to someone whom they feel should not have been removed.

I do not know how we could get down to five seats from six without taking somebody out. If they can demonstrate that this evening, I will be very happy to amend this bill to meet that contingency.

Now there is one other facet of this which I think ought to be brought to the attention of all of the Members and for the purpose of the record. This is not a fair bill from the Democratic viewpoint. It is not only not a fair bill, but I think that some of the areas have been gerrymandered pretty badly.

It is the type of thing that we must face, as I stated before, from a realistic point of view where you do not have hundreds of people running for an office and creating a chaotic condition in a State such as ours where all of the help is needed.

I just want to leave one thought with you, and then I will conclude. Where we are having so much difficulty and where the greatest number of people of the State are living, in the urban areas, is it fair to remove people who represent those urban areas and who have been trying for years to keep these hubs where the economic lifeblood of the heart of the State flows and where one-fifth of the population lives? Is it proper to decrease the number of people who represent them when you are trying and hoping against hope to keep these areas not only alive but thriving, and when you need the terrific competition that is being met on all sides in the National Congress, as well as the State Assemblies, in order to keep up the number and the personnel to continue this valiant fight which has caused the areas surrounding the city of Philadelphia to be reborn and grow? If you have any doubt about this, all you need to do is look around the Country. You will see some of the large urban areas where this has not gone on, where there has not been forward leadership, and where there has not been any desire to do anything about it. You will see these cities dying slowly in their very tracks. This has not happened in the city of Philadelphia. It has become the very model for rebirth and regeneration. This is the area that needs representation at the national level.

I think to remove someone who has seniority and who has been fighting this fight not only for the city of Philadelphia, but for the State of Pennsylvania, while the tax dollars grow, is not only a grievous error, but almost an act of gross negligence, which I hope that we in this State will not live to regret.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am certain that the apology of the gentleman will be well considered, but whether it will be accepted or not, I do not know.

However, Mr. Persident, concerning these amendments offered by Senator Yatron, I want to say that the reapportioning of Pennsylvania's Congressional Districts has been a difficult and deadlocked situation for over a year. This bill that we have on the Calendar now represents the only program that could be agreed upon by the committee which was working upon the question, and then only after plan after plan had been rejected either by the Democrats or by the Republicans working on that committee.

I want to say, however, that the agreement which was finally reached did not include the Philadelphia Districts. That part of the bill was later developed and completely espoused by the Philadelphia Democratic City Committee, of which Congressman William Green is the Chairman.

The Republican City Committee, the Members of the Bipartisan Committee, and the Republican State Chairman were not consulted, although they felt—and rightly felt—that they would be given a chance to inspect the proposed Philadelphia Districts prior to their inclusion in the agreed upon bill. That this was not done is a reflection only on the method by which Philadelphia has been carved up. No chance to protest was given either to the Democratic or Republican citizens until the bill became an accomplished fact and was in the House of Representatives for action.

There have been strong protests and strong representations made to the Members on both sides of this Senate to oppose the bill on this ground. However, Mr. President, we consider the possible hazard of such action, which would result in no bill at all, and would result in the Congressmen of Pennsylvania being elected at-large.

Mr. President, on these amendments or on any amendments, in view of our experience over the past year, it would be a very remote possibility to have another plan approved before February 20th, at which time petitions for the nomination of Congressmen may be circulated.

For that reason, Mr. President, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to oppose these amendments, or any amendments to this bill, for the reason that it represents the very best that we could come up with, and I doubt very much if another bill could be approved before February 20th.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, in so far as we have been debating the bill in some instances, I would like at this time to enter into the record, by request, a resolution from the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The PRESIDENT. At the request of the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Van Sant, the resolution will be made a part of the record.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Public information media report that the Congressional District represented by the Honorable Kathryn G. Granahan of Philadelphia is to be abolished in the present reapportionment plan for Pennsylvania;

WHEREAS, Congresswoman Granahan has seniority over two of the other Philadelphia Congressmen, and has served conscientiously and with distinction, particularly as Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Postal Operations, leading the campaign to free the mails of pornographic literature aimed at our youth; and

WHEREAS, The Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is shocked at the apparent discrimination against women in public office implicit in this plan for redistricting the Philadelphia area;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs ask the leaders of both political parties to recognize and support qualified women in public office by enacting a Reapportionment Law that does not discriminate against women in public office and that retains the Congressional District of Pennsylvania's one distinguished Congresswoman.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. KALMAN. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. YATRON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—9

Devlin,	McMenamin,	Sesler,	Staisey,
Hays,	Murray,	Seyler,	Yatron,
Mahady,

NAYS—37

Bell,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Berger,	Hawbaker,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Camiel,	Kalman,	Miller,	Stroup,
Chapman,	Keller,	Mullin,	Taylor,
Confair,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,
DiSilvestro,	Kromer,	Propert,	Wade,
Donolow,	Lane,	Rooney,	Wagner,
Ehrgood,	Madigan,	Scott,	Ware, III,
Flack,	Mallery,	Silvert,	Weiner,
Fleming,

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were defeated.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Special Session do now adjourn until Friday, January 26, 1962, at 12:01 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:59 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

SENATE

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1962

The Senate met at 12:01 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. RICHARD L. TOME, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Bedford, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God most high, Who rulest in heaven and on earth, grant, we beseech Thee, to all Members of this legislative body the inspiration of Thy Holy Spirit that they may find strength equal to the demands of their high office. Go with them through the valleys of doubt and disappointment, and lift them often to lofty places in service and concern.

Draw near unto us, O Lord God, that we may draw near unto Thee for the experience of Thy love and compassion.

In the name of Christ, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WEINER and Mr. LANE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HB 1 (Pr. No. 2)—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, before this bill is voted on, I would like to say a few words about it on behalf of the people of Lackawanna County.

We understand that it is a very difficult task to decrease the number of Congressmen in any State from thirty down to twenty-seven. We understand that a lot of men have worked very hard and very long in trying to work out some agreeable solution to this problem.

I am going to vote for this bill because I feel it is a better alternative than running all of our Congressmen at-large. I believe it would be irresponsible for the leaders of either Party to allow all Pennsylvania Congressmen to run at-large. We understand this bill is not perfect. It is not, by any means, the best bill. However, it is the only bill we have and, therefore, I am going to be for it.

Mr. President, I will say that we are very sorry to lose, in our Congressional District, the good people of Pike County. However, if any county has to be added to ours in order to work out a solution to the problem which faces us all, and to work out a solution that we can agree on before February 20, which is the deadline for all the Congresmen to file, I cannot think of another county in northeastern Pennsylvania which we would rather have with us than Bradford County. I have spent some time in Bradford County, I have tried lawsuits up there, and I have hunted up there. There are many fine and wonderful people in that county. I am sure that the people in Lackawanna County and the people in Bradford County, when they get to know each other better, will become very good friends and closer together.

Mr. President, there is one thing I do want to say, which is similar to what I said ten years ago when five counties were added to Lackawanna County. I am beginning to think that maybe the Republican high command in Pennsylvania thinks of the Lackawanna County Democratic organization as the Notre Dame of Pennsylvania politics. Everybody wants to do their best against us.

Ten years ago, I said that we were getting a Congressional district which was too big geographically and that had different interests; one, industrial and another agricultural. However, at that time, I also said: "Give us a few years and we will carry that District". Before very much longer, Mr. President, before my successor is here ten years from now, saying the same thing, after another population census and redistricting, we are going to carry this Congressional District with a Democratic candidate for Congress.

I am very happy that if we have to have counties added to us,—let us face the brutal fact that we have lost population and we are one District which has to pick up other counties—I think Bradford is the nicest and the finest county that we could have added to our District.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I likewise would like to state my position on this bill. I want to say this for the benefit of the people in my District who have called me, wired me and written to me concerning this bill and, particularly, for the gentleman who called me at my office today and said that I, as the Senator in our District, should state my position openly on the floor of the Senate. So, here I am.

I realize this is not a perfect reapportionment bill. I felt that Senator Yatron had valid amendments and, yet, I felt compelled to vote against them. I am going to vote for this bill because of the very clear reasons given by both our Majority and Minority Leaders and by Senator McMenamin. Unless we pass this bill, we will, without any question, be forced into a State-wide election, something which would be worse for my District and worse for the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than even this present bill.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Silvert, as one of your constituents, the President compliments you on the stating of your position. Thank you.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, we have heard a lot of criticism regarding this bill in so far as Philadelphia is concerned. However, very little concern has been shown for the number of people in each District and the nature of the people in each District. So far as I can see, this bill is a very fair bill in so far as Philadelphia is concerned. In fact, I think it is a fine bill.

The First District embraces solid territory south of Market Street, west of the Schuylkill River. East of the Schuylkill River, it is a little bit below Market Street, extending all the way to the Delaware River. The Second District is the area north of Market Street, west of the Schuylkill River and some wards north of Market Street, bordering on the Schuylkill and east of this river. The Third District lies to the north of the First and Second Districts, and this is the District which seems to arouse a lot of so-called criticism. It runs from Chestnut Hill, in the northwest, to an area which is newly known as Society Hill, in the east-central portion of Philadelphia. However, there is something about this District which I think is outstanding, and that is that it is a combination and a cross-section of present day Philadelphia. I do not believe anybody thinks they are better than anybody else. I do not think they would come out openly and say they were. However, I do say that this District is really a cosmopolitan area of the city of Philadelphia and truly representative of the city.

To the extreme north and across the northern boundary of Philadelphia is the Fourth District. This runs across the northern boundary of Philadelphia. South and east of this area, and along the banks of the Delaware River, lies the Fifth Congressional District.

As I said, all of the Districts approximate the mean requirement of 419,000 people. Really, it is the people who count.

I received a piece of literature from the Republican City Committee, bemoaning the fact that one of our Democratic Congresswomen is runing for office this time or she may not because of her District. Of course, she still has the right to run for public office, as anybody has who meets the qualifications. I say it is to the credit of all the people who worked on the task; all of the six Congressmen who helped to draw up the final plan and approved it. It is to their credit that the people who compose the city of Philadelphia were given first consideration and not necessarily the one individual who happens to represent that District.

Of course the smoke-makers and the noise-makers' department of the opposition, and our carpetbagger Johnson and his Alliance of quizzlings on the Republican National Committee's payroll,—there are some hate mongers and some lint pickers—will find fault because that is their business; namely, to fool some of the people all the time and all of the people some of the time.

However, I would like to say that Philadelphia is on the move and in a vast program of rebirth and rededication to progress and principles of growth, consonant with the visions of the founding fathers of our Country, but on such a bold and grand scale as would stir their imagination. Certain contemporaries, who still have to learn the meanings and the ideals of their words and teachings, will oppose reapportionment. This reapportionment bill, in so far as it pertains to Philadelphia, is an act of dedication to progress and devotion to democratic representative government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not going to belabor the group here by talking about Congressional Reapportionment because I feel that our visitors here really do not care too much about it and it is going over some of their heads, somewhat like a lead kite.

However, Mr. President, while we are on the subject of reapportionment, I would like to make note of the fact that when Senator McMenamin delivered his most scholarly address here just a few moments ago, he certainly threw bouquets at the good citizens of Bradford County. I thought for awhile that possibly he was planning on running for Congress in that Congresisanal District.

Later on, you know, he made another statement which pleased me very, very much. We, on this side of the aisle, were quite disturbed because we were afraid that probably Senator McMenamin would not be a candidate for reelection to the Senate. If you noticed he said: "After the next decade, when my successor succeeds me, he will probably say the same thing with reference to Lackawanna County being the Notre Dame of Pennsylvania." Therefore, I would like to say to Senator McMenamin that we, on this side of the aisle, are very happy, indeed, to know that he is going to run again for the Senate. Should he decide to run for Congress, I know darn well that he will be a tough condidate.

Mr. STAISEY. Mr. President, I would like to just comment that never have I seen so many so dissatisfied in so much unity.

As for myself, I come from the Forty-fifth Senatorial District of Allegheny County, where I have two Congressmen. They have swapped towns, boroughs and townships. I still have the same District, but I must relocate my two Congressmen.

The point I would make, Mr. President, is this: That really we are not voting here on reapportionment. What we are voting on is whether or not the people of Pennsylvania are going to continue to tolerate a situation where we have a Senate that is evenly divided and, at times, evenly undecided. I sincerely trust that in the year 1962, this matter will be resolved. If it is to be resolved sensibly, of course, they should return here at least twenty-six Democratic Senators.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, many months ago, five of those of us who represent the Eighteenth Congressional District banded ourselves together and pledged ourselves that we would do everything we possibly could to maintain the identity of that District. Of course, we see now tonight that we failed in that pledge.

It, therefore, is necessary, Mr. President, that some remarks be made concerning that particular matter and make it a matter of record in this Body.

The Eighteenth Congressional District is one of those which had a particular identity of population and of economy served very well in this Commonwealth. I think all of us remember the tremendous work and splendid service given to the State by Congressman Simpson. We had a great loyalty to him in this particular area. Moreover, the Shoestring District, as it has become known throughout the years, will, with the passage of this bill tonight, become a matter of political history.

We, in the Eighteenth Congressional District, are not too happy with reapportionment as it has worked out. There are a number of reasons for this. However, the way the counties now are aligned in this particular legislation, we must come to the conclusion that we will have two incumbent Republican Congressmen who must, of necessity, oppose each other if they intend to continue their service for the Commonwealth in our national body. That means we lose one Republican Congressman, and we are rather unhappy about this.

Nevertheless, Mr. President, in the interest of harmony and in the interest of working out a very serious problem, I am quite sure that most of us are going to vote in favor of this particular legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 1.

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 1.

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 100

The clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 26, 1962

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That this Special Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, the twenty-ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two, at twelve-thirty o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial No. 100.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the Senate January 26, 1962

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That this Special Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, the twenty-ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two, at twelve-thirty o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would like to interrogate the majority leader, please.

The SPEAKER. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, I was not able to attend the Rules Committee meeting, but so that the House will understand it, if we adjourn sine die at 12:30 today the Speaker will have signed the reapportionment bill in the presence of the House, and will the Governor also have his signature on the bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Speaker has already signed the bill in the presence of the House. The bill is being delivered to the Governor. The Governor will sign the bill immediately, and before the committee returns the message will be read both to the House and to the Senate that the bill has been signed by the Governor, into law.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. If that is the case, Mr. Speaker, the House should then adopt the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, that the clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the committee, which is discharged with the thanks of the House.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the Committee on the part of the House to wait upon the Governor.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed by the Speaker to wait upon the Governor has performed that duty and wishes to inform the House that the Governor has signed the bill into law.

The SPEAKER. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 1

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg.
January 29, 1962.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House bill No. 1, Printer's No. 2, entitled "An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into congressional districts."

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.
